Thread: Why doesn't hackforums support https?

Automatic Coding - January 27, 2013, 9:43 am

Simple question, attempting to use https redirects me to http and cloudflare picks up the 443 port:-

There is not really a point of it.

Other than the domain "hakcforums.net" which is for sale on another forum.

All denied. Omni doesn't consider it necessary.

Mybb does not support https.

And it's a waste of money.

FroFro - January 27, 2013, 10:25 am

Omni said there's no point since when you donate / buy stuff it goes through Wixa or something and that has HTTPS

'Cody - January 27, 2013, 10:26 am

Yep let's all continue to post the same responses. ?
