Thread: ? OFFICIAL | THE EMPIRE | RECRUITMENT ?

Tibit - January 28, 2013, 5:23 pm

General Introduction:
Welcome to The Empire Recruitment thread. We will be leaving this thread up for awhile to lower the amount of PM's I get asking to join the group. Members will be nominating applicants for further review from leadership. If you'd like to make it into the group, make sure you put a lot of effort into your application. Here is the last Recruitment Thread.

What is The Empire?
The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums. We will mainly work within our sub-forum, however from time to time we will operate publicly to help enhance the site as best we can. All members are to be helpful, kind, and share knowledge with those that need it where they see fit. Members are expected to conduct themselves maturely across the forum, with no exceptions. We do not endorse or condone trolling or members who flame consistently. As a group we want to make a strong impact throughout the site, so if you can please wear the userbar or any group related images when you can. Members who are unable to preserve a positive image and reputation for our group will be kicked immediately without warning.

Basic Requirements:
Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age

No LQP or Harassment Warnings

No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

Usually an upgraded member, or a very committed non-upgraded member

No trolling or flaming other members

Must have acceptable grammar

Application:
Note: Our application is extensive as we want to know exactly who we are letting in.
Answer the questions, but you may reformat it: (You may use GFX or even a Video Application)

Here are two examples of good applications:

Quick Tips:

(Jan 28, 2013 08:32 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [CITE] I will repeat what Tibit and other Empire members have stated.

If you truly want into the Empire, prove it to us.
Show us that you DESERVE to be in the group.
I can promise you that you will appreciate the group if you are accepted.

Just some tips if you want your application to stand out:Make your application unique.Make it lengthy, but be sure for it to hold it's quality.

Use your personal skills to make the application: GFX, Gaming, Coding, etc. Show your specialty.

Be sure to use a set format, colors, themes, etc. Organized = good/ attention catching.

Show that you want in.Again, the length can have something to do with the result of your conclusion, but ONLY if it holds quality from beginning to start.

Do a top 10 reasons why you want in, make a video application along with the required application.

Do far more than the required application asks for. Again, show us that you want to be a member of the Empire.

I have been in the Empire for months, if you would like help, opinions, or to ask questions then feel free to PM me!

Good group, make your app stick out and you'll get invited.

Skyp? - January 28, 2013, 5:25 pm

Good luck to everyone that applies for this great group!

Make your application HQ and stand out from the others. ?

Grin - January 28, 2013, 5:26 pm

This group offers extreme activity, and the members are very generous.

It's definitely worth applying for. I had negative comments about this group before I was in it, but I wish to withdraw them.

I left for other problems. None of which is related to the group.

Magnetize - January 28, 2013, 5:26 pm

Glad to see that we are recruiting again!

Good luck to everyone that applies. It is and amazing group and is completely worth it to be in.

Make sure you work your HARDEST on your application. You won't regret it.

Good luck!

Recruitment only comes once in a while, I'll be reading all applications and having my input on you noobs.
Good luck.

Paran?rmal - January 28, 2013, 5:32 pm

If you post your application that fast, obviously you don't care.

Good luck to all applicants. :)

Kenn. - January 28, 2013, 5:35 pm
Good luck to everybody that applies, remember, keep a nice and lengthy application if you wish to be a part of this fabulous group.

Zuse - January 28, 2013, 5:35 pm
I'm not going to wish anyone luck, because luck doesn't get you in, a good application does, work hard on it and spend time and you'll most likely get in. This is more than just a group, it's a family.

Any questions PM me.

Kentucky - January 28, 2013, 5:37 pm
Good luck to everyone. I will also read through all of these ;)

Make sure you put effort in your application!

I'm not a fan of narcissistic attributions of one's own self so instead of listing all my capabilities and qualities, i'd rather demonstrate them upon request. I could yap a whole list of falsified qualities just like the majority of 'salient' attributions.

What section are you most active in and why?

I do not post unless I feel I can provide insight or humor in a particular section of the forums. The accustomed delineation of an 'active poster' is a juxtapose and decadence to my morals and ethics. However, I am notorious for being quite efficacious in collective associations.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The decadence of malicious desires is merely a solipsistic fallacy. In this cruel world filled with tyranny and fascist ideologies, the accustomed delineation of evident realization is replaced with ignorance, and lust. Authority and influence are the placebos of society, manifesting far past the depths of cognitive coherence. One may state they possess a placid nature to be politically correct. Others, however, are on the contrary. The condescending etiquette and malpractice of salient tribulations is only evident to those select few; these men and women give omnipotence and hierarchy definition beyond derivation. They do not rally their time in an attempt to salvage or gain homage, rather educate the misguided census on to the path of intelligence. They are not anarchists, nor preachers of metaphysical faith; they are elitists. They are The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can 'feel' a vast majority of emotions, it's a question of whether or not the group feels I can be a valuable asset or not.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I had a 99% percent chance of dying at birth, due to complications faced by my mother who was suffering from depressing. My mother had two options; save the baby, or lose her life. She signed the contract to save the baby.

23 year and later and I am as robust an an ox. You can call my bond with my parents provocative, as I owe my whole life to them. My outlook on life is as optimistic as a verbatim of it's kind can be perceived.

Sine labore nihil

Anything else you want to say:

I'm quite amiable and sociable, and can have an intellectual discussion on almost anything. There's always room for clowning around in my cerebral.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I am very talented in Social engineering. I am in touch with my soul and mind enough to predict common actions to a near perfect degree. My IQ (Means nothing I know) is a 145, this may not mean much but I believe it does stand for something; My critical thinking process.Not one member, or person in the WORLD; THE WORLD (Bold Statement I know) can uphold or maintain the degree in which I can analyze problems and put forth creative solutions. The last major skill I have gained over my years of life is a mastery over the English language. I simply love to read and engage myself into literal arts; giving me a mature command of language. My minor skills include: Batch,C++,Marketing,Vb.net, and Persistence. I believe there is hope in the footsteps of persistence.

What section are you most active in and why? Website hacking,Religion and Beginner hacking.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I have never experienced the group life or the support behind one. I would like to help out all of the members of hack forums the best I can. My personality is best or none, so I hope to be the best of not only life but of every aspect in it (Including hack forums). I believe my calm attitude and critical thinking process can benefit the group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Well I am very good when it comes to business in any aspect. I have ran multiple stressers and made bank from them as well I am very familiar in scripts. I play baseball and currently have a scholorship to go D-1 for it which I am looking forward to a lot. Other things would be I am very friendly and a fairly good negotiator. I can basically take anything someone teaches me and make it perfect with in a week as I'm a very quick Learner.
What section are you most active in and why?
I am currently active in mainly the Currency Exchange Section and the Beacon Sub forum spending most my time there. I am in the currency section as I said I am a business man and will do anything that can give me the good name. I usually exchange around $1k a month on HF and want to make it more than that as I am preparing for a Exchange Thread to be out soon. And as for the Beacon Sub Forum I am active there as I am a huge fan of minecraft and currently in the Beacon Group. I will be getting more active in the VPN section as I am currently working on developing my very own VPN which will be release hopefully in a month or so.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
There are multiple reasons to as of why I want to be in The Empire and some are always said here and some are not. One of the reasons I want to be in The Empire is because I have seen a few cool members around the forums and the group seems to be a great one. I want to be able to meet new people and possibly develop some businesses with a few members as well. I also want to join simply because since the group was made I have been wanting to join since the whole entire group seems to be out standing in every aspect from helping to marketing. I want to get my name out there more and show how HQ of a member I am and only way is to join one of the most HQ Group this forums has to offer.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I believe I should be accepted into The Empire because I am very dedicated, loyal, and an overall cool person to talk to. When it comes to being dedicated if one of the leaders gave me a job to do I would not stop until I could find some way on how to get it done. I wouldn't want to disappoint anyone and would make sure the goal is achieved. There are multiple reasons as to why I am loyal mainly being I would never bash on the group members and would never leave. I would stay until The Group was sold or ended, I would be here to stay and would do everything possible there is in order to remain in The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Damn this is a tough one but if I had to pick one instance in my life that has made me who I am today it would most easily have to be when I helped my sister out with getting out of debt. As I watched her suffer and worry about making sure she can stay on her feet I had an idea as to set a little bit of money aside each week to help her. I gave her around $4200 in order for her to be back to normal and not worry for a bit. Watching this whole thing unravel in front of my eyes I realize that I want to be better and never have to worry about that shit so I can remain financially stable. This made me who I am as it showed me what life can be like if I don't save money and not blow it on stupid stuff.

Anything else you want to say:
Thanks for the opportunity to Apply to join The Empire and good luck to all those applying as well.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples)Spoiler (Click to View)

Java: Back in the early days, I used to run runescape private servers. I also used to code severs for other people, from a website called 'Rune Locus'. Iv all ways wanted to once again use my java skills, but really there's not much point now days.

Ratting/Keylogging: Oh memory's, ratting and keylogging was worth it at the end. Selling gold, selling accounts etc... But in reality it's not really counted as a skill since everyone can download 'CyeberGate' and start ratting.

Life skills: In life, I have many skills ranging from Longboarding too Cooking. In school, I take private lessons to teach the year 7s on the basics of cooking to get some extra marks on my record.

In real life, I have many skills ranging from Longboarding too Cooking.

What section are you most active in and why? Spoiler (Click to View)I try too post in as many sections as possible, but sometimes I just don't have the time so I stick too one or two. (Lounge/Giveaway Section)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Spoiler (Click to View)Because, iv never really been in a inside community on HF and talk to people. I would love to join this.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire? Spoiler (Click to View)I would be great with the team, I have numerous amount of things to giveaway. I'd all so be very committed to this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Spoiler (Click to View) 2 Years ago, my mother got diagnosed with bowel cancer. This in my family house hold changed, thus my self being older then my brother I had to make sure he didn't know about my mum having cancer (He was 7 at the time). My mum having cancer has shaped who am I today, making myself a nicer person. After 2 years, my mum finely came home from a check up. The doctor said she had very little cancer left in her bowel and that it should be all good in a couple of years/months. Those two years were life changing for me.

Another thing happen recently that has also changed on how I see life; https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3213276 Please read that, it's too long to explain on a post.

Anything else you want to say: All I can say is, good luck with this group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have the skills of Coding a bit, I do a bit of networking also. I love to adventure with all aspects of Computers and Networking. As I see it, all is possible.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm most active in the Marketplace section, as I have a project brewing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join because I can offer alot of things to this group, from Networking to Coding, possibilities are endless that I can offer.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted, because I can offer a lot, from Networking, to coding, from just giving people a good laugh, I'm also a high quality poster. I love to make threads in the Lounge, Example. I spend around 3-5 hours a day on this forum. Theres not a day that I'm not on this forums, unless School/Sports interfere.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm from Ohio, I have 4 people in my family. I have an amazing personality, from the competitive part, to the loving part, I'm just a out there person. I currently don't have a girlfriend. Recently, I'm going though a rough spot in my life, if Tibit wants to message me about this situation, feel free.

Anyways, I'm a computer fanatic. I helped build 4 computers in my life. I love the science in a computer, and how something so small, can be so powerful, I either want to go into Information Technology, I might take myself to the Medical field to master Dermatology, as I'm interested in skin, and how it reacts to different substances.

Overall, I'm a "A" and "B" Student. I love Science and Math. I hope to go to The Ohio State University. I play football and Wrestle. I'm currently 10-2 with wrestling, it is not football season.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Some skills I have are things such as being helpful, and being funny :D. I love to make people laugh, and I love laughing! I mean, who doesn't!

What section are you most active in and why?pretty much everywhere... I just click the View Today's Posts, and look for something interesting! I post mostly in the Lounge :P. I am also somewhat active in the minecraft section!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because I want to fit in somewhere. I feel like I am just another user, I want to be part of something, more then just a normal person.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted because

I can be helpful, serious, or comedic at a moments notice. I can cheer up peoples days just by looking at them! (Jk, I ugly :P)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):PhotoShop: I Am currently on my first year in a Graphic Design class. Everyday i enjoy learning more and more about Photoshop.

C++: Well I've been doing C++ For about 3 or 3 1/2 years, I recently took a break from it and haven't done it in about 1 year. I Did just get back into it about a few months ago, and am gaining all my skills back for that language.

Rat Expert: Well, I've been doing ratting since 2011, (about 2 years) and i've actually offered a RAT setup service for free for people, that eventually failed after no one needed it as they were going to other sources that have been around longer.

Computer Repair: Well I've been dealing with computers since i was 5, seriously. I got my first computer at 5 (Of course) and started to explore them more and more each day. Eventually i started exploring the inner components of the machine.

Virus Removal: I've been doing virus removal for about 4 years now for anyone who has needed one removed. I still do it for free for Hackforums and in person, i make some extra cash from it.

Giving Member: I Love doing giveaways, whenever i have something to give away, i will. I've actually given away alot of my services for PC repair for free. Another great example is that back in '11 i owned a webhost, well i use to give away free VPS's from there. But I've learned my lesson on that, there is a limit on giving.

What section are you most active in and why? Lounge/Rat Section: To keep spammers out, I Look out for the community

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Honestly, I Want to join The Empire because i think it'd be a great group to join. I've never been apart of an official Hackforums group except for logic when hex did that free join thing. I'd love to have a place to call home & Become active in the sub forums of that group. Its hard for me to explain on how exactly of a member i can be, because there will be times that i may be away due to me working all the time, I am however online everyday as much as possible. I've become more active through 2012 and this year then i ever have been. I Had 400 posts when i returned, Now i have over 900, almost a 1000. I Am proud of myself for that, for achieving this. Hackforums is a second home to me, and i love it. Im a kind and giving person, And i look forward to helping others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I Should be accepted into The Empire because overall i am a kind person. There are times where i screw up, like my warning level thats because i posted a thread in the RAT section about a program people may use to bind their RAT to, apparently discussing "Fake Programs" falls under Disallowed blackhat activity. Which i understand is my fault as i should have read all of the rules, not just some. I Have now read almost all of the rules & Have become a very HQ Member since. I've been looking out for HF ever since i've come back, I Hate spammers, I Hate people who make this forum look bad. I Love this place. I'd love to be apart of the Empire, as that'd give me a real home. I Can promise that i'd be very active in the sub forum as well as the main forum from day to day. I Recently lost my job, so now i should have more time online. I Am still a full student in High school, so during the day in the EST Time zone, you will never see me online unless its a weekend. I try to be as HQ as i can. I Am currently helping Google Expert setup a USB Flash drive for a Windows OS Install. I Am Really good in PC Repair, its a passion , i've been doing it ever since i was a little kid. I Know you guys may not care, as most people dont care about other peoples personal lives, but im trying to let you know what i have to offer.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, My name is Shawn, Im currently 17 years old, going to be 18 this year and ever since i was 5 (when i got my first computer) I've been exploring them more and more. I Started by taking them apart, and putting them back together. Eventually i got into learning more about the OS around 6. I Was then taught some tricks from my mothers PC Repair guy around 6 1/2. By then, i was getting smarter and smarter with computers. I Started building them, repairing them & Selling them for extra cash. I Now run a PC Repair business and service people within my area in person or via remote desktop for other remote locations. Hackforums is like my second home, I Love it more and more everyday, And i'd be so proud to be apart of your fine group. I Am a very giving person and am told alot that i do too much for people for free. I have an excellent personality, i get it from my mother & father. A good example of me being to nice, is that i just finished repairing a PC for a customer who is retired, so because he has low-income and is retired and me being nice, he asked how much he owed me for the services which normally would have been 60$ + if not more, i told him he was all set. He will be picking his PC up tomorrow. I Am also an authorized Page plus cellular dealer (US Phone carrier)

Anything else you want to say: Well, I'd like to thank everyone in The Empire for taking the time to read my application. As i know that you guys have the last word on whether i join or not, i'd hope that you guys accept me. I Believe in the past 3 years i've been on hackforums, I've learned alot of things. One of those things being that you shouldn't trust many people. Well, Like i said i appreciate you guys taking the time to read my application, Im hoping i get accepted & good luck to all other applicants.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I have a very, unique skill. I am an expert on the subject of cryptanalysis, not crypters but frequency analysis or Vigenere cyphers. Frequency analysis is a method of decoding without using online sources, just a piece of paper and a pencil. Click my signature for more information.
I offer experience in social engineering, I understand this subject is a delicate one on the hack forums but I hope to share my knowledge with some of the members of this great group. I would like to show that it is not a subject totally dedicated to fraud but rather reading someones facial expressions for example.
I do online monetizing methods such as pay per download and Ad.fly quite frequently for a decent source of income. I know so much about this subject and constantly look for new niches to share with groups I am in. I know many methods to rake in loads of cash and am willing to share them.
I am learning GFX, I have photoshop and am beginning to learn art that seems very cool to me.
I also am learning PHP.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in the SRPP section because I believe my views are very different than most of the members in the section at the moment as a Christian conservative. I also love to debate because It is a very useful attribute in real life. I am also fairly active in beginner hacking because I love helping noobs. I also monetize runescape and have around 40 posts in there.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
It seems like an extremely high quality group from what I have seen around the forums. There stresser I have heard is the hardest hitting stresser with the best price at the moment. The only sub forums I have had access to before this is the Logic Subforums which I did a giveaway on as soon as I joined and I really liked the smaller community.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I offer a unique talent, I consider myself a high quality poster and I love to learn. I think I can be a helpful addition to this sub forum and provide quality tutorials giveaways and posts. I also seem to offer a unique view point for this forum.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
In real life I am nothing like I am behind the keyboard. I try to make myself sound established behind the keyboard thinking out my posts and rarely trolling, however in real life I am a complete opposite. I constantly screw around with my friends and make dumbass decisions. I am just an average person in real life, however behind the keyboard I am a more thoughtful person. Respect is the number one attribute a person can have, if you are not respected you are nothing to me. Second is honesty, lying can be useful but almost always ends up biting you in the ass, I prefer to take my punishment and live with it. I am proud to say I don't think I have had my defining life moment yet, maybe I will have it with this group.
Anything else you want to say:

I really hope I get accepted to this group because I feel like I have a ton to offer. Good luck to the rest who enter.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Weightlifting

I do this almost every Monday, Wednesday and Friday after school. It builds confidence. It also gets you stronger both mentally and physically.
Speaking Spanish

As a student of Spanish for two years now I have learned lots of things. I am one of the best students in my class and I try really hard to maintain my 98% average.
Skateboarding

I'm not a pro at skating but I have been interested in it since the third grade. It is very popular at my school and I think it's what I want to do with my career. Call me crazy!

What section are you most active in and why? I am probably most active in the L33t OT discussion section. I mainly post inside the famous lounge threads. As a former regular lounge section whore I stopped my low-quality posting there since it is mostly filled with dumb-asses and Trolls. Another big factor why I post there is because I haven't found my true calling here on HackForums. I don't have an interest in computing or coding which are major section here on-site. I guess you could say the only other section what I might be active in is the Marketplace section. We all love learning about and earning money, right!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well, this is the question which I always have a hard time answering. I look upon this question as not why do I want to join the Empire. No no. I look at this like why does the Empire want me to join. To start off I would like to talk about community's. I mainly post on the L33t OT lounges because I like to personally interact with members. Talking with them about daily things gives me courage and motivation for in real life situations. I don't feel members should join groups because they have "X" amount of posts, reputation or awards. I really need a group who can take me in and accept me for who I am. I'm not a member here to learn how to code or compute or whatever. I am here to talk to other people all over the world and interact with them.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: To be honest I don't feel I deserve a spot in the group. Very few members applying have the right to be in the group. But I would feel I should be in the group because I like giving back to the community. Most of the time when I earn something like money, methods I most-of-the-time give them back to those who truly deserve it. I held a contest a while back giving away $20 LR. I didn't think a lot of regular members would try out because they think they don't have a chance winning against upgraded members such as L33t or Ub3r. But one member really stood out to me who was just a regular member. He was like me who liked to give back to the community. That's why he won. Back on topic. I would like to be accepted into the Empire to work together with a honorable group of members to interact and give back to the community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Awesome. I am a person who quite honestly doesn't give a care what ANYONE thinks of me. One thing that was most memorable in my life was watching the movie The lords of Dogtown, if you've seen it you will understand my username. It is a movie about teenagers growing up in the late 70's in California. Mostly everything thought they were going to be low life losers who wouldn't serve a purpose in life. They thought wrong. They became amazing Skateboarding who revolutionized the sport to what it is today. That movie showed me that anything that you set your mind to can be completed with the right kind of motivation.

Anything else you want to say: That would be all. I would like to thank everyone who is reading my application. Good luck everyone!

What are some skills that you have:
Gaming- I can give info to games and tutorials to members.
Giveaways- I love doing giveaways and giving back to the community.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in the Anime Adventures and Xbox 360 and Live Gaming section, because one of my hobbies is watching Anime and the Xbox section I primarily there to help other members.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I would like to join The Empire because I would love to share my knowledge of Anime and Gaming to the other members of the group and I would love to help other members in the name of The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Well I should be accepted because I will try to do as many tutorials in the name of The Empire and will help other members as much as I can I will respect the leaders as well as other members in the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm 19 years old of age I'm a very helpful guy I try to help as many people as I can when I was in high school I would help the janitors clean up people's mess that is how helpful I was.

Well I have had my up and downs in life just like everyone else I got kicked out of my public high school for tampering with grades during the month of April of last year I was trying to help my classmates get their grades up so they could graduate I faced the consequences and I was sent to alternative school where I finished school the only thing I regret was not being able to attend prom and graduate with my class.

My life as right now I am doing great I'm pursing a degree in Computer Science using my l33t haxxor skills to good use so many things I learned here on HF have helped me in the real world well that is my life thank you for reading.

This is basically a program for students interested in multiple fields such as Biomed, Engineering, IT, etc. It's a 4 year program where you also get tested for college credits. It's also known as 'STEM' and is known at almost every college.

Advanced Programmer
I have been programming since about 2010, I then started taking classes IRL at school. Took programming, and then passed a test (same year) so I can go to advance programming instead. Currently hoping to finish, and then go into Computer Science.

Computer Security
I being an ex-hacker, I know a lot of tips, where files can be hidden and what not. I also know where to clean out a computer, how to defend against viruses, and more.

Computer Hacking
I do not do this anymore, but I still have the knowledge of how everything is done.

Video Editing
I used to use windows movie maker, which started me off but now currently using Sony vegas pro.

Music Producing
I am not a big music producer, more like a amateur currently using FL Studio 10.

Microsoft Certified
In school I do a class that involved web designing and use of Microsoft products. We took a test by Microsoft that would get you certified in their products. Which I passed.

Autodesk
This knowledge is only in Autodesk Inventor 2013 as it's one of the programs we use in STAT.

RoboCell/RoboPro
These are other programs I have knowledge of due to STAT.

Gaming
I am a huge gamer, and have a nice knowledge of many games. I still play one game that I probably won't stop for a very long time called League of legends.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]What section are you most active in and why?
I am mostly active in the League of Legends department under gaming, with my most posts available there. The reasoning behind this is I'm currently going into the competitive scene for League of Legends. I later was accepted into Respawn, and I am the leader of Respawn's PC League of Legends clan. The next section I'm active in is Respawn, this is due to the reason I'm active when it comes to groups. That and as you see I am now running a clan.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join as this a big opportunity for myself. This can show that I have what it takes to join such a high quality group. That I can possibly make a difference to hackforums with this more prestigious group. I plan to try my best to make a difference, help members of The Empire and hackforums even more. This is a really good chance for me to show what I got. I deserve to be a The Empire because I'm a helpful skilled member. I'm not here to do negative actions, and I'm a positive influence. I will work towards everything positive no matter what the obstacle. I have a very big knowledge of many things, I plan to contribute in anyway I can. As you see my list of skills, I'm very helpful in many ways in multiple topics. Other than my skills, I can be a very good emotional helper for any members. I will help in The Empire events such as giveaways, and will be a very active member.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Ever since I was around the age of five, I played any game I had a hold of. This started out wth my birthday present being a baby pool table, my dad taught me how to play and I would play it with him. I also started playing board games later on like snakes and ladders, monopoly, risk, and more. My first gaming system was the play station 1 and man was that thing fun. Playing Spyro back in the was amazing haha.

Later I got play station 2 and then a game boy. Then a game boy advance Sp and then a xbox 360. Anyway as you see my life has revolved around gaming basically, currently I do PC gaming as you've read about earlier. The game I currently play is League of Legends. Which is currently in Season 3, and has improved by a lot.

I'm currently trying to go PRO and getting in the competitive scene for League of Legends. I have already played in a online Alienware tournament, at a in real life tournament at Magfest, and a Hackforums tournament a while ago. My dream in my free time and if this happens is to be a e-sports player, if not I will be continuing my path into Computer Science. This is who I am, and how I became who I am. I started out as a gamer, and still am a gamer.

I've played many online games going from Runescape, to World of Warcraft, Diablo 2/3, and steam games even indie bundles. But now It's all about League of Legends and my possible future. I know this may sound silly as it's a very slight and rare chance for it to happen, but I think I have what it takes and will be aiming for it and it's what makes me who you are seeing today.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have experience in Web Development. I've made countless websites for clients as a freelancer. I am planning on creating a website to showcase my photography work. I'm a decent photographer. I'm currently studying photography in school. I plan on working professionally in photography when I'm older. I'm currently using an Olympus Pen E-PL2 for school photography assignments. Every week I usually go downtown and take some photos based on my assignment. I work really well with people portraits and Candid shots. I'm also a very avid Gamer. I play on the Playstation 3 & PC. I have done some competitive tournaments. I can provide help for any gaming related, when needed. I believe that I'm fairly skilled in programming. I started learning how to code a few years ago. I've read ebook on php, lua, python, & others. I've recently used codeacademy to teach me RUBY.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the HF L33T section, Various game sections and Member Contests. I'm active in these section because, for L33T section, is for when people ask for help or need some Youtube video liked, I help them. For gaming, I talk about games & helping people find the game that fits their needs. For member contests, I often do giveaways & contests ranging from Netflix accounts to Steam gifts for the community here at Hack Forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join the Empire because I can consider myself to be a role model for Hack Forums. I want to join because I could contribute within the community in the name of Empire. I love how everyone in the group is considered family. I want to join this amazing group because of what I could bring to the community. Giveaways, Fun events & others things!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I should be accepted into The Empire because I have so much to offer & I'm a very chilled & laid back person. I could contribute by doing group made giveaways and contests. I'd be very active and helpful in the Sub Forum. I feel like I would be a perfect addition to this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Something memorable that happened to my life was when my father got a job as a Feature photographer that works for a book & magazine publisher in Nassau, Bahamas. This was a huge thing to take in because I wouldn't be able to see my father on the daily like I have been for most of my life. So, now he resides in the Bahamas. This happened on August, 2011. My father used to be self employed; He did stock photography for quite some time (All my life). After we got the news that he's going to have to move to the Bahamas he then said that we're going to have to work on selling our home. Selling the home did take a great deal of time (Around a year). After the house finally got sold, my father was already in the Bahamas and It was summer of 2012. My dad tried to Email me everyday to keep me updated on what's up down in the Bahamas. In the summer we worked on getting some free time so I could visit my father for a week or two. Everything turned out better than I expected. Now, it's not a big deal anymore. My father inspired me to take on photography as a profession.

Anything else you want to say: Nope, none. Thanks for taking the time to read my application!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): C++ - General knowledge.
Batch - Pretty close to mastering it.
XML - Certified in it.
Psychiatric Help - See the story below.
Mathematics (Up to a certain extent).

What section are you most active in and why?
C, C++, & Obj-C because I'm focusing on that specific language right now for my FPS.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
It seems as if every group I apply for asks this. I would like to join because I think I could help members with coding, mental problems, a few basic health problems, etc. I've never been accepted legitimately into a formal (official) group. I feel as if The Empire best suits me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
The Empire has always looked good since I first saw it. I read a bit about the group, and followed it's members, and feel I would be a great addition to the community of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, let's just say coding has influenced my life a whole lot. I started coding at age 10 (batch) and am now into C++ (3D Graphics via OpenGL). I'm currently working on an FPS project, and am also taking classes in 3D modeling, OpenGL, etc. My main goal is to create a working game with functional AI, good weapon physics, etc. Now, way, waaay back when I first was allowed on a computer, the first thing I did was play Pinball. Yup, WinXP 3D Pinball. Ever since I have had a full out interest for computer software. My small-sized budget gets me a few steps every week toward an education majoring in computer science. At age 7, I decided to be a fire marshal. Then, after a few years... 4 or so... I decided I wanted to pursue a career in computers.

Here's the main conflict in this: Last June, I wrote a really bad letter about me hurting my little brother. My parents were terrified of me, and the next day sent me to a mental health facility (not specifying the name). I was scheduled for discharge 13 days after I got in. Right before I went inside the "day room" (which later became the worst room in the whole hospital that I was in), I saw him. About 6'5", chunky build, wideset shoulders. I looked at him, and he immediately just started screaming and kicking the shit out of this sheetrock wall. Some nurses came in and restrained him, and placed him inside a room, which its doors had two large bolt locks. (That reminds me: the doors that went outside... had electromagnetic locks on them.
There was a button near the front desk to unlock them.) A doctor took my iPod Touch, took my shoelaces... then I was escorted in, and was taken to my room. My roommate was Daniel, a short guy, looked like a football player. I shook his hand, and he seemed so fucking nice, I knew he didn't belong in there. (He later left two days after I came.) I was escorted to the "day room" and saw how fucked up the place was. Every wall had been patched at least three times in different areas, every telephone was cordless, and the phone holders were bolted to the wall, etc. The whole time I was there, we watched BET, all day, every day. My first night, I was put on 10mg Abilify. I went to bed, and didn't sleep at all, I just lay there, terrified, cold, hungry... alone.

Once I was discharged, I was immediately sent to an intensive out-patient therapy center. I was then put on 10mg lexapro, and the next day, I was just zombied out. I slept 12 hours of the day one day, the rest: 10 hrs/day. I was in there for 12 weeks.

Currently, I'm taking 5mg Abilify and 10mg Lexapro, and feel great, yet still have that memory of my fuck up. If you ever get into my type of situation, play the doctor's game. Play the game, and you'll get out quicker. GL IRL.

tl;dr - I've seen some shit.

Anything else you want to say:
GL to all who enter. This will be the first legitimate group I will be in, besides past accept-all group times. Thanks for opening recruitment :).

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I have coding Ability's with HTML,CSS and PHP as well as experience with most forum boards I would post examples but that would be advertising in a way.

I have Marketing and SEO Skills and do all my own advertising, IF you want proof I can send you some examples in PM I do not like posting website links.

Life experience, I grew up different then most people so there is not much I have not done or seen.

What section are you most active in and why?
The lounge, I enjoy helping others and taking part in what HQ threads we do have I also am very active in website and forum hacking and stress testing section because I am ? Like that.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join the Empire because I feel that it is one of the more high quality groups on the forums and believe I would make a good addition as I am a dedicated individual.The fact that the groups were put in place to contribute to the forum and benefit the forum and this is one of the groups that dose this i would like to be apart of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I am active and willing to contribute to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I do not tell people this story to look for sympathy or for people to feel bad for me, but to understand why my grammar or spelling is not perfect. At the age of 11 I was kicked out on the streets and turned to selling dope. By age 16 I was making big money had my own vehicle (No License Of Coarse) and thought I was the man. The I got busted with 2 pounds and around $13,000 in cash landing me some jail time and house arrest. Well on house arrest I met a guy online who got me into coding and from that day on I stuck with it. I have been working from home the last 5 years to pay my rent and have not got in no trouble sense. If i would not have met that guy online I do not know where I would be today but that is why my grammar and spelling is not the best I only have my grade 7 But I am managing just fine in life.

Anything else you want to say:

I'm a great video editor and I'm an awesome gamer. I'm trying to learn how to code PHP and then later on I would like to advance my knowledge in other coding languages. I have some computer knowledge under my belt

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm mostly active in the Gaming -> Minecraft -> Griefing Section, but I'm trying to get involve in other section on HF because I don't want to just want to limit myself to one section

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join Empire not only because it look sexy cool, but Tibit is a cool person and mature. He doesn't get an attitude and also when I was Pming him I think I was annoying him but he still kept his cool. I think that I can like a lot from Empire and I can grow and maybe be more mature. Being a member of group would not only make me be greatly happy because empire is a cool group and great group in my eyes. I want to see empire can give to me and make me a better person. One point thing that I want to join empire is to make more and awesome friends. I think and honestly have a good relationship within empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I honestly couldn't answer this question. Anyone would just put yes so they can get accept but to me I honestly don't know. What do I have to give that would make me useful and that would benefit the group. I'm a great support of the people I hang with, has you can see I think Empire booter is great and that's why I'm wearing the signature. I'm a cool person and a great person to meet. I love having a good time and making people laugh. I don't think I'm a funny person but I do have my moments.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'm a pretty cool person to chill with. I love having fun and a good time. I know the fact that internet and real life are to different things and to me my real life is most important to me. My friends(internet) call me a potato because I be saying the the dumbest and random things of all time but that when I'm in play mode but when I'm in serious mode it a different me.
I always have my friends back no matter what and if you have my back, I have yours. One important thing about me is that I think differently and what I mean by that is I would sometimes sit and think about questions like what is life or what the true meaning of love something like theory and knowledge.

I want to learn more about computer and hacking. I try to expand my knowledge on things that not only seem of an interest to him but can be useful in a way. I'm a heavy FPS player and I'm really good at them. I hold a good kdr in all my games. I also play other games like minecraft. I'm currently trying to get into other games like Dota 2 or LoL to see why they're so popular. I'm the person to follow the crew and see what the nicest and hottest things going on. One important thing about me is that it's true I would follow the crew but I love having power and leadership.

I'm a reasonable person. I don't always jump to conclusion and I hate that. Sometimes all i want to do is play video games because it's something that entertain me and keep me happy or don't upset(I'm not doing bad). You should know I try to be the best at the things I do. When I first started editing videos I would at other people videos and see how awesome and great they are and I aim to be like that one day. If I would look back on my previous works I would honestly say I have grown in my skill level of editing. At first I would use Windows Movie Maker then move on to Adobe Premiere then I went to Adobe After Effects and Sony Vegas. I open to learn from other people because to be the best you have to learn from people that are better than you.

Anything else you want to say:
Nothing else, all i want to say is I hope i didn't give out to much information about myself. Also less is more jk and also HI Tibit. I'm a hard worker and when someone interest me I'm going attack it like nothing. I'm always trying to find new friends and great people to learn from. I don't like making enemies but sometimes you just have to but I truly think that the people in Empire are going to be cool people. I might have copy some people idea on my application but it's just survival of the fittest and I'm just to have a eye catching application. I'm a major supporter of the people I'm cool with. I might not be able to support with money but I can support them with something that I can do. I am still trying to improve myself and get better at things. I want to learn a coding language but right now I'm being successful with that, but I still try by asking people to give me a helping hand

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Gaming

I've been in gaming since I was a little kid. I started playing the nintendo 64 and super nintendo my dad owned it and gave it to me. I was liking kid games a bunch and well grew up and started getting in to other games. I bought a ps2 and started playing star wars and GTA games. I had gotten a gamecube for my birthday from a friend and well played sonic and just invited friends over. Seems like a short story right but I'm gonna explain a lot right now. I got an xbox and got call of duty and halo. I hear lot of people jugging others on there rank/kd and thought what if someone is level 1 but is the best in the world no matter what rank you are you can be the best there for in cod I never prestige anymore. Gaming has been something I do quite a lot to spend time with friends or play family games with well my family. In halo when I reached general (reach) people told me that I was the best I didn't believe it. People call you something to show respect of how good you are. I felt good however put to much in the game and noticed someone low ever rank beat me. I thought to myself the same thing but this time I added him and met him in real life and saw that he was the same person as me. Normal player but he did things I never thought of that he thought of so I learned from him. Today when I play a game I look for nothing but fun and great game. GFX

Well I started getting into GFX in the Photoshop cs5. I'm getting better and better every time I go on Photoshop however, I don't have it anymore I go to my friends house that he had and well work on it everyday. I'm still trying to get it but I won't give up. Trying to find the program. I also go around the tutorial section seeing new ideas that come to my head and wish to share my knowledge however don't have the time at my friends house and he doesn't have wifi.Helpful person.

I've been helping people since I was in 4th grade. The thing was I had never helped anyone as a kid I believed when someone has your back you have theirs. When I thought of that I hardly helped no one and felt like it was all just a lie. Helping someone is not needed but appreciated meaning they might not want it but I encourage it. There are times I even get pushed and get my self in harm but. I don't give up on being friendly. Yes I cuss other people do too. When I cuss I don't use it to make peoples feelings bad or harm anyone. I take cussing as a joke but only with friends. Good friends if I ever cussed at anyone I don't know or a small friend. It would be disrespectful. When I joined HF I expected to be nothing but just member contest. Ask why? I was upgraded to L33T and my friends thought that was cool they saw the section and said win stuff for me I'll pay you back. I tried but lost many times and realised that I could do so much more on this forum. I saw the gaming sections and started being helpful around there instead of taking and giving back. When ever I got something I would give it away I tried giving as much as I could since I felt bad. However I hardly ended up winning. All I have one are 2 48 codes but I've gave away 18 48 hour codes.Athletic (I know you this has nothing to do with hf but its my skill)

I've been into sports long before gaming when I was a little little kid. I would watch soccer with my dad and football by myself. I always believed the home team was the best. I came to my senses and realised it was wrong. I went into elementary school. People kept telling me that I sucked however never saw me play. They told me for every goal I score they owe me a favor and ever goal I miss they each punch me. I challenged my self and said yes. They put there best goalie as I didn't know. I watched soccer games closely to see how they kicked it. By the end they owned me 10 favors and I didn't even get a scratch. I run everyday in the morning from 6:00 am to 6:30 am at my school I run a mile in exactly 7:30 minutes most. I'm the fastest in my school. I didn't care about that because speed is useless if you can keep it up. I needed to get stronger in keeping up with my stamina and not using it all at once. Today I got to school at 7:00 am and play soccer for an hour then stay after school playing with friends.

What section are you most active in and why?Xbox live gaming (247 post)

The reason is I joined the forum and saw this was the section for me and I knew since I was a gamer I would have knowledge here even if it was about hacking games since I know one or two things about xbox hacking and hardware. This is my most active section since Its what I'm most truly dedicated too.Member contest (246 post)

2/4 of these post where about my friends (read helpful person) 1/4 post of the post are my giveaways and the other 1/4 is me supporting other giveaways or nominee my friend for an award/prize. Minecraft (178 post)

This is how I found out about the forum. Felix the cat introduced me to the forum but I didn't refer him. I was into minecraft clients and well wanted to know how to make one. My friends and I were on skype every day. Felix and I were staff on a server I got demoted due to issues and problems and felix was inactive however I still play minecraft in Beacons official server.

(If I get accepted The Empire SF will be my most active section ?)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join the empire in order to get to meet new people. I wanna share my knowledge with those who need it or would like to learn from it. The group is quite friendly and I want to support the group in any way. Many look at it as a free userbar. I look at it as a privilege that I earned and will be active and helpful around the group.1. Share and learn things within the sf.

2. Understand better groups and users.

3. Ability to host contest for the group (I have been led before but just makes more sense)

4. The group discussions I see them having are a thing I wanna be a part of.

5. Know that I have accomplished something.

6. Be part of one of the great crews in HF,

7. The chance at one of my favorite groups.

8. Getting to know hard work pays off.

9. Show to others if you try you can get in no matter what,

10.Earn the privilege to wear the userbar (last reason why)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Other users might have done better than me in little time but I came into this forum with$0 cash haven't really made much but proved I can make things possible proving anyone can get Ub3r. Anyone that tries and gives effort towards it. Things in life won't be handed to you. You have to go out and earn them yourself. Ub3r I have earned it bot by begging and doing things that won't be helpful. I was upgraded by somehow but I showed him I deserved it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:I'm just a curious type of guy in life I was always shy. Never stood up for myself or did anything to stand out. When I was called to say an answer I couldn't even hear my self. I could even move my lips. I was the shy kid that passed with an A but a bad citizenship for not participating. I had thought to myself if I don't try I won't accomplish they asked for new sport players. I went to the tryout and got in. I started getting and giving tips to people and we shortly became friends. I tried making friends with people I have stuff in common. When someone says they know you but don't even know what your last name is then they're lying. I'm a person who thinks before doing.

I started out with my life a poor kid. Couldn't even afford a .50 cent soda. Both my parents didn't finish college and I'm lucky to have a house and room to live under. Every day I tell myself do I wanna have my parents life do I wanna stand in there shoes. I said no because I've never had one family trip the biggest trip I've had is Disney that's it. I've never gone outside California since my family can't afford it. In school I try my hardest if I don't get it I stay after school and get help. I don't like to give up every time I give I promise to give up something I have only give up once. I had given up drinking and eating soda and chips for a year. I did it for the year I punish myself in weird ways that aren't painful but I don't like. I like to give as much as I can to prove I'm worthy of were I stand. I'm just the typical person but I try to out chive myself in anyway.

Anything else you want to say: I've learned new things I may not get accepted like others I may not have money to buy things I may now give much but, I will keep trying and offer what I can in order to achieve joining. Thanks for the chance at this and well hope to join you soon or some day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I am currently taking AP psychology, so that's a nice strength of mine. I love to help others with emotional issues and any issues the might have, and I've gotten compliments for being good at it. When I did rat, I would have 200+ slaves at once, and I still have that magic touch. Since I stopped ratting, I started to do malware removal, I can successfully remove malware from my computer and others computers and I am able to fix issues that the malware has caused. I am a gamer, I mostly play L4d2 on steam and I'm pretty decent at that and I play runescape which I actually have my own services for with a lot of customers. I can social engineer well, that's what got me some of my slaves when ratting. I am bilingual, I know Portuguese and English. I love to chill in the market place and I'm a good marketer and can make good deals and I know how to negotiate. I am an all around great helper with a lot more skills.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join for numerous reasons, one being, Empire is one of the largest, most high quality groups on Hackforums, if not one of them, and then it’s the most high quality. Empire is very appealing to me. The group is very well organized and I see you guys only let in very few members and those few members are very high quality. The output of this group is amazing, I see such good quality posts and contributions coming from the group, I have seen discussions around the forum from Empire members and it’s mostly meaningful, high quality, or serious posts, none of the garbage that other users post.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Why I feel as though I should be accepted into The Empire, is because I have a lot to offer to you guys. I can offer a variety of things, varying to giveaways, contests, all the way to research, real life issues, such as, Relationship, school, work, etc. As a 16 year old, I have had a decent amount of experience in life, I have dealt with many things that someone of my age normally wouldn't have to deal with, which puts me in situations to try to surpass issues.
Heres some examples of my quality.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Devin, i'm a 16 year old farm boy from Idaho. I was raised all of my life in Idaho and my family owned a small farm and that was the family business, and our source of income, we weren't a wealthy family, we grew up, waking up 4:30 in the morning, do some yard work, and get ready for school. My sister and I went to a small private school a few blocks away. Nearly everyone had a farm over there. My families farm was mainly a producer of soybean. When I was 9 years old we moved to Massachusetts because my uncle (farm owner) went in debt and there was a lot of family issues.

In Massachusetts, I grew up in a small town, a very diverse, melting pot town, where you don't see any farms what so ever. Very different from Idaho. My father left my mother when I was 10 years old, and abandoned us(will get back to this later). We had a lot of family down here in Massachusetts and we love it here. When I was 12, my father started talking to us again. I never really understood the issues, so I forgave him automatically. He is now a very big part of my life, I hangout with him every week. Every time we hangout, he always tells me, "I love you Devin, I'm sorry, I'm always here now." Or something along those lines.

My step dad came into my life when I was 11 and he has been in my life since then, until about two weeks ago. He cheated on my mother. I considered him more than a "step-father." It was more of a, best friend, or brother. We told each other everything, I told him the day I lost my virginity(to my current girlfriend who I have been with since I was 14.) He has always been there for me, and he could always pick my mood up when it was down, but people change. My mother and him had a son, which is my brother, Jordan. I love this kid to death. He is currently 4 and he means the world to me. I would die for him. Every day he sees me, he gives me a hug, and he always knows how to make me laugh. He never has failed to brighten my days. My girlfriend, Briana, I met her when I was 13 and I know that "I'm to young to be in love," but I don't care, I feel it. I'm in love with her, and I feel as though shes right for me. She has been there for me through it all. She keeps me smiling, she helps me keep my grades high and my family loves her. Now what makes me who I am? Is my family. its a blessing to have such a perfect Mother, Brother, Sister, and girlfriend. I love you all, if you see this.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for recruiting members into the group, its a great opportunity, and thank-gosh I didn't miss it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Well i am very good in marketing monetizing own my own Methods to enhance social marketing that HELP a lot of members. I'm just very laid back and nice. i got no neg rep, all positive (i know there isn't much, but lots more to come) i'm into CPA, and social marketing and can be relied upon without doubts. I own a website also.

What section are you most active in and why? CPA/PPD/Socializing techniques/Website and many more and the reason why i always been interested in all those is that, i socialize and as i own a site, i can easily convert offers on my Website.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well I've never been in a group. I really want to give it a go, and give it my all and see how i can benefit you guys and what i can learn from the EMPIRE!!

If you truly want into the Empire, prove it to us.
Show us that you DESERVE to be in the group.
I can promise you that you will appreciate the group if you are accepted.

Just some tips if you want your application to stand out:Make your application unique.Make it lengthy, but be sure for it to hold it's quality.

Use your personal skills to make the application: GFZ, Gaming, Coding, etc. Show your specialty.

Be sure to use a set format, colors, themes, etc. Organized = good/ attention catching.

Show that you want in.Again, the length can have something to do with the result of your conclusion, but ONLY if it holds quality from beginning to start.

Do a top 10 reasons why you want in, make a video application along with the required application.

Do far more than the required application asks for. Again, show us that you want to be a member of the Empire.

I have been in the Empire for months, if you would like help, opinions, or to ask questions then feel free to PM me!
These are some very good suggestions! ?

I will be happy to help if any of you need it ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming:
I have been playing online games for over 5 years now but really started playing a lot when I got a Xbox live account 3 years. I mainly used to play games like Fifa,Madden and Nba2k. I have done a few guides and guide like threads about different games since I have been a member of Hack Forums. I have also done multiple Microsoft Points contests since I joined HF. I have now pretty much stopped playing on xbox live and mainly play Minecraft and sports games on my iPad.

Website/Chat Leadership:
I have been a moderator or admin on many different sites before. About 4 years I made a website about Club Penguin with some of the friends I hat met on Club Penguin. I lead the website and the team of my friends/writers for a year and hired many new writers in that time after that year the sites activity was starting to go down so I left the first website I created. I then heard about the chat site xat right before I decided to leave my site and I had a lot of free time so I ended up getting quite addicted to the site very quick. I got promoted to mod and admin in some of the Club Penguin chats and fun controlling the chat's and banning all of the trolls. But that got boring pretty quick and since I was no longer playing on Club Penguin I soon got out of touch and started looking around from different chats. After going around to a few chats I saw the Help chat and for some reason it interested me. Maybe because it was one of the only chats I saw that did not give out member rank to everyone that joined it. I soon asked some people and found out that it was a official chat and I had to help out for a while before you can get member. So I decided that that was my new goal. So I spent a month going on there everyday and helping anyone that had any questions about xat. After about a month I ended up getting member of the chat after being temp modded about 12 times. Then pretty much for the next month I got temp mod everyday still helped anybody with questions and met some very good friends who are still my friends now then. After about another month a lot of people raided the chat just and everyone was pretty much already a sleep I was only a member at this time since my temp mod expired about a hour earlier so they were pretty much raiding for a hour and nobody with perm mod was on at that hour so then 2 hours go by and I see the background of the chat have a pawn turn white which means someone was just made a mod. The owner of xat "42" had come online and temp modded me and I dealt with everything and he sent me a pm to tell the other main owner of the chat what happened when he got on. So I stayed up all night dealing with it since all the raiders just kept coming back since it was pretty much only me. After all night the other main owner gets on and I tell him what happened and he made me a permanent moderator. I kept on that chat for pretty much the next six months daily dealing with most of the problems on the chat and was temp owned a few times. Before I ultimately decided to quit the chat. One of my friends I met on the chat was opening a online radio station with his friend and I decided that would be something fun to do with my time. So I joined his team as marketing manager. I made a whole bunch of you tube videos for the site and hired somewhat of a assistant to help out with the marketing for a while we had a lot of listeners but then eventually the owners got inactive and the radio station was pretty much over. I then heard about Hack Forums and joined here. In my time here I was the leader of the group Rhythm and have been in many other groups and have helped out with anything they have needed.

Website Marketing:
I made my first website which was my Club Penguin about 4 years ago and at that time I did not know anything about seo or anything like that so I paid some more notable members of Club Penguin to promote the site on their twitters or their own websites. I averaged about 50-200 views a day of the site for most of the time I ran it and constantly got emails about how to become a writer on the site. I then made a website about photography which I promoted on some different sites and such I still did not know about seo but I had about 3000 views of the site in the month I ran it and got a lot of emails from views of how they loved my photography and such. But photography was mainly a side project for me and I quickly lost time. I then ran a website about xat with my friend for a few months and I was mainly in charge of marketing that website and we averaged about 400 views a day for the few months that was up. I then made youtube videos and help run the forum of the online radio station I used to work for and even though the radio station never really took off I there were still a lot of views of the youtube videos and there were a good amount of members on the forum.

Helping People:
One of the things I am most passionate about is helping people. Back when I was on Club Penguin I constantly did giveaways and helped people that were new to the site to get a bit of the hang of things. In my time at xat I would constantly give powers away or buy things for a higher price then there fair trade price was. I gave a way the name color power and lots of xats and days the friends or people that needed a little help. At my time at xat help I would help a lot of people I spent literally non stop everyday on that chat helping people and new members understanding the rules or how to buy things etc. On HF so far at my time at Hack Forums I have upgraded 37 members and done a ton of Microsoft Point giveaways in group sub forums. I also use most of my posts outside of group sub forums to help new members in the lounge or the Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback forums.

What section are you most active in and why?

Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback: I post in this section a lot because I enjoy helping people and this is where most of the help questions are posted.

Lounge: I post a lot in here also because there are a lot of people asking for help here and I like to post here because there are usually funny threads in here.

Minecraft: I have just started to post in the Minecraft section the last few weeks but this is probably the section I have spent the most time in the last few weeks. I enjoy it a lot because there are always new threads about server or more information on HackerCraft etc.

Member Contests: I spend a lot of time in here because I like making upgrade contests for members and like to keep updated with the current contests going on.

Group Sub forums: I am active in all of the group sub forums I have been in I took a break from HF for a few months so I am only in Infamous and the Marketers right now. But I have been in many other groups and have always been very active in any group I am in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire looks like a amazing group and seems like a group that is a big family. I am in infamous right now and that group is a big family also and I really enjoy being in a group with that family feel. I also have seen a few people do giveaways in the past and I would like to help out with any future giveaways. I have also seen the help desks this group has put out and they are some of the best I have seen and I would love to be involved in them. Especially the Personal Advice help desk. I feel I can help a lot of members in this help desk because I have been though a lot in my life so far but I don't dwell on the past. I feel Like this is the perfect group for me it's a helpful group and does giveaways it fits me perfectly.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that I should be accepted to The Empire because I feel I can help the group a lot with it's current projects and any projects it does in the future. As I said above this group seems like a perfect fit for me. I will be very active in the sub forum like I have been with all the groups I have been in in the past. I will continue to help a lot of members of HF and this groups if anyone needs help with anything in this group they can feel free to ask me and if I can help them in anyway I will. I feel that I can help a lot with all your current help desks and other projects and stay active in all of the help desk threads.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

A little bit about myself: Well I am sixteen years old and live in California. I am home schooled and only have a few good friends irl. So I spend a lot of my time on the internet either playing games or on Hack Forums. I spend a lot of time traveling I have been to Belgium,Netherlands,France,Spain,UK and Italy. And within the US I have been to Miami,Dallas,New York,Vegas,San Francisco,Boston and where I currently live Los Angeles.

Something memorable that happened in my life: Well the most memorable thing that has happened so far in my life is when my family moved to London when I was about 12. I still remember the day my parents told me we were moving to Europe. I was obviously very exited but I also was going to miss all of my friends. But those 2 years in London were some of the most fun times I have had so far in my life. And I plan on going back in a few months for a few weeks.

What makes you who you are and who are you: Well what makes me who I am is though everything I have been though. I have never lost faith. I also knew there was something better around the corner and I also knew that I was lucky to be who I am. I am a computer geek that spends most of his time on the computer. I enjoy to watch NCIS and Hawaii Five-0 almost everyday on iTunes. I enjoy to play sports mainly football (soccer) and basketball. I am who I am and I don't really care what other people think about me

Anything else you want to say:
Sorry for rambling on in some parts of my application. And Thank You for giving my this great opportunity to join this awesome group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I have a wide variety of skills that include: Webmastery

This includes knowledge of PHP, XHTML, and some jQuery. I've created and built a few websites. I am responsible for a well known RuneScape private server forum with an average of 5,000 hits a day called VengPkers. This is what I plan to do with my life, anything in relation to web development!Social engineering

I've been social engineering people ever since I could remember. I've always been a manipulator and in no way am I proud of this, but its who I am. I don't exploit people to receive free products because I am above that. I do have the capability to do so if needed. Account cracking

I've been brute forcing and cracking Steam accounts and Minecraft accounts for the past two years. I've made a business off selling steam accounts with hundreds of games on them and have made at least $600 doing so. It's more of a hobby now rather than a used skill on a daily basis. Monetizing

I am a businessman at heart. I have always been looking into fresh and intuitive ways of making real sums of money. Ever since I was a child I looked for the get rich quick time of scheme. I can easily sell a popsicle to a man dying of frostbite. I am extremely money smart and can make product appeal to many people. Remote Administration Tools (RATs)

I've been using several different RATs for the past two years of my life and contain a lot of knowledge about them, also learning to make my own in a C objective language. I've used every RAT from Cybergate to BlackShades and possess a lot of knowledge about them. I definitely have the confidence to have my own RAT help desk and assist anyone with their select RAT needs.

Although my highest quality and redeeming skill is realizing that I can improve in them all. I am always looking to learn and become further advanced within a certain skill set. I know that in the real scale of things that there is so much to learn and so much to teach others. A real wise man knows he knows nothing.

What section are you most active in and why?
The lounge and SRPP. I am as active as I am in the lounge due to the fact that new content is there all the time. I enjoy reading the troll threads and the idiots explain how weed is God's gift to teenagers.
I am also active in the SRPP because its so good to get away from all the ignorance in the lounge. It is by far my favorite section of the forum.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
There are several reasons I could name about why I want to join The Empire and naming them all would fill up my entire application. One of the true main reasons for me applying is to find a family within the forum. A group of dedicated, helpful, social members that I can share things and help out whenever. I also would like to join The Empire because of the sheer amazing quality of the group, I hate the term high quality but that is exactly what defines this group. I have never been invited to any group before, this would be a first for me. I hope that I will be recognized and given an invite.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I can offer a wide variety of things to The Empire. Giveaway threads and member upgrade threads are something that I will be more than glad to do in The Empire's name. I can also offer many unique and private methods to the subforum and to other Empire members. The highest quality thing I can offer the group as a whole is me, that means I will do anything to make the group better then prior to when I joined. I look to improve a group and not whore to join them all. I hope you can give me a home within the group as I am looking for a family to join, you will not regret it.
Help desks and giveaways are not the only thing I can offer to the group, I feel that I can offer so much more than that. I offer my dedication, my time, my effort. Everything I would do would be for the group, numerous hours of work and time is something I am more then willing to offer to the group. My overall effort to increase the groups quality because what has someone done if they haven't contributed to making a group better? I offer everything I know, my knowledge is the groups knowledge. My personal teachings and methods will be given to the members of The Empite because it will improve the group as a whole.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'm the guy that would give you the shirt on my back if you needed it. I've given my last bit of money to a homeless man named Marsley that I use to see on my way to school everyday. I have a shining personality and always speak what's on my mind as well as being really easy to talk to. I am me, I wouldn't change it for anything, not a forum, a girl or the president. I will always remain a loyal, friendly, trustworthy person no matter what ;P.

Anything else you want to say:
I hope I am given a chance to join such a good group, thank you.

I've already seen a few HQ and well presented applications.

Remember, a well-thought out application with good formatting is much better than an unformatted wall of text. As the more eye catching your application is, the more likely we will be to spend greater lengths looking over it.

Good luck to everyone. If you have any questions, I'd be more than welcome to answer them.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Marketing - I have worked for alot of people in the game hosting society as well as advertising for them and have gotten paid to do that for them

Coding - I had to learn how to code some web design languages such as HTML Java script and C++ for my friend but though i learned to help him it inspired me to learn more languages such as VB

Helpfulness - I do my best to help other members of HF and people i know in real life i think i'm a pretty chill guy that does not like to argue or get in fights unless i need too

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm most active in the Members contests because i have done a lot of giveaways for other HF members but i am the second most active in the lounge because i find a lot of cool people and fun threads

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join the empire because i feel as it is a group of High Quality people in one group and getting accepted is not just like buying l33t you have to actually work to get in it and be high quality

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that i should be accepted into The Empire because i help the community out in anyway i can and i like to give back to the community

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well i have taken care of my Mother for a while as well as my Older grandparents because of there old age i try to be chill and help as many people as i can and be a very nice person

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Coding - I can write basic-advanced applications in batch, c++, java, actions riot, vb.net, autoit, HTML, CSS, php/SQL

i know many different hacking techniques. I work for my IT at my school to find vulnerabilities such as ipv6 flooding, wep wifi, and windows exploits.

What section are you most active in and why?
I usually go to the hackers section and answer as many questions as I can. The majority of the time I click "view new posts" and go to anything that I like.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
It is a very hq group and I feel I would make a great addition.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I do many giveaways and am always out to help other members. I really love this forum and would love to be in a high quality group.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Despite my love for computers, I am very active. I run, work out, and am very sociably with friends. I try to do well in my school and have kept a 3.0+ since freshman year (except junior first semester due to lack of motivation). I have always Been a smart, nice, helpful little kid. But computer wise, it's a much longer journey.

It started with elementary school. We discovered a magical website that would allow us to go to any website we wanted! We had no idea how proxy servers worked, or VPN's but at that time, we didn't care. With middle school came my first programming language. Batch. Which if course came the batch bomb. I could write a 3 line script that would make a million black boxes on screen and eventually BSODomize it. Later came viruses. There was a tiny little tool that we could use to control someone's computer from a million miles away! Oh the fun we had.

With high school came other programming languages. HTML * CSS, java, c++, php/SQL. But also more hacking techniques. I could shut down the entire school server for days at a time with a simple ipv6 flooder. This disabled every computer on campus! I could do a JDB on teachers. I could DNS spoof a teacher into typing their grade book login information right to me! It was amazing! Until... I got stupid. I was using MSF pass the hash tool to remotely access the principals computer. I had gotten a few files like the website .ste so I could deface the website. Little had I known, it's easily traced by our firewall. They busted me. I was a goner for sure until the IT asked me to work for him and show him all the security holes. Of course I would never tell him to block the computers from being able to boot up from USB as that would ruin me. Unless I brought my laptop ;D

Now, junior year, I don't try to destroy my school with every chance I get. Sure I crack the WPA2 wifi passwords and share them with my school but it's to help my friends. Ill admit to a few packet sniffing sessions but I'm not black hat any more. I really could care less about their security. The only Blackhat I do is to help people I like :D and the occasional nmap -> telnet -> packet storm -> shell to a teacher. But that's not who I am anymore.

Now I look forward every day to help others. I would very much love to be apart of the great Empire. Thank you

Anything else you want to say:
This is an amazing group with incredible members. I would love to be apart of your society.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming - its all i do all day every day besides being on the computer and on hack forums, i strive to help out other gamers who aren't as "good" i guess you could say, if someone needs my help on a game i am always down to help out, i can be a very serious gamer or can be relaxed and laid back. Gaming is about one of the only things i would really consider a skill of mine, i have been gaming for about 6-7 years and am very experienced with games like Runescape to First person shooters.

What section are you most active in and why?
Recently mainly respawn, but for a public section i would say the lounge and SRPP

Respawn mainly because it is a group full of people like me, people who love to game and discuss gaming, and different tuts for gaming. along with other off topic things.

The lounge for when i am looking to just relax and discuss everyday things or help someone out with a decision they want input on.

as for SRPP i am not a very active poster in the section, but i do browse/lurk alot i love to read discussions/debates on various things, i sometimes input my opinion, but i enjoy lurking and looking at what other people think on things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: From when i first joined HF and learned about groups i have always wanted to join The Empire, First things first mainly because of how High quality and friendly everyone in
The Empire is, how Exclusive the group is, i don't think i have ever came across a member that was currently in The Empire that was low quality or didn't really care or give thought to other users maybe not as "big" or "experienced" of a hack forums member as him.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel i should be accepted into The Empire because i can bring Quality, and more gaming knowledge to The Empire. Also because Being on Hackforums and playing xbox is about all i do all day every day i have plenty of time to contribute to the subforum or post in other sections and represent the group well with Posting as high quality as possible. some of the gaming knowledge i could contribute would be my knowledge of The First person shooters Call of duty and battle field. i could help other members who are maybe looking into taking Gaming more serious, leveling up faster, or looking for tips for when you are playing in a competition, playing 1v1's or 2v2's, or you are just trying to impress your friends.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am Tripp, I am 15 years of age and am from Dallas Texas, I love life and have no regrets even though many bad things have happened to me. i have always been a gamer but up until about a year ago i wasn't very serious about it, or even doing anything on the computer such as hack forums or any other forum websites. i don't want to go into detail but i was in the hospital for a major brain injury for two weeks and to this day (a tiny bit over a year) i am still recovering. i guess i should state how, well i ride BMX and its the best that has happened in my life, people talk to me about it and are surprised when i tell them i have no regrets about riding or anything, hell if never rode then i wouldn't be sitting on my computer tying this out right now.

i am the type of person who doesn't take life for granted and lives one day at a time, and if something happens to me i don't sit and regret it and live depressed all day, what ever happened in the past happened to me and there is nothing i can do to change that.
For the most part i am a outgoing person who is down with anything, i don't care what people think of me in real life, i don't care if someone talks shit to me, and if they do i just laugh and move on. I am the type of person who will be friends with anyone friendly regardless of there looks/age/race/gender, as long as they are mature.

Anything else you want to say:
I hope you take a good look at my application and let me know if you have any questions on anything i stated, regardless of the verdict i learned alot about myself i feel writing all this out, Thanks for taking the time to read my application. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have several skills that I put to use daily. Some more than others but nonetheless I have put countless hours into everything I know.

Rats:

I have gained an advanced amount of knowledge on remote administration and various types of malware. I move from one to another as my interest are easily shifted. I first learned with the help of some friends how to setup darkcommet and the whole ordeal that came with setting that up. Once I learned how mind-numbing simple it was I continued onto bit-coin mining and bot-nets.

Gfx:

I have spent a small amount of on graphical design. I find it a good hobby to find an interest in as it expands the mind to a whole new level of creativity. It's one of the few things I do i'm my spare time that will keep my interested for more than a half hour. I have sadly not put as much time or effort into it as I want to but sometimes you need to prioritize yourself and on several occasions graphical design falls last on the list.

Helping the community:

I try and do my best for the community but I have fallen short on a few occasions. I have devoted myself to helping newer members get into the spirit of hacking while keeping some sort of creativity in the process. I usually spend 5-6 hours a day in the BHS where I help anyone I can. Even though I do enjoy helping and the warm feeling it brings I can't seem to shake the bitter addictive quality's that the lounge has to offer.

Sports/Outside activities

Now I know this isn't relevant to the thread but this is one of my skills. So why not share? I have played various sports and am extremely active when I have free time. I played baseball up until 7th grade when they made me play on the high school team. I felt as if there was to much pressure and the opposing players were far to advanced for me to even come close to making any sort of progress. During the 7th grade I looked for a new sport that fit me and tennis seemed to fit. I joined a small league and my mom got me a private coach to ease me through whole process. Now I play for my high school and have made it to #4 in the county(I haven't been to any regional matches yet). I'm really aiming for a scholarship as this is one of the things I hope i can achieve in life.

What section are you most active in and why?

I am active in 2 parts of the forum, I do venture out into others but that's only if i'm looking for something.

Beginner Hacking Section:

It was love at first site. When i first joined HackForums that was the first place i went. I remember everyone being so helpful and nice(well..most) and knew if I tried hard enough some day I could be like them. I spent most of my time there until recently when I started moving to different sections. I get a great warm feeling in my heart when I know someone gained a tad bit of knowledge from me. During school I would often be a teachers aid or some form of after school tutor. Just the feeling I get is so overwhelming that I wish it would last forever and so far it has.

Lounge:

The lounge is my go-to place when I need a break or have other things to do. I'm mostly there later later in the night when all other parts of the forum have died down or when I have homework and still want to stay updated with the rest of the forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Empire to me have always been a group of higher quality members that do there best to show the rest of the world that HackForums isn't just full of skids and free dosers. Your the one group that could actually expand my mind, not just fill it with utter nonsense. I have never really felt part of something, I think this might be my one and only chance to actually be part of something that can cause a change.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as if i'm a high quality member and have devoted myself to HackForums.

"The Empire is a group of dedicated individuals that will share knowledge within our private sub-forum on a variety of subjects."

This seems like the most detailed description of myself i have ever heard. I have knowledge to share and wish to receive knowledge and I need to be part of the group to access the sub-forum don't I? I am highly looked up upon by several members and after a few setbacks I am moving towards greatness faster than ever, The Empire will give me that needed push to go beyond greatness.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

It all started 16 years ago when I was born. My birth date was so close to Christmas my grandparents convinced my mother to have me born on Christmas. However my mother is selfish and induced labor so I was born 3 days early. 2 days later she took off to go shopping and left me with my father. Not only did she leave me but she left me unnamed leaving all the decisions up to my father, that's the main reason why i'm named after him. Skipping ahead 6 years to the last i can remember of my childhood is when my father left me with my mother who couldn't give 2 shits if I was okay. All of my childhood was striped away as i was set in an empty room. no friends,no toys, nothing but me and my thoughts. I thought a lot during my childhood about many things. by now I was in school but missing 1-2 days a week because my mother refused to wake up after a long night of partying to take me to school. I was to young to ride a bus by myself then and relied on my mother to get me to school.

When I was 9 My mother had gotten me my first computer. I was instantly amazed at how it worked and poked and prodded my way through the contraption of wires and lights fascinated by everything I saw. After a year with my beloved contraption I had considered myself a master at computing, I could do anything, make a word document, turn it on and off, even play games! Once my mother had married(she never married my father) I was gifted with the delight of another child my age. I spent the next 4 years with him as my best friend. After the fourth year he got sick of my moms constant alcoholic abuse he divorced her and ripped me away from my only friend. Leaving me back where I started, In an empty room, Now the age of 12 I could legally chose witch parent I wanted to live with, I had chosen my father as he was the only one who ever cared for me. living with him opened me up to new things. I leaned how to laugh and make friends quickly moving my way up to the popular list while obtaining some relationships that would never last. It went on like that for 4 years until my father went off and tried to kill my step mom deeming him unsafe to live with. Now at the age of 16 and living back with my mother for 6 months she still amazes me how little someone could care for another person, or how much alcohol someone can take. So here I am, back in my room. with one laptop and only time to think.

Anything else you want to say:
How can you tell me that doesn't look badass?

4 hours and constant bitching from vandal that i'm not trying hard enough.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Help - Most of the time I'm always helping someone, generally for nothing in return. When I assist someone it makes me feel like I'm doing something right and being a huge help to who I'm helping. I'm in the Innuendo quite often now, helping people in whichever way I can.

Support - I've worked in support for around six years. This has been at both personal and professional support in many levels. When given any role to support something/someone I take that role very seriously, and give the best support possible. I've got great knowledge in many areas of support, including, but not limited to: Support representative, emotional support, physical support.

Mature - Now you may want to know how being mature is a skill at all; well being mature has a number of pros over the cons. I'm very responsible with the task I'm given as well as professional. I like to make sure things go according to "the rules," as well as having fun in a mature way once the work is over.

What section are you most active in and why? Surprisingly the most active I've ever been was in The Empire. When I was in The Empire it wasn't even a task to try to get a post count in there.. It was a matter of connecting with the other members and enjoying yourself as you post. I've got over 600 posts in the subforum. The only reason I'm not still in the group today is I had personal issues of which would of affected my time in the group, therefore I had to leave.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The Empire is a matter of things of which I look for in a group. Everyone works together and thoroughly enjoys themselves as they do so. Everyone functions together as a family and welcomes you with open arms! It makes you feel like your part of something so much bigger than you could ever be by yourself. Everyone in The Empire is so kind and friendly, it makes you feel at home. The group is very prestigious as well as promising for the future here at HF.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I'm a very fun and loyal guy. I'm dedicated to what I'm involved in, as well as honest. If something goes to fault on my end I'll be sure everyone knows and has an explanation to why it happened. When something is wrong for someone I go completely out of my way to assist them and get the problem resolved. I'm very reasonable, however I will hold an argument if I feel my side has a better answer/solution. I'm very easy to get along with in practically any situation.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a 16 year old male, living in the United States where I was born and raised. I've been through a good bit of things to only be 16. When I was around five my parents got a divorce and we moved to my grandmothers, who I call Nana. We lived there for around 4 years before moving to where I live now. In 2007 my father passed away of a sudden heart attack. That traumatically affected my life as I was a "daddy's boy." Not a day goes by where I don't think of ways to make him proud, which heavily influences what I do a day.

Upon going online and playing games online (mainly Habbo) I found a comfort with communicating with people through the internet. In 2011 when I found HackForums by looking up how to inject databases, I went from wanting to hack to becoming heavily interested in helping people and becoming something more. Since my join date I've been quite active as well as helpful. I'm the type of person from my past that I've been through most of the hardships as people are going through now. Since I practically first got on the internet I started working as support for businesses, and helping with emotional support with fellow friends/members of the community.

When I was a freshman in High School I was wrestling until I pulled/tore a muscle in my lower back which still hurts everyday. When I'm away from the computer I am very interested in hanging out with friends/family. Most of the time I am with my girl of three months (will be four months Febuary 11th). I try to branch off of the internet as much as possible while staying connected and doing what I consider to be my fair share. I'm currently working for a business called SnipHosting (can PM me if interested in seeing) which provides webhost/management services.

Why I'd love to be in The Empire:
A fun, enjoyable time.

The empire offers a great variety of learning to dive in to.

One of the most organized groups on HackForums.

One of the most respected groups (my opinion) that has came to HackForums.

I'm very eager to get involved with the amazing environment/community that The Empire offers.

I'm wanting to start helping with projects, offers, and giveaways that The Empire offers.

I'm ready to become something so much better+powerful than myself. Something I can relate to and better!

I want to be part of the dedicated "team" The Empire has! Possibly even assist with The Empire Stresser as I have in the past.

Further the quality of the group and fulfill my fair share of the work and responsibility.

Become smarter and a better person. Help people on a more wide-spread level and keep things neat and clean!

Anything else you want to say: Since joining HackForums in 2011 their's only one real thing I've regretted. That would be leaving The Empire. I had some real connections with other members in there as well as contributions to myself and the group. I'm hoping I will get another chance in the group as I did nothing wrong, just had to get some things sorted out and didn't want to bother the group. I highly appreciate you taking the time to review my application as well as opening recruitment back up!

Best regards,
-Webmasters

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My primary skills would be cryptography, computer security, and Minecraft. I can't really prove my knowledge in computer security without writing fully detailed guides, analyses, and so on and I can't do much to prove my knowledge of Minecraft as, well... the thing I'm working on that reflects my entire base of knowledge for it is a very large project that I've let no one have any eyes on, so I'm certainly not going to do it now. As for cryptography, well here; https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1730978 It's only one of the most in-depth guides on actual cryptography on this entire forum. Sadly, after I posted it I realized how most people here don't actually care about learning cryptography, they just want a "how to make a perfect crypter in 10 minutes" guide.

What section are you most active in and why? Are you referring to in the past or now? In the past I was most active in the Visual Basic and .Net Framework section due to my skills in that but I've lost interest in that entirely so I rarely post there unless the forum is dead. Currently I'm most active in the Infamous sub-forum due to it being a small group of people I know I can joke around with and the Minecraft sections due to my absolute love of the game and because of my pursuit to be a YouTuber.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I'd like to check the group out. A rather unsatisfactory answer, I know, but an honest one. Why would I want to be in a group that I have seen little from other than mass advertising of a booter? I've heard great things about the group, but haven't seen many great things. Maybe that's due to the limited amount of sections I frequent, but I'd like to see what the group is actually about.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I can contribute more knowledge and experience to the group than most of the members on this forum can. I've led two groups so I can easily help suggest things that can benefit the group at great lengths and I can also offer in-depth knowledge on dozens of subjects.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Not happening, read the next part for why.

Anything else you want to say: Get over that I won't share anything about myself. That has little to nothing to do with my being in the group. You are asking for information that is quite personal, actually it is immensely personal. If you add me to the group and actually get to know me, build a relationship, a trust, a bond with me, then yea I'd be happy sharing about my life and what has made me, me. Until then, I won't share much about things that are memorable to me as those are all very personal and mostly dark events.

I want to explore the sub forum, maybe do the some giveaways, help out. It's like asking why are you on Hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have done many things to many people in the past. I applied to the Company, but the group was sold and I did not get the chance to be a part of it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well I'm having rough problems in life right now. My step dad hates me and doesn't want to let me live in the US. I am in Ukraine at the moment, and when I go back to US this summer, I'll most likely live by myself. But I'm only 16.

Anything else you want to say:
Yes. Just watch my The Company video application. Thank you and good luck to everyone!

PersonableI'd like to think of myself as a good friend to anyone who needs it.

I'm almost always willing to hear problems and give my feedback and support.

Whether it be financial, emotional, or physical, I'm always here to offer an ear.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm most active in the Secondary Sellers Section for the obvious reasons. I'd consider myself a businessman and the marketplace is full of opportunities. Besides that, I currently own and manage a market forum where members can buy and sell their items in a conveniently dedicated business bulletin board. Shortly behind the Secondary Sellers Section comes the Premium Sellers Section, once again for obvious reasons. These sections are full of opportunities waiting for me to discover and profit off of, whether it be buying them low and reselling high, or any other lucrative scheme. While business is my passion although, morals always come first for me.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I see empire as a paragon of the HF user group. It contains all the necessary ingredients which make it into the respectable group that's built the current reputation it deserves. Whether it be the Empire's selectively chosen high quality members, their premium tutorials, or incredibly benevolent contributions to HF through donations and tutorials. The empire is more than many individuals wearing a userbar; it is a community or many puzzle pieces that each fit uniquely into the group to paint the picture of the Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: When I put my mind into doing something, I give it my 100%. There's no point in wasting time doing something if I'm not going to get the most out of an opportunity. If given the opportunity to be part of a greater union intellectuals and join members with similar interests to those of my own, you will see my dedication throughout the public forums, and private forums. I know I don't know everything but I have experiences in many areas, and joining the club will allow me not only to hopefully help others, but will help me grow as a person as well.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My life changed on September 24, 2010. Starting high school, I lacked the proper motivation and environment to want to exceed in school. I didn't participate in many extracurricular activities, my grades were lacking, and I didn't have many intelligent colleagues. On September 24, 2010, I saw the Social Network, and my life changed. From that day, I have made it my goal to: one; start my own company and grow it into a multimillion dollar corporation from a young age, and two; get accepted to Harvard University. That movie changed my life, physically and mentally. From that day on, I stopped slacking in school, and though it may have been to late, to this day, three years later, as a junior in high school, I still take the most rigorous academic courses available to me and am constantly on the lookout for new business opportunities to invest in. I'm not worried about not making money in life, because most members at HF are above average on the intelligence scale, but my goal is to make my money while I'm young. Though I haven't completely been able to turn my grades around, I enjoy every minute of unbearable stress put on me by taking all AP classes including AP Chemistry, AP English, AP Economics and Government, AP Calculus BC, AP Statistics, AP Computer Science, and AP Biology. I may not be able to prove to colleges that I'm an academic genius, but I hope Harvard University will notice my dedication and pursuance of business endeavors and find a spot for me on their campus. When I have a goal in mind, I do not shy away from it. I attack my goals head on and through this, I have complete faith in my future. My goal of getting into an Ivy-league will be accomplished and through the intellectually elevated environments provided by those institutions for education, I will constantly be stimulated with ideas for my billion dollar idea which I know will come to me one day. Everyone gets down when they see a bad grade, but I hope my model or getting right back up regardless of mistakes in the past will prove to be beneficial.

If there's one thing I'm known for in my community, it's business. I spend most of my time thinking of new ways to monetize off anything. My life is business similar to most of the other members in the group. I believe I have shown this whether it be from my network of sellers and buyers on my forum, http://www.MarketBoard.org, or from my numerous sales at HF.

Anything else you want to say: We've all had our ups and downs. I'd like to think I've learned from mine, and if I've learned anything in all my years of existence we can't let knowledge go to waste. I'd love to share my stories with the group and would love to get the opportunity to hear theirs. I hope to be wearing your colors soon.

Thanks,

Chocothunda

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Linux system administration, networking, radio, satelite and microwave communications (I have masters in satelite/microwave comm.).

What section are you most active in and why? Marketplace's VPN section. I sell my VPN over there.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I really dig the user icon.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am an expert in VPN and linux system administration. I build my own VPN topology with very sophisticated automation at the backend with N+1 failsafe mechanism. I do not call my VPN as "non-logging" for nothing. Empire looks like a well organized group and I am easy to get along with. I like working with teams that know what they are doing and emphasize alot on team work. I hope empire is one of those group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Blackhat turned whitehat, but i quit the scene after I found my very lucrative day time job in 2006. My nick has been featured in hacker e-zine way back in the year 2000, and I am trully old school as can be, from carding to government/corporate hacking you name it I've done it. Over the years I've seen many of my net warriors get put behind bars and life ruined for a 5 minute fame. I am glad that I did not turn out that way. Why am I back? Not really, I am not involved in any more of those and I've put the past way behind and I am just here for knowledge, to learn what this age has to offer and to build my passive income so i can retire soon.

Anything else you want to say:
Let's see what this group has to offer.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

• Remote Administration Tools - I have a-lot of experience with Remote Administration Tools, I joined HackForums to learn more about these type of tools and how to set them up / spread after I got infected a few months ago.

• Social Engineering - I have had tons of experience with social engineering on numerous occasions on the internet, and in real life. I mostly do it on the Internet.
I started a few years back.

• Graphics: I have basic knowledge in graphics. I like to mess around in Photoshop with all the tools and try to make designs. My old design name use to be Fantazy/Lucid as I use to play COD. Here is some of my work:

• Marketing - I love to market things / resell them. Before I was on HackForums, I use to go on many other websites and sell my products which gave me a fair load of money every week. I am looking for new things to sell on HF so I can contribute to the community with donations as I love being a part of hackforums.

• Cracking - I use a private cracking method to get all my steam accounts. I do this because I want to give more to the community in giveaways. I am trying to make a wordlist generator now so I can create more combolists to crack more accounts to give out to the community. I already have a few giveaways from the accounts I cracked.

• Computer Hardware - I have a basic knowledge in building computers, fixing errors on computers. My brother taught me a little bit about it when he use to do computer hardware.

• eWhoring - This goes under the social engineering I guess. This use to be one of my successful things, I made around $500 a week until my paypal started getting limited everytime and I had no method's to stop getting limited so I stopped 5 months ago. I still have all my private methods in my eBook.

• Website Construction - I have knowledge in webhosts / constructing websites. I have designed websites along with my brother and helping him with Wordpress / myBB.

• Gaming -My main platform for gaming is PC. I don't really like PS3 or Xbox 360, I prefer PC. I play lots of games from Minecraft, COD, Counter Strike, Garry's mod and Terraria.

• Helpful - I love to do my best in helping out the new members of HackForums so they get a warm welcome into the Community, and free services aswell. I love to talk to any member of the Community, listening on what they have to say and helping them out in relationship advice / sexuality / self harm as I've gone through all these things. I love to help in any way I can basically. If you start a conversation, I will not act like it's nothing, I will hear no matter what it is :).

What section are you most active in and why?
I am Most active in most of the subforums of the hacking category, Marketplace, and the gaming section viewing all the new techniques but I am most active posting in the lounge section as I like to hear what people say.
I am getting more involved in posting in all the category's I listed above as I am contributing more to the community in the ways I can.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the Empire because I want to be a part of this group and meet new friends. I want to give a good name under the empire as it will give me motivation to do more tutorials / giveaways to the community. I have some friends in this group, and I would like to be a part of it. Empire does alot of HQ Posts / Thread, and HQ users. I would like to contribute to this.
I have not had anytime recently, but I made a RAT thread and I helped alot of users out in setting up there rats through skype.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I will contribute under the empire's name as much as possible, being in the empire will give me motivation to start doing more giveaways such as netflix, steam, and Spotify premium codes. I have helped out some projects being support in; EncryptX Crypter, Hustler's booter, and many other Crypters / Booters.
My commitment to hackforums will definately change if I join The Empire, making my threads / post as High Quality as I can, even though I try to already.

I'm a normal 16 year old guy, I got into computer gaming when I was about 6 years old, then from there I progressed. I always wanted to know how to hack like my brother, but he never taught me. Everytime I tried, it never worked, literally never. I got to that point were I found HackForums and I dedicated hard work to learning new things, everything that I listed above. I found out new methods on all sort of things, learned how to RAT, and such. It was a great feeling showing off to everyone when I learned how to RAT, when I was noob. I've progressed so much through these forums.

When I was born, my mum was a drug addict / smoked / drinks. She did drugs when I was in her stomach and she didn't even care. She took bad care of me growing up, I was mostly raised by my grandma, grandad and my big brother. My dad took care of me aswell, but then he proposed to my mum 6 months after I was born....she said no. My dad headed off to England and I've never seen him since. I have no communication whatsoever.

I've taken care of myself the up on till today. Made my lunch everyday, food etc. Here I feel welcomed, and I like to make new friends. I am basically all day on my computer, on hackforums checking pm's if anyone needs help. It would be an honor if I got accepted into The Empire. I love going on the teamspeak 3 server aswell, talking to everyone. I still have lots of spare time since my holidays aren't over yet here in Australia. I am always here to talk if you need anyone.

Anything else you want to say:
I have to say, Empire is the best group on HackForums, in my point of view. I have loved the group ever since I joined, I would of applied before but my posts were very low and I did not contribute to the community. Thank you for viewing my application, I am not begging to get into the Empire, but it would be an honor to be in. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I think I am a great marketer.
• I always give the best prices for the users.
• I don't give users LQ items.
• I am always willing to negotiate prices.
• I am fair.
I think I am a good coder in VB.NET & C# because.
• I code what users want, not just for myself.
• I am always willing to teach, the more you teach the more you learn.

What section are you most active in and why?
I think that all sections need to be more active one at a time, so I try to be in as many sections as I can, I am currently lurking in the VB section, giving advice and help though.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Because I think it will be a great opportunity to find other members that are not only going to take, but are willing to give back to the community.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think I should be accepted so I have more of a chance to help others.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Hm, well I've grown up with not EVERYTHING given to me, I do not ask for much, but in Janurary 2011 when I joined HF, it was a great opportunity for me, I did get scammed in my first week though, but after that I ended up contributing more, I then bought L33T which was a big thing for me, as I am now under a new userbar, I changed my name a lot, but only last year I just stuck with the name Cyan, it is my favourite colour of all time.

I am who I am, nobody will ever change that, I call my self a YouTube Guru, I am not anybody else, I am Cyan.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I've been using Invision Power forum software for over 3 years. I have the ability to make custom forum skins with forum users that have IPB forum software. I also host clans on RuneScape Private Servers. I'm also hosting TeamSpeak Servers for a number of clients on Hackforums and on RS Private Servers. I also have the ability to do Graphics, I do not call myself top notch quality when it comes to quality, but I'm not horrible at them. I'm also learning PHP/Java and learning managing Linux Servers right now. I've also have had over 3 years of ratting experience, so I've also decided to open up a RAT help desk to help the HF Users out. I've also dipped myself into the Social Engineering/E-whoring for experience, so I'm not a completely new to that point of aspect.

What section are you most active in and why? Currently via Post Activity, I'm most active in the RuneScape section because I play RuneScape for fun, but I'm also increasing the posts in the RAT section of HF due to my RAT Help Desk.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I think I could possibly be a valuable asset to Empire and the HF community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I can teach you some things about forum development/webmaster or I could teach you a variety of things such as installing an IRC Bouncer onto a certain IRC network.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: [Video: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RUi54JTgL5s]
I've had a pretty hard life, if I have to say so myself. Don't get me wrong, my childhood was good for the most part. My father was a drug addict, drunk, worthless piece of scum. I honestly never loved him, he bought my love when I was younger but I was completely aware of that. Everyday he picked me up from school, he would smell like beer and it was only 2:00. My mother is the only thing I honestly have right now, that is defined as close family. My mother would always argue with him because he would be drunk or stoned etc. My father threw my mother down the stairs when she was still pregnant with me. The only reason she didn't divorce him was because she wanted a family, and I respect that for her. It was around 2009, my father went on a rampage and bleached my mother's clothes, broke all of her bedroom furniture, slashed her tires and she had enough of it, so she divorced him. I'm suppose to be seeing my father every other week for a few hours, yet he doesn't reply to any of my mother's text messages. He missed my birthday and christmas (this year and last year). Not one phone call or anything, I honestly hope he can rot in hell. Because of him, I will always strive to be my best and try to reach perfection, because he was a perfect example of what I could end up like.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I am a webmaster, I have had a few successful sites up and no a lot about website creation. I am a former admin from HTM as well. I have major skills in coding with .Net and have coded my own UD crypter from scratch and coded some other cool tools. I love exploits and use them up every time I get the chance to. I love helping the HF community and doing give aways. Another major skill I have is knowledge of Rating I am good at Rating and have helped a lot of people on that concept. I am always wanting to learn more and get better tho I am going to be going to ancilla collage with in a few months and learn PHP.

What section are you most active in and why?
I don't go to school or have a job so I am active all over the place and usually visit every section more then twenty times a day. My favorite sections are Group and Crew General Discussions, because I like to keep up to date with changes of the groups and what is going on. I aslo like to take my chances and apply for groups of my interests when I get the chance. Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback is another forum I like because I like to keep up to date with new rules and new updates hackforum's comes up with. I also don't mined seeing peoples feed back and feelings. My third favorite forum would be a sub forum known as Server Stress Testing, this is one of my favorite places because I am a staff member for starstruck stresser. And It is my job to help members and talk to them when they have problems or need assistance or concerns or questions. I also try to keep the official thread up to date with new news and updates as much as I can. Those are basically my main forums I visit every 5 mins or so lol.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join The empire for many reasons one being I want to meet new people and have a team to work with. I want to help the empire and give away knowledge and more to members. I want to have more friends and have acsess to a area with a more stable community and with more high quality members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because I have tried really hard for a long amount of time to become apart of this group. I have filled out an application for this group on almost every recruitment thread that has been posted. I try hard to be high quality and feel like for the most part I am. I never been -repped besides one time witch was by codevade ?. Any ways I also have had no scam reports and have done my best here at HF.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are:
Im Natas I am seventeen years old I have been a member of HF for the last year. I have lived a tough life growing up because my mom had me when she was 15 years old and then I lived with my grandma till just recently. When growing up with my grandma things were easy and she wasn't strict because it was always ask your mom if you can and so on and my mom was never there.

When I turned around the age of 16 my mom moved back around me and I decided to move in with her it was weird being with out your mom for that long of a time and then just coming into her house and living with her. She pretty much let me do what ever I wanted because I was all ready the age she was when she had me so she has always seen me as a adult since I have known her.

What really changed my life was about a year ago I found out my girl friend was pregnant and I was never so scared in my life. Today I have a beautiful daughter named Natillie taking care of her is my main job and my main goal to make sure she has a normal life not like how I had. I believe this is what really has changed my life and has made me who I really am.

Anything else you want to say:
If you want to no more about me you can watch my video application for the coperation I worked hard on it and I tell a lot about my self in the video.
-EDIT - Deleted the video feel free to contact me and we can talk viva Skype or tiny chat or somthing.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My skills are:

Hacking:
I am really good with rats and botnets,
I have had a couple months experience with that :)

Glitching:
I absolutely love glitching and have a YouTube where I upload them among other things, I have been glitching since cod4 came out :)

Social engineering:
Even though it is banned here, I am very good at social engineering.
I have se'd quite a few things since last year when I started.

Rapping:
I am a very good rapper. I have an awesome flow and have awesome punch lines,
Take this for example(it's a diss song from this girl that betrayed me and sent my nudes out):

This song right here,
Is dedicated to the whore who tried to destroy my reputation,
But ultimately improved it,
Hope you hear this slut.

So,
One day I got a message,
From this fat slobby whore,
She so overweight she couldn't fit the door,
She's like hey your a cutie,
If you lemme see your dick ill let you see my bootie,
So I did,
She was a liar,
She didn't send shit,
But everytime I talked to her she would rub her clit,
And squirt everywhere,
All over the bed and all in her chair,
She would scream like she was getting mauled by a bear,
She was like if you ever fuck me give my asshole a tear,
She was always in her room like batman in his lair,
And I was the joker,
She just couldn't wait for me to come over and poke her,
With my dick,
I've seen that pussy,
And that shits fucking sick,
It looks like an engorged animals sore after getting sucked by a tick.

It had crabs,
It looked like scientists had a failed experiment in there labs,
Like the hulk,
Like she had pumped that pussy 5 times in bulk,
It smells like fish,

I wish I could have a blue waffle than this shit,
I fucking wish.

And this is the end of this diss song,
And I know that there's gonna be people Saying I'm wrong,
Well you've never seen this bitch in a thong.
Her ass as big as a gong,
It's hairy like King Kong,
So if you don't like it,
Then fuck off my shit,
And this is a song about how marissa rubbed her clit.

^Yes I know that is a bit immature but you have no idea what she put me through ?

Here's another less insulting/offensive rap and its by my sidekick who is a really good friend of mine who is a girl:

So there's this boy I call Sizemore
I'm nothing without him, with him there's something more.
He's been getting hell every day
Cause bitches think they can say Anything that they want Shit just flys out their mouths while the cocks they fly in
And can I begin
By saying this boy is my bro
Stuff a cock in it hoe
if you've got something to say, just say it to his face
He'll find out anyway and make you a disgrace
To your family, your friends
The hell never ends
You cross this boy, your life will be shit
Bitch go on and just quit
At life cause you suck
BD don't give a fuck

And here's one more by me:

Damn BBYGURL YOU STR8
I wish I could eat ass like some food on my plate.
Lets go to Australia you can be my mate
And did I even tell ya we going to hells gate.
We gonna do things that ain't even legal in this state.
We just gonna fuck till it gets late.

Are you mad?
Like when that girl got caught fucking me by her dad.
I came one hair of getting stabbed
Ill stick my dick in that pussy even it's just a dab.
Bitch I can't even feel your pussy cause its as big as dexters lab.
Ill have some pussy for later here just put it on my tab

Do you got swag?

Must not have your pussy looks like an inflated bag.
Try to suck on this dick and you will gag.
So why even try If you as crooked as a zig zag, Ericka,
Ill fuck that pussy like a patriotic nigga bitch i live in America
The home of retards faggots and niggas lookin like bob sagget,
Make like a dog with ya tail and wag it,
Your guys dick white and short I guess you call it a maggot.

Do you have money?
Well ain't that funny,
I'm just gonna make like a male rabbit and fuck a bunny,
Hugh,
I fill your bitches tummy up with some of my manly goo.
Ah hell her momma can get on it too,
I can get some of my milk on her utters and make her moo,
Like Courtney Sherman,
Because she's a cow,
How can a bitch get that fat?
That's the question I'm asking how?
I can make yo bitch go up on and down on my stock,
I guess you could call her Dow,
I suggest you come over to your king and take a bow,
You oughta fucking see what I'm finna do now.

Are you dumb?
While getting some head I made a lump sum,
While giving some head I made ya bitch cum,
While kissing her neck I made a hicky,
As big as that female rappers ass,Nicky.
If you mess with me the situation is gonna get sticky,
Just like ya bitches face,
Get near me nigga ill spray ya with mace,
I be fucking her fast like we in a race,
I'm eating her pussy oh how I love the taste,
You try to copy me but can't you fail copy and paste

What section are you most active in and why?
Probably the lounge or srpp. I occasionally post in the cod section and the Minecraft section(but not alot anymore)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Because I would like to be in a group where everybody gives back and doesn't just take. Where people aren't LQ. Basically I would like to be in this group because I want to be among other HQ helpful people :)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because I try to give back to the community. I post HQ threads almost everytime I post a thread. Most of my tutorials have both video and text tutorials. I try never to post anything LQ.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well I'm a 16 year old homeschooled kid.
Back in freshman year I got framed and expelled for something I didn't even do.
Before that happened I was put in special ed when my Iq is higher than most people's(which makes no sense). I had to go through the humiliation of walking into a special ed classroom when I'm not even mentally retarded. I was starting to get popular before I got put there too. I had the girl of my dreams in my hands before that. And it was all took away because of a biased corrupt school system and its principles. I went to every party imaginable, i was having the time of my life. And if all got took away. Nowadays I usually am on the Internet if I'm not out with friends I had before I got expelled.

Another notable thing that happened to me quite recently is this:
So, this girl I thought that liked me persuaded me to send her dirty pictures by saying she would send back. She has now shown everyone around the town my pictures. I of course have retaliated and I'm a big enough size it doesn't hurt me, but after basically owning her at her own game she calls the police for "slander" and they come but I didn't get in trouble.

So basically I am a homeschooled kid that has a drug addict mother who steals all my valuables for drugs, who has a dad he never sees, and got his happiness he had from school tooken away by a bunch of completely biased asshole principles.

Anything else you want to say: thanks for the awesome leader of empire for taking the time to read my application for this superb group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): i'm interested in Computing and web-developement: i know a little of HTML and PHP, in fact around one month ago i made a free filehost service for HF users, at the beginning it was with unlimited disk space, but one week ago the host provider resized the space to 1.000 MB.. and so the plan are fallen down.. however if you wish to see it you can visit this website: http://www.kingghost.kir.cc/ while here is a tut about building a .htaccess file https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3080443

Gaming: I own an original xbox 360 slim and i'm usual to play in live mode with COD BO1 / Crysis 2 and Halo Reach (search me on xbox live if you wish; i'm KingOfHunt3rs too)

Console modding: i'm interested in console modding too, in particular on wii modding, i own a modded wii console and i'm usual to mod each wii for around $10 to everybody that ask me for it, i helped a friend met on HF too in doing this:

What section are you most active in and why? As you can see from my Post Activity i'm very active in the members contests section at the moment, but in this period i need money, so i entered in a few contests (while 2 weeks ago i was active in the same section becouse i received my ub3r approval and i entered in some upgrade contests, at the end i won my blue bar)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Group is very cool and HQ

I think that i can learn a lot from it to improve my experience

Nothing else... at the moment

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Nice question... i'll be honest: if i should be the member which is looking to applications to decide who could join and who not i would reject myself.. becouse up to this moment i don't posted a lot of HQ contents... i'm not LQ but i simply have not so much to share, for this reason my posts are around a Medium Quality, and this would be a truble looking at group description... i simply wish to join in a nice group, as Red Lions or Illuminati, that in my opinion are the greatest on HF; i can assure you that when i enter in a group (in the life) i'm usual to consider the group as my home, i support it and i learn very quickly what i have to do to be a respectable member. I hope that a chance 'll be given me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: As one day a good friend of mine said me, usually i appear as a quite person, but in truth i'm a very good observator, that notice lot's of things that other people didn't see, building an extremely precise profile of people and things; i'm generous, but only when i'm sure that people arent' fooling me and what that i'm giving (if material) 'll be really used for what that people say me; i'm shrewd, it's not easy to impressionate me, and maybe for this reason i'm a little diffident to "golden opportunities" that usually hide scams... However i'm not perfect.. i got scammed for the first time in my life (here on HF) for a hand of dollars.. i was a normal member and received negative rep too from the user which scammed me, in that period i was giving away an ebook written by myself to earn money; an user (a l33t) asked for it and i gave him the direct mediafire link... he replied me saiding that in my rep was written that i was a scammer, and he would have not pressed on the link.. that message changed me... it let me know that normal member have not a protection for upgrade members abuses, and i would be happy, now, with my blue bar, to help everybody ask me for an abuse received from an upgrade member.

(above there are more that 3 paragraphs... but i hope that you 'll consider it; however now the scam story ended... the user which scammed me in truth stolen an HF account, and when the real owner saw the rep given changed that -3 to +3, as you can see between my rep points)

Anything else you want to say: Best regards by KingOfHunt3rs ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I'm good at creating minecraft servers. I don't have one at the moment, if The Empire need one, I can make one. If I had enough money I would already have one.
I'm also good at Visual Basic. I made some tools, for example: "Skype Mail". Skype Mail allow sending messages to offline users in skype. BUT! your partner has to use SkypeMail too. You send and receive the messages in Skype. It also needs to be running on a server, but I have not the money for it.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm active at the Minecraft section, because I like Minecraft. I'm also active at the Beacon Subforum. I also like reading threads in the Lounge, but I'm not posting very much there.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to The Empire because it's a very nice group. I also like subforums of a group. The Empire was the first group I wanted to join. But there was no recruitement or I don't felt ready for it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think I'm a HQ member of HackForums. Of course, there are people who are more HQ then me. I'm very active on HF, I'm here every day.
I always try to help people, so I'm a helpful person.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
This is a hard question for me. Something memorable that happened in my life, what makes me who I am is that I got bullied a few years ago I think. In this time I changed me alot.

Anything else you want to say: I don't want to arouse pity with my "story". I told it because you asked. I can life with it now.

Web Development - I'v been making sites a couple months now, Not amazing but i'm okay
Graphic Design - I can do some GFX but not alot, But can help others if needed
Monetizing- I can make money when i need it.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm active it lounge most because thats where the fun starts, It's the best place to talk. Other than that HabboHotel section because i own my own so it's good to check it out.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I have been waiting ever since the end of last recruitment to have a chance to join The Empire. I have applied before but hoping this one gets me the spot, I really want to join this because i have noticed that everyone in the empire are close community and helpful around the forum, I want to help other users and want to sponsor empire in that.
The empire is a full of great HQ users. I could contribute to the empire by helping users and doing competitions for the empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because i feel like i'm a great HQ user, I make sure my post's are HQ so you won't have a LQ user. I have things to offer such as giveways,competitions, tutorials.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'm 22 years old, I live in england united kingdom, i didn't do very well in school, got inthe wrong crowd. I work now and enjoy it.
I'm on hackforums everyday and always looking for a chat or to help other users out with problems.
I grew up playing football(soccer) but had to quit as my ankle got broken.

Minecraft-Section, because I'm a gamer.
the subforums of the group I am in/were in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Since I joined Hackforums the Empire was the most impressive group. I always wanted to be a part of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I am very active here on HF and try to be as HQ as i can. I think i would ge a good growth for this group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am good at talking and making suggestions, I have no examples but I am good at them, I make suggestions to people all the time to make things better, e.g if they post in the wrong section I would suggest that they post in the right section to get help. I can talk a lot and set up good advertising pages.

Also good at: ~Gaming.
~Studying
~also learning to code!

What section are you most active in and why? I am probably most active in random sections, because I just keep on clicking on the 'View new posts' button, but if I had to say something It would probably be the hackercraft section or the lounge, because I love minecraft and hackercraft I also like to see random posts ;)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because I want to make my self more noticed and I want to improve on others, It would encourage me to give more to the community and to keep HQ.

The group is also friendly and HQ its self!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I am a friendly user and I learn things quickly, I can always help others in what I am good at and I have fairly good punctuation and grammar.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My real life name is Tommy, at the age of 5 I started playing rugby and got really into it, I am trying to get scouted for a better team at the moment; I improve my rugby skills every day.

I am a fairy smart student but when I went to primary school it was so crap the school nearly got shut down 4 times because it failed the reports :S but when I moved houses I moved to a much better school, it helped me a load and now I am getting all passes in my exams.

When I turned sixteen, I wanted to start training to fight so I joined a boxing club. I have still got to improve but I am getting better! :)

Anything else you want to say: I am a caring person and respect people that need to be respected, if you respect me; I will respect you. simple. I also accept my mistakes and take it on the chin, so if I have done something wrong please tell me.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I've got an array of different skills, here are some. Not all though obviously.

Skills:
Web Development
Programming
Gaming
Writing
Graphics
Malware

I'm looking a lot into web development at the moment and love to create pages when I'm bored and experiment around. With the current economic climate a skill like web development is a good skill to have.

Programming is similar to web development in the sense it's something I'm looking into and interested in. I'm learning Python and PHP at the moment and have been taking online courses for Python.

I guess you could class gaming as a skill as I play completive (GB, etc...) and spend a lot of my time gaming. I play on the Xbox 360 and PC. I play mostly play on the PC but I'm getting more into Xbox 360.

I'm an avid writer and love to create E-Books and rewrite them for others. I've released a few E-Books for free and have also sold some too. I guess my writing skill could come in helpful in the group for say writing reviews in the name of The Empire? If you would like to see an example of one of my reviews, go here.

Graphics are always useful so I decided to get into creating pieces and have made some quite nice pieces of work. I'm currently in Graphic Masters's learning from their student program.

A great friend of mine has taught me a lot about malware and thus, know quite a bit. By no means, everything but still quite a lot. I understand how R.A.T's work and also keyloggers.

What section are you most active in and why?:
I'm active in mostly the Minecraft sections but also just general gaming. I'm also quite active in the hacking tools section and a few others such as the member contests as I do a lot there in the form of upgrades.

These are my favourite sections as I really like gaming as a general and also I love to help other users out.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I really want to join The Empire as I feel it's a great group and I've always wanted to become a member. I feel the members in The Empire al share similar traits to me and I think I would really fit in. I also hope to learn a lot from you all.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I've done a lot for the community in the form of giveaways and contests. I've upgraded one member so far, have a contest that ends soon and also plan on upgrading another member next week in another contest. I also have a lot of skills that could help other Empire users.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well my real name is Michael.
When I was young my father passed away so for the first four years of my childhood I had no father figure. At this age, it didn't really bother me as I wasn't old enough to grasp the concept of needing one. Then, when I was four and a bit my mother remarried and I gained the amazing father I have today. He's works in IT the same as my mother so as you can guess from a young age computers were kind of forced upon me. By age six I was already into gaming on the PC. I remember my dad showing me Unreal Tournament 2004 and since then, I've always been into PC gaming. Anyway, I'm getting off topic.

My father is the kind of guy to stick by his morals. He also really helps me out with pretty much everything. When he was at school, he used to bunk off class a lot and failed most of his exams, because of this it was hard for him to get to where he is now so he's always on to me about needing to get what I need to achieve further in life as he doesn't want the same for me.

I know it's pretty hard to understand and poorly written but I guess it kind of sums up why I am how I am and why I always strive to do the best. I'd go into more detail but some stuff is a bit too private.

Anything else you want to say:
No other than thank you for reading my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am decent at SQL injection with about 400 sites under my command at the moment. My best qualities are my coding and SEing skills :3 I have a few projects going right now including a crypter, booter, and steam forcer.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most involved in the python section, because my love for python far exceeds anything else <3

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have always valued your group very highly and it has been my dream, since I set my eyes on these forums, to join it :)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I can't say that I should or shouldn't be. That is only for you to decide.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Parents getting divorced. I really have lived alone my whole life emotionally, and after that getting bullied in school really tore me down even more and I got pretty depressed. I started using drugs daily and cutting myself, but eventually after a ton of moral support (and physical really) I got out of both of those. It really made me mature a lot faster than I should have. Plus getting stabbed in school was another story :/

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I can code HTML, Javascript, CSS, build computers, and administrating. The reason why I wanted to learn HTML, JS, and CSS is because one day I would like to become a webmaster for a big company. It has become a dream of mine for the past few years now as I think it is a exciting thing to spot out bugs, debug a site, and coding helps me relax. Building computers is a side hobby I have. I have taken apart some of the computers in my house and rebuild them. I was never interested in building my own computer but a few months back I decided I wanted to successfully build my own computer. Another skill I have is administrating. I have administrated a few game servers and a few forums. I must say I am good at it. Sadly those forums or game servers just had to shut down -.-. I recently picked up a administrating job with Fluffy. It's not really administrating as all I do is paste text but helping because is something i like to do. I have racked up over 40 hours at my local nursing home. The staff there loves me and I have made a few friends with the elderly. It's really cool when you have a WW2 veteran there. The stories they will say :D

What section are you most active in and why?I am most active in the lounge. The lounge is a mystery place and you don't know what you will find. It can range from people posting pornographic stuff to who someone ratted. You will never know what you will find in the lounge and I love the mysteries. I also help out in the Computer section. The computer sections need more cooler and non dickish Nvidia enthusiasts. I usually help with the higher end build as I do not know a lot about AMD. I usually stay away from AMD as I have had bad experiences with them. I really don't have a "active" section as I have joined a few months back and I have only had 1k posts. Maybe when I am 5k posts I can come back to you with this question :P

Why do you want to join The Empire?:There are a lot of reasons why I want to be apart of "The Empire". The Empire is a cool group who have HQ members. I consider myself to be a range between a skid and a HQ member. The reason why I consider myself to be in between is because when I first joined HF all I wanted to do was learn to ddos and hack in ways that it isn't even possible. After a few months of being on HF I have migrated from the skid to the "next level" It would be really cool to be able to join my second group with just such short time on hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:As I have stated above "The Empire" consists of HQ members. I represent Eminence well and it would be really cool to represent "The Empire". In all honesty I haven't put much effort into my application but if you were to check out my posts and what I have done for the community you may consider letting me in. For now I'm just pushing it with this LQ application D:

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:Well the reason who I am today is because of bullying. I was bullied for the majority of my life. I was bullied from 3-4th grade. I switched schools to change from that scum bag school. I was constantly being harassed by the other kids and the staff were so bullshit. One time I was on a trip with my class to a museum. I decide to sit down with my friends. Then the bullies come sit down next to me and throw the stink bomb and start laughing. One of the teachers find out and somehow I was fucking blamed for. Even one of the chaperons I never even talked to stood up for me. I got suspended for fucking 4 days because of the bull shit school. I then switched out to another school closer to my house. I was bullied there to. I had a iPod nano piece of paper my mom gave to me so it can give me motivation in school so I can eventually get an iPod. Turns out those fucking morons went into my desk wrote all over it and ripped it all up. Finally elementary school was over and I was in the happiest 2 years of my life. Middle school was the best. I had a group of friends who were really chill. I eventually moved by 8th grade because my mom wanted to go somewhere suburban. I had a great 8th grade year. One of the kids that had just moved in to became my best friend and we started to play football together. Two years later and i'm in 10th grade. This kid decides to call me "fat", "titties", or anything else me. Keep in mind I am not that fat. For some reason I have moobs D:. Anyways this goes on for a few more months and i decide to fight him. Turns out I win and I put him back into his place. Few months pass by still does the same thing. My friends are there hearing everything that comes out of his mouth. Instead of getting myself suspended one more time I use the educational system. Keep in mind every school I went to did shit about the bullying. They honestly did not care about it. NJ started to enforce better bullying laws. I got him suspended for a few weeks. I also told them that "he does not care what the main office does to him". I guess the main office put him back into his place to :D. Now this year has been one of the best years. My parents love me now. They are finally allowing me to build my own 2000 dollar gaming rig. My grades are better now and I am improving as a person this year.

Anything else you want to say:Nothing much but thank you to whoever took the time to read this application. I hope I do get accepted ?

SIM-1091100 - January 29, 2013, 11:52 am

I will most likely do a video application when I get home from school, as I can easily describe what I want in much more detail and depth, than if I were to do so in an application. I will of course send it privately.

Mohatu - January 29, 2013, 12:21 pm

Good luck to all applicants. Of all the groups I have ever been in, The Empire feels like a home, a starting base, a green room away from the mayhem that is the public section. You will meet new members who will become your friends, learn new things, participate in some excellent discussions, and enjoy time next to some of the most well known members on the forum. Put your time into your applications, this is a chance you do not want to pass up.

I have been in The Empire for several months now, never once have I been disappointed.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Skills:CodingI can speak 3 different languages. I can code VB.net, java, and batch. I started off with batch a long time ago because in my opionion it is one of the easiest. After i got much better at batch i was talking to some friends of mine, who coded VB.net. I saw my friend coding VB.net and i thought it looked pretty fun and easy so he gave me some tutorials and i watched some youtube videos and i started to code my own programs. I started with some easy projects like spammers and then i started coding youtube bots. I have improved in coding youtube bots and such and i started my own youtube views buisness. I know can code tons of programs in VB.net. Later i started to play minecraft. I had played on public servers with my friends for about a year and then i created my own server for some extra money. I was always interested in plugins and i decided to start making my own instead of paying $100 for someone to code me one. I watched tons of youtube videos about java and then some video son how to make plugins on minecraft. Then i started of by learning more about minecraft and how to code for it. Then i started coding my first minecraft plugins. I started with ones which would make it always day and so when you pvp random items would drop and such. Then i started to get into big plugins, onces that took lots of expirience making and mostly for pvp. The plugins took a long time to make and had many bugs which i had to scam threw all of my code and try to find them. Now i dont play minecraft anymore so java isnt really my thing anymore.

Gaming I have a long gaming history i started with games systems like the gameboy color. I had mine for very long and then i moved on and got a nintendo DS. After that got old and boring i started playing with the ipod touch ever since that came out i was amazed out how electronics have approved and i new they would get better and gaming would become amazing. Then i got my first ever Ps2 and i played madden on it for hours. Once that got old and lots of the people i knew got Ps3's and better devices i had to get one so i got a ps3. Then one day my brother played and he turned it off wrong and the insides got fried and it didnt work anymore. We brang it to the shop and it was un replacable so we had to get a new one. Me and my brothers started playing our first shooting games on it and then we started playing games like call of duty. We got a 2nd ps3 because of how much we fought over it and thats when i started gaming for ever. Then i got a new computer which i played games when i was younger like runescape and bang howdey which is some little kid game. After i started to get over those games and i gamed for very long on call of duty. I got to the highest ranks on all the call of duty's and then i got into computer gaming. Now i play on the computer for long hours with all my different friends and i code for the games hacks and other stuff.

HackingIn my opionion i am a pretty expirienced hacking. I started hacking once i got into gaming and you can read my whole story above this about this. Once i learned about hacks i was always thinking of hacks i wish i could have so that is why i got interested in coding which you can also read above gaming. I started off as a script kiddie an amateur hacker wannabe always using other peoples creations to hack into other peoples computers. Well that is how i started off my hacking career learning about hacks and that is why i was always wanted to code my own programs to hack into other people computers and such. I am a security expert and i use my knowedge to hack into other peoples web sites if i fell the need to which i usually dont do anymore or to hack into other peoples internets. I now dont do it as a need for me but i do it for others in need who dont know how. I also crack a variety of accounts and such as steam accounts on websites porn accounts and way more. I use my own ways to do that mostly and might pay someone to teach me more about things before i crack them. I am very expirienced in RAT's and such and one day i think i am going to code my own and a crypter. I dont not do any black hatting activiety that could get me in tons of trouble like hacking paypals or identity theft and im hoping not to turn down that path.

MathWell i am very smart in math, it is probably my best subject. I have had A's all through middle school and all the way through my high schools years so far. I am a master in algebra and geometry and i am mastering calculus now which i hope to also get way better at in college. I hope my math skills will get me into a great college so i can make a good living and have a great family. I am always helping people on HF if they need help in math or any of the other subjects i am good at. I am at the top of my school in math and i have been good in math ever since i was younger. I am so good at math because my dad is a chemical engineer and his whole job is doing math and making sure his company has enough products to last the month so he is always adding numbers and he teaches me at home.

[*]MusicalWell to start of i play the violin and the piano. I started off the piano when i was younger and i had a private tutor. I didnt really enjoy it but now i aem really good at it and it is fun to listen to my own music. The piano helped me a lot in the musical world so i decided to try another instrument so i started playing the violin and i joined the shcool orchestra. I have been playing piano for about 6 years and the violin for about 4 years. I am hoping to keep playing instruments for as long as possible but i dont know if i will. I will probably play the violin my whole life for sure and teach others maybe.

What section are you most active in and why?

I am active in many different section. I have a lot of post in the minecraft sections, marketplace, lounge and hacking tools and programs. I have a lot of post in the minecraft section because i used to play that a ton and i made a ton of post their to help others and myself. I have a lot in marketplace because im always looking for things that i can buy and some things i could sell others. I have a lot of stuff in the tools and programs section because of some of the tools i gave away and some others i wanted.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the empire because i am in the team speak nearly the whole day talking to other members and i have a lot of fun their. Also the group does tons of giveaways as i have seen in the member contest area. Also the group probably has a pretty active sub forum and i have been looking for one for a long time. I could also help out the group and i bet they could help me out also.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel i should be accepted because i will do a lot of giveaways to help out other members. I also will do as much as i can for the group and supply the sub forum with lots of HQ giveaways and tutorials. I should be accepted because i do a lot for HF and i deserve somthing in return and also its a group i could help out and they cold help me out.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I lived in Italy most of my life. It messed up my english a bit but although i do know Italian and i have been nearly all over the world. I have met some famous people over there and some rich ass kids cause i went to a private school.

It really affected my life because my education wasnt the best. When i came back to america i caught up though. I also got to learn a lot more sports and i got really good at soccer. I also met alot of friends which was really cool and fun because they where from all over the world also.

Last but not least i got to learn some of the Italian traditions and how they got to live. All the houses where smaller people werent as good at sports like basketball, and football as they are in America. I was pretty happy i moved back and i was also pretty said. I wouldnt be on the computer here today if i didnt live in Italy because my friends in Italy taught me a whole lot about it and got me interested.

Anything else you want to say:

I lived in Italy most of my life.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I have gotten into Internet marketing the last few years and have made over $3000 in profit. I love teaching people about anything including marketing. Outside of the Internet, I have played guitar for the past few years and I am captain of our Varsity soccer team. I am a HUGE Xbox gamer and play mainly FIFA UT and MW2. I am pretty good academically and have a 96 overall average. I am also starting to learn some C++ in a principles of computer programming class that I am taking. I also ski on the weekends with a group of my friends.

What section are you most active in? Why? I have mainly been active in the monetizing techniques section. I enjoy online marketing and I even more like to help people get into marketing. Many of my guides are free but I am also selling one of my more valuable methods. Besides monetizing I am mainly active in the marketplace where I buy and sell various items and of course I am active in the lounge. It would be great if I got accepted because I would be extremely active in the Sub Forum.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been looking for a high quality group to join and I believe that the Empire would be the perfect group for me. I have not seen one low quality member in the group and I believe that I can bring a lot to the table. I am always active on HF as soon as school ends and even during study hall. I am also friends with a few members from the group and believe I would get along great with you guys and teach or help you with what I know about various subjects.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have no negative rep and will never do anything against the group or anyone on HF. I have recently been more active on HF and I am going to donate more money this weekend and I plan on holding an Upgrade giveaway next week. I will have no problem being active in the sub forum especially because everyone is pretty HQ and cool to talk to. I will also give away many thing for free within the group if I feel that I can trust everyone.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I am in 10th grade and attend a school called Vestal in southern New York. One memorable thing that has happened to me was that last year I was playing basketball outside with my friends in early spring. We took a real and I had my hands out telling my friend to throw me the ball. Out of no where this little blue bird (I think it was a baby blue jay) just flew right in front of me and landed right on my forearm. I was just standing there with my arm out letting the little bird walk up and down my arm. It had long nails an just stood there looking at me. All of my friends were laughing and looking at me like I was crazy. The bird eventually flew off after a few minutes but it was one of the most extraordinary experiences of my life. You may not believe me or think that I am insane for telling you this but it was pretty awesome to have a bird randomly land on my arm.

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for holding recruitment! Good luck to all who applied and either way I believe that the Empire is one of if not the most HQ group on HF, thanks

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I feel I have many skills in many different areas. Since this is mainly a computer forum, I will start with my computer skills:
Ratting: This was one of my first types of computer experiences. I have had some good and bad experiences with ratting and keylogging programs. I am currently trying to code my own rat for sale on HF. I specialize in spreading, and how you can make an income from ratting and viruses.

Monetizing: My main goal anywhere on the internet is to make a source of money. Where ever I can, I try to learn and teach as much as I can when it comes to this subject. Whether it be PPD, CPA, or PTC, I have tried it all and I know what works. I would be glad to share what I know as well as to learn what more knowledgeable members know.

Virus Removal and Whitehat Activities: Because of my more blackhat history, I have quite a bit of knowledge when it comes to virus removal and security protection. I am always trying to learn more about this subject, because I think it is one of the most important computer subjects out there. The best offense, is a good defense. I am a firm believer in this, and I think that it crosses into the computer world also.

Kindness and Respect: I feel this is the most important quality and skill I have. I feel as though everyone should be treated fairly, anywhere. Whether it be on an online hacking forum website, or at school. I feel the world can accomplish more if we all dropped the anger and just worked together. I work well with a group, and I always like to help new and less experienced members.

Leadership: Many people may laugh, but I am on my way to becoming an Eagle Scout. If you don't know what this is, it is a rank in Boy Scouts that shows my dedication to a program that I have start. It also shows that I am respectful to all, and that I can lead a group of people. By becoming a leader, my goal is for people to look up to me, and make the right decisions.

Debating/Consideration: The first group that accepted me on HF was Logic. Here, I debated with many colleges about a multitude of topics. I feel it is important to view every side, of every argument. It may not come as a surprise, when I tell you that my strongest subject in school is history. I find it crucial to read and research about past mistakes made in history, so humanity doesn't repeat these mistakes. I personally enjoy it, and it gives a different perspective on many things.

I feel by reading these skills you will get a picture of my personality, and what I am like.

What section are you most active in and why? If you were to look at my post activity, it would tell you that my favorite section to post in is the lounge. This is not true. I would consider myself more active in the Beginner Hacking section. Here, I tell and teach what I know to less experienced members. I really enjoy the hacking topics, and I fit in nicely with other members.

I also like to check the marketplace everyday. This is because I am a businessman at heart, and I love to check in on things.
I myself have had a few sale threads and I have run them with quit a lot of success.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire for many reasons. Every since I began my journey on HF, I always looked up to Empire members for help or assistance with anything. They were always nice and happy to help. This group alone sets a HQ standard for all of HF. I think that deserves the respect of everyone, and I would love to be a part of it.

There are many groups out there but very few match the quality of The Empire. Overall, I want to actually accomplish something on HF. I think joining a group is the perfect way to do so. I am very eager to learn, and happy to teach all I know.

To be honest with you, I haven't been very active in the past couple of weeks. This is due to school, and a hand injury which allows me to only type with one hand. I would love to join a group and spark an excitement that we all got when we joined HF. The fire for me has extinguished, and I would love for it to start back up.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I can share my knowledge, and learn in a HQ environment like The Empire. I strive when I work in a group. I am constantly giving my services and help away for free. I always encourage new users to talk to me if they have any questions. I feel I can bring that into The Empire. I have a certain level of HQ that I sustain everywhere I am. Some may call me a perfectionist, but that is just how I like to do things. I would love to join the Empire and share what I know and learn in a friendly community.

I feel it would be beneficial for me to come and learn as much as I can from other, more experienced members. Since I have first joined HF, I have had many helpful threads in hoping that I may help people. Here are a couple of those threads:
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3009327 (Free crypting service)
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2947856 (Free bitcoin miners) https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3039475 (Cheap hostgator hosting)
https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2955701 (Tutorial on bitcoins)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I feel that I am different from many people applying to this group. As I might have stated before, I am becoming an Eagle Scout. I feel this is a pretty big part of me and who I am. I think this makes me who I am, and makes me make the right decisions. I take pride in what I do, and I feel everyone should. I think that all the lessons I learn in becoming an Eagle Scout helps me with everything I do. Whether it be in school, or HackForums.

I also think my academic life is important. I always try to challenge myself anywhere, and school is a perfect example of this. I am currently taking all honors classes in High School, and I plan on taking AP classes throughout the rest of High School. I am always thinking ahead, and that makes me prepared for many things. I also play football for my highschool. I think this helps me work with a group, and accomplish a common goal. Football helps me get exercise, and it keeps me out of the house. I think it is important to be well rounded, because if not, you are not living as much as you could be.

During my time here on HF, I have been all over. The first official group I was in was the group Logic. I enjoyed my time there, but unfortunately everyone was kicked due to reforming the group. I then didn't have the post requirements to re-apply. I recently became Uber, and I am very happy with that position. I consider myself to be more of a businessman, so with some of the money I get from my monetizing, I put and donate to HF. I plan on donating more money to HF in the next month.

Anything else you want to say: You may or may not recognize me from the last recruitment. I have added to my application, and I hope you guys enjoy. I would gladly make a video for you (for my application), but I would prefer to stay anonymous. Anyways, I would like to make a top five reasons why I should be brought into The Empire. This application has taken me quite some time, considering I have been typing with one hand. Thanks guys.

I will contribute, be active, and help anyone that needs it.

Anything I might be selling will be given and contributed in this group.

I will be respectful and always consider other peoples input.

I can generate some money in and for the group.

I will make new friends, while being kind.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
VPS/Web Hosting

I have multiple skills that can be brought to the group. I am extremely skilled with working with web hosting and Virtual Private Servers. I have been using VPS's for a very long time and I would be glad to share the things I know with members of The Empire. I wouldn't think twice about helping a member in The Empire with VPS's because I love helping people and teaching them new things. (https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3151305). I believe my experience with web-hosting and VPS's would help out member's and the group a lot.

GSP (Game Server Providing/Gaming In general)

At the moment, I currently am partnered with a GSP company which can be found here: https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3212381 . I know lots about gaming which is one of the reason I started this company up which at the moment is VERY successful. We have multiple sales from multiple forums. I own a lot of consoles (all PS systems) and a XBOX 360. I love playing video game's and it's one of my favorite hobby's along with sports. I believe I can teach members of The Empire about gaming and even teach member's about how to run a GSP company. Like I said before, I LOVE teaching people.

Business/Selling/

As you can see in the two above examples of my skills, I love to sell things. I love to make money and I have multiple methods on how to gain lot's of money which I would have no problem in sharing with the community of The Empire.
What section are you most active in and why?
I believe I post the most in The Lounge and the PlayStation Section along with the marketplace. To prove this you can check my recent posts and you can clearly see me helping people with PlayStation Issue's, posting in the lounge or even posting on my Marketplace threads.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because I feel like it would be great meeting new people and learning tons of things. I also would love to share my knowledge and methods to the members of The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire becuase I have lot's of things I could share with the group. I have tons of methods,tutorials and skills that I would love to teach people how to do. Like I stated multiple times I love teaching people and helping people out.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Before I begin telling about my life, I'd like to tell you guys who I am. My username is Psilocin and I joined Hackforums in 2009. I was inactive for a very long time and one day I remembered hackforums and decided to come back. I had no money at the time and I needed a way/source which can make me money. With my Web-hosting/VPS skills I got a light bulb in my head, What If I made a shop on HF?

Life was rough, I had to move from my hometown leaving all my close friends behind which I hated. After we moved into my new house one of my parents were laid off leaving only my dad being able to work. At that time I felt terrible for asking things from him (asking him to buy me things) so I decided I would make my own money while having time to spend with family. That's when I started selling VPS's which was a huge hit, I made lot's of sales and lots of money which was amazing. I was finally getting some luck.

After awhile, I started to partner with my friend Seifer Blade and started a GSP company which just started a few days ago. We have sold multiple servers over multiple forums and we are making tons of money. Now here I am posting a thread attempting to join such a fabulous group hoping to get accepted.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Skill

Emotional Support -
I had a interesting life and due to that life I am able to give advise and help mostly anybody from suicide to divorce. I am currently looking for a place I can give advise and be myself without being judged. I know The Empire can provide such place as I was in it before.

What section are you most active in and why?

The Lounge, Innuendo, Melody, Harmony, Rhythm and MP3.

The Lounge - I like random subjects to post in and talk about. The only problem is that the trolls make it a very Low Quality section but I try to be as social as possible and treat everybody with the respect they deserve even if they don't respect anybody.

Innuendo - I always post here to give advise on relationships and such.
Also I post there because that's the home of maturity and Emotional Help desks. I can easily call that my home.

Melody, Harmony, Rhythm and MP3 - I am a very musical person. Where words fail to define me music succeeds. I like to share my music with people and see if it has the same effects on them. Music is perfect. There is always a song for every moment you live trough.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I think I can be the high quality member I once was when I was there. I enjoyed every second of it. I am pretty sure some members remember me from there. I know I was removed by a heated argument but that was a long time ago and I feel like I have bettered in a lot of ways. More mature and Understanding. Give me the chance to prove myself again.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I would like a second chance and more know that I have really improved my weak parts. I really can't say much here because Its your choice if I can be a part of this community once again. I won't say a lot of things to try and Impress you. At the end of the day your word is the one that counts.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is Samuel but people call me Sam for short. I am an Ex-Gamer and Ex-Song writer. I stopped writing when I realized my words weren't as powerful and clear as I hoped them to be. So I decided to give up on that.

I love making paintings since I was little kid I was able to draw and paint. My family are all artists so I guess I got that from them
Here are some paintings I made while bored.

This song is my song and my wife's song. This song means so much to us in so many ways.
I can relate to it 100%.
She stayed with me while I was going trough my drug addiction, financial problems, suicide attempts. She was there. Still is. That's why this song is so powerful to us.

"Cause after all that we've been through
And after all we left in pieces
I still believe our lives have just begun
'Cause now the past can be our own
And I know you are the reason
I still believe the best is yet to come"

I can say with all my strength that I love her.

This song also means a lot to me. It literally has changed my life for better. We all need somebody that tells us that we are not alone, that they have your back, they will lend you a hand when you fall. This song did that for me.
It's a Christian song. I don't believe in anything but this song still got to my heart and made me look to the future with strength and hope.

Spoiler (Click to View)[Video: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8Uw8mIcQJn8]

This song I dedicated it to my wife a few years ago. We where going trough Long Distance Relationship and I felt so terrible. One day I was going trough my suggestions on youtube and the tittle intrigued me, "Pieces" I started to listen to it. It's so peaceful and strong lyric wise.
The peacefulness of it relaxed me and made me forget all my troubles, the lyrics felt like I was talking to myself. I knew that the moment I get reunited with my fiancee everything was going to be okay. I dedicated it to her and it was perfect for both me and her. She felt the same way.

We have gone trough everything. We thought there was no end to it. We pulled trough and music had a huge impact on our lives. Music can be so powerful. Open your heart to music and the rewards will be tremendous.

Red is and will always be my favorite band.

I got married a few days ago. We are having a baby girl and I am very exited for it. I can't believe I will be a father in 5 months. It's a moment of my life that I really anticipate.

Anything else you want to say:
No.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Web Development:
I have currently worked developing websites for personal and professional reasons about three years ago. Even since, I have taken pride in the work that I have done, including many charitable actions. To me, money is not everything and I took the time to create four websites over the course of the last two years that would be the official pages for charities. These charities found themselves not being able to compete with larger charities (Red Cross, etc.) so I took the liberty of creating webpages at absolutely no cost to them, integrating Paypal and other ways to volunteer. Since then, I have founded my own forum which has grown to over one thousand members in the course of a year. I am very prideful for the work that I have been able to do in that time and once again, I haven't made a dime off of my services.

Marketing and Promotion:
Currently have been enrolled in the marketing courses at my high school for two years. I have gained an immense amount of knowledge in that time, including graphic design as well as video production as it pertains to the business world. In state and national competitions, I have placed among the top ten in multiple categories related to marketing and business ethics. I once again take pride in myself with the ability to come up with solutions to business issues and be able to implement them in the most successful way, which leaders into my next skill.

Business Experience:
Despite being at a relatively young age, I have already worked at a few businesses and played a critical role in product creation and production. When I was 15, I led development on social network development aimed for students at my age group. I actually led a group of professionals and helped design a user interface from the ground up. A few months later, a company in the same building that I was working at reached out to me. Similar to the last, they sought a mentor for what people in my demographic looked for. What was suppose to be a simple two hour meeting turned into a three month employment at this company helping design a product and managing their social networks. If you are interested, please PM me for the name of this company.

Monetizing:
I would describe monetizing as something that I have found mild success in. As I described before, I generally like to use my talents for a greater good and not for complete personal gain. That being said, I have used PPD networks before and have amassed about $700 in profit over the course of a year or so. Many users on this forum would describe that as pocket change, but I take it as a big deal. Since my PPD career, I have developed small websites for personal and business causes and have developed small graphics projects for individuals who are interested. On HackForums, I have had a few topics where I have been selling a product and have had flawless feedback with users receiving items at a price where my profit was minimal. Like I've said before, making people happy means more to me than a few dollars.

What section are you most active in and why?
No point in not being completely honest. As reflected in my statistics, the section I have been most active in is the giveaways section. This section is essentially the reason I decided to join this forum and the first few months of being on here was my attempt to download every eBook possible. Since then, I have made my focus on helping others and also learning trades that I previously was not familiar in. I have done numerous giveaways, including one that has saved HF members over $50,000 and gave them the opportunity to start a business or website online, the link can be found here. You could go through my topic history and find more giveaways, but at this point I am sure you understand the theme of my application, I like helping people.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would sincerely like to join The Empire because of the opportunity for myself to learn and help others. I see The Empire as a prestigious group on HackForums where only the best of members are accepted. Joining the ranks of this group would be an honor that would sincerely mean a great deal to me.

I would like the chance to be active in the subforum posting in topics to support other members, starting my own to assist, and reading others to learn. I am constantly seeking opportunities to expand my knowledge base, and no differently from taking multiple AP classes at school, I see this as an opportunity to learn and associate myself with some truly unique and prominent individuals.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that I should be accepted into this group because I have the passion and desire to help others and acquire more knowledge from those who share that same passion. I truly believe that the quality that I possess will be reflected in this post and will transfer over to the subforums of The Empire. From someone who has ran a forum for a good period of time and understood the definition of people who are only in it for the short run, I've come to learn the same definition of dedication that

The Empire knows and is looking for.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
About two years ago my father was diagnosed with melanoma, a dangerous skin cancer. My father has shaped my life and gave me everything that I have needed to succeed. When a family member is sick the real reasons to live come out. My desire to help others and constantly seek to improve your image and assist those who don't have the same fortune that you do came from the weeks that I sat by my father at the hospital and pondered the thought of him not in my life.

I really do seek to be an individual who makes a positive difference. Whether it be working community service, helping a friend with math, or PM'ing a member with advice on how to set up a MyBB forum, I believe that the little things can really help. Like I mentioned above, I am someone who takes pride in my ability to articulate my thoughts and have succeeded in numerous difficult classes throughout my high school career. My grammar is a subject that I take seriously and believe it is reflected in writing pieces, such as this.

I am a social person who enjoys the idea of posting actively and with quality. I truly do seek to learn new ideas and teach my own. Through my experience in school subjects and those outside of the classroom, I've helped many learn difficult ideas and also have come to appreciate whenever someone takes time out of their day to work on a project or idea with me.

Anything else you want to say: I would sincerely like to thank The Empire for allowing me the opportunity to join this group. Ever since its conception, I have admired the members and leaders of this group and would love the chance to be among them. I understand that my posts per month is a little lower than what The Empire is seeking (approximately 45/month), but there have been times where I simply haven't been able to access and post on HackForums as much as I would like to. I also had about 200 posts in Rhythm that were deleted when the group changed. Thanks again for this opportunity. I have never had a better way to post my 1,000 post (for the third time). :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Internet Marketing (CPA, a little PPD, much Affiliate Marketing)

MyBB expertise. I am very skilled in myBB forums.

Managing Websites, Gameservers, Groups, and more. I am very responsible for managing things.

Skateboarding - it's a hobby of mine. I love it.

RAT Expert - I know how to manage and handle a RAT.

Emotional Support - I've been through plenty of relationships and know what it feels like for certain things. Love is a huge feeling.

What section are you most active in and why? I won't really be direct with this question, so I'll tell my top two sections.
The Lounge - The reason I am so active is because it is a general off topic area. I like to just socialize and discuss about certain topics and certain threads with other users. It helps me get to know everyone. I get a good look and feel of the high quality regulars here on HackForums, and I look forward to become one of the HQ regular visitors here. Although, I am a regular visitor already. I just want to be HQ, and The Lounge is a good place to learn at.

Remote Administration Tools - I really enjoy helping others out with using RAT software. It is a pleasure of me to help them. I like to share the love of gifting and helping. Helping users out just makes me feel like a good person. I help a LOT in this section, mostly to the newbies who want to set up their Remote Administration Tool.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The main reason that I'd love to join The Empire is to become a very high quality user and to get known well with the community. Many Empire users are just extremely high quality, and I believe I am like them. I love to make tons of HQ posts in a day or two, and just rack them up. The Empire feels like as if it was a home to me, and it still is! I just look forward to the social concerns as meeting new members and old members that are in The Empire. It would be a very good social experience for me, because I know all users in The Empire are all there for each and every other. I sure as heck would prove myself worthy into getting into this very high quality group. I'm not like a bunch of other users that just try to get the userbar to look good. I actually want to just have a really nice experience sharing memories and moments and just having good discussions with fellow Empire members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: The reason I feel as if I should be accepted into The Empire is that I have a lot to offer on my part. I ensure you that I will make tons and tons of high quality posts, and will make The Empire look good. I would do many high quality giveaways and group discussions. I have many items that are worthy to give away on HackForums. At school, I just get so bored and wan't to go on Hack Forums. I'd dedicate nearly all the time I have to The Empire. I'd be very honest, loyal and respectful to each and every group leader and member, of both The Empire and all throughout Hack Forums. I love to be nice, it gives you a good standing. I really do think that I should be accepted. It would really help me out, because like I said before I am looking very forward to see how this experience turns out. I am pretty darn sure that it will turn out well. It would be a great life and social experience. I would be completely responsible. I'd be an active user in the subforum, easily.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
My name is Bradley, and I am a 14 year old male who browses through the internet daily. Hack Forums is my home page, and daily website that I visit each and every day, to just go on for the heck of it. I enjoy Hack Forums. I've been through some tough times. My parents divorced when I was about 10 years old, and just very recently my Dad and step-mom just got married. This was last Saturday. I had some pretty tough divorce times. I had really no support from anyone, as my parents didn't know I was very sad. I would always cry in my room by myself. The only person I opened up to was my best friend named Rebecca. She still is my best friend to this day.

When my parents first divorced, I needed a distraction. I found a main distraction: skateboarding. I just practiced and practiced every single day to get that divorce junk out of my head. To this day, I'm pretty darn good at skateboarding. I can land big heels pretty darn consistent. I went through this phase, and I still am going through it. I doubt I will ever leave the phase. This is kind of life a home. I am staying here forever. Once you skate, you don't go back. It's my personal 'bubble' to get away from life, because when you practice tricks all you do is just think of the trick. Think of swiftly executing the motions and stomping on those bolts to land it clean. Skateboarding is basically a whole different world than reality.

When I hit the age of 13, I found out about Hack Forums. I just wanted to get into RAT tools and see how they worked, and I just got hooked. My daily schedule is basically to go skate, and browse HF. I really did enjoy HF, and still do. I learned a lot, and matured a lot. I even figured out my future job when I am out to college. My parents and I discussed about the job, and they just told me "Do what your dreams say." I still really like that quote to this day. I've been fascinated by disease and parasitic research. It just really interests me how the human body can be raided and get attacked from certain pathogens. I really like that topic, and it is an interesting subject to discuss about.

I added some extra questions to just give you guys more information.

Top five reasons you want to join The Empire:

To become a part of a high quality group.

To let others know that I am a high quality user, because The Empire is a very HQ group.

To socialize and get to know each and every one of the members.

To feel that I got what I destined for.

Have a more enjoyable experience overall throughout HackForums.

Do you agree to be an extremely active user: Yes, I will be a very active user. Active with out without the group.

Anything else you want to say: I am looking very forward to getting accepted into The Empire. It is a very unique group, and it just looks like it is the one and only group to fit me. All the members are high quality. I can easily fit in, because I know I am a high quality user. I love to post on the forums and get more and more posts, but each time I post I always check on the grammar and quality. Thank you very much for reading my application.

Religion: I was born into a Jewish family, but I am really religious.
State/Country: I live in California, United States of America.
Time Zone: I am in the Pacific Standard Time (-8 Hours).
What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have an extensive amount of knowledge with OS X. The evidence I have supporting this is not only my signature, which redirects you to a thread in which I am listed as a "Mac Genius", along with a forum which I was requested to moderate because the owner saw how much I knew about Macs. I was also listed as an "experienced member" in this thread, which is basically a help desk for the "Apple Mac and OS X" section. Another skill of mine is that I have very minor knowledge of the "C" language, but I am currently learning it, so my knowledge for that will rise over time.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the "Apple Mac and OS X" section because it is the section that I can be the most high-quality and helpful in. I do wander through several other sections though, such as the "C/C++/Obj-C Programming" section, since I am currently learning "C", as stated above.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire because I think that the group is full of high-quality people, and this would be the first group I would be in (excluding ub3r and l33t), and it would simply be an honor to me if this would be the first group I get into.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As stated previously, I think that The Empire is full of high-quality users. I believe that I should be accepted into The Empire because I consider myself high-quality, even though somebody being high-quality is completely based on opinion. I also have a lot to offer to the group, and will try my best to help out other members in the group, along with those outside of the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I have followed the saying "Treat others the way you want them to treat you". By doing so, I always try being as kind as possible to everyone. I was bullied throughout middle school and had to change schools as a result. Because of this, I don't treat others kindly if they are rude or mean to me, but instead, I will treat them the way they are treating me, if not worse. I don't get angry at people online though, however, I cannot stand trolls when I play online games. I love using computers, and ever since I was in elementary school, I have had a passion for using them. I have learned numerous things about Mac computers, since I own one, and thanks to that, I am one of the few people that students at my school come to for troubleshooting their computer problems. I like to play soccer, and even tried out for the varsity soccer team, however I didn't make the team. Because I didn't make it onto the soccer team, I was able to join my school's robotics class, which has been quite fun.

Anything else you want to say: I don't have much else to say, but I would like to say thank you for giving me the opportunity to join this extraordinary group.

Gender: I am a Male.

Religion: I believe in Agnosticism, which is being unsure of whether there is a god or not.

State/Country: I live in California, USA.

Time Zone: I live in the Pacific time zone.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

graphics, have been doing it for about 2 years and have had a lot of practice and learned a lot from it coding, about 3 months and I'm still learning

Social Engineering, I've been doing this for a while without knowing so I'd say about a year into it and I'm still not too good gaming, I have been a gamer ever since I was in kindergarten, I had anything from a Gameboy or PS1 all the way to Xbox 360 or PS3.

Language, I'm trilingual (English, Spanish, German)

What section are you most active in and why? I'm most active in the Marketplace, specifically the Secondary Sellers. I am there because I really enjoy seeing what kind of stuff the people around the HF community are able to get a hold of and see how they can turn those items into a great profit. I myself like to sell / buy from the marketplace. I know I was there ever since my first day on HF. I can definitely say that more happens there than should for the bad of one person or another, but that sometimes gets sorted out. But I really enjoy making money here, and some people can make a living off of the profit and support they gain on HF.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The group seems to be pretty organized and one of the more HQ groups out there, I also see many HQ members in the group. I feel as if I fit into that HQ group of members and I feel I fit into the group as well. To be honest I also feel that being on the group will help me feel like becoming more HQ.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire as I have many great skills, great grammar and spelling, I'm pretty smart, I follow rules, I read stickies, I read threads through out the full thing, and I would be a help to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Some things about my life are that in all of Junior High and Freshman Year in High School, I have been very immature and irresponsible. Within the past year (Sophomore year), I have changed that and it has been turning out greatly. I have went from barely turning in anything and failing at everything, to having complete straight A's and I make sure I get everything done. Those 3 years of my life were really really hard and I went through a lot of trouble, with kids picking on one another and right in the middle of puberty, everything was hard. I've always been picked on and my only escape was to get home and play videogames talking crap to other people over an xbox mic. Then the summer came I literally did nothing but sit in my bed and just do nothing. It led to me loosing a lot of weight, loosing almost all my appetite, and it stopped me from getting picked on for being that chunky kid I used to be. After I could focus on not being picked on and bullied I became a lot smarter and a lot more responsible and that change over my life is really what made me the person I am right now.

Anything else you want to say: Huge thanks for reviewing my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Java: Right now in my school I have a class called computer science. I have learned a good amount of java so far and by the end of June. He will also be teaching us C++ and any other language we want to learn. A project he is giving us is going to be to make iphone and droid apps.

Communication: I guess I am skilled in this. I know how to be myself and to not have anyone make me feel shy or censored. I know how to deal with problems and others in big group things and come out on top of the situation.

Video Games: I play a lot of video games like most guys do. I play any game from Minecraft, Call of Duty, Battle Field 3, and Adventure and Role Playing games. I like to learn everything I can and find glitches, bugs, and exploits in them without haveing to hack them. I also like to know advantages of each game and use them.

What section are you most active in and why?

Griefing Section because it was why I came here in the first place. I've been branching out more but I still am trying to get used to the other areas of HackForums. I do like to go to the lounge to meet new members and or read about what is going on that you don't normally get in the HF news. I hope to branch to the java section to learn some new tricks. I also want to start browsing all the sections and see if I can find any I am interested in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because it is a group of learning, high quality, and knowledge. I am smart and can give out my opinions, knowledge, and will to help others. I always want to learn as it is a drive to me to be able to have the knowledge of anything. I want to be successful in my life and learning is a major factor in that. The high quality the group gives is more than expected. I have had questions answered by members and they were formal and polite about it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because although I may not be skilled in a lot, I have knowledge and motivation to learn and become the master of the that specific topic. I also feel that this group could help motivate me more to finding things I am skilled at and not know that I am. I am good at motivating and pushing people to do something that is a challenge and to just lighten their day up.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Spoiler (Click to View)

Writing this essay is going to be challenging, I don't really like giving all my life story away mainly because I don't want to remember some of it. I have always been living my life as the middle child, the one who was never noticed or the one who never got attention. I always was slightly outgoing and positive during my younger years and always would be in pain to see someone else hurt or upset. As I've been progressing with my age I found that I can turn that care for other people into a profession and a carreer I enjoy.

Right now as a 17 year old male, I have two major events going on in my life. I am apart of my towns First Aid squad. I have got to experience life changing things throughout these few months. I noticed that I can put that care for others into practice and literally save lives. I feel pride everytime I put on my gear and hop onto an abmulance. These experiences are making me more mature and shaping me and my personality. I can show my care for others, my assistance and motivation with communications, and my comedy with my fellow members.

Another thing going on in my life is the military. This summer I am planning on leaving this summer for BMT (Basic Military Training) and will more than likely not be online during that time. It is coming to my realization that is getting closer and closer to the date of my "deployment to texas." I am going to be putting a lot of time into preporation and learning military topics. Luckily for the group I can be dedicated to many things and thrive in them. This will mean that I won't be as active in the spring, but I'll be as active as possible. This summer will be an issue that we could discuss if I am accepted.

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to say if I do not get accepted, it won't effect me. I do appritate the fact that you leaders will review my review and I hope that everyone in the group will still be as awesome as they have been towards me and other individuals.

Spoiler (Click to View) Sorry if the text is a little hard to read. If you need me to fix it I will. I also wanted to add that I put a lot of time into this. I am very proud that I did and I realized with the motivation I could do it. I gotta say I have a happy feeling every time I read it.

What section are you most active in and why? Most section regarding programming I either lurk, or am active in. Primarily the VB.NET section.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Everyone seems very tight-knit I would love an opportunity to become apart of your 'family'.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am proficient in many areas of programming, and could even hold 'classes' for anyone interested in learning what I know.
"Who dares to teach, must never cease to learn."

Hello, my name is SomeWhiteGuy, SWG for short, and I like anything regarding computers and programming. Since I got my first computer, I have always been interested in creating things that other people could use. When I joined HF around 1 and a half years ago, I was not very active, and was what most of you would call a 'skid'. I have blossomed out of my shell per-say, and have started helping virtually anyone that requires assistance. In my ~5 years of programming and coding, everything I know is self taught. I am dedicated to things I find interesting, and that is why I feel as if I should have the chance of becoming a member of The Empire. Not only to receive things, but to give them, and help others. Oh, and I'm a die hard southerner.

Anything else you want to say: Took me a little while to come up with all the code, lol. Hope y'all find that interesting.

I've maybe seen 1-2 good applications so far
I hope to see some more :D

Good luck to everyone, even tho I'm not a leader, I'll be looking at applications :D

==========

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
- I've more than 4 years experience with Adobe Photoshop, so I can make avatars, signatures, banners, headers etc.
- I can code websites (HTML & CSS) I also do this as part-time job.
- I'm experienced with using a CMS.

What section are you most active in and why?
The lounge, I like to stay up-to-date with HF.
(And I always click on View New Posts | View Today's Posts)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Because I want to join a distinctive group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
To spread my knowledge to 'The Empire' members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm Daniël, a 17 years old Male from The Netherlands. I grew up young with computers (I started when I was 6 years old) and later had the idea to go to a Graphic Design school.
I went to the Graphic Design school because I wanted to be able to create Games, later I found out that I'm not that good in drawing so I finished to school, and switched to a different education; International Business. Why International Business, well because I like to interact with people, like to present something and last but not least, to make money by selling people products.
At the moment, I'm still following my study International Business.
I sport 4 times a week, social active and still 20+ hours or more on the Computer.

Anything else you want to say:
G'luck to all applicants!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Well to begin, I have skills in AS3 and Java. I also have a unique skill in social engineering, which I've learned my lesson. I was caught for defrauding a company and I'm paying for it. So, I've set into reality at this point. At first I did it for the shits and giggles, but now I know when to stay low and how to keep to myself. If you wish to know more, feel free to shoot me a PM of what I've done.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm usually active in The Lounge, Innuendo, Upgraded Members Lounge, that's about it. Why am I active in those sections/threads? Well, I like to listen on what people are doing. I've always been shy but lately (since late 2012) I've been dedicating myself towards this forum. Hence why I've had more posts. Before I left in early after summer break, I probably had ROUGHLY 500 posts. Though sometimes the community dissapoints me when it comes to speaking your opinion, but I've known now not to show my rebel side towards things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well if you were talking to my non-upgraded self a few months ago, I suppose the only reason why I wanted to join The Empire is that the logo looked badass. Though the idea of this group seems truly amazing. You guys seem underground, which is what I would love in a group to keep the anonmity while actually supporting the HackForums community itself. I would also like to share my knowledge, and I would love to see or obtain knowledge from you as a group. I love intelligence gathering, it's something that I've found interesting too. The Empire seems like a group for me. Another group that I shared interest in was LOGIC before it was bought out, then later moved to The Angels..

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have a past of activity that I've kept to myself for almost a year. I've carried around a few aliases which have done some things, but now have quit. I'd love to share what I know to a group that would respect it. (Looking at what I've seen, you look like a respectful group. Heck, I was talking to a guy of yours last night, he seemed very nice. Though the question is, why as a group should I be accepted? That's the hard part. ?

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Ever since I could remember I've always been playing video games. Video games sparked an interest in technology, which at a young age I was messing around with batch and stuff. I used to bring a USB flash drive and show how I was a hacker, fear me now kind of things in CMD. People bought it; which I later thought if people bought things like that, couldn't I trick people into giving me stuff? So I tested my luck. I tested my luck with teachers about missing homework, then I later found out about social engineering. I joined up with a group in 2012(going to remain that a secret until I find trust to let somebody know that) that we caused doom. In the mean time in my personal life I was dealing with issue with my mother being in the psych ward every few months, at one point she OD'd in front of me. Like I said in Innuendo a few times, that point in my life changed my looks towards society. A lot of my ex-hacktivist work has changed, however I do like to fiddle around with some private OSINT tools, hacking to bypass security systems, etc. If you wish to know any more, please feel free to PM. :)

Anything else you want to say: Good luck to everyone who's signing up for this group. Hope you all have a great day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Beginner Hacking - I'm helping there as much people i can various from RAT's to Keyloggers. I use my skillz to help this people Hosting - Most time i'm bussy with hosting , support and selling.

Selling is some skill from me.

What section are you most active in and why?Beginner Hacking - I like to help new people on HF with questions about hacking.

Minecraft - I'm really enjoying minecraft , with real friends. I try to help people in the section.

Hosting - I'm a employee on a hosting company , i try to find new hostings and give them tips.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire looks a very nice group.
I think it's more than 'Just' a group.
It's looks as a family for me.
In family's they are respectful for each other.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because i'm a nice guy , and i glad to help other people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a nice guy actually.
I try to help other people , but the most people don't get help.
So i do it.
I do this , because my situation at home is not the best what i can get.
My parents are fighting since my 8.
On my 12 it started , i was beginning helping people for the church.
Starting from selling cookies to books.
Not much to tell about my life.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Coding
-I started this when I joined HF,learning Python. I started and discovered that Python was very easy,not what I wanted. I wanted a challenge so before I spent to much time on Python I left it to learn C++ and boy is it a challenge. I am still very new,because time is an issue,I don't have hours to put into learning untill holidays or summer really.

Hardware
-Started learning this when I was 10. I built my first computer when I was 10 years of age,out of spare parts in my parents' internet cafe. It worked fine with no issues. Then I left it,got bored of hardware and moved on. Then I discovered the hardware section here in HF and it has re-kindled my interest for it,I never knew how interesting it was.

Malware removal
-I spent my fair share of time removing viruses from computers in the internet cafe,and on my own PC. I spent a fair amount of time in the WHH section,ehlping where I could. I stopped going there but I plan to return.

Hacking
-Also been learning this for a fair while now, I know how to use tools like SQLmap Metasploit etc. I did learn SQLI manually but I see no point in doing it manually unless trying to bypass firewalls etc. I am always learning more about hacking or "cracking" as I stay here. I am also getting into RATing,even though I do not class this as "hacking"

General know how on windows
-Been using Windows since I was 3,I know many tips/tricks on here,comon issues and fixes etc. Such as BSOD's

What section are you most active in and why?
Well,acording to my stats it is the lounge -.-. But this isn't a real section and I plan to keep my post count low in there. I suppose I go to,and read more in the hardware section. As I said before I have just got an interest for hardware, I enjoy learning about it,reading reviews etc. Eventually I'll be building my own rigs, I just like hardware.

If I had to give a second section it would have to be the C++ section. I also find coding very interesting and challenging, I like seeing others sources and learning about coding so I myself can improve.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I enjoy working in teams with others,I like generally being part of groups of people. I have applied for many groups here in HF, for whatever the reason may be. But the empire has always been the most desired group to join of mine. I would be honored to be accepted into the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I do my best to help others,I have never trolled or flamed anyone here,never had a neg rep or scam report,I believe I have an ok reputation here. (not hf rep points). I'm not gong to represent the empire badly,I will always participate in group projects or help desks etc etc

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
What makes me,me. That's a boring story :P I'll try make this interesting :D.

Well. I've never been one to make friends or be with the "cool" kids. I've always sort of kept to myself,which I prefer to do. What I enjoy doing is anything related to computers,I got started when I was 3 years old believe it or not. My father was a fan of the age of empires series and all games like that,so he got me on the PC at 3,playing those games with him,all my family were saying how he was a fool and it was bad for me etc etc. A few years later I was playing those games by myself,at about 6-7yrs old I would get up an hour before my parents on a school day and go on age of empires,nearly every morning. I could of course operate the computer alone,the basics such as turning it on and starting the games. A few years later I learned how to start using windows properly,browsers file explorer blablabla just general use. Since then I have kept going in computers,learning how to build them,to disinfecting them and how to program them. I will never lose my interest in computers,I enjoy them to much.

Now for something memorable,well I guess that'd be moving country. Moving from cold england to a very hot country near the beach was definatley a big change. Although not for the good in my experience. I severely miss the UK and wish I could return even though most people deem me mad. Moving here has changed me a lot,and not for the good.

Anything else you want to say:
Not really apart form good luck to everyone that applies.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I can social engineer and make people hate someone, I can RAT people and keep the RAT FUD for long periods of time, I can make a java drive-by and spread quite well. I've done E-whoring in the past, It's fun, but I'm not the best. Aside from all of that, I do a bit of programming/coding, and I can make music in FL Studio.

What section are you most active in and why?: The Lounge, because it's the most entertaining. It's fun to read troll threads, and see how immature/mature certain members of the community are.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would love to share and receive more knowledge. The more you share, the more you get. I would also be very active in the group by posting tutorials, examples, etc.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I consider myself an over-all active member, and I would gladly post in the group and share my knowledge. I do have very many tricks with social engineering, as it's an art I practice quite frequently. I have decent grammar, and love to share knowledge. I've been looking for this kind of group to share and learn for quite a while. I was thinking of starting an unofficial one myself, until I found this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:Hello, my name is Jack, as you can see from the top of the application. I am an over-all smart, caring, and sensitive person. I am very easy to get along with, and I love debates on all kinds of topics. I have helped people with depression in the past, and I feel I can be helpful and teach people how to properly talk to a depressed person. I do live with my parents as I am only 14, but I am very mature for my age, and I plan on being a computer programmer when I am older. Judging by the classes I am going to be taking, and my current knowledge, that will not be very difficult. I love to social engineer in my free time, and with social engineering, comes spreading a RAT the fun way. (Omegle, Chat Roulette, Facebook, etc.) I recently over-came strong depression without going to any counselor or some shit. It took will power, and the knowledge on how to do it, provided by a friend of mine. I am willing to help anyone with any problems, and teach everything I know.

Anything else you want to say: That just about sums it up. Have a nice day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Skills I have here is Spreading Methods for RAT's as well as RAT's. I am able to tell from what the user tells me if they are infected or not by any sort of RAT, virus etc. I am also a very good at PVP on Minecraft as well as I am in general very knowledgeable about history. Even more so when it comes with World War two, I am also skilled at grammar as well as spelling.

What section are you most active in and why? I am very active in the minecraft section considering the fact I enjoy playing the game. I am also active in the Lounge since I enjoy associating with all members of this great forum. I have also contributed to the forum through a skype spambot that received over 20 downloads as well as a few vouches. A 14 day trial card to a member called "Premortal" for xbox.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: From joining this group I will have the opportunity to learn and share my knowledge with the group. Teaching fellow members about either hacking, history, helping them with problems is always something I would very much enjoy doing.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As I stated I will aid other members with any sort of problem they may have or just questions pertaining to any subject.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well I will be honest I am not the tallest kid and never really was. Although I grew a large amount I at one time was short and skinny(I am still skinny). I always wanted to be bigger I would eat a large amount of protein as well as drink any sort of healthy beverage. I enjoy Football as well as Hockey both are my favorite sports to watch and play as well too. Yet I cannot skate since I most likely would fall on my ass. I have a very intelligent if not the smartest animals I have ever seen he is a German Shepard and a beautiful one at that. Once we accidentally left him outside in the front yard for little over an hour realized he was not inside. We look and their he was outside on the front wall just sitting down. At school well I was bullied at one time from being small yet when I threw a chair at the kid it kind of stopped from that. Sometimes I see kids being bullied and personally hate it I tell the kids that are bullying to stop and If they would not and say something to me. Well that is when I beat the shit out of them hate it when kids bully people who cannot defend themselves.

Anything else you want to say: I wish the best of luck to all who are involved in this contest and have a good day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I may not be the most "Skilled" individual. I have a certain skill that i do stick to though, here it is!
Advice
Well as you may notice in my posts that i love helping people out in the innuendo section. I do this because i have had a lot of problems that i have overcome in my life. With this said i take my experience and give my advice to them on how to overcome there problem. I do this soley because i love helping people. I was never helped in my childhood. I don't want to let that happen to other people.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in the innuendo section. This is because i see a ton of problems there and i like to resolve them. I guess it's what i like to do, as you see in the other question.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the The Empire for a very simple reason. I want to maintain the high quality that the group has already achieved. I believe this group has already, but i believe i can bring a lot to this group as a individual. I have seen group members all around the forums helping members out, doing giveaways, and doing tutorials. I want to become part of that.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel as if i should be accepted into the group for these reasons. I am doing my best to maintain high quality posting. I believe that i am up there with high quality. I have confidence in myself that i can maintain that too.

I also feel i should be accepted into The Empire because i love to help people. That is my MAIN skill. I am good at it, and i think i could go far with that skill. Not just in this forum, but also as a in real life job.

I believe that i could also be accepted into the group because i love to do giveaways, i haven't done too much lately. I have been getting back up on my feet with other things.

So basically i believe i could be a great member to this group and maintain it's high quality presence and keep it awesome.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Something memorable you say? Well here it is. When i was younger, i was neglected from friends. I always thought i was the only one that had this happening to them. As i grew up i saw that i wasn't the only one. As i kept growing up, i helped people out with everything they needed help with. If someone dropped something, i would pick it up. I don't believe in bullying what so ever. I think it's wrong. No one deserves it. With that said. Ever since i overcame the whole " bulling thing " i started to help out bullied people. I gave them advice. I gave them a FRIEND.

So basically where i'm getting is this, i like helping people because of my past. That's what lead me to start helping people so much.
Anything else you want to say:
I would like to say thanks for the huge opportunity to be in this amazing group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

eWhoring/Social Engineering:
Over the past couple of months, I finally hit my 1 year anniversary of eWhoring. In this past year, I have made 10k+ in revenue. I have methods very unknown by the public, my convincing tone of voice convinces pedophiles they will be getting what there sexual desires are craving. The extortion involved is critical and the skill needed is at a very high level. On top of this, since both ideas share common ways, I am also a very good social engineer. Although I have not yet expanded to deeper ways such as TV's +, I am very good at getting movie tickets, lap tops, I pads, headphones, shoes, batteries, money, ect. Making several methods, I gain a general revenue each month, enough to keep me going. Among very few other high schoolers and even members on these forums, my income is very great from my personal methods.

Public speaker/Musician/Writer:
Throughout the course of my educational career, I have been noted as a very good speech writer and speaker. My words of great intellect inspire people to keep their ears open and eyes concentrated on me. I never bore with my creative mind, especially when it comes to music. I am a 9 year trumpet play and 7 year piano player. I am in Drum Corps and a very good jazz trumpet player. Holding first chair in all my bands and always getting the solos when it comes time. I play from 1 hour to 6 hours of trumpet each days whether in school or at home perfecting a certain piece. It's my inspiration, my passion, and it keeps my creativity and imagination always working.

Gaming:
Of course, a childhood would never be complete without at least a little bit of gaming and although not many people take it to such extremes, I am one of the few. For 3 years now I have been apart of the game battles community, starting off terrible and working my way up. Gaining my first bit of wealth of gaming hit me 2 years ago when I won a 2v2 MLG AM tournament and $200. I kept going after this, staying with my partner till the very end and finally 2 months later I got picked up. I now play at LAN tournaments, I make 1k+ a month from gaming, I play with a very well known team called FeaR, used to be apart of Space Bound, Vanity, Nightmare, and for 1 month on mw2 Obey. I still am apart of FeaR and we compete regularly.

What section are you most active in and why?

There are three certain sections I always stay posting in.

The Lounge:
I always find it fun to post here, whether it's funny stuff or serious stuff the activity of members on this forum just creates such a fun environment. Among members, everyone has a very high post count here, but the originality amazes me. There is always something that blows my mind and I just have a high love for posting in this specific forum.

Innuendo:
Starting a little bit back, I was on a hot streak of women, then that turned into a very cold streak and a very depressing time of my life. I loved posting here, getting advice and there were members who would always brighten my day. I also gave advice to other members feeling what I had felt and tried my hardest to help them out. There was a situation, this I remember to it's full extent and I made a rhyme about it. The member loved my rhyme and he said it really helped him understand how simple it was.

No matter where she goes,
You must always remember she knows,
she tried for this like most women do,
To be the one you most always knew,
you tried so hard to get her to stay,
don't let her be your story of the one who got away.

Rap Battles:
Not a very long pace, but when I was attempting to try rap I often posted here. Lemur was my inspiration around these parts and I even rapped to peoples raps and recorded it for them. I made my own beats and shared them with everyone. My best one was made by me under my code name: DJ Naydee or "Nade" hahahah.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MJOzY57SqbY
Someone even sponsored it on there page.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire is such a high quality group of members, a lot of them which I associate on tinychat with and they all know how to have a good time. It brightens up my day to speak to them and listen to music in such a laid back environment. You guys contribute so much to the forums and I would love to help out in this. I have loved this group since the beginning of my adventure here on HF and I will always have a strong love for this group, it was my dream since the beginning to get into this group and I feel this is my shot.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel I should be accepted into Empire because I am a very active member around and across the forums. I help out new members consistently, preventing them from being scammed and making sure they know the rules/there way around the forums. I share some of my methods and websites I find to the forums and even one of my personal eWhore methods that gained me over $3k. I do giveaways when I can with leftover money and I am a very active person in the marketplace whether it be in discussions or buying xbox live. I feel I will contribute nicely to The Empire.

Well, where can I start, My name is Max, I play club lacrosse and I am a very active participant in music and extracurricular activities. I am an AP and honors student, especially in English and lit. I enjoy life to it's full extent and I believe optimism is the best policy in life, always looking forward to the positive aspect of each day lets me appreciate every little moment. I am always happy and I like to share my positivity with my friends and the people around me, on top of everything else I'm a Junior and can't wait to get out of this rat hole high school.

The most memorable moment in my life was the day I got accepted into Drum Corps, boy I was so tired, but my emotions and happiness soared above it. It was a cold ass night, 32 degrees, I was wearing shorts, it was the first of our 12 hour rehearsals during that weekend and it was almost over. Hitting 7-o-clock I could barely feel my hands or legs. We were all playing in a circle and we were hitting a cord, during the cut off you could hear the sound mix with the cold night and echo across the mountains around us. It was a magical moment and then finally we were allowed to go back to the gym and sleep for 5 hours, but right when I was going up, my Trumpet tech stopped me. He told me, my audition was great and he welcomed me to the 2013 PC season. Man I was happy and thrilled and excited. It was the highlight of my whole weekend and this summer is going to be awesome.

Thanks for reading my application, hope to hear back soon.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I'm experienced and excellent with PHP, HTML and CSS. I've recently dropped HTML and CSS from my priority list as they form just the front-end of websites, while PHP is "the" real backend of webservers.

I'm a WhiteHat and prefer to create creative stuff instead of destructive ones. I've just started sharing code on github, you can check my coding skills there.

http://github.com/CurosMJ

What section are you most active in and why?

I was the most active in Webmasters section until recently, i shifted to PHP development section. There were two reasons for it. First you have read in the previous question. Second, Webmasters section has a lot of crappish threads and posts. Everyone there creates threads with the same title : "Need Help". I was pissed off with that and shifted to PHP development.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Because I really do want to learn and teach others. Being in The Empire will give me access to the best brains here. And, I've spent all my HF life helping people, you won't find any guy who has been scammed or harrassed or pissed off by me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I do deserve being in The Empire. This is my second or third application, and I've changed too much from the last time I applied.

Why do I deserve being in The Empire ?

My best answer would be to check my rep report and my posts. All of them are HQ, after I was given a 20 point warning for not obeying the 35 character limit.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I was a noob when i joined HF, not too noob, but i knew only HTML and CSS. But as time passed, I felt an hunger for knowledge in my mind. I wanted to know everything, how servers worked, how hackers hacked servers, etc. etc. With such Curiosity, I was Curious and thus, i selected Curos, kicking out "i" and "u", as my cyber-name. MJ are my initials, thus, I named myself as CurosMJ.

I live in India, +5:30 GMT , meaning that when i'm awake, whole world sleeps, and when the world is awake, i am asleep. This was the main problem for me. I could not chat with people who needed help, i could not post replies timely, etc. As a solution to this problem, I decided to wake up early morning. I wake up at 3 AM daily just for HackForums.

It is understandable that not everybody can be on HF everyday.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have many skills both on and off of the computer. I have been working on cars audio for several years now. I am extremely knowledgeable when it comes to working with audio equipment such as amplifiers, subwoofers, wiring kits, and subwoofer enclosure builds. I know that doesn't really matter, due to this being an online forum, but it is one of my major skills. When it comes to electronics such as computers and Xbox's it is a whole different story. I have been working on Xbox's and computers for a while now. I have completely taken apart Xbox 360's and modified them (JTAG). I also am somewhat knowledgeable when it comes to computer builds. I helped my friend build a $3,000 computer for his senior project. Also, I have been learning how to make some rap beats on my computer. I have much knowledge when it comes to RuneScape also. I started the game back in 2006, and can help anyone with anyone in the game.

What section are you most active in and why? I am starting to become more active in the RuneScape section. The last group I was in I was very active (Respawn, left the group).

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel like The Empire is a high quality group. I am a high quality user and I have started to become much more helpful to others here on HackForums. I believe I could reflect on The Empire in many positive ways.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it's a very HQ and respected group here on hackforums as am I a member, the opportunity to join The Empire would be spectacular!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I'm very well with group members have had experience in other groups, with the other groups I've been in before have made me who I am today! Without those groups I would be nothing or nowhere where I'm today.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well to start off, I'm 17 years old born on May 17th, 1995. My favorite thing to do in the world is spend time with my son, and skateboard. I love to play Call of Duty and get on HackForums to buy/sell stuff! HackForums is like my second family I get on here to escape all of my problems that go on in the outside world. When I'm on HackForums it feels like everything else goes away because there are people on this site who actually listen and give great advice. This is one of the many reasons I want to join The Empire as it will benefit me a lot and help me gain more friends!
What makes me who I am today is myself along with my son, without him I would be absolutely lost he gave me the inspiration to look forward to something to raise him to be better then I ever could. People here on HackForums have made me who I am as well when I came to this site I was a complete skid just leeching now that I've helped the community out tremendously I have gained a lot of respect which has led to awesome friendships.

Life story:
As far back as i can remember is about 5, I started skateboarding and was really good for the age I was, My mother thought that I was really good so she enrolled me into competitions since I was such a young lad I was always competing with people who were older than me and I thought were much better but I didn't care I just loved to have fun. I won several competitions and by age 9 I was sponsored by my local skate shop which was fantastic but we'll get into that later on. About age 6 I realized that my mother was only there when she was high, I mean at this time I was not 100% sure what was going on but I kind of got the just of things. I wanted to spend as much time as I could with her while she was sober but she always used to buy me new skateboards new clothes new everything and give me money all of the time! Around 7-8 was the first time I tried drugs, I found a pipe in my bathroom and wasn't sure what it was but I've seen my mom smoke out of it before so I took a hit of it (which I regret now) it was a rather weird feeling but fantastic I loved weed from then on out. I smoked whenever my mom left it around without her knowing of course, I would then just go out and skate it was the best feeling when I was "high" but then I realized that when I smoked I got into a lot more trouble then I did when I was sober, by the time I was 9 I had caught my first charge.. It was an assault charge some kid at school was talking about my mother which I wasn't going to have that.. I hit him and his parents filed assault charges on me. 9 years old my first charge :/ it was horrible but I honestly didn't care (I should have :L) I continued skating and then got sponsored for it, I was getting discounted stuff which was awesome and getting recognized was in my paper more than once for skating I was in our own little personal magazine are skate shop had but along with skating came a lot of problems a lot more drugs were introduced to me. When I was about 10-11 my father died of an overdose.. I went to the hospital with my mother and had to identify his body that is the most traumatic thing I've ever had to do, walking into the room to see him with a tube down his throat I cried and cried never understood why it had to happen always thought to myself maybe if I would have picked the phone up the time he called or went and seen him more it would have made things change and he would still be here today but now I know that it wasn't my fault what kills me the most is I still don't know if it was a suicide or accidental.. To this day I'm still in counseling for it. In 2007 when I was 11 my house caught on fire, it was arson someone had tried to kill us because my mom ripped them off for drugs, 2 days prior to that a Funny car "Sprint Car" was found in our backyard worth over 1 million dollars it was stolen and brought to our house my mom to this day denies having anything to do with it but I don't believe her tbh.. I got taken away from my mother for about 7-8 months while she cleaned herself up and eventually gained back guardianship and custody of us. We then moved across town where I enrolled into a different school which I wish I never did, I got into fights at least once a week. Not knowing how to take out my frustration I fought with people instead to relieve some of it. I eventually got expelled from that school in 5th grade. My 6th grade year First day of middle school, I got jumped for talking crap to the wrong people.. I got into fights at this new middle school as well but not as bad as my elementary days, I got bullied a lot for being one of the only white kids in my school, I'm proud to be while and let them all know that, at the end of the year I got jumped again 3 black kids hit me around 4 times each 2 of them ran off and me and the last one continued fighting I ended up beating him up, he called me a cracker so I punched him as hard as I could and knocked him out I spit on him and called him a nice person. There was my hate crime charge which I should never have said or gotten. I then got expelled from that school and open enrolled into the first school I went to I got to see a lot of my old friends and tell them the journey that I had. I was still smoking weed at this point not over my fathers death or my moms past still had a lot of issues I had to get taken care of. I fucked around during school for the next 2 years until I got to high school. Freshman year I was the kid you don't want to fuck with in school, didn't give a shit if I got suspended or expelled at this point most people knew my past and knew my history and knew I didn't give any fucks as to what would happen to me. I got arrested the last week of school for a bullshit charge that should of never happened, my friend or who I thought was my friend owed me around $5 so he gave me a bowl of weed, I gave it back to him and said fuck that I aint catching another charge at school, he got searched and said I sold it to him. I had around $300 on me so the school thought I was this big time drug dealer at the school, I got charged with Intent to sell Intent to Deliver and Possession on federal property. I did 4 months in Mirror hall. Once I got out I was pissed that I went down for a bullshit charge but I eventually got over it. I fucked around in summer and promised myself I wouldn't fuck up Sophomore year, that I did! I went the whole Sophomore year without getting a detention or suspension I got an award at the end of the year for biggest turn around. I was super excited about this. I then went through my summer trying to get girls you know living the life smoking skating but not as much since I lost my sponsorship. I met this one girl named Maddie who I really liked but just had sex with, turns out she got pregnant. We had a baby boy she was no type of mother and didn't care so I took my son Tanner and lived with him at my moms house. I went into Junior year somehow fucking up again, but that changed I met this girl named Stephanie I thought I was in love she was perfect she was beautiful and understood my life and listened and gave me advice we had sex countless times which was the best I'd ever had! I treated her like shit towards the end though I caught myself instead of spending time with her to wrapped up in making money since my mom had kicked me out. I was selling drugs, moving at least 2 zips a day, she told me to quit as I could stay with her and her grandma. (My son was living with my mom since I got kicked out) I didn't listen to Stephanie I continued to ignore her and fight and sell drugs. I broke up with her for no reason what so ever which was a big mistake. We ended up getting back together and she broke up with me as I wouldn't change which I don't blame her at all, I got arrested at school again for a harassment to the 1st x2 charge which was bogus me and my mom were yelling at each other cause I got suspended and we were snapping and the school cop heard us and then state picked up the charges, I did 6-7 months for this.. I got out since I was expelled again I went to an alternative school where I caught all my credits back up. I'm so far in credits now I only have to take Electives I've done a major turn around in my life and am grateful to be where I'm now!

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for the lovely opportunity in allowing me to try and join

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

eWhoring/Social Engineering:
Over the past couple of months, I finally hit my 1 year anniversary of eWhoring. In this past year, I have made 10k+ in revenue. I have methods very unknown by the public, my convincing tone of voice convinces pedophiles they will be getting what there sexual desires are craving. The extortion involved is critical and the skill needed is at a very high level. On top of this, since both ideas share common ways, I am also a very good social engineer. Although I have not yet expanded to deeper ways such as TV's +, I am very good at getting movie tickets, lap tops, I pads, headphones, shoes, batteries, money, ect. Making several methods, I gain a general revenue each month, enough to keep me going. Among very few other high schoolers and even members on these forums, my income is very great from my personal methods.

Public speaker/Musician/Writer:
Throughout the course of my educational career, I have been noted as a very good speech writer and speaker. My words of great intellect inspire people to keep their ears open and eyes concentrated on me. I never bore with my creative mind, especially when it comes to music. I am a 9 year trumpet play and 7 year piano player. I am in Drum Corps and a very good jazz trumpet player. Holding first chair in all my bands and always getting the solos when it comes time. I play from 1 hour to 6 hours of trumpet each days whether in school or at home perfecting a certain piece. It's my inspiration, my passion, and it keeps my creativity and imagination always working.

Gaming:
Of course, a childhood would never be complete without at least a little bit of gaming and although not many people take it to such extremes, I am one of the few. For 3 years now I have been apart of the game battles community, starting off terrible and working my way up. Gaining my first bit of wealth of gaming hit me 2 years ago when I won a 2v2 MLG AM tournament and $200. I kept going after this, staying with my partner till the very end and finally 2 months later I got picked up. I now play at LAN tournaments, I make 1k+ a month from gaming, I play with a very well known team called FeaR, used to be apart of Space Bound, Vanity, Nightmare, and for 1 month on mw2 Obey. I still am apart of FeaR and we compete regularly.

What section are you most active in and why?

There are three certain sections I always stay posting in.

The Lounge:
I always find it fun to post here, whether it's funny stuff or serious stuff the activity of members on this forum just creates such a fun environment. Among members, everyone has a very high post count here, but the originality amazes me. There is always something that blows my mind and I just have a high love for posting in this specific forum.

Innuendo:
Starting a little bit back, I was on a hot streak of women, then that turned into a very cold streak and a very depressing time of my life. I loved posting here, getting advice and there were members who would always brighten my day. I also gave advice to other members feeling what I had felt and tried my hardest to help them out. There was a situation, this I remember to it's full extent and I made a rhyme about it. The member loved my rhyme and he said it really helped him understand how simple it was.

No matter where she goes,
You must always remember she knows,
she tried for this like most women do,
To be the one you most always knew,
you tried so hard to get her to stay,
don't let her be your story of the one who got away.

Rap Battles:
Not a very long pace, but when I was attempting to try rap I often posted here. Lemur was my inspiration around these parts and I even rapped to peoples raps and recorded it for them. I made my own beats and shared them with everyone. My best one was made by me under my code name: DJ Naydee or "Nade" hahahah.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MJOzY57SqbY
Someone even sponsored it on there page.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire is such a high quality group of members, a lot of them which I associate on tinychat with and they all know how to have a good time. It brightens up my day to speak to them and listen to music in such a laid back environment. You guys contribute so much to the forums and I would love to help out in this. I have loved this group since the beginning of my adventure here on HF and I will always have a strong love for this group, it was my dream since the beginning to get into this group and I feel this is my shot.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel I should be accepted into Empire because I am a very active member around and across the forums. I help out new members consistently, preventing them from being scammed and making sure they know the rules/there way around the forums. I share some of my methods and websites I find to the forums and even one of my personal eWhore methods that gained me over $3k. I do giveaways when I can with leftover money and I am a very active person in the marketplace whether it be in discussions or buying xbox live. I feel I will contribute nicely to The Empire.

Vazity - February 1, 2013, 3:28 pm

Web Development - I have been developing and coding websites since I was 10. These days I make most of my money through doing website work.

Online Monetization - I have a somewhat big knowledge in online monetization. All my income is from the net.

Graphic Design - I am an amateur graphics designer, but I enjoy doing graphics and I will hopefully only get better at it.

Malware Removal - I have a pretty big knowledge in the malware removal area, I have been working for a small company here in Denmark, where I would go ahead and clean peoples computer for money.

Game Science and Mechanics - I have a pretty big knowledge on science in games, and how things work when a certain event happen in a game, how your brain react etc. also I enjoy getting to know how stuff works, and why it works the way it does.

It really depends on my mood, sometimes I am fresh, sometimes sad, sometimes tired - depending on which 'state' I am in, I post several places. However I usually post mostly in the marketplace, as I do sales there. When I am fresh I strive to post in the sections where quality really counts, and sections that do interest me, for example PHP Development, .NET forums etc.

Because I strive to get to you a group of quality, and get to teach people things, they didn't knew before - or help them on their way to something. Possibly also make some new friendships.

I strive to be as friendly as possible and help people realize things, that they've always dreamt of. Also I like teaching other people, getting this 'Thanks, for your nice help' just get me a warm feeling inside, that you helped another person.
It just do feel great. I could possibly also start some monetization and coding classes in the private sub-forum.

I have been living a typical life, however my parents got divorced when I was 3. Now it's quite split up, my dad and my mother are the 100% opposite of eachother, I get to visit my dad every second weekend, else I am just spending my time at my mother's place. Throughout school I have always been the least popular one, that would always lone around because I was totally sold on computers. I don't have a nice time in school, even though I don't have a nice time in school I actually think it helped me somewhat in thinking in other ways, and make me just myself, I used to try and be the one 'people' wanted. This day I am a very emotional person, however for me it's not bad. I have such an ease getting close to another person, and helping them with their mental health, I love being able to talk about such stuff with another person. And that's probably also whats makes me the person I am today.

I'm looking forward to you reading my application, and good luck to all other applicants.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm very good with coding things such as Call of Duty Patches. Very good at making $ in real life and on the internet. I'm also very good at Social Engineering I've SE'd many things such as TV's, MSP, HD, PVR's, Books, Xbox's, and games.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm mostly active in the marketplace as this is where all my business is and where I'm the most known at.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it's a very HQ and respected group here on hackforums as am I a member, the opportunity to join The Empire would be spectacular!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I'm very well with group members have had experience in other groups, with the other groups I've been in before have made me who I am today! Without those groups I would be nothing or nowhere where I'm today.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well to start off, I'm 17 years old born on May 17th, 1995. My favorite thing to do in the world is spend time with my son, and skateboard. I love to play Call of Duty and get on HackForums to buy/sell stuff! HackForums is like my second family I get on here to escape all of my problems that go on in the outside world. When I'm on HackForums it feels like everything else goes away because there are people on this site who actually listen and give great advice. This is one of the many reasons I want to join The Empire as it will benefit me a lot and help me gain more friends!
What makes me who I am today is myself along with my son, without him I would be absolutely lost he gave me the inspiration to look forward to something to raise him to be better then I ever could. People here on HackForums have made me who I am as well when I came to this site I was a complete skid just leeching now that I've helped the community out tremendously I have gained a lot of respect which has led to awesome friendships.

Life story:
As far back as i can remember is about 5, I started skateboarding and was really good for the age I was, My mother thought that I was really good so she enrolled me into competitions since I was such a young lad I was always competing with people who were older than me and I thought were much better but I didn't care I just loved to have fun. I won several competitions and by age 9 I was sponsored by my local skate shop which was fantastic but we'll get into that later on. About age 6 I realized that my mother was only there when she was high, I mean at this time I was not 100% sure what was going on but I kind of got the just of things. I wanted to spend as much time as I could with her while she was sober but she always used to buy me new skateboards new clothes new everything and give me money all of the time! Around 7-8 was the first time I tried drugs, I found a pipe in my bathroom and wasn't sure what it was but I've seen my mom smoke out of it before so I took a hit of it (which I regret now) it was a rather weird feeling but fantastic I loved weed from then on out. I smoked whenever my mom left it around without her knowing of course, I would then just go out and skate it was the best feeling when I was "high" but then I realized that when I smoked I got into a lot more trouble then I did when I was sober, by the time I was 9 I had caught my first charge.. It was an assault charge some kid at school was talking about my mother which I wasn't going to have that.. I hit him and his parents filed assault charges on me. 9 years old my first charge :/ it was horrible but I honestly didn't care (I should have :L) I continued skating and then got sponsored for it, I was getting discounted stuff which was awesome and getting recognized was in my paper more than once for skating I was in our own little personal magazine are skate shop had but along with skating came a lot of problems a lot more drugs were introduced to me. When I was about 10-11 my father died of an overdose.. I went to the hospital with my mother and had to identify his body that is the most traumatic thing I've ever had to do, walking into the room to see him with a tube down his throat I cried and cried never understood why it had to happen always thought to myself maybe if I would have picked the phone up the time he called or went and seen him more it would have made things change and he would still be here today but now I know that it wasn't my fault what kills me the most is I still don't know if it was a suicide or accidental.. To this day I'm still in counseling for it. In 2007 when I was 11 my house caught on fire, it was arson someone had tried to kill us because my mom ripped them off for drugs, 2 days prior to that a Funny car "Sprint Car" was found in our backyard worth over 1 million dollars it was stolen and brought to our house my mom to this day denies having anything to do with it but I don't believe her tbh.. I got taken away from my mother for about 7-8 months while she cleaned herself up and eventually gained back guardianship and custody of us. We then moved across town where I enrolled into a different school which I wish I never did, I got into fights at least once a week. Not knowing how to take out my frustration I fought with people instead to relieve some of it. I eventually got expelled from that school in 5th grade. My 6th grade year First day of middle school, I got jumped for talking crap to the wrong people.. I got into fights at this new middle school as well but not as bad as my elementary days, I got bullied a lot for being one of the only white kids in my school, I'm proud to be while and let them all know that, at the end of the year I got jumped again 3 black kids hit me around 4 times each 2 of them ran off and me and the last one continued fighting I ended up beating him up, he called me a cracker so I punched him as hard as I could and knocked him out I spit on him and called him a nice person. There was my hate crime charge which I should never have said or gotten. I then got expelled from that school and open enrolled into the first school I went to I got to see a lot of my old friends and tell them the journey that I had. I was still smoking weed at this point not over my fathers death or my moms past still had a lot of issues I had to get taken care of. I fucked around during school for the next 2 years until I got to high school. Freshman year I was the kid you don't want to fuck with in school, didn't give a shit if I got suspended or expelled at this point most people knew my past and knew my history and knew I didn't give any fucks as to what would happen to me. I got arrested the last week of school for a bullshit charge that should of never happened, my friend or who I thought was my friend owed me around $5 so he gave me a bowl of weed, I gave it back to him and said fuck that I aint catching another charge at school, he got searched and said I sold it to him. I had around $300 on me so the school thought I was this big time drug dealer at the school, I got charged with Intent to sell Intent to Deliver and Possession on federal property. I did 4 months in Mirror hall. Once I got out I was pissed that I went down for a bullshit charge but I eventually got over it. I fucked around in summer and promised myself I wouldn't fuck up Sophomore year, that I did! I went the whole Sophomore year without getting a detention or suspension I got an award at the end of the year for biggest turn around. I was super excited about this. I then went through my summer trying to get girls you know living the life smoking skating but not as much since I lost my sponsorship. I met this one girl named Maddie who I really liked but just had sex with, turns out she got pregnant. We had a baby boy she was no type of mother and didn't care so I took my son Tanner and lived with him at my moms house. I went into Junior year somehow fucking up again, but that changed I met this girl named Stephanie I thought I was in love she was perfect she was beautiful and understood my life and listened and gave me advice we had sex countless times which was the best I'd ever had! I treated her like shit towards the end though I caught myself instead of spending time with her to wrapped up in making money since my mom had kicked me out. I was selling drugs, moving at least 2 zips a day, she told me to quit as I could stay with her and her grandma. (My son was living with my mom since I got kicked out) I didn't listen to Stephanie I continued to ignore her and fight and sell drugs. I broke up with her for no reason what so ever which was a big mistake. We ended up getting back together and she broke up with me as I wouldn't change which I don't blame her at all, I got arrested at school again for a harassment to the 1st x2 charge which was bogus me and my mom were yelling at each other cause I got suspended and we were snapping and the school cop heard us and then state picked up the charges, I did 6-7 months for this.. I got out since I was expelled again I went to an alternative school where I caught all my credits back up. I'm so far in credits now I only have to take Electives I've done a major turn around in my life and am grateful to be where I'm now!

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for the lovely opportunity in allowing me to try and join The Empire!Wow!
Amazing application!
I really had fun reading it.
Great job!

Monetizing : I am really good in monetizing, I do many things to make money online and offline. The main ways I use to monetize are : Ebay sales, PPD, Currency exchanging, Ebook sales and Chinese wholesale sales. I have much more "methods" to make money online. On average I earn like ~$500 per month thorugh the web. But, I don't only make money online. I also have a job on a bicylce store, I get $11 per hour.

Gaming : It's one of the things I do daily, but I don't spend more time on gaming than my friends or family. I really enjoy playing Call of Duty games and soccer-related games. I own many consoles such as : Playstation 2/3, Xbox 360, Nintendo Wii, Nintendo Lite/3DS and a PSP. I play on Steam as well. By the time I became a pro in gaming.

Music : I am currently a part of a small music band and I really enjoy that, I'm a singer. Me and my other band-members have made several songs and music videos. I can even show you that, but on PMs only because I don't want to share them on HF due of privacy reasons.

The lounge: I'm really active in the lounge, just like the most members of HackForums. I am active there just because it's about anything. There are some interesting threads whom can't be found at other sections. The fact is that there is just much to talk/discuss about. The lounge is full of people I never heard of, so while posting I also make new friends.

Currency Exchange: The currency exchange section is the second forum I have posted the most in. I get daily a huge amount of money in all different payment processors and I preffer Liberty Reserve, so I try to exchange my funds to LR. This isn't really easy because the most members in the Currency Exchange section is also in need of LR, so finding someone to exchange is not really easy, that's why it takes time to exchange my funds. During that time I make posts and such which makes me active in that section.

Marketplace Discussions: I really like to talk/discuss about marketplace-related things. It's interesting for me to read about products, services, payment processors, software and anything that is marketplace-related. I also keep an eye for community alerts, for imposters or scam products.

I've seen the quality of The Empire already, it's one of the best groups I've been in and honestly the best organized group. I want take this whole forum to the next level which is in The Empire I believe. I would be honoured if I could release things and host giveaways/contests in the name of The Empire. I want make new friends, learn new things and teach others with my knowledge as well. The members of The Empire are high quality and treating each other with respect, they're like a family, I love to be a part of that. I have heard many positive things about The Empire, for example the big donations from Tibit. I have many friends who are in The Empire and from what I heard, it's a great group. I'd like to participate in group activities. I want do things as whole group instead of myself alone. I have uncountable reasons why I want to join The Empire, but these are the main ones. The Empire is a high quality group with high quality members, who doesn't want to be a part of that?

I think I have proved myself as high quality member. I joined Hack Forums back in March 2012 and in less then a year I got 7 awards of whom the Master Donator award included. I got more than 1,000 reputation points and I have spent almost 2 months on Hack Forums. I will do everything I can to bring Empire to the top. I will stay active and do many positive things in the name of The Empire. I am really helpfull and friendly, I will help members of Hack Forums within and without the subforum with various subjects and I will always do my research before posting in order to avoid mistakes and such. I would be proud if became a member of The Empire.

I have a lot of things to offer for The Empire. This is what I am planning to do :

Releasing new free products in the name of The Empire.

Hosting giveaways & contests in the name of The Empire.

Making high quality tutorials in and out of the subforum.

Backup for the members in The Empire (Such as helping them when in trouble)

Donating to the head of The Empire

Open help desks to help people for example with monetizing.

Helping people forumwide with anything I have knowledge off.

I'll make high quality posts in and out of the subforum, I'll do everything I can to make myself a good addition of The Empire.

Well first-off, my name is Martin, I am 18 years old and almost graduated from College. This story happened in my last visit to Turkey.
I went to Turkey for a few days and some interesting and touching things happened, which changed many things in my life. We have a small house in the eastern side of Turkey almost at the borders of Iran, that's where my father was born. It's a house in a small village.

One night my friend came to our house and told us, "There is a family with eight children. They have not eaten for days," My brother and I took some food and we went. When we finally came to the family, we saw the faces of those little children disfigured by hunger. There was no sorrow or sadness in their faces, just the deep pain of hunger. We gave the rice to the mother. She divided it in two, and went out, carrying half the rice with her. When she came back, I asked her "Where did you go" She gave me this simple answer, "To my neighbors-they are hungry also"

We were not surprised that she gave, because poor people are generous. But we were surprised that she knew they were hungry. As a rule, when we are suffering, we are so focused on ourselves we have no time for others.

I'd like to thank tibit for giving us the chance to apply for The Empire. I also wish you, Tibit, good luck with the MOTM. Good luck to all applicants!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Some skills that I have are beginner coding. I am a beginner with coding, but I have been learning for the past few days. I am working on the coding language, Python. I also like to sell items, I have mainly sold on eBay, but I am going to start selling on Hack Forums. I would like to also get into the Graphic Designing industry. I am going to start that as well, in this month.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in 2 different sections. The first, VIP Area. I go on VIP Area a lot because I find many helpful tutorials, and giveaways. I like the giveaways and tutorials on this section because people tend to put more effort towards the upgraded members.

The second, Beginner Hacking. I go on Beginner Hacking because I find many people in need of help. I usually help them with little things that almost anyone could do. Many don't help everyone, so I just try to help the ones that have 0 replies or very few.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because The Empire has an amazing userbar, and is a very well organized group. I would like to be apart of The Empire because I enjoy your group and your members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted to The Empire because I am dedicated and very trustworthy.

I have mid level knowledge about keyloggers/RATs
I have helped folks who are just newbies and looking for help to set up their RAT or need port forward, I have been doing this since a very long time, I usually PM them and asks them their TV ID and thus try to configure things,

What section are you most active in and why?
there is not any specific section in which I am active, I just refresh the "View New Posts" button and look up to the threads in which I can help people out, though most of em' are RAT/Keyloggers section

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I've been in this forums for a quite long and I think I need a group though which I can help out folks around this froum on a higher level and give back to the community through this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think I am a generous person who respects others views and a guy who is really helpful, I also try my level best to get involved in this forum and help the people around here irrespective of their being Upgraded or normal,
I personally think "Empire" group is one of the best group here on HF and the most active one- I see members of this group always helpng out people in various stuffs and introducing many HQ and remarkable giveaways- I feel that I should be accepeted so that I can do even more things on here on a larger and prestigious level.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I do graphic designs, my signature and avatar are both examples. I can do pretty much any design but I've only been doing graphics for about a year now so I still have much to learn! Im also very good at helping people with their issues in the lounge. Helping people has always been a hobby of mine.

What section are you most active in and why?
Im most active in the lounge section. This is because the lounge section provides me with opportunities to help those who turn to the hackforums to help them with their problems and issues. Im also active in the marketplace.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire is such a prestigious and influential group on the Hack Forums. Members of the Empire are people I along with many others have and still do look up to. I want to become an Empire member because I feel being a part of such a great group like this would enable me to learn more from my fellow members and even share some of my knowledge with the group. Being accepted into The Empire would be such a great honor for me! I also feel that if I was to be accepted into this group that it would make other members look up to me and go to me with their problems so I can help them out.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that I should be accepted into this great group because I have so much to offer it and even learn from the group. I am respectful, responsible, mature and trustworthy. This group is something I have always wanted to be a part of! I can offer the group graphic designs also if needed.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I have a very easy going and humorous type of personality. I have a bunch of accomplishments in real life which are Black Belt [Jan. 20, 2012], Successful completion of Air force basic training [Aug. 14, 2012], and I also have a plane which I am learning to fly. Although I have a light and humorous personality I know when to get serious about things and situations. I am very intelligent and I have a good ability to tell when people are lying to me.

Anything else you want to say:
I would like to thank The Empire's leaders and staff for reading and considering this application.

J4S0N's Application
Name: Jason
Age: 18
Gender: Male
State/Country: California, United States
Time Zone: Pacific Standard Time
What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Comforting - I guess this really isn't a skill, but when users are feeling upset about a certain problem in their lifes(whether that is financial, social, or family), I like to let them know that they could add me on whatever and I would talk to them and see them through things that make them feel unwanted or just plain lonely.

Games - I do play quite a bit of online games and I'm quite good. I'm a PC gamer and I play games like LoL (League of Legends) and Dota 2. The occasional BF3 and I do look forward to the upcoming Crysis 3!

Graphic Design - I've been really getting into Graphic Designing.I'm not that good yet, but althought I can say I'm getting better than the average person by now. I look forward to really improving in this area of my skill. I practice every day to make sure I improve and learn new things. I hope to soon share with the community as there are many great people here.

Online Marketing - A small portion here I've dedicated to making money online. I've learned a lot through hack forums and I've applied most of it with great success. I've made my own blog and various amount of motenizing through many of the friendly people here. An example would be that of the great "Free iPad 2!" CPA advertisement.

What section are you most active in and why?
To be honest, I'm an all around poster. I know my way around the marketing area, especially the "CPA E-Book" shams. If I were to choose it would most likely be lounge because I am very interested in what people have to say or think. Not including those trolls, but like peoples life stories or how their day went. Or even if they would just like to share something interesting in the community. I find the lounge a great place to meeting new people and gaining more knowledge about events I didn't know.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join The Empire because everything they have done is High Quality. Every give away, every post is filled with hard work and pride. The Empire hand selects only those worthy of wearing the title The Empire. Everything is organized and so fine tuned that if you cannot fit the group, regardless of who you are, you will be removed. Another thing is that, this group inspired me to be High Quality. It must have also inspired and reached out to other people as well. Furthermore, I'd like to join a group where it doesn't matter your race or religion. You aren't judged based on those qualities but as an actual person with personality. This is why I want to join The Empire, to be apart of something so great.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Every time I post, I make sure that each post is High Quality. I'm a very friendly member, who even at flamed at would try to calm a situation. I've never had anything above 0% warning and don't plan too. I will contribute to The Empire and install myself with giveaways for all our members. For my first giveaway, it will be TO the empire, to upgrade a Normal High Quality member of this group. From there I will go on and go bigger.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Last year, (Senior year in high school) I always had that neutral don't interfere type personality. Just ya know, walked past issues and did nothing about them. There was this kid, Tyler, who was nerdy/laughing stock of the school. Football players made fun of him to impress their girlfriends. You know those stereotypical jocks. Anyway this kid was deliberately picked on every day of his life and no one would do anything. Teachers, principal, counselors. No one. I'm sure his life was a living hell more or less.

That's when I decided to step in. I as just so sick to my stomach about people not helping him out, that I just snapped one day. I came up to these jerks and confronted them as they started laying into this guy with their foul words. I'm a pretty tall stocky dude, so I looked into their eyes and told them to seriously step off or I was going to go and do some serious damage to them. I can say I had an 'icy' look in my face and 'scared' them. After a few confrontations, they finally left this kid alone. I never saw him again that entire year, and when I did it was just a pass by kind of thing.

Now your saying, so what? What is the point to all this? That's what i thought. Up until a bout 2 months ago, I ran into him on the street, on my way to Starbucks. I saw him and he actually asked me to a cup of coffee. We sat down and talked for a while, and he then looked me straight in the eyes and said "Thanks." . I said for what? and he went off on that day, standing up for him. I was like no problem, that was last year hah. He ended up telling me how he was going to kill himself later on that week because he felt like no one cared. No one was going to do anything anyway. He said that I changed him mind and that there was still good in this world. Now yeah, pretty wild huh? After hearing this, I figured out, you never know what's going on with other people and that the slightest compassion to a total stranger could save peoples lives. So I live by that motto and the famous one. Treat people how you want to be treated. I try my best to show comfort to those who need and deserve it. I hope this wasn't to long ?

Anything else you want to say:

Well I know this isn't impossible, but I've been accepted as Ub3r at post 290. I'm pretty proud of this fact (I'm sure its done before and prob doesn't mean anything.) I'd wear that userbar proud and fully abide by any rules. I very much appreciate the fact that you took the time to read my application and I wish the very best to everyone else who applied. I hope the low post count doesn't waiver your decision!

Have an outstanding rest of the week! ? ? ?

Many of my skills are basic since I have a tendancy to teach myself how to do tasks such as Graphic Design or Video Editing. Some of the things I can do are create fantastic gameservers that give people a great place to play in.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the Lounge since I enjoy discussion with other members of the forum. I find myself to be spending considerable time in the Gaming/Graphics Sections since those are two things that I do the most on the forum.
I edit videos and I enjoy creating artistic pieces.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I try to keep my image on hackforums as positive as possible and remain a clean mature member that people can deal with on this forum. I make it my goal to post with reason.

This is why the Empire Stood out to me as a group I'd be well placed in, since it covers what I wish to do on Hackforums.

My skills are in quantitative finance. I program derivatives in C++ and quantitative models for automated trading systems. I am also an intern at a major financial institution. Why do you want to join The Empire?: It is a HQ group. At least that's what I've heard. I want to help out the community in anyway possible, and this will be the first group that I may get accepted into.

When I was younger, I wanted to major in Biology. It seemed interesting to me how life is created by millions of particles that, by themselves are innate. How, throughout billions of years, these particles formed amino acids in space and eventually became the life as we know it on Earth. Then a couple of years later, I picked up a book called 'Beat the Dealer' by Ed Thorp. This book completely changed my life. It showed how math and probability can be used to become very wealthy and successful.
Now I am currently studying mathematics and computer science. I hope to become a quantitative financial analyst or algorithmic trading analyst. It's interesting to me how someone on Wall Street, can make so much money just by using math which we normally associate as abstract and theoretical. Something that we can't touch but we see everyday. My role models are Ed Thorp and Paul Wilmott. Two of the greatest quantitative analysts and mathematicians of the 21st century. Interning at a major financial institution has enabled me to get closer to my goal. I hope to graduate from college and go on to graduate school. :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Skills that I have include:

First and Foremost, writing. Though I can write anything from a cover grant/ draft proposal to short drabbles, I especially enjoy creating short works of fiction.
Enclosed in the spoiler is a short story I wrote and a prize winning 50 word drabble.
Spoiler (Click to View)
Drabble
The tour guide’s lamp bobbed up and down, casting ethereal silhouettes on the mysterious paintings preserved on the cave wall, its dim light causing the pictures to flicker in and out of shadow. Further along, a series of small handprints imprinted on the cave surface are illuminated by the passing of the lantern, their delicate yet fragile childlike beauty captured by time. The beam of light shifts away and that dream……vanishes.

Short Story
In the far reaches of the Milky Way galaxy, a century ago, during the year 4570, on the small but beautiful green and blue planet of Sylvan, the most pivotal and bloody battle between the Federate Union against Domination and the ruling body of the Vainqueur Star Empire broke out. Both sides sent men and machine, duking it out in short order with no regard for the world which they killed on. Their armies fought, the grasslands burned, the rivers ran red with blood, and the ground trembled at every engagement as the once blue skies overhead were filled with the smoking ash and the fog of war.
The aftermath of the war yielded a decisive result, the Vainqueur Empire falling just four months later and the Senate installed in its place. But Sylvan was forgotten, devastated, it’s once lush forests and vast seas now replaced by a blood red sky and a barren desert. It was not until a full fifty years later that anyone thought of Sylvan and even then only to suggest the raising of a memorial. The monument was built soon after, in tribute of the warriors who fought for ‘independence’, yet no mention of recognition or reparation for Sylvan was brought forward.

The year is now 4670, one hundred years since the battle.

4760, S.F.U.D. Apathy (cargo vessel)

Lorana Vainqueur, 18 years old and last scion of the once great house squatted painfully in a cramped cargo vessel, assuming a position that was definitely not conducive to her comfort and wincing as her back was subsequently elbowed by a fellow passenger. Jerking up in shock, she found herself face to face with a man the likes of whom she had never seen before. Weathered yet handsome, with crystal blue eyes and black hair, he gave a small nod and Lorana felt fear build up in her chest at the thought of discovery but he simply turned away and nudged his way back through the crowd, his maroon sandcloak rustling against adamantium armor.

Breathing a sigh of relief, she settled down as the landing announcement for the planet Sylvan buzzed over the intercom.

8 Hours later - Sylvan

The sun beat down from above, Lorana slowly trudging along the cracked ground. After disembarking, all of the passengers, save her, had elected to celebrate the anniversary of the battle at the closest temporary shelter, rather than risk the scorching heat of the desert plains, 'their "patriotism" just for show' she thought in disgust. Alone, she had made her way out, the dead earth biting into her heart with every step.

At long last, the monument came into view, a glittering golden obelisk with a generic plaque in the middle stating "blah blah" about the bravery of the soldiers and more, as she let the thought trail out of her mind. Spotting a mound of earth, where previous visitors had left soil from their worlds as a sign of respect, she scooped up a fistful of dust, scattering it on the pile, never bothering to wipe away the tears that started to fall slowly down her face until she had finished.

Preparing to leave, she turned in the direction of the ship that brought her here…and back towards the monument, a stiletto appearing in her hand as the cloaked man from the cargo ship stepped around the monument where he was previously out of sight, clapping.

"Well, well, with such an impressive show of modesty from our Vainqueur princess, how could I ever let that go without applause?"

He sat down on a small rock, one hand pulling a pouch from his belt. Dirt, she thought dimly, as he poured some onto his open palm and made a fist, chuckling as he did so.

She didn't know why, but the man's words suddenly struck a nerve within her. "HOW DARE YOU!" she screamed in outrage, barely controlling her voice before speaking again. "You, who knows nothing of the war…and nothing of me," the last words almost a whisper.

He stopped chuckling.

"You'd like to think so, wouldn't you…?" The man stood up, his maroon cape billowing about him as he released his handful of dirt onto the tumulus.

"But you'd be wrong."

"I may not know a lot about you Lorana, but I understand enough."

"I know that you are reviled for your name and because of it, the universe offers you only solitude. But yet you refuse to change it. Why?"

"I see you weep the tears which few have shed, but for the…soldi-, but for the dead, or your loss…… I cannot tell."

"What do you truly regret, Lorana?"

The question sparked another crashing wave of regret and shame over her, her voice cracking as she replied. "I weep for the dead, the soldiers that fought in a war not of their making and in grief for all they sacrificed."

His face grew dark. "The Soldiers," he spat. "They called it the Sylvan War, fought on a world filled with vast expanses of beautiful forests as far as the eye could see; a perfect planet. Yet they saw fit to destroy it anyway. The planet…and my people. And still they dare call it a glorious chapter in history! I have had enough."

"I will go to the Halls of the Senate, to end this farce and teach the galaxy the true meaning of their war and the price we paid. I ask only that the final scion of Vainqueur accompany me, Alyxander the Conqueror, last of the Sylvans, in peace and in understanding. Will you come, Lorana?" asked Alyxander, extending one gloved hand towards her.

She looked up into his eyes and instead of the desperation she expected to find, she found only a man. A man who would risk all for his honor and that of his people.
With a newfound determination, she took his hand while sheathing her blade, a bitter smile on her face that mirrored his.

"Yes Alyxander, I will."

Fin.

In addition to my skill with words, I also consider myself to be adept at recognising and reading the patterns present in body language and both the written/spoken word, which allows me to negotiate well with others and help all parties involved reach an amicable solution. This also improves my problem solving skills to a certain degree as I am able to visualise the issue, identify the cause and strike at the root of the problem before it gets any worse.
However, I cannot present any examples of this at the moment.

As to the rest of my repertoire; such as computing, hacking, ewhoring and etc., I have but a sparse knowledge of those particular subjects, being heavily specialised in my writing and negotiation/ problem solving skills.

What section are you most active in and why?
The two sections I am most active in are the Science, Religion, Philosiphy and Politics section and the Currency Exchange section.
I often post in SRPP for the intellectual discussion that it affords me, which allows me to not only broaden my own understanding of the world but to also help educate others using the knowledge I have garnered from past experience. I particularly enjoy the subject of Biology, which I recently completed IRL and scored quite well in.

My recent activity in the Currency Exchange section grew from my understanding that no one can live as a child forever reliant on others. To that end, I began with 20LR to exchange three weeks ago (though I attempted to dabble in exchanging in the past) and since then have amassed profits of $200 USD. I have gained reasonable success with several returning customers and a thread with numerous vouches. I hope to continue being active in this section and saving enough money to be able to not only partially support myself but also have the freedom to purchase items that I desire without requesting funds from others.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I'm not going to lie, I say this on just about every application. But the reason I apply to join groups is because I feel that the groups which I choose to spend time making applications on are among the best groups on the forum. Many of the Empire's members represent the ideal Hack Forums member I wish to become and I hope that in applying, I may be accepted and learn from these individuals in order to better myself and my little virtual avatar here on the forums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel like I should be in The Empire not only because I want to be able to contribute whatever knowledge and skills I might have but also because I wish to learn from (if you'll excuse the flattery) some of the best members on the forum. I see me being accepted into the Empire as an acknowledgment of that desire to better myself and help others with whatever areas of learning I can.

Something memorable...

When I was about a year younger and less experienced, I wrote a short story piece which I entered in a competition. The piece was at the time, seemingly a masterpiece and I was so confident in my ability that the thought of me not winning a prize never entered my mind. The day of the prize presenting came and my legs were shaking as I awaited the decision of the judges. I can tell you now, that the pain of the third, second and first places for my section being called was excruciating. My spirit had been crushed but from there, as if to wound my already injured feelings, my name was called for an honorary mention. Looking back on that, I realise that the honorary mention should have been something to be proud of, yet at the time, I couldn't help but think that they were just reminding me that I wasn't good enough.

Leaving the presentation hall, I was utterly dejected. For a week, I stopped writing, reading or having anything to do with literature. However, one day, a friend sent me a song, "Comeback" by Redlight King. I sat at my workstation and listened intently to the song. I don't know how, whether it was the lyrics or the title or the melody but that song rekindled my desire to be the best I could be when it came to writing. The fires of passion in my heart were once again lit and from then on, I have dedicated the better part of a year to improving myself and I still continue to do so.

It's now apparent that I was naive to think I could "win them all" so to speak.
The loss and my subsequent comeback taught me both the pain of hubris and the value of perseverance.
To try is to risk being hurt, but to not even attempt is worse.

Anything else you want to say:
I'd like to thank the Empire, for opening the gates of recruitment and giving me this chance to prove myself.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

? Photography - I have a growing passion for Photography. I started nearly 1 year ago and I am looking to be a photographer in the future. You can view my portfolio here: http://andrasvarga.net/.

? Eye for Design - You might get thrown off by the title of this application, however that was actually done very quickly. I'm usually posting helpful and straight to the point critiques on many Graphics done across Hackforums. When critiquing I follow the Principles and Elements of art so that I can give the best critique possible.
? Communication - I love to socialize with people and learn about many things verbally. When it comes to communication, I can get my point across fairly quickly and professionally.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am mostly active in the Graphics section of Hackforums for many different reasons. The most obvious reason would be because I love Art/Graphics and I like discovering the many ways that other people create art. The Graphics section is a wonderful section for me to be as I am looking to be a Photographer in the future, the Graphic section helps me view a different perspective of art. I also like giving critiques to people in the Rate My Graphic section because it helps others expand there knowledge on graphic designing and art so it can help them in future projects.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join The Empire because it seems like it would be a fantastic group to be in and I would love to be in a group that is so high quality and valued across the forum. I also like how everyone is friends in the community as it would make me feel welcomed if I were to be in the group. The group is built up from pure quality members which have only posted threads that never lack quality.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have a lot to offer for The Empire, such as daily posts to keep the group active and quality to keep the value high. I will be sure to take my time with each thread that I create and make sure that I only have facts stated and not information that is useless to other members of the group. I am also very active as I am on the computer Approx. 1-10 hours everyday, that means 1-10 hours everyday producing quality threads/posts and tutorials under the name of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I was born in Ontario, Canada on October 2nd, 1996. I was raised by both of my parents with little wealth. I had been getting good grades all the way up to Grade 5, the year I decided to stop caring about school and pay more attention to Video Games. Looking back at that decision puts awful remorse onto me because I am now getting bad grades in Math and English. However, this was really the only bad decision I have made in the past.., I have never done anything physically illegal such as smoke, engaging into taking drugs, or drinking, I obeyed my parents rules.

A lot of my decisions in my childhood were made because of the friends I hung out with. Most of my friends back then engaged into many bad things such as school fights, and bullying, they also had the 'I don't care' mood which made them do horrible in school. I really don't know why I hung out with kids such as these, but the one reason I could think of is being afraid of having no friends. Fortunately, I moved from that location 5 years ago and started getting friends that actually cared about there marks and did not engage into bad activities. Being around people that cared eventually made me care and my marks gradually moved up, however I am still lacking knowledge that I did not study hard enough in grade school due to not caring.

As of now, I have a set goal and future for my life. I have made the decision of being a Photographer when I grow up as I discovered my interest in Photography about 1 year back. My grades are still not that good, however the grades that are suffering are not needed to become a Photographer. Aside from my future, my taste in music has changed from 5 years ago to now, I gradually changed over to the Metal and Hardcore genres coming from Rap and R&B. I also like to be outside Skateboarding or cruising on a Longboard. My goal for this year is to become the School Photographer so that I can face new challenges as a Photographer.

Anything else you want to say:

What section are you most active in and why? I Try to be active in any section i can be in, but i love to post in the Lounge simply because the threads/posts are really interesting to read and reply to.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to be apart of a group that gives back to the community, and be able to help them as mush as possible.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I should be accepted because I have a desire to help the community and can offer a lot to the group, and I've always wanted to be in Empire as the members are great.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, my father has died in 2007 due to a heart attack and it has made it hard for me and my younger brother. My Parents and I try to help out the family as much as we possible can to provide.
I Feel that this is only the beginning and great things will come to us very soon. I Try to be a chill & friendly person to anyone as i respect you no matter what happens. Um.. I Also help out friends/family with situations that they are having and try to be a great person. I Currently play Basketball in Highschool and am getting in Baseball, hope to be on my Senior year.

Anything else you want to say: Thank You for taking time into reading my application and hopefully i get accepted to the group. ?

Why are you guys wasting your time on making an application that only takes 2-3 minutes? If you are not going to put effort into it, don't bother posting.

To the point:

Honestly I think that all my post's show who I am and what I do so I don't really think using specific thread or post can define who I am:

Name: Mike or Jest

Age: 19

Gender: Male

Religion: Agnostic

State/Country: U.S.A

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I am fairly good at monetizing: . I am very creative and so I'm always finding cool new way;s to make some extra cash.
I like to make E-book's :https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2287024

I'm dedicated: I would argue dedication is a skill, this can be shown by me still being active after almost 5 years.
I am able to cook fairly well weird as that may be. No proof sorry ate it all.

What section are you most active in and why?: I am most active in "The Lounge". I am active there because I find various topics that I connect with and I would rather comment upon something that interests me than spam sections where I have no idea what I'm commenting on.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've been here(at Hack Forums) for almost 5 years now), and I have never been in a group other than l33t/Ub3r.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I should be accepted because I understand that when I post I will represent the group to the rest of the forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a fair person, I don't like seeing other people hurt. I'm probably a little too caring for my own good; I tend to put others ahead of myself at times. I joined Hack forums when I was fairly young, and have learned a lot about the way the world works. I think that it's important to understand that as people we are all living together on one planet and so we should learn to get along because the alternative is what we currently have. I believe that change is good and necessary, of course it's all on a case by case basis, but change is needed in this world. This may seem like almost a rant but I suppose it's better than making up some story about how I saved dying children in Africa and re-enacted the starting scene from The Lion King.

Anything else you want to say: This group does not condone trolling, I do appreciate jokes, and having fun but I think I know where to draw the line.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I would have to say my main skills are in Monetizing, Marketing, Hardware, Security Analysis and Cyber-Security. My monetizing skills can be proven in almost every Ebook, or Marketing scheme ive initiated. Feel free to look through the various closed Threads of mine and see the simple proof. Otherwise feel free to PM me anytime :3 <3 My Cyber-Security skills have come from my extensive Airforce training in Aero-Space systems Programming. Although im not proficient in many languages such as C++, or C, and have basic knowledge.

What section are you most active in and why?

I'm mostly active in the Ebook Bazaar, Computer HArdware section, and the Sub-Forums of my current group Infamous.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I've only heard good things about this group and believe it to be one of the last truly High Quality groups among HF. I wont say I belong in the Empire, because im quite humble, but I will say that I believe I can help teach others, and give to the community as well as I hope to learn alot from the members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Please see the above answer^

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well im a 19 year old female, that lives in California (USA). I have spent my whole life however young it is, on the computer. I joined the Airforce directly out of Highschool, and Enlisted as a 3D0X4 Cyber-Security Computer Programmer. I fell in love early in my life with a guy i knew since I was in kindergarten. I love him to death, and he's now my fiance. We havent gotten marry yet, but Im waiting for December of 2013 when it's going to happen. :3 I'm a very girly, et sassy kind of person. I like to be sweet and sour so to speak. Yet, I love to give back. Especially to HF! :3 <3
Anything else you want to say:

I dont have anything else to say really, but I truly wish to learn more and further my experiences on HF with the Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I have learned the java language through school and can code in it quite well. For our grade 12 finals we had to make a simple game in a GUI, I made a slot mashine. This game took members of my class nearly 2 weeks to make, and they were ALL making a "Pokemon" type game, VERY SIMPLE. I was away for thoes two weeks and had to make my game in only two class periods (1 hour each) I finished a fully working (1 line) slot mashine with full betting system and pictures. I would say our class was very well tought by one another and not the teacher, and from that we all learned our strengths and weeknesses. I am currently learning the LUA language for fun, and learning the PHP and C++ languages on the side to better prepare my self for college.In September of this year I will be attending Humber college for game development to continue my passion for coding.

A couple hobbies I have are -Djing Hardstyle
*Electro House
*Dubstep
*Hardcore
And a lot more.

-Learning swedish
-Youtubing
-Streaming
and making money online/investing

What section are you most active in and why?
I think I am most active in either the market place or general sections. In the general sections I speak mostly about music and get involved in some random posts. In the market place I engage in many diffrent topics. I usually stay around the ebook section and monitizing as thats how I make the greater part of my money. I by far dont make as much as I would at a part time job, but it is more fun then going and working at Mc Dicks for 3 hours twice a week.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join empire for plenty of reasons! One reason I am absolutly inlove with Empire is the logo, like lets be honest here, it sexy as f*ck. No but in all seriousness The Empire seems like the place for me, a very close community! I would love to be introduced into The Empire and I think that it would help me grow and expand in HF. Another reason I would like to join The Empire is I want to be able to start little groups with in the Empire. I think an ad ex group would be great to have for example, and I would love to be the one to host and run it!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that i have a lot to offer to The Empire as a coder/General knowlage guy/Some one for people to talk to about making cash. I would also want to get togeather with other coders, have the oprotunity to learn from them and help develop some truly great software that we could bring to HF to support our group! I have very general and advanced knowlage when it comes to computers, just depending on the topic. When it comes to streaming or YouTube I know the in`s and out`s of that, like I Know where the keys are on my keyboard. Aswell helping people make money. I have been making money online since I was 12 when my youtube got partnered for a video I made

In 2007 I remade a popular french video that was on youtube labled "Hippo and dog". Now I cant remember what song was in the first video, I can remember I riped the video with hyper cam and put "We will rock you" too it. The video was called Hippo and dog We Will Rock you, this video amounted up to 16 million views in a few years. There is still come rips of my video on youtube today. I was living the dream.

In Early 2012 I had a long boarding accident which put me out of school for 2 months, so I started streaming HARDCORE and making youtube videos often, me being me always looking for profit confronted TGN about partnership and They accpeted on the terms I delete all copy written content. This ment I would have to get rid of the two Hippo and Dog videos and the other few that gave me up too 19 Million total views. I declined the offer. A few months later I deleted the videos and confronted them once more, and they said they no longer need me and that I need to get my daily YouTube views up. :/

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I really never know how to answer this question. i have many skills but i don't know everything about 1 thing i know a little about everything.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm the most active in everything because i love to be around everywhere and at the same time i love helping people.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because it seems that everyone in Empire are bosses. and i want to be a boss lol.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: i just want to and i honestly don't know how to determine this because i really don't have a say.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: There is not much that i can say about myself other than, I'm 18 and i am a senior in high school. I am not a very good student because i really do not like school at all. i tend to want to do other stuff rather than school and that has been really bad for me. In my freshman year of highs school i really made some bad decisions that made me really behind in school that i now regret. that is pretty much some things about me and school lol.

Enough about school lol. there are really one two things that i like to do. well.. three. one being playing video games. i love to play video games, all games really. computer games console games and even board games lol. i love halo 3 it is like my all time favorite game, i do not know where i would be without it. I have spent so much of my life on that game it is not even funny. but yeah that is really one thing that i love to do.

Another thing i love to do it work on cars/drive cars. Ever since i was a little kid me and my dad have built and drove cars. i currently have two cars a 93 integra Da and a 67 dodge cornet. both cars i really love i race the cornet on the track all the time i usually run a 11 sec 1/4 mile, i have not really ran my Da yet (Low and slow). I have taken my Da to a few car shows but not many. so yeah thats pretty much me and cars lol i love to race build/work on cars and i love to talk about cars with anyone.

The last thing that i love to do is be on the internet. the internet has changed my life in many ways that i can't even say. without the internet i know for a fact that i would not be here now. i have so many amazing friends on the internet that i can just get on and talk to anytime about anything, things that i could never talk to or even talk about in real life. There are even people that i can even help online. I fit in Online. That is pretty much some little things about me. if you want to know more or have any questions feel free to PM me i am always willing to talk to people. I wont be online from 6am-3pm pacific time because i have school though. and sorry i could not answer all the questions.

What are some skills that you have:

Web Development - I have been developing and coding website's since I was 15 when I made a blog for My PPD/CPA Requirements. I enjoy doing it.
Online Marketing - Marketing is something I have been doing for couple of years now and is my online income.
Monetizing - This dates back when I first starting using Sharecash, when I was 12. I have many Facebook page with Real likes ranging 10k-78k, that I use to monetize.
Graphic Design - I started Graphic Design along with Monetizing as it can Help you earn even more. Its self thought. You can see my work in my sig and the thread associated with it.
Author - Once I knew I know enough to right a book on it. I didn't waste a minute.
Gamer - Who isn't
IT Consultant - I give troubleshooting solutions over TV or IM.
SEO - Its part of monetizing so had to learn it. And am pretty good now.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I have been waiting ever since the end of last recruitment to have a chance to join The Empire. I love that everyone is such a close group of friends and nice to each other. The amount of giveaways that you all do to give back to the community is amazing and would love to take part in that. Not to mention how nice the overall quality of the group is. The Empire is one of the best groups on HackForums because of their members, quality, and contributions. I could to contribute as well in the name of The Empire. I would like to join The Empire to share my experience of HackForums with a quality group that I would be proud to be apart of.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have so much to offer to the group. I make sure to make nothing but quality posts and do my research before I make a thread to insure there is nothing but facts listed. I would love to contribute in the name of Empire by doing many giveaways and tutorials. I'm on the internet about 8 hours a day whilst I could be representing The Empire the entire time. I would be completely loyal to the group and the leaders and always make sure to include the group in everything I do. I feel I should be accepted because I'm always open to learn and meet new people along with sharing my current knowledge with others throughout the forums and sub-forums.

Web Development - I have been working and coding sites learning from the basic's and becoming pretty great as since age 13.
Program Design - I enjoy making programs,i can't make much high-end crazy programs but i usually every now and then make small projects.
Online Marketing - I have been working,sell,reselling with tons of methods and have many income sources through out online profits. I am a quick,learner and understander.

What section are you most active in and why? I am mostly posting in the e-whoring section as of now,which i first found interest into learning at this forum. It lead me to making thousands,but then later after that going broke because i had no time. I felt like that was one of the reasons i wanted to enjoy and join the forum.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel like i want to join The Empire is because i can help out. I've more started to contribute,and let out what people know about my many shares. I can help make forums,sections active - as long as i am knowledged in that section. I feel like i can share,make great contributions. I always wished and wanted to join a group that had always gave back and helped out a community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I was hoping to be accepted in to The

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

First off,i am a 15 year old highschool student in the tenth grade currently. I am working as hard as to pass through,with the best grades. I enjoy playing sports,working out and making people laugh and smile which is one of my most important things in life i aim to do.
Second,i enjoy playing football. This is my first year of doing a sport,and it was a difficult thing to do. As one of the only people in my size,or age had to go up against difficult tasks against people atleast triple my size. I love a challange.
Finally,i am just a happy guy who likes to mess around with friends,jump around and be happy. I try to live my life to the best.

Anything else you want to say: I can make great contributions under the name of The Empire,or to The Empire or more as i learn more.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I find myself knowledgeable in computers. I enjoy security and hardware. I also enjoy Social Engineering and exploiting companies. I have listed some important information below.

List of all my skills.
RATs - Very skilled with all RATs and active on the Sub-Forum

Website Hacking (SQLi, XSS) - Basically learned this first when I joined HF

Hardware - Building computers, Overclocking systems, Modifying computers

Forensics - Metasploit, Portscanning

DDoS Attacks - Very knowledgeable in this are of network stressing eWhoring - Basic way to make money, not as active but know how to do it

Wireless Hacking - Hacking into WiFi hotspots

Social Engineering - Companies, people

Forums - I enjoy working with forums and running them

MyBB - Been working with the engine for about 2 years now

What section are you most active in and why?

I am mostly active in the Hacking area, mostly the Website Hacking area and the Hacking tools and programs section, as well as the Marketplace and the VIP area. I enjoy the hacking area because it is my passion and what I am mostly interested in. I enjoy the Marketplace because I am always looking for new programs and or services. Lastly the VIP area because I like to interact with upgraded users and learn more about the interesting things going about the HF community.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The reason why I would like to join The Empire is because it looks like a really interesting group with High Quality leaders. I would be thrilled to work with such members and leaders in making the group better and raising the quality of the work released in the group. I haven't been in a group in awhile and miss being part of sub-forum that is separate to HF and would love to experience that once again with this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have been in several groups prior to The Empire. I believe I should be in the group because I have worked hard to be the status I am, I post daily and make tutorials that I believe are really HQ and take time and effort. I am always around to give a helping hand to any member who needs me. I also believe I can make The Empire a better all around place and help the members of the group with whatever is affiliated in there quest for success. I can always teach members new things and learn things along the way and become better at would I am involved in.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well I joined Hack Forums to learn to hack and exploit machines. I spent about three months doing so and then decided to get into the world of gaming. I grew up playing games such as combat arms, counter strike and others. I enjoyed gaming for about 2 months non stop and then decided it was time to return to security. I began learning new things, I started to RAT and to learn some programming languages such as Python. I also started to monetize and learn about money making which is what I currently am doing. I enjoy all kinds of technology whether it is phones, computers, televisions.

Offline I am a normal High School student. I play basketball for my school, I am in average to honors classes and take pride in school an always strive to do good in class. I always try to be friendly and meet new people whether it be girls or boys. I work hard in school so I can be successful in the future. I also take technology classes such as Web Development and Keyboarding classes so I can expand my area of expertise and also learn new things to be capable of doing even more things.

I love to be Online and working with computers and my dream is to work with computers as an adult. I hope to one day be a Pen tester and work with security companies or Microsoft. I am always around to do what is needed in the HF community and share my knowledge with the whole community.

Anything else you want to say:

Lastly I would like to thank you for reading my application. I want a chance to show the group and its members that I can be a factor in the groups success and make it one of the best groups on HF. I want to be helpful and learn new things. Hack Forums has been a great experience for me and I hope that this group is as well. Thank you.

I guess he wanted to impress the selectors. What better way to do that other than by adopting something tried, tested and obviously working.

People are just lazy.

Edit - I think almost everyone is using the examples as a template. It would better encourage creativity/ingenuity if those examples could be removed?

I'm no one to suggest anything of course. Good luck everybody. :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm good at computing, monetizing, and gaming. I am also good with MyBB. I have helped developed tons of MyBB websites. Also I was in the top 400 leaderboards on BO2 but then I stopped playing.

What section are you most active in and why? The lounge because it is a forum where you can talk about anything and everything and there are a lot of users active in it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because it is a very successful high quality group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I meet all the requirements and I'm always active and have good grammar

Anything else you want to say: Nope.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- Rats, botnets, malware: I have had my share of expierence in this area, I do not believe in black hatting so I procced to quit this. I don't mind lending help to members though.

- Marketing and Sales: I used to sell on ebay and craigslist and soon ill start back up on it.

- Ewhoring: Side money stuff...

- Customer Service: Nothng like making a customer feel loved and happy, did it at jobs and did it online.

- A+ Computer Certification skills: I have studied for the A+ test just never took it but I am knowledgeable in that criteria.

- Poetry / Reading / Writing: After I dropped out of school took some test and turns out, I am way above average in these topics.

- Some hacking: SQli stuff and metasploit, never got into them.

- Wifi hacks: Little bit of backtrack experience.

What section are you most active in and why? Computing area, not really into the blackhat stuff though I can do it, I prefer more computing and mobile devices area. I will release tutorials on it though,

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to make a name for myself on this site, start from the low and make my way up. I am already on a good path and a good get go on here.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have already made tutorials and contributed to the site a little bit for my fairly small stay here. I will keep on helping members out and looking out for many people of the site. That is just what I do. I have a giving heart and spirit and love to give to all members also.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well call me Pendalum, I am 17 years old not your average person, I see myself as above average. Holding my attributes to a high potential and I proudly carry myself. I have no anger issues and rarely get mad, I logically solve issues before I instinctively solve them. I believe in giving to many people a memorable thing was when I gave a homeless guy 5$, he went in a gas station and bough a lottery ticket. Won 700$ from it, he gave me 100$ back I did not want to accept but he forced it in my hands and ran off joyfully. I smiled and felt the Universe above has blessed him with a second chance.

Anything else you want to say: I am here to stay, here to make happen, here to evolve, here to help make change. Hope I am qualified for this and you have a great day who ever will be doing the viewing. Great hopes to all of the other applicants. Good day!

Time Zone: I am in the Mountain Standard Time Zone which can be found here: http://wwp.greenwichmeantime.com/time-zone/usa/mountain-time/

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): You can find a list of my skills below. They are not in a specific order so feel free to interpret each one as you wish.
Graphics

I have always been someone who has been graphically talented. I am not saying that I am an elite graphical designer, I am saying however that I have always been able to use Photoshop to create above average graphics. I started out by making simple text signature for Hack Forums and eventually worked my way up to doing renders and eventually YouTube designs such as backgrounds and various photo manipulations. I have some experience with video editing as well, using mainly Cinema 4D, Adobe After Effects, and Adobe Premier Pro. As of lately I have not found any projects worth spending the time on as far as graphical design but in the future I may or may not pick up some design work again.

Basic Hacking and Web Pen testing

The main reason why everyone comes to Hack Forums right? Unfortunately I never became the "1337" hacker with green CMD text that I always wanted to be. I very slowly and painfully picked up basic SQLi and XSS. Alongside that I learned LFI and RFI which is as easy as 123. I must say learning how to do SQLi and XSS was extremely easy for me, and if I wanted to I could delve further into the area. I mainly have just been too busy with sports and school to spend time studying penetration techniques alongside the four hours I already spend on Hack Forums. Due to XSS and SQLi being in part related to PHP I also picked up some beginner PHP that I am sure anyone could pick up if they spent a couple of hours reading a decent eBook.

Communications

This skill is mainly due to my personality. I am a very outgoing person that is extremely easy to get along with. This side of my personality has enabled me to get along with almost anyone. I am very respectful even when sometimes it can be extremely difficult (especially with some of the members on this forum ?) and will always attempt to see where people are coming from even though I disagree with their opinion / perspective. Over the summer I worked telephones and hotlines so communication was a crucial part of my job on the team. i shall have you know that I received an A+ in customer service.

[img]http://img.photobucket.com/albums/v612/atrdnut/Misc/forever-alone-face32.png[/img]

English

For once I can actually say that school has helped me! No but seriously I can attribute my above average grammar and writing skills to the education I have received up until this point. I have always been in Honors or AP English courses so it truly has helped develop a lot of skills that people on here would find annoying if you did incorrectly. I would consider this a skill that coincides with communications, or rather acts as a benefit towards it. I have written essay for people here on Hack Forums for both free and paid services. It was mainly when I was bored and didn't really mind spending some time researching a random topic. ?

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active within Anime Adventures which can be found here. Now I know the first thought that may pop into your head is "you mean that Japanese porn". No I don't! I mean quality shows with deep plots and very interesting characters that just so happen to be in animated form rather than with actual actors. Many of the shows I watch are very compelling and sometimes are better than the movies being shown in your theaters. :ohm: Why am I most active here? Simply because it is something I enjoy. I spend time with the people that enjoy things similar to me. I am a very dedicated person, so I make sure that section is always active and looking for opportunities to bring forward more members. If you have any questions about my most active section or anime in general feel free to PM me. ?

P.S My second most active section excluding The Lounge is beginner hacking, where I do my best to help new members with questions regarding the basics of hacking.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire because I feel as though I can be a great attribution to the small community it is. I am a very respectful person who is always doing my best to bring a positive attitude to anything I do. I would do my best to contribute towards the group with the skills I do have or by learning new skills from other members and in return helping those that will follow in my footsteps. I can guarantee you that I will be an active sub forum poster who does my best to encourage other members to do the same. I believe that The Empire is a group that is perfect for me, and if given the chance, I will show you that I am perfect for The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel as though I should be accepted into The Empire because I am a very loyal and dedicated member. I will go out of my way to ensure that no member within the group feels unwelcomed, uninformed, or left out. I will do my best to utilize my own unique skills to not only help members from within the group, but represent The Empire by helping members of Hack Forums in general.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well the first memorable part moment in my life would be the death of my grandfather. Although it is a very touchy subject within my family, I feel it is very important to be able to discuss such an even in order to move past it and live life how he would have wanted. I was always very close with my grandfather. He, my father and I would always go fishing early in the morning. You could say it was all three generations of our family bonding and relating to one another. He was always someone I looked up to and taught me very important lessons in life. One of the main things he taught me was to live life through experiences and not by what other people and textbooks tell me it is. He always stressed the importance of sometimes just being random in life. Going on adventures. Why? Because you can. You only live one life and we are all stamped with a death sentence. However, how we spend the time in between then and now is up to us. Make the most out of our lives and don't let the aspiration for success be the reason you stain your hands with things such as greed and malicious characteristics. My grandfather was and always will be one of the biggest impacts on my personality and attitude and I will always do my best to live up to the standards he taught me. ?

Anything else you want to say: I know that if given the chance I can be nothing but a benefit for The Empire. I apologize if my application was lengthy / wordy but I figured if we only get once chance might as well make the most of it. Best of luck to the group regardless of whether I am accepted or not. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
VB. I love learning new languages and just learning new things in general. I am starting off with VB and I have learned a lot so far. I made some pretty cool things by just studying sources off of HF. Just basic stuff like a skype tool or a chat. But I am getting better and soon hope to learn other languages like obj c and c++

What section are you most active in and why?
Free services and Giveaways because I love giving things away. Im pretty new to HF so I dont have alot of stuff to give away right now but I have given away about 30 netflix accounts. I hope to do more when I get other things to give away. I am also in the VB section to learn new things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join The Empire because everything they do is very high quality and I really respect that. I want to learn and become one of the many HQ Members in The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I really dont believe i should be accepted, but if I am I hope to learn how to be really HQ and be just like every other member in The Empire

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
The most memorable thing thats happened to me was when my uncle passed away in a car accident. He was in the hospital for 3 months trying to heal and he meant a lot to me like my father. I visited him at least 5 times a week just to see how he was doing and I always talked to him about my day and how he was doing. I remember he always took us out fishing or camping. He taught me many different things on how to survive in the wilderness. He pretty much shaped me and my personality is just like his. My uncle and I were best friends but he was like my father.

What section are you most active in and why?
Im very active in the Windows 8, RT and Surface, HF l33t OT Discussions, Gay Fucking Requests, Netflix And Hulu, Free Services and Giveaways and Giveaways.

Windows 8, RT and Surface - I love Windows 8 and every feature it brought to us new users. I've always been interested in helping people when they had problems with their Windows because I was in the same position as many members here at one point. Now im just sharing my knowledge and giving feedback to help them understand or better themselves in the situationWindows 8 [Information Thread]

HF l33t OT Discussions - I was once a L33T and was active in this area until I won UB3R membership in a contest. Since then, I really never left the area and periodically check the section in case there are request for accounts going on so I may help them

Gay Fucking Requests - Im in this area basically every single day taking completing request from members. Whenever I have something to help someone in this area I'm basically doing it here

Netflix And Hulu - Im here completing request for members with 100 + or more to ensure the members who really deserve a Netflix/Hulu account do get an account.December Giveaway [Netflix] All Members

Netflix Accounts

Free Services and Giveaways - Im here doing giveaways that are basically one of a kind because I hand out unique and personal accounts for every member. I do not like sharing accounts with members and this section has taken up most of my time because I see this as the best way for members to take part in getting something they really want without paying an extreme amount Reptar ? Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the Empire because I believe I have made a strong impact on Hackforums multiple times. This would be the second time I've reached 1k reputation. Most of my giveaways and communications have moved members to be more active and to share ideas. I literally help around 10 people a day (Might not seem like a lot) with premium accounts or small favors no matter what it is. Anything I can do I help. Also, I don't have any scam reports against me, but have been scammed multiple times. So I enforce members to stay safe when dealing on Hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I believe I should be accepted into the Empire because I do have knowledge about some kind of hacking on this site and because I feel like im one of the most helpful members on the site. There are other ways of helping people without donations and I believe those ways are what I do since I don't have much money. So I help others who aren't as fortunate as the ones who can afford such things easily. I've made tons of contributions to this site including upgrades and tutorials. Thus not only making me a repwhore apparently lol

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Something memorable that happened to me on this site to make me what I am now is that member Mothered helping me on many occasions. I joined this site because I needed to activate my Windows and this member always went out their way to help me with anything I needed and I felt like I had to pay this guy back somehow. Too bad he got banned so I never got the chance. Since then I've made giveaways, tutorials, and upgrades to help members out this forum. Mothered believed in helping members without money and that taught me that money will not buy you happiness, but someone else's generosity will indeed

About me now. I am a very laid back person that will never go out my way to make you feel bad unless you start something with me repeatedly. Im always out to help anyone who deserves it and give everything I don't need and sometimes things I do need to people who are less fortunate. I believe in free is better and you appreciate it more when you cannot afford it

Anything else you want to say:

Visual Basic .NET Coding: I have coded my own shell booter, virtual operating system and much more.
Web Design: I create private wordpress themes
Gaming: I know alot about game hacking, boosting, everything you would like to know about games, From whats good, popular, fun, cheap etc.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to be in a official group and allow myself to contribute to a group of members that would do the same for me in return.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I am a quiet HQ member. I do free giveaways to donate to the community, Help others by providing experience and freebies.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
When I was young my father passed away so for the first four years of my childhood I had no father figure. At this age, it didn't really bother me as I wasn't old enough to grasp the concept of needing one. Then, when I was four and a bit my mother remarried and I gained the amazing father I have today. He's works in IT the same as my mother so as you can guess from a young age computers were kind of forced upon me. By age six I was already into gaming on the PC. I remember my dad showing me Unreal Tournament 2004 and since then, I've always been into PC gaming. Anyway, I'm getting off topic. At age four my mother remarried and I got the father figure and boy would want.

What are some skills you have (Explain)

- Hacking: I have been hacking since i was around 12, I'll be very active in the hacking sections of this site and help users out. I will help give this group an even better name than they already have. I am good at setting up RAT's and Keyloggers especially.

- Socializing: I am very social person, currently most of my posts exist in the lounge it is one of my favorite parts of the site where I, and other users, can just be ourselves.

- Social Engineering / Persuasion: I have been able to pursuade people into doing what I like since i was 10. While I am not sure how this would really help the group, it is something I am very good at.

What section are you most active in and why?

- I am active in the lounge a lot because i love to socialize and make new friends. I am also quite active in the hacking section as i try to assist people when they are having issues with their RAT's and Keyloggers. The marketplace is a forum where i am somewhat active in, but I'm not too much of a buyer and don't have much to sell, but I'd love to visit that section more.

Why do you want to join The Empire?

I see this as one the most prestigous groups on HackForums. They're active in all sections and have a desired skillset in each and every one of them. I would like to add some of my knowledge about hacking, RAT's and Keyloggers especially to this group and to the members of HackForums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into the Empire?

I know almost everything there is to know about certain RAT's and Keyloggers, very popular ones at that that people are always needing support with. I can use my skills in social engineering to convince people that the Empires new product is a must have. Also if i did join, it would be the first usergroup i would be accepted into (Besides L33T of course)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you.

On my 7th birthday, i had a huge party. I invited everyone who was in my class plus around 10 other people. It was the time of my life, even though it doesnt seem like much now that I'm 16. The next day i wake up, my dad is gone. I wake up my mom up and she calls him. He left to go back to mexico he said he wanted to give his grandmother a visit before she died. Two weeks later he was caught in the fire between two rival gangs in mexico. I've always missed him and have been a bit unstable. I went all of my teenage years without any male figure in my life. It's been me and my mom all alone for 9 years.

Anything else you'd like to say?

My warning level is at 80% but all of them expire within 4 days.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have alot of experience with RATs , keyloggers , website building and some coding (C# and Java). I have of course looked in to some other categories like Sql injection and overall website defacing but i never got in to it hard , but i defaced some simple websites using sql injection. I stop hacking for about a year but now i'm on it agiend.

What section are you most active in and why?
Im probably most active in the RAT section and the guide sections because im very intrested in Rats because of the power it gives you. With a RAT once you infected the person you wanna get to you can control more over them then they can their self. You actually maintain more power then they ever had with themselfs.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The main reason is because i was away from the hacking for a while and that was because i got bored of it i didn´t wan´t learn more because it just wasn´t fun any more. But i soon discovered that i thought it wasen´t fun any more because i missed a group , i really like helping and learning other people and learn new stuff by other people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I could help and learn those who wan´t evrything i know in exchange for nothing. I think i would provide many good things to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I remember when i was about 12 years old and me and my brother got a new computer , we had to share it. After a while i started thinking about what you could do with these computers since their all linked together so i started reading and learning about hacking.

Then when i had learned some basic stuff i tried using it on a LAN with my friends without saying anything i was succesful. After that day i have always wanted to learn more and more about hacking.

Anything else you want to say:

A good example of this is in my signature.

What section are you most active in and why?I am most active in the section Marketplace, since i do a lot of sales.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I have few reasons why i want to be part of The Empire.

1. I want to host giveaways in the name of The Empire.

2. I want to have more in contact with the group.

3. I Want to help out in the group section (Giveaways etc).

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I should be part of the group because i produce high quality work and i want to help out the members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am currently in 4th grade of school, enjoying everything in life.
Helping out friends, making some new friends and trying to stay loyal.

I am also a gamer, who likes to play games with team mates and my real life friends.
I love to make video's on my youtube channel and replying to comments

I also like to sell stuff, making money and expand my knowledge.
I am very good learner, and teacher.

Anything else you want to say:
I want to thank you for this opportunity.

Coding in HTML, PHP, Javascript, Java, C++, Perl <-- I do not claim to be the most proficient in these languages, but I do run a few sites using them so I have more than than necessary knowledge for my needs.

What section are you most active in and why?
I tend to be more active in the Xbox section and in the Computing section. The answer to WHY am I in those sections....well I love Xbox and Computing lol, if it wasn't for the latter noone would be on hackforums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Seems to be a nice Fraternal Organization. I have been away from HF for a little bit...but I noticed that YOU guys were the top contendor for people trying to join, so you must be good.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I do not feel you should accept me, only give me a chance to be in your group. Because the decision lies solely in you. But I promise that I will do nothing to embarass the Empire whilst apart of it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well in my life I have been a Soldier in the United States Army, deployed to various countries in the world. Aswell as lived at 3 bases stateside. I have been a Police Candidate and I am currently a Fire Fighter. I spend all my time trying to help other people that I just want to kick back and play Xbox in my free time or work on one of my various websites. I may not be the most liked in my community, but I am fairly well respected by all the good people. I felt pretty good a couple weeks ago, when I walked into the Sheriffs department, and picked up a side arm "1911 Springfield .45 ACP", and I was trusted to walk out of the Jail with a gun :p.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Im a great Social Engineer, for example, Ive SE'd multiple items from Microsoft and other companies in the past 2 weeks. I also am a widely known CoD player, playing GameBattles with friends and steaming, but I don't anymore. I can pretty much control a business deal, for example, I deal all he time selling, reading, and buying items. First, I seek weakness in the dealer I'm dealing with, such as money needs, money problems, or anything to control his/her dealing skills. Then, I ask him his/her price, and then interrupting him/her saying the rarity or large price of the item (while not saying the actual price) and telling my price. Then we negotiate and make a deal. Easy and it works.

What section are you most active in and why? The Halo section. Because I grew up playing Halo and I have very great memories of the games. I love hearing and seeing people play halo and describe their ups and downs while playing the game. It's just a fun section to be in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: not as skidding whatsoever, but, Ive heard gear things spit this group spanning from your stresser, and numerous giveaways. As well as your badass graphics that you use for your group (userbar, ficon, and headers).

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: The reason I would be a great addition to this group. While keeping a post count of 20-30 post a day, I could be showing off the group and doing giveaways when I can. I'm a very generous member and I am very HQ. I only have a negative rep from an UB3R member that is mad because I told Sanddrew to get his money straight.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, I am a huge Halo fan, but I'm not a need or anything. I enjoy playing Xbox with friends from school and more than a urging, being with my Girlfriend of 6 months going on 7. I've had numerous things appen to me that never erase from my mind. For example, when I was 5, my cousins were on a business trip in New York. They planned on going to the World Trade Center but my older cousin was having a stomach ache from the food they had eaten the night before. When my family heard about the attacks on the building, we were in shock. We together as a family, cried and cried all day, until we got a call from them. We are so relieved but were so sad because of all the lives lost. I've donated money to many churches and have helped them rebuild and relocate. That's pretty much all I can think of right now.

Anything else you want to say: Yes, I hope you guys can find it in your heart to accept me to this awesome group!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have an amazing knowledge of hacking how to prevent. I know a lot about virus’s tricks and modding im a amazing gamer and have advanced gaming knowledge. I’m also good with electronics this included wiring splicing modding ect. I have a Security Plus Cert.

What section are you most active in and why? I seem to spread out all my posts over different sections but I think I have a lot of posts in the white hat section because I have a strong belief in helping people who are in need of help. As well as sharing my knowledge of what I know on some subjects to help them out.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to be apart of a group that likes to better themselves and HF as a whole and be with a group of HQ members where I can spread what I know to them and they can do the same to me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a HQ member decent number of posts no warning no bad rep only good. If you check a bunch of my threads you will see I post only tuts helping people and questions for people to help me I don’t flame or disrespect anyone the best I can. Last I would be a great addition to the group only bringing a better name to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:I love sports and I am very athletic but also on the same side im a huge computer neerd and I love to game and go on hf. I play hockey football and lacrosse but hockey is my favorite sport. I'm active on hf I go on every day and help people out the best I can. I love halo, lol, sc2, and cod im a ex cod and halo semi pro and I was also a sc2 GM if you know what that is. I am a security professional and I have taken countless security networking and (you could say) hacking classes to learn more about all of these topics. That's about it for me.

Anything else you want to say: don't judge a book by its cover and I would love to be a part of this group!

Some skills I have are Graphics I have a wide imagination on GFX creation, Not yet professional, but Decent, am able to provide a solid 7/10 piece of work!
Monetizing[b] I have thinking of ways of this since I first started HF, I've been a part of google adsense / youtube partnering programs, and was able to succeed and being in on average 200-500$ a month with this method. I've also used other methods on how to obtain money.
[b]Online income I sell a variety of things on ebay, my biggest focus is selling car parts for a specific type of car, it's more of a hobby than anything, so that brings in a decent amount of money.

What section are you most active in and why?
Lounge I'm most active in this section because I feel like it's more of a freedom thing where I can rant / read about any kind of topic, and also the innuendo section, I like to help people out with issues they may have or give them advice.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the Empire because I never been apart of a group before and want to experience this with helping people, and helping them reach any goal they may have. I'm a very outgoing and understanding person, I will put most of my effort, yes most, not all, i'm only human, But I will contribute to this group and do the best I can, I want to meet new friends and people I can talk to about making money , techniques to helping others and reaching any goal they may have on Hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have a lot to offer the Empire, I realize I'm a new member but I'll put most of my time into this group and help anyone who seeks it. I can't promise giveaways and things like that but I can promise i'll be the best member I can be in the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well i'll start with my name, it's Devon. I'm 18 years old from Canada. I'm currently graduated high school and a little stuck in life, I have 10,000 in fines I have to pay due to me being stupid, I would consider this memorable because it will be with me forever, Basically I was out of a job for a little while and had to drive, got caught a few times with no insurance, then eventually lost my license and got caught again driving without it, yes i'm not very smart, I fucked up I'll admit it. So right now i'm trying to find a job and make some money to help pay these fines off before I go off into university, I want to get into automotive because ever since I was about 14 years old I was around cars, built them with my grandfather, it's one of my main interest in life anyway enough about that.

I have a girlfriend who I love very much, we have been together for 8 months now, it's going pretty good, we do a lot together but in my spare time, I like to play sports with friends such as hockey, and baseball in the summer, wouldn't be a true Canadian if I didn't play hockey right? lol, I enjoy coming on HF and meeting new people and share varies of experiences with, I'm a very easy person to get a long with and very likable person. That's pretty much about me, hope you find it somewhat interesting lol.

Anything else you want to say:
I hope you look at my application and take your time to read it and not look past it because i'm not an upgraded member, a colored username doesn't mean it all you know, so anyway I hope I can eventually meet all you guys, thanks for considering me if you do :)

Relationship advice (I've been happily in my current relationship for over 3 years)

Debating (I have set high standards for my skills in debating religion and politics.)

Coding (Some here. I also coded this.)

Gaming (I'm a 2200+ experienced World of Warcraft player).

Ethical Hacking (I've recently exploited Sprint, MIT, and Microsoft).

What section are you most active in and why?

I am most active in the SRPP section, because I enjoy seeing the way others think, and challenging their viewpoints, turning their morals around, and seeing what they think about the difference.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've seen some very high-quality members and giveaways around the forum that represent The Empire. I want to take part in something as great as The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I believe I have a lot to offer The Empire, especially good posting and quality representation. I would like to do giveaways on behalf of The Empire and be active in the subforum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Hi, I'm Zealotry and I'm a computer addict. Kidding.

For years, I've dealt with assholes and bullying, which eventually led to psychotic major depression and anxiety. By the time I was 13, I vowed to help people as much as I possibly can - and I'm staying true to that vow.

As a result from the consequences of bullying, I am enrolled in an online school, which is nice, but I don't see my girlfriend as much as I'd like. To make up for that void, I use the computer until I see her again, which is why I'm here on HackForums. I've mentored several people here suffering from hard times and tragedies, as well as relationships (I will not name them, for their privacy.).

Science, Religion, Philosophy. I love debating. Freshman year I joined speech and debate and I have been fascinated ever since. Its always fun to come on to Hack Forums and see what other people have to say.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would love to be able to any knowledge I have to offer as well as learn from members of the group. I want to feel accepted in a place on this forums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Dedication

I work well with others

I have a lot of knowledge to offer, as yet I have to learn

I would represent the group well.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have been a troubled kid. When my parents divorced, I was at a young age. My mom got custody of me. I was fine with it until about 3rd grade. Even though I was living with my mom, my dad was always close enough. My dad revealed that he would be moving to North Carolina (the other side of the country. I was currently living in Arizona). I was really upset.

After he moved, my mom started getting abusive. And eventually me and her would get into arguments. Which then later led into fights. I lived the next 5 years of my life without a male figure or a loving mom.

Me and my dad always had a special bond. Computers. He taught me everything I know. My get away was hacking. It was the only way I felt close to him.

8th grade summer, I received the best news of my life. My dad was moving back to Arizona, and I was to live with him. Its now near the end of freshman year, and Im so glad im living with my dad.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Persuasive Skills - I've been a very persuasive person since my childhood, I've found it as a very useful tool.

GFX - I make GFX regularly and starting to learn more and more everyday. I plan to increase my output as time goes on, so I get better.

Debater - I am regularly debating in real life & on multiple forums with others, I see it as a good way to educate myself and others. It's a fun hobby of mine.

Friendliness & Helpfulness - I don't ever seek to make enemies, or leave anyone angry after a discussion. I am a friendly member and love to help others as much as I possibly can, whenever I can.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in the SRPP and the Lounge.

I am active in the SRPP section because I love to educate myself and others as well as debate with others as much as I can. One of my hobbies is to constantly keep learning.
I am active in the Lounge because I love to talk to other people in general. Helping and discussing various subjects with others makes my day better.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I wish to join the Empire because I would love to be a part of a great group such as the Empire. I wish to learn from other members, discuss new subjects of interest, and make new friends. The Empire is full of kind & smart people, and I would love to be a part of that and learn from everyone.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that I should be accepted because I feel that I can contribute to the Empire, and I feel that I would make a good addition to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
When I was 6 year old, back when I was living in Russia, I was in the car with my dad. We were going up a bridge, when suddenly a drunk driver swerved out of nowhere and hit us on the left side. The car spun out of control and flipped 2-3 times, I passed out. When I woke up, I was in the hospital with my mom at my side. In 2-3 hours, after I felt a little better my mom told me my dad died in the crash. This made me sad for a year or so, because me and him were very close. We did everything together. I stopped talking to people, I stopped making friends, I even stopped talking to my family members and never wanted to go to school. Eventually, I got over it, but I still didn't like talking to people. I still felt depressed & alone all the time. When I was about 11 or 12, I was still very shy, but I began to make friends slowly as by this time I moved to America. Now I'm 16 and have fully gotten over it, I am always talking to people, I am always making new friends and I love my family. That incident put me through a very tough time, but I believe it made me stronger and a better person in the end. It's what inspires me today to help as many people as I can overcome their issues in life.

Anything else you want to say:
Just wanted to thank you guys for the opportunity to even apply for this group. I will respect your decisions no matter what, but thank you anyways for giving my the chance.

But never seemed to go further with it.

What section are you most active in and why?: I am mostly active in the " View Today's Posts" just to see who i can help, and whats going on around HF, but other than that i focus on the C# Programming section, to help and possibly learn more if needed.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The Empire is a group i can follow, a group that i have noticed for a while, and a group i could see myself in. It's a good chance to have a few family members i could share my creative ideas and methods with.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am honest, loyal, trustworthy and very helpful when i am free.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well my story about how i became into this programmer is very depressing, but besides the depressing story, i am proud to be in the situation i am in right now, it gives me a chance to learn more and gain knowledge, and i could really see me having programming courses leading to a career. I've been notified by one of my best friends in person about Hackforums in 2011 and i decided to give it a try, I have already known about Hackforums but i never really surfed the threads, never really realized how much help and very generous people are on Hackforums.

I have been very active on Hackforums, and very helpful to people who need it. I try my hardest to show effort and share my knowledge to other Hackforums members. But other than Hackforums, i have some personal hobbies of my own, for example i enjoy to skateboard on the weekends and sometimes play basketball with a few buddies when i have time, my activity to hackforums makes it a struggle sometimes to make some time for friends but i manage, and i am able to help others online unless i am working on a big project.

Speaking of, i am working on a project for a Hackforums business named Above1, i am programming a project for them which i am not going to mention because its a surprise but it should be finished by March possibly, if not then i probably decided not to share.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I believe I am a HQ user that can only bring positive to the Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: So a very long story short, I have always grown up wealthy and have had alot of money around me. I have had very good nurturing while growing up and have been sheltered alot. Then a couple years ago, I got introduced to programming, and I instantly fell in love. Just the idea of creating something out of nothing, has always been something that I have loved. Thats basically it.

Anything else you want to say: If I am accepted I cant wait to have some discussions with you guys

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Maturity. Though young, I have a very high maturity, and try to avoid immature members, as it gets annoying from time to time.

Social communication. Also known as social skills, I am very good at conversing with people, on what ever topic to make them feel comfortable, and content. Also making people open up about how they feel.

Digital SLR photography. Having spent over 3 years, and $4,000 I am very good with photography, and am currently in the process of setting up a portfolio. Team Nikon!

Social Media. I have tons and tons of resources for most social media, from tips, macros, and a whole ton of market places to sell/buy things such as followers, subscribers, likes, and favorites. I personally run Facebook pages, as well as twitter accounts for income.

Monetizing I have tons of experience with sales, marketing, and have made income online, from ebooks, to a runescape botfarm, to flipping Diablo gold. I am also saving up for a group, in which I'll be purchasing for around 3,500-4,000. I am also interested in advertisements from a portfolio I'm making, and the forum I've made.

Blogging. I've been blogging for two years now, with 11,000 constant viewers around the world, mostly in the Europe, and the UK. I blog about my life, my reptiles, exotic pets, and just fun facts.

Personal Support. I've taken a huge interest in mental health, and multiple mental disorders. I have taken classes in high school, and out of school. In the future I plan on becoming a psychiatric mental health nurse dealing with a variety of patients, elders, teens, single parents, or people with anxiety, stress, or suicidal thoughts. I can do my best to research, or help people with what I know, which is quite a lot. I'm also somewhat talented with understanding how some people react to different things, and as a result dealing with relationships and couples is one of my favorite topics.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am active in a few sections. Mostly, Innuendo (as shown by my top posts). I am quite experienced with relationships, and I have quite a bit to offer, and what I don't know, I learn quickly with the help of other top posters, and the group '143'. Other sections such as Anime Adventures, and the Marketplace also interest me, though I don't post a lot, I like viewing on the prices of certain items, and if I see a service in which I can offer, I'll help them out. For Anime Adventures, I just like the recommendations they give, as I'm a huge Anime Adventures fan, I just don't like the community that comes with it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The big question. There are tons of reasons I'd love to join the group The Empire. Such as:Being part of a group is a whole other part of Hack Forums which I experienced with Marketers, and Eminence. I love small community's, and because of the size of Hack Forums, it's hard to find. Being in a group could, and will most likely change that.

Knowledge. The Empire is a pretty knowledgeable group, filled with not only Market type people, but a huge variety of knowledgable members that have a ton and a ton of knowledge from different things, from Gaming, Coding, Writing, Hacking, and Marketing.

The main reason I want to join the group is the fact that I'm 16, I'm still learning every day and I want to learn as much as I can now, so I won't struggle with common things in the future. I want, and wish to learn so much more then I already do, and meet amazing people as I learn things. I spend most of my time either outside shooting photos, taking portraits, creative writing, or browsing the web. All of which involve a computer. I'm on the computer most of the time, browsing through files, websites, forums, blogs, articles, and games. I feel if I join a group, such as The Empire I can pick up on the high quality content, and even post my own to help other people. I also feel that while in the group, I can meet new people that are there for the same reason(s) I am.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

In conclusion. I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I am knowledgeable in different fields, and I can share my wisdom with others. I'm always trying to learn, and what better place to give knowledge, and take away from it as well. I respect all members, especially the ones that go an extra distance to try and make the forum a better place, and I feel The Empire strives in a direction such as that.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
From grade two, to nine I was bullied in school for being different, or as I like to think of it, as "Unique". I'm not the average guy, in-fact I'm the oppossite, I don't like any contact sport, I don't like violence, I don't like gaming, I don't like loud music. I like danceing, photography, romance, comedy, and just meeting new people. Due to people discovering who they are during school, they're insecure about themselves and decided to take most of it out on me. I still however, have many friends. I have Jamie, Daisy, Elizebeth, and Eliza I also have my Girlfriend, Kennedie. I got up from the ashes, and created a whole new me, a swimmer, that gets outstanding marks in school, and does amazing out of school.

Due to being an out-cast in school, I find I'm one of those people that holds the door for elders, volunteers at the Hospice, art galleries, and the recreation center. I even met the premier of Alberta volunteering at the Elders Appreciation Event. I'm not a bad person, in-fact I'm the opposite, I'll always be there for anyone, no matter how much I hate them, or want to avoid them.

My whole life, I've always been an expensive child, wanting the new Macbook, the new phone, or a new aquarium. I could never gain what I wanted, and as such it was horrible. I never realized this, but all the volunteering I did for my community, I could apply to my resume. I quickly made a resume, and got various reference letters from people such as my family friends, or the Head of Volunteering in Okotoks (Home town) and got my first job at Wendys Canada, where I made just over $10 an hour. That wasn't enough, I decided to become full-time, working 30 hours a week, now it was hard with high school just starting as well, but I pulled through. I've worked there for one year, two months. I recently quit, as I applied to Starbucks, which I've worked at for two months. The whole point is, when I get a goal in mind...Let's say a new fish-eye lens, that costs around $900...I don't collect my allowance every month for it, instead I got a job, and found away around it to support my goals, and hobbies.

Anything else you want to say:

I just wish to thank you for reading my application, and hope you sir...Have a wonderful week!...And Valentines Day!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Forensics- I'm half way through and currently learning IT Forensics, I can analyze data rapidly and in great depth.

Gaming- I'm a talented Cod player with getting gameplays over 120+ kills in an average game Editing- I'm a experienced editor, I can link you one of my newest edit's.

Website coding- I recently web coded my website (www.TrukVI.com) with a bit of C++ and Java help from friend.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'd say i mostly active in the 'Premium and Secondary' sellers section. I enjoy making money and talking to members in the community, this section in the forum allows me to make more social skills and learn new selling and buying skills for later life.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Why not hey !
I feel like this group is the most vast growing group. This group is a known and hard felt group as it has is reputation to uphold and up-stand. I've also never ever had a problem with the current users in it, this makes me feel more comfortable in apply and being around them. The current members have impeccable grammar which comfort's me when speaking/discussing a particular topic.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel that I should be accepted in the group because, I'm an outstanding user that has not had any problems with any other members, I'm respected by other members. With my reputation to uphold (no negatives) joining this group will allow me to do so.

I'll be increasingly active towards the group and helping for our members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Early life (Up to 10 years old)- I enjoyed going outside football the usual kids stuff but there was a dead end. Someone who I loved and respected died and that killed my childhood.
As im 16 now i enjoy sports and maintaining / exploiting PC's. I'd say I a hidden geek inside a normal body, if you see me you wouldn't expect me to be on the PC or expect me to know how to turn a PC on. I still enjoy football (Soccer) but I'd rather learn new thing's on the computer.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Great English Skills - I believe that I type very well and very clearly which is a necessity for communication online.

Graphic Design - Graphic design is one of my most favorite things, and I'd be willing to use it to help any of the members in or out of the group.

Debating - When it comes to nearly any topic, depending on my current knowledge on the subject, I can nearly always rile up a very great debate on it.

Leadership Skills - Not claiming I'm applying for leader here, but any time someone is needed to step up to the plate and lead a member/and or members in the right direction I'll be there.

Adaptable - I'm great at taking new changes and turning them into an environment that I found myself quickly comfortable in. I'm also very eager to learn all that I can.

What section are you most active in and why?:
While having a few more posts in the Lounge, I'm most frequently active in the graphic portion of HF. I enjoy going there because I'm able to get quick, and very honest reviews of my work. I also enjoy it due to being able to do the same for other members and helping their passion for art prosper.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join The Empire because I've always seen every member that is a part of the group being extremely nice and well-mannered in nearly every situation. I want to join this group because I would love to meet some new people here, definitely get to know more people, and just enjoy the family aspect of a group that you don't get when you're without one.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I believe I should be accepted because I'm fun, mature, and nice. I would wear the userbar respectively and uphold the group's high quality image throughout every post I make.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, I don't really know how to start this out but I'll give it a go.

My father left me when I was around 3 and I moved in with my grandparents while my mom also lived with us. Then he came back to me and my little brother, Joseph/Loddy and he began to cheat on my mom so they split up and he moved to Texas. I finally started school, I hated it but I got straight A's up until 6th grade.

Me and my brother fought a lot up until the last two years, I've even nearly broke my hand from punching him before but it was due to him kicking where no man should ever aim.

So then I was going to bible school and stuff and it was fun when I was younger but then I realized that religion was too much of a contradiction to even want to be a part of so I become an atheist, still am to this day. Around when I was 9, my brother was hit in the face with a golf-club and I had to carry him up steps while he was bleeding on me, we rushed to the hospital and they fixed it. Broke a lot of bone and left a big scar, but it looks invisible now. Around when I was 11 my dad tried to start coming back into my life, he sucks at it, he didn't even start paying child support up until I was 13.

So, when I was 11 I got my first love, her name was Jamey, and she was amazing. We were together for 3 months despite her being 15/16 we got along perfectly. I eventually ended up cheating on her when the Summer break ended because I got withdrawals of being around her and messed up when some girl came over to my house. So, then I went into middle-school, 7th grade, met the love of my life.

Calli Lauren Lyles. A redheaded, beautiful, Asian-looking girl. She had an amazing personality, and I loved her with every part of me. We were together for 6 months until she cheated on me, which she admitted to doing several times a few weeks ago. Then I went into a huge state of depression, had suicidal thoughts, cut myself, I eventually had to ask for therapy.

So, I started recovering about a year ago once I got in 8th grade due to meeting this girl, Tia. She helped me through a lot of the depression, she was a great friend and extremely caring. She took care of me when I needed someone the most. Me and she ended up dating on/off for about 7 months and eventually she moved last year in 9th grade on October 27th. After she left my grades drop substantially, I'm talking barely passing D's. I'm still having trouble with them. Also, I forgot to mention, I'm sick a lot. Actually, just recently I had appendicitis and had to get an appendectomy.

I've missed over 50 days these two semesters so far. My cousin, Brandon Howard recently passed. Actually, it was yesterday. I'm still in a state of shock, it seems like just yesterday we were hanging out and playing video games together all night. Things happen for a reason, though. I'm talking to this girl now, Mackenzie, who is pretty great, too. She's helping me through everything that is going on, but she lives like an hour away. :/ Hopefully she's getting to come see me today but I can't really be sure about it. Uhm, my dad skipped telling me happy birthday, Merry Christmas, and hasn't checked on me in about a month. He probably isn't even worried that I had to have surgery.

I'm currently trying to live everyday to the fullest, just trying to have a good time. I'm in good relations with Mackenzie at the moment, plan to see her for the first time soon, too. Things have been looking up for me aside from missing so much school from surgery, but that's fine. My mom and me have began to bond more, me and my brother are getting along great and I've been hanging out with my friends a ton so I'm really looking forward to seeing what happens from here on out.

Anything else you want to say: I just wanted to say that I really appreciate the opportunity Tibit and The Empire's member are giving me to prove myself to them. Thank you for taking your time to read this, I appreciate it.

Sincerely,
Ethereal.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have intermediate knowledge of both C++ and Java. I am also very good at graphic design, and I am exceptionally good at video editing. I really enjoy programming as a hobby, that's why I enjoy hacking. It opens up an even bigger section of programming knowledge to delve into.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the beginner hacking section, mainly because I like helping people out. Sometimes I find people to be rude or unhelpful to new members, and I like to try and make them feel welcome.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I truly feel that I could be a good asset to the team. I am very skilled in many areas, and I think in a logical and rational way that could really benefit the team.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because of my skill and devotion. I know you probably already have many people for each skill group, but I still think that I could be a great asset in more than one field.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I was born and raised in Canada, and I am of French descent. My parents have always had a very strict control over my life, and that is one of many reasons I enjoy hacking. It is a way of being free/rebelling from their control.

Anything else you want to say: Good luck to everyone else that applied, and thanks for giving me this opportunity.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Forum Development: I have been working with many different forum software for about 3 (Going on 4.) years now. I have become very familiar on how forums work, and how the programming behind the forum software works as well. The main forum software that I am familiar with are; vBulletin, MyBB, SMF, and XenForo.

Monetizing Online: I have been making money on the internet for about as long as I've own a computer. (Very long!) I do not monetize with social engineering methods, I have found that "SE'ing" can be unreliable, and inconsistent. I make money online through working for various networks/businesses. I have recently been hired as a Director of Partnership at a well known YouTube network. I am getting paid very good, and I feel this is a good and honest way of making a decent amount of money.

Gaming: Although gaming is not useful on a hacking forum, I still feel the need to put this in my skills list. I have been gaming for 9 years, ever since I got my very first PS2, I could not put down the controller. Over the last couple of years I have gotten into competitive gaming. My favorite game type is a tie between Domination and Search and Destroy. I have always been an active gamer, but since I have started college, I have had to cut down on my gaming life, but I am still exceptionally good.

Hacking (General): I have only recently begun hacking, I am still trying to figure out my way around some things such as website hacking, and other things such as social engineering. My best skill, as far as hacking goes, is probably website hacking. I do not consider myself better than anyone since I am still just a beginner to hacking.

What section are you most active in and why?
I predominantly find myself lurking around in the 'Website and Forum Hacking' mainly because I am very interested in forums and other website related things. I am going to start becoming active in the 'Coding' section because I am starting to become interested in making programs both harmful and helpful to people. I would like to gain some knowledge before I start making posts in the section though. I will also start posting in the 'Money' section, I will try and help people with online monetizing as best as I possibly can. I feel like I have some knowledge to share with some users that may be helpful for them.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I feel that by me joining The Empire, it will be a gateway for me. It will allow me to meet new people, and make it easier for me to learn new things that might be helpful on my journey to become a good hacker, both black hat and white hat. Also by joining your very prestigious group, I will be able to be more 'noticed' on these forums, and I could get my ideas and thoughts heard. I also would love to join because I believe this group would be a good stepping stone for me as far as me hacking goes.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Although my post count does not show it, I am a very high quality member (I try to be.), and I am going to start helping as much as I possibly can around these forums, whether it'd be about hacking, monetizing, or graphics. I also feel I deserve to be accepted because I am a very respectful person, and nowadays finding a respectful person is rare. I am going to start doing contests, and giving free stuff away as much as I can, I'm not sure when I'm going to start though. My goal on this forum is to be accepted into The Empire, so I will do the best and the most I possibly can to be in this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
The Beginning: My life on the internet started back about 6 years ago when I got my very first laptop. I was probably the most excited kid in the world at that very moment when I unwrapped that laptop! I first started out on the internet by playing playing simple little math games (My parents bought them for me. :D) I thought that computers were the best invention ever (I still think so.), I could never get enough of being on the internet. I could be starring at a blank page, and I still wouldn't get bored!

The Downfall: On May 23, 2000; I heard the phone ringing, then I heard my mother start crying. At the time, I didn't know what to think. I was completely oblivious to what news my mother had just gotten. After I heard her get off the phone, she ran to me, and gave me the biggest hug. The hug that I would always remember. After she had released from her hug, she had told me what happened... My older brother was killed in a car accident, he was hit head-on by a drunk driver, only a mile down the rode. He was that close to getting home safe and sound, but that was all ruined by one person who decided to drink and drive.

After that day, there was a deep and dark sadness and anger that was constantly building up for years, until one day I was pushed off the edge, and I decided to try and kill myself. I found the sturdiest piece of rope I could find, tied it to the ceiling fan, tied it around my neck, and let myself suffocate. My mother happened to walk inside my room, and saw my self hanging there. She immediately took me down just as I was starting to fade away. She then calls 911, and tells them to get a medic. About a week after the incident, my parents started taking me to therapy 3 times a week, although it did somewhat help, I still had the same darkness inside my heart.

The Uprise!: Since I decided to try my best to defeat depression, I joined MMA, as sort of a stress reliever, and a way to release my anger out on someone/something. Since I've joined MMA, I have been one of the most happiest people. I have done a complete 360°, I am no longer depressed, I am no longer thinking of harming myself in anyway. I think that MMA saved my life in a way.

Basically my life in a nutshell. Feels good to vent my feelings, and tell my life story. :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Knowledge on cracking/bruteforcing.

Knowledge on Computing. (Software, Hardware etc)

Basic graphics knowledge.

What section are you most active in and why?Starting to get more active in the computing sections, because I'm following an IT College.

Getting more active in the Minecraft sections because I have expierence with Minecraft and Minecraft servers.

I'm also somewhat active in the: Gay Fucking Requests Cuz You Want Free Shit section to give people things they need.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I would love to get in another group so I can meet other people, start to help people in the sub forum and give stuff away in the name of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'm just a normal person, trying to help people where I can. I don't really like writing long applications, I'm just a person who likes to help people with anything they need.
Anything else you want to say:
I never been good at applications.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm a pretty good problem solver with good logic skills. I'm currently taking some web design classes in school and by myself. I have a mind for languages, which includes programming languages. I'm also pretty good at reading people. I can tell if someone is having a bad day and know what to say if they are. I can look at problems from many sides. Friends call me to dispute their problems because they know I'm not biased one way or the other.

What section are you most active in and why? I am usually in the Minecraft section and the Lounge. I've played Minecraft since Alpha, and originally stayed in that section. Since becoming an upgraded member, I've started to hang out in different parts of the forums. I've made some friends and resolved the disputes that I've had with enemies.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Even though I am a smartass, I am usually fair and willing to say anything I can to help people who deserve it. Being a part of this group would be an honor. If someone has a problem, I'll PM them about it and help them solve it. I feel like The Empire is the perfect group for my personality.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: It doesn't matter what I think, does it? I'm hoping that I will be accepted.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: When I was 12, I was at the beach with my family. I was out pretty deep because I was a strong swimmer. A few meters away, I saw a kid bobbing and splashing. It looked like he was drowning, so I swam over there to help him out. He grabbed me and I told him to hold on and get a lung-full of air whenever possible. I started to make back for land when a wave plunged over us. When I resurfaced, the kid wasn't in sight. I dove underwater and found his arm and pulled him up. He didn't look conscious, so I swam back to land pretty fast. His parents were screaming at us and waving. When I got on to dry land, I punched him in the stomach. He coughed and woke up, thankfully. I haven't forgotten his face since. That was probably the best thing I've done with my life so far.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for reading my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I am quite skilled in SQL Injection, a little bit in Coding, and I'm also a very well learner/teacher. If anyone needs help with something that I'm knowledgeable of, then I am willing to help that person. I'm not so good in Money making, but I would love to learn. I am not exactly a "Grammar Nazi", but I do know how to use correct grammar, even though I will make a mistake here and there with my grammar.

What section are you most active in and why?
The Lounge and Hacking Tutorials. I'm mostly active in The Lounge because I would like to know more about the members here on Hack Forums, not only their lives but what goes on in their lives. I'm active in the Hacking Tutorials section mostly because I love to learn new things about hacking each and every day. I'm not going to sit here and feed you lies saying that I'm the best hacker in the world, but I do try to learn and help others learn as well.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire is a very High Quality group and I believe I can contribute to the group in certain ways that others can't. My desire is to help as many people as possible and learn as much as possible. I believe The Empire has members that I would fit well with and even the leaders.

Anything else you would like to say?:
This group is very high quality, and even if I don't get in, I wish best of luck to all that have applied. I would be a great addition to Empire, and so would many of the others that have applied. Sadly, you can't accept us all.

Sum yourself up in just a few sentences.
I'm mostly a layed back guy, and I will accept others for who they really are. They were put on this planet just like everyone else here. I spend most of my time trying to earn cash on the internet and playing games. I'm very Anti-Social, and I'm not afraid to admit it.

(Please disregard my rep, I was only given that for hacking a "Habbo Retro", if it means I don't get a place in this wonderful group, than I wish everyone that applies good luck).

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My skill would be social engineering. However I do not use this like many people do to obtain items from stores etc. The best way to describe it would be to use it in a way that allows me to know what someone else is thinking or feeling.

What section are you most active in and why? I have been on a brake from HF for some time now. A little more about this later in the post.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I always liked the group and the members in it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a high quality and mature member of the community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Sure. What changed me and made me the person I am today? Life did. I got screwd over, often took the shit that was meant for someone else. To much to write it all down and bore you guys with it.

The reason why I haven't been on hackforums in a while is because I got sued for bullshit and had to work my ass of to pay it all off. I lost a friend, my dad had a surgery and life in general wasn't really nice for me the last couple of months.
But, everything is slowly getting better for me, so I'll be as active as I can.

Anything else you want to say: Yes, I wrote this while I haven't slept for about two days so I am sorry for the bad grammar.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Android:
I'm very experienced in almost everything Android. I started out with ROMS (Custom OS's), and worked my way up to Android development, with friends. We are constantly working on something to push out, or to improve. Once I get my new phone in April, i'll be making my own custom ROM's for people to use, and enjoy.

iOS & Apple:
Well, I feel like this is a strong point for me too. I currently work at an iDevice repair shop near me, so i'm constantly working on the insides of iDevices such as iPod Touches, iPhones, iPads, and almost any other iDevice with touch screen. I'm not too good with iOS development but i know my way around the inside of the iDevice, and their OS.

Web Development:
This is one of my favorite things to play around with. I am constantly doing something website related. I have experience in HTML, HTML 5, CSS, CSS3, JavaScript, and a few other non-web based languages. (C++, Java, VB.NET). I am doing this as a side job next to my iDevice career. I know how to theme a site pretty decently. I'm good at the part that people see, i'm not too good at the internals of the site. (PHP, SQL).

Video Production & Editing:
This is one of my strong points as well. I'm pretty good with video production and editing. I know Sony Vegas, Adobe After Effects, and a few audio editing programs from the back of my hand. When I used to be an Xbox gamer, I would record and edit for my clan. We ended up getting a few thousand subscribers, then we split.

Photoshop:
This isn't one of my best areas, but I know how to use it. I'm not capable of making crazy thread designs, or anything close to what I have seen on Hack Forums, but I know how to make my YouTube graphics, and some other simple graphics for my YouTube channel.

What section are you most active in and why?:
I would honestly say i'm the most active in the Marketplace, and the Lounge, although SRPP is my favorite section. I think I visit the Lounge the most because of it's activity. There is posts all the time, so there is always something new to look at there, so it doesn't get repetitive like some sections. I also think i'm very active in the Marketplace because i sell quite a few things there. I am constantly buying/selling, so all the money I make from HF gets cycled back to someone else on HF. Lastly, SRPP. The SRPP section is one of my absolute favorite sections because of how high quality it is. Everyone there thinks very similar to me. I love thinking beyond what most people think about. I think about everything that can happen, what it may trigger. In other words, Instead of having a basic conversation with friends, we may go hours into a conversation with just a simple question like "What is your opinion on the Apollo 11 Moon landing?".

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it really resembles a couple great groups I used to be in when I was only L33t. (They're gone now.) I want to share what I have learned, and help contribute in the name of your group. I have a ton of information I want to release about Android development, programming, 3D modeling and animation, Photoshop, and anything else I can contribute.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I first started off my "computer life" when I was always browsing YouTube. I played a lot of flash games, and was easily entertained. I thought how awesome it would be to be able to make those as well. I eventually looked it up, and began working with Macromedia Flash Professional 8 (Yes, go ahead and laugh). I learned my way around it, and finally produced some cheap, funny things. After that, I kind of dropped flash, and started with video editing, and making more advanced games with C++.

Anything else you want to say: I hope you take this application into heavy consideration. Thanks :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have no special skills in computers, one might expect me to uniquely have. The first time I got my hands to a computer, I was addictively curious and I had discovered, learned various things, acquired skills. I am good and flexible in graphics design but it's not a big deal. I'm good in fixing problems with computers as I grew stumbling across various forms of these frustrations. I loved and enjoyed hacking, exploiting networks, devices, websites and accounts (basically with tools other people made) before, I usually get into trouble but always get away with it. Aside from computes, I do have decent creativity and perform excellent in school. I look forward to an IT and business career in college. I'm into programming automation tools with iMacros.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am currently into online monetizing, primarily because I don't have much for myself IRL, and also importantly for my family. That basically makes me active in Survey Says, Marketplace, Sellers sections and related forums. I am currently satisfied. I used to be active in SRPP, but I've evolved a lesser activity there since Logic was reformed and I left.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join an empire because I want to be a part of a group, not necessarily labelled with the group. I want to bring back what I had before with Logic (group), the subforum and the 'company' of people in the skype group was comforting and I wanted that. I look forward to this group.

What section are you most active in and why?
I have to say that i'm active in lots of Sections. The one that i'm most active is the Beginner Hacking Section, because i'm here mostly to help new people.
But yeah, i'm active in almost all Hacking Sections on HackForums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I always wanted to be a part of an High Quality Group such as The Empire. It would be a great way of learning new stuff, as well as teaching others what i can.

I don't think that there's a better group for me to join, so yeah, i decided to give it a shot :3

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think i should be accepted for the fact that i'm helpful around the forums and knowledgeable.

I have been helping people on HackForums at the Beginner Hacking Section, Website and Forum Hacking Section, Pentesting and Forensics Section, Botnet Section, Wireless Hacking Section, and sometimes the White Hat Section.
I give my knowledge for free to the world, and i help everyone, from normals to ub3rs, treating them equally.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I don't really know what to say. Well, was born in the USA, and when i was about 4 years old i moved to Portugal with my parents (they are from Portugal).
I have to say that i have many friends around where i live, especially in the neighbourhood. People are very nice and friendly, we used to play soccer a lot, ride the bike, etc. Old times...

Anything else you want to say:
Yes. Thank you for letting all members have a chance of getting into The Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphic/Design skills
I started to explore design on an age of 13 and as we speak today, I'm still exploring. making graphic is the most fun thing to do, it makes me able to express myself, to show my creativity.

I wish to be a professional webdesigner in the near future, as that is what i'm really into.

<? echo ('Coding') ?>
I can code basic things in vb.net, php & html. i'm still learning on php as i find it very interesting, very difficult and yet i enjoy writing and creating it.

Knowledge about stressers
I have/got my own stresser on hackforums, it was succesfull, however i had to give it up and give it to somebody who really took care of it. i'm quite experienced on the scripts side, like atack scripts and the inside of booter scripts (systems with servers/shell combined).

Friendly & helping you might wonder, why would he post such a skill as this? do we consider it as skill? I believe that everything can be a skill if you are open to it. i like helping people and do it as much as I can. when I'm helping the person(s) it can be frustating from time to time cause you are most of the time explaining to somebody with zero knowledge as they want to learn, I can be patient with that , why you ask? because everybody started with the help of somebody else such as guides.

What section are you most active in and why?
I think this would be the stress server testing section as I was owner of a stresser there. however, I'm quite active in the free giveaways aswell as I give alot of cool stuff away to people.

Why do you want to join The Empire?
The empire seems like a high quality group to me, i've seen the members/staff posting stuff on hf and these are just quality, that's all we ask for. I'd be happy to be part of that team and show you what I can deliver for the group, aswell as in the name of the group for other members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?
I feel like I should be accepted on what you just read, not on my thoughts or feelings. every group has it's 0wn things that makes them outstanding, i chose the empire for a reason instead of another group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
wel first off, my name is danny, i'm curently living in the netherlands and I enjoy it so far. i'm doing a pc-study in univeristy. I always learned from my parents that hard work is going to be profitable in the end and they were right. I'm a very loyal and respecting person, I don't go around saying things about other persons without really knowing them. i must admit that i smoke alot , i should stop but once the price goes up to $10/p i will consider stoping it haha, i'm active on the internet for my study, i'm learning alot and i hope to be a succesfull graphic designer/coder someday.

Anything else you want to say:
thank you for reading my application, it might was a bit boring at the end but i've tried my best and i can't do any better to be honest as english isn't my nature language.

What are some skills that you have : General Knownledge about hacking, Video Editing, Crypting, Gaming, Social General Knownledge
I have general knownledge about hacking. Like ratting, ddosing, SQL inject (i know few commands but i don't know about SQL so well to get information from database)
Video Editing
I am good at video editing. I know basics of vegas pro 12.(Medium Knownledge about vegas pro 12)
Crypting
I know how to crypt files. (Basics)
Gaming
I know almost everything about games. Right now i play only League Of Legends on eune. Sometimes minecraft and bo2 on ps3
Social
I like to be social, and i like to talk alot with people. That's one of reasons why i play alot games cuz i like to communicate.

What section are you most active in and why? I am the most active at lounge cuz i like to be social!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Cuz i want to share fun with other people and have fun! I want to help people too and be social.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):PhotoShop: I Am currently on my first year in a Graphic Design class. Everyday i enjoy learning more and more about Photoshop.

C++: Well I've been doing C++ For about 3 or 3 1/2 years, I recently took a break from it and haven't done it in about 1 year. I Did just get back into it about a few months ago, and am gaining all my skills back for that language.

Rat Expert: Well, I've been doing ratting since 2011, (about 2 years) and i've actually offered a RAT setup service for free for people, that eventually failed after no one needed it as they were going to other sources that have been around longer.

Computer Repair: Well I've been dealing with computers since i was 5, seriously. I got my first computer at 5 (Of course) and started to explore them more and more each day. Eventually i started exploring the inner components of the machine.

Virus Removal: I've been doing virus removal for about 4 years now for anyone who has needed one removed. I still do it for free for Hackforums and in person, i make some extra cash from it.

Giving Member: I Love doing giveaways, whenever i have something to give away, i will. I've actually given away alot of my services for PC repair for free. Another great example is that back in '11 i owned a webhost, well i use to give away free VPS's from there. But I've learned my lesson on that, there is a limit on giving.

What section are you most active in and why? Lounge/Rat Section: To keep spammers out, I Look out for the community

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Honestly, I Want to join The Empire because i think it'd be a great group to join. I've never been apart of an official Hackforums group except for logic when hex did that free join thing. I'd love to have a place to call home & Become active in the sub forums of that group. Its hard for me to explain on how exactly of a member i can be, because there will be times that i may be away due to me working all the time, I am however online everyday as much as possible. I've become more active through 2012 and this year then i ever have been. I Had 400 posts when i returned, Now i have over 900, almost a 1000. I Am proud of myself for that, for achieving this. Hackforums is a second home to me, and i love it. Im a kind and giving person, And i look forward to helping others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I Should be accepted into The Empire because overall i am a kind person. There are times where i screw up, like my warning level thats because i posted a thread in the RAT section about a program people may use to bind their RAT to, apparently discussing "Fake Programs" falls under Disallowed blackhat activity. Which i understand is my fault as i should have read all of the rules, not just some. I Have now read almost all of the rules & Have become a very HQ Member since. I've been looking out for HF ever since i've come back, I Hate spammers, I Hate people who make this forum look bad. I Love this place. I'd love to be apart of the Empire, as that'd give me a real home. I Can promise that i'd be very active in the sub forum as well as the main forum from day to day. I Recently lost my job, so now i should have more time online. I Am still a full student in High school, so during the day in the EST Time zone, you will never see me online unless its a weekend. I try to be as HQ as i can. I Am currently helping Google Expert setup a USB Flash drive for a Windows OS Install. I Am Really good in PC Repair, its a passion , i've been doing it ever since i was a little kid. I Know you guys may not care, as most people dont care about other peoples personal lives, but im trying to let you know what i have to offer.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, My name is Shawn, Im currently 17 years old, going to be 18 this year and ever since i was 5 (when i got my first computer) I've been exploring them more and more. I Started by taking them apart, and putting them back together. Eventually i got into learning more about the OS around 6. I Was then taught some tricks from my mothers PC Repair guy around 6 1/2. By then, i was getting smarter and smarter with computers. I Started building them, repairing them & Selling them for extra cash. I Now run a PC Repair business and service people within my area in person or via remote desktop for other remote locations. Hackforums is like my second home, I Love it more and more everyday, And i'd be so proud to be apart of your fine group. I Am a very giving person and am told alot that i do too much for people for free. I have an excellent personality, i get it from my mother & father. A good example of me being to nice, is that i just finished repairing a PC for a customer who is retired, so because he has low-income and is retired and me being nice, he asked how much he owed me for the services which normally would have been 60$ + if not more, i told him he was all set. He will be picking his PC up tomorrow. I Am also an authorized Page plus cellular dealer (US Phone carrier)

Anything else you want to say: Well, I'd like to thank everyone in The Empire for taking the time to read my application. As i know that you guys have the last word on whether i join or not, i'd hope that you guys accept me. I Believe in the past 3 years i've been on hackforums, I've learned alot of things. One of those things being that you shouldn't trust many people. Well, Like i said i appreciate you guys taking the time to read my application, Im hoping i get accepted & good luck to all other applicants.

This guy would be an awesome addition to The Empire, I recommend him :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
- Cert in Security + this means im well rounded and actually learned about all fields of hacking wifi, bluetooth, routers, ddos, virus, vpn, crypto, networking, software and more.
- Virus removal skills
- Virus , rats, ddos, advanced knowledge
- Site source setup
- Shell expert
- Decent at Photoshop
- Amazing gamer
- Good polite user overall good person a little funny
- Decent with decrypting
- Loyal
- and more

What section are you most active in and why? I seem to spread out all my posts over different sections but I think I have a lot of posts in the white hat section because I have a strong belief in helping people who are in need of help. As well as sharing my knowledge of what I know on some subjects to help them out. I dont neglect any part of the forums tho i spread my posts out far and wide.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to be apart of a group that likes to better themselves and HF as a whole and be with a group of HQ members where I can spread what I know to them and they can do the same to me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a HQ member decent number of posts no warning no bad rep only good. If you check a bunch of my threads you will see I post only tuts helping people and questions for people to help me I don’t flame or disrespect anyone the best I can. Last I would be a great addition to the group only bringing a better name to the group. I think you guys look over some of the smaller good people everyone is the same to me on this site ub3r or just joined we all have amazing strengths. A white hat would look good in your group to showing a lighter side to things and my knowledge of all things hacking because I have pretty much seen it all. So dont look over me because im not some ub3r with 8,000 posts remember the little guys who post HQ threads and help people out the best they can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:I love sports and I am very athletic but also on the same side im a huge computer neerd and I love to game and go on hf. I play hockey football and lacrosse but hockey is my favorite sport. I'm active on hf I go on every day and help people out the best I can. I love halo, lol, sc2, and cod im a ex cod and halo semi pro and I was also a sc2 GM if you know what that is. I am a security professional and I have taken countless security networking and (you could say) hacking classes to learn more about all of these topics. That's about it for me.

Anything else you want to say: Don't judge a book by its cover and I would love to be a part of this group im very active on this site I get on every day and even while at work and im very loyal to the sites and groups im in!

What are some skills that you have (I am a web and graphic designer and enjoy doing what I do. I also am very good in algebra and geometry class at school, My average grade is 98, So I am pretty good at math. I also know some programming languages like java and visual basic however I am not a expert. I have been a skater (A kid that skateboards) for over 6 years and enjoy that just as much as I do designing websites and graphics. I know Japanese language fairly well too. I have taken a IQ test online and have a IQ of 122.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been searching for a group where I can share my skills while learning as much as I do share.

-.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I could contribute many things to the group such as tips and tricks for web development and graphics, I could even throw some skating tips in there.

-.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well my name is Chris and I'am 16 years old, I enjoy spending time on the computer learning and sharing knowledge. I am a high-school student but since my school doesn't require us to do homework I have lots of time to learn new things and share what I have learned. My birthday is April 3 1996 so I am going to be 17 soon. I live in a small apartment with my mother and we don't have much money, I have to sleep in the living room because our apartment has only 1 bedroom, I really don't mind it though.

I'm new to it, but I'm slowly learning each and every step.

Logical Thinking
I'm an extremely logical person. I think about everything I do before I do it. Consequences to Bonuses.

Social Engineering and Human Manipulation
Recently gotten into this as well

Malware Removal
Some basic malware removal techniques as well as virus removal.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm active in mainly 3.Gaming

Anime Adventures

Lounge

I'm active in these 3 because of the fact they peek my interests as I love talking with other anime activists that share the same enjoyment as me. Same goes for games. I have a complete belief in teamwork and dedication.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I see it as my gateway to becoming a better person by learning about other individuals accepting more ideals and beliefs. Learning about new people in general.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I feel that I should be accepted for my dedication and high amount of teamwork. I don't believe in violence and will try my best to resolve any type of conflict.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
What I'd have to say about myself is that I'm a person who freely thinks. He doesn't have a set goal in mind nor a set mindset. There's nothing I really want to achieve at this moment. I believe moving forward will show me what I desire along the way. As wanting something now could be what I hate in the future. Think about now, not before or then.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm knowledgeable, CAN be very friendly.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
To be honest I don't really know what to say. If I were to be described in 2 words, I would say Loyalty and Trust. I'm also a firm believer in listening, otherwise you can't possibly learn.
Well I'm 15 (So close to 16), I guess that suprises people most of the time. Just so you know post count != quality, so keep that in mind. Didn't lose my parents in a car crash or any of that shit, so I guess that gives me less of a chance getting in. Eh I've been to court twice, one computer related incident and a completely different one. So now I have community service. I have a slight superiority complex at times, nothing most people can't handle. Grey hat nd all that good stuff.

Anything else you want to say: I didn't do a long app because I don't feel like funnelling shit into my app, I'll keep it short and sour.

-I am quite experienced with the concepts of Social Engineering and Human Manipulation.
Not just the usual "PID" nonsense online but I am quite knowledgable when it comes to psychological manipulation as well as reading facial expressions.
-I am currently leaning how to code (java, html, python)
Although I am not experienced, I work hard and efficiently and try to learn as much as I can
-I currently work as a phlebotomist at different medical clinics
As a phlebotomist, I take blood samples from patients to conduct different tests

What section are you most active in and why?
I was previously active within the HMSE section before it was closed due to my great interest with the concepts of psychological and human manipulation

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The Empire is a wonderful addition to the Hack Forums community and I would like to be a part of the group in hopes to be able to gain more knowledge as well as share what I have learned throughout the years. I have seen The Empire quite often through out the forum and the members and the threads they create attract me greatly.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Although my skills with computers are, what most people would call, lacking I have a different skill set to offer. I constantly and always put 100% in all that I do, and would go out of my way to help those who I call friend.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

At the age of 15, my brother was hospitalized constantly. Years before he was hospitalized he went through a pretty bad divorce and began to drink and smoke quite heavily. And although he drank and smoked quite a lot, he would always take me to amusement parks, movies or just hang out somewhere and he would stop smoking and drinking. It was around my 14th birthday he meet another woman whom it seemed that he loved a great deal and made him happy. And quite honestly his girlfriend did not like me, after a few months she actually forbade him from having any sort of contact with me; and I was okay with it because she had made him happy.

A few months after my brother and I stopped talking, I receive a voicemail from him saying, "We broke up the other day, she took all my money. Sorry for everything little bro." After I heard the message I called him immediately but he was not answering. I then heard from one of his close friends who told my mother and I that he was in the hospital. Apparently he had attempted to commit suicide by overdosing on pills and alcohol, and although his stomach had serious damage he fortunately survived. He was kept in the hospital for 72 hours for suicide watch, but was released despite doctors pleas and without a word to myself or my family. He was found two days later in his apartment..

At this point, I was taking multiple psychology classes in school and my brother's depression and his cognitive thinking kept me interested in the class and I decided to further my studies in the subject. Within a few years I have gained quite a lot of knowledge and learned about body language, facial expressions, neuro-linguistic and various other things. By the time I was 18, I was able to find the woman who had broken my brother's heart and through different and unmentioned means had left her personal business with a tarnished reputation and left her unable to be employed with most if not all big companies. Although some may see this as a very sinister move, but in my mind I finally felt at peace with my brother's passing. This has definitely carved my identity as someone who is willing to help those close to myself as well as have a never give up/say never attitude.

Anything else you want to say:
I apologize for the length of the paragraphs above, but I thank you for your time and for the opportunity to apply and good luck to those who have applied

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Most of my skills are involved withing the art of making money. Some People find it very difficult as they do not try hard enough. My ways are too look in the market for the new top end brands that are affordable and to scout whether the item actually will sell, also elimination of competition is a must. My skills are few I specialize in different languages I am fluent in 3, English, French and Polish. I consider languages as being a skill as not many people are unable to communicate as well as myself. Furthermore, I began to make money a while back now. I used to be very poor and used to beg, until one day I've learned that nothing will come to me if I don't do FUCK ALL, yes the language was needed to emphases my point that I am a hard worker. I have worked hard to be where I am today and be the person I am. If you are looking for somebody to help you out with quick profits or gambling successions, I have personally tested methods to gurantee success, I am sure few members will love this idea and giving back to the community is well.

What section are you most active in and why?

Usually I am surfing all the sections,but mostly marketplace section is like my second home. I check for people who are struggling with money making, and offer them few guides that work o my own. I sometimes check out the news section just to see what is happening with the current market and the world. In recent times, I begun to look into the Religion section. I always question myself, If God was all omnipotent, why does he not want to STOP Evil and Suffering?I am a thinker and the recent things that started to happen around me made more more self aware, that i am not alone in the world, and my purpose on Earth is to help the needy.Moreover The Sports Section, is also a place where I spend time reading/helping those in need as you have to Work HARD To Play HARD!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The empire is the group I am most Keen on. The people seem to be very friendly and an Empire to me is a one big happy family, of members helping each other out, and this is why I belong here. I want to help people out if given the chance.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am an honest person who cares about those around me. I am eager to learn new things and I want to try to help/change others in a good way. I wish that my application will touch the heart of whom whoever reads my application, and hopefully he will understand that its not all about taking, but GIVING instead.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

There are many things in life that made me who I am today. It began with my DAD divorcing my mum in my early age. I remember him beating my mum and her screaming, as she did nothing wrong.I always tried to stand up to him but she told me to go and lock my room. I couldn't sleep.This has made me realize that we should treat everybody with respect no matter what, and forgive.

From time to time I begin to think, what is the meaning and purpose of life? What have I done to help others around me?Its very hard to forget and forgive, and I hate it when people tell you to forget and move on, its difficult to get rid of painful/meaningful memories.

Anything else you want to say:

Sincerely Thank you for your time, reading my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have a lot of skills and a lot of flaws, but I feel the skills override the flaws. I am talented in graphics, and I feel I am talented with the musical arts. I have been writing poetry and rapping politically for quite some time now. I have also been involved in a lot of extreme sports such as BMX and Skateboarding since I was old enough to understand the sport. I have been doing graphics as well for quite some time now and I do it for free because I don't believe in payments for something I enjoy doing. I do free work because there is not much things I can do to give back to the community, and this was a perfect thing to do for the community. I also am great with my social skills, which is abnormal being that I am hardly outside and am frequently on Hack Forums.

What section are you most active in and why?

I think I am active equally in most of the sections that apply to my liking, but if I would have to choose my favorite section and which section I favor posting in than I would have to say the Lounge. I think the lounge is definitely a place to relax and talk about just about anything and there is no restrictions on subject matter.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire because I want to represent a brand, especially an HQ brand. I have been seeing all of your members post around and it's exactly the idol I wish to be in this community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into this group because I have been loyal to Hack Forums, and I respect all of the people within it's community. I feel this user bars respect and quality will add my persona greatly. I also think I would be a great asset to this group because I give and hardly take. Furthermore, my qualities should definitely stand out and I should be a inductee into this fabulous group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a kid who definitely stands out in the crowd physically and mentally. My stand points on things would definitely have some adults stunned and leave most kids clueless. I focus on more of the logical things, but verbally, I keep it to a minimum to prevent confusion and judgmental people. I am a kid who enjoys what most kids enjoy, but I also do things most kids wouldn't think of doing. I get good grades, and I have a good social status considering.

The most memorable thing in my life was probably awkward enough, getting my first computer. I have spent a lot of time on the computer and have done so much research and acquired a lot of skills via the internet. Some of the skills include hacking and programming and social engineering. I feel those skills are along the lines of basic and advanced. I have also met a lot of good friends that have turned into best friends from the internet. Some friends I met on the internet I have grown to like better than my friends in real life. I have tried online dating but I don't like it. To finish off this memory, I would love to pursue a career involving computers as I feel I am extremely familiar with it and it would suit me well considering my experience and skills.

Anything else you want to say:

I just want you guys to know, if I join then everything I have to offer will be applied with extreme measures and the dedication will be phenomenal. And if my application is denied, than I am glad you at least read it and people who didn't know me before will read and know who I am and my background. Thank you.

deidealist - February 11, 2013, 10:34 pm

Once upon a fine time there lived a idealistic young man,
He wanted into The Empire and came up with a plan,
Over and over he thought and he mulled,
How am I going to impress them he mused.

Then it hit him like a twelve kilo stone,
"Why I'm good at writing a poem!"
So on then he marched to The Empire's gates,

Pinned his list too and left it to the fates.

One curious marshal saw the fluttering note,
Up went he, grabbed it and thus the young man had wrote:
"I am an ordinary lad of twice the age of ten,
I come here because I wish to fraternize again.
In general I'd say that I'faith in no God,
For if such existed before it I would have bowed.
I come from a land of overcrowded with hearts,
So many pairs of feet, so many new starts.
If you ask me about my trade I will hesitate,
I hesitate because I have not much to say,
Only that I can spell and rhyme and write sans mistakes,
This is cherish and take to as ducks take to lakes.
But I seek new skills and new tradecraft,
I am eager to learn and not remain daft.
I may not have tools but I have a sound mind,
(Oh and I prefer women with great behinds!)
Not so sound judgement and a soul-fine,
I can think for you and for myself,
There are ideas right now sprouting out of my head.
But unfortunately I grow stale like bread.
I fear mundane-ness, indeed I dread.
If you ask me where I can usually be found,
I would say no where but somewhere around.
Tis' because I have been a sloth,
But now this flame has awoken the moth.
I hope to be a part of something big,
Something providing, perhaps a meaningful gig?
Why me? Honesty's faith upon I do not know,
Sometimes you must try with eyes closed.
All I can tell is that kinship I will bring,
Kinship and warmth to a beautiful thing.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Gaming Incredibly skilled at various games, every game I play feels natural to me. The games I have the most practiced skill in, would have to be; Halo (All), Call of Duty (All), Guitar Hero (All), Super Smash Brothers Melee/Brawl, Battlefield (All), UFC Undisputed (All) and Madden NFL (All). I have boosted over 100+ Halo 3 50's since the new ranking system was released, Gold Starred (100%) ~35 songs on Expert on GH3, Gold Starred (100%) ~25 on Expert on GH2. I average over a 4.00 K/D ratio on Halo 4.

Music

I started teaching myself how to play guitar around 2-3 years ago. I own two guitars, a Gibson Maestro Acoustic and a Washburn WD-10 Series Dreadnought Acoustic/Electric guitar. I mostly play modern-day acoustic punk/punk rock music along with some classic rock. I've recently started playing piano about one year ago, I am taking lessons from a family member whenever I visit. I prefer classical style music when playing the piano. I'm decent at playing drums, my friend owns a drum-set and I usually only play whenever I am over there, he's been teaching me quite a few things, I've got the basics down for punk and metal, still trying to improve.
Marketing

I have had a few successful times on the forum. I had a network stressing tool that I was selling, made around $2,000+ in my first 2 weeks of sales. I used to have an HF Gamertag Charity, it was pretty unique, the way it worked, was I would create cool gamertags and sell them dirt cheap to members of the forum, and all profits were donated to HF. I am great at advertising, most of my advertising was done from becoming reputable on other forums and beginning sales on various marketing forums.
Graphics

I began doing graphics in April 2012 while in the group once known as "Propitious." I saw the talent in the Graphics section here on HF and decided that I would love to begin learning how to do some of the incredible things that some members here are capable of. I have a portion of my posts in the Free Graphics Request and GFX Services sections, was a member of the Graphics Masters and have produced hundreds of graphics for members of the forum and businessmen outside of the forum.
Writing

Back in May of 2012, I had a cheap writing service which was open to all members. I completed a variety of projects ranging from blogs, essays, reviews and even songs. I was added to the HF News Team when I created the Gaming portion of the HF News in April of 2012.
Tutorial-Making

In my time here on Hack Forums, I have created dozens of tutorials in various sections of the forum. I have posted several graphics tutorials for beginners to learn the basics of graphic design as well as ultimate guides and skill tutorials for members of the Halo section.

What section are you most active in and why? I am extremely active and known in the Halo section. I joined the forum because I was an avid Halo gamer that wanted to find people that shared my interests. I have built quite a reputation in the Halo section through creating the largest thread ever created in the section (Official Halo Boosting Thread) and the largest guide ever created in the Halo section (Ultimate Guide to Halo 4) which earned me the "Sticky Man" and "FPS Gawd" awards.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: To be honest, I am losing interest in the forum. I feel as though I need something on the forum to commit to, somewhere to thrive. I'm the kind of member that only likes being in one group at a time so that I can easily focus my time and efforts into doing whatever I can possibly contribute to improve both the group and the general community. I know that if I'm accepted, The Empire will give me a new set of goals, to contribute, to improve and to grow as a member.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have dedicated time, work, money and effort into the forum. I try to assist whoever I can, whenever I can regardless of their standing on the forum. I have contributed a substantial amount of beneficial threads to the community to assist members who aspire to improve in graphics and gaming. I've also contributed to the gaming community by introducing the Gaming News section of the Hack Forums News. I feel that I would make an excellent addition to the group because of the content I've provided the community and will continue to provide as well for the time and interest I have shown the site since joining nearly two years ago. I would maintain a positive and respected image for both the group and its members and would strive to improve the group in any and all areas. Not saying the group isn't great now, but every great person knows that there is always a way to improve.

Personally, I would have to describe myself as a confident individual, confidence is what drives a person to succeed in whatever field they are aspiring to excel in. I have charisma, I use words to intensify and uplift emotions to help others reach a goal. I became this way due to the events that have happened in my life, both good and bad. In January 1999 my trailer was hit by a tornado, we lost everything, we all survived, it was tragic and traumatizing but I overcame it all. We got a new house in May 2000, then our house burned down from my father burning trash, it hadn't rained in a while and the fire spread to the house while we were away. In December of 2000 my mother was diagnosed with breast cancer, she battled it and overcame it, it was an extremely scary time of my life. January 21, 2001 my grandmother passed away from pneumonia, and on May 28, 2002 my grandfather passed away. I was very close to both of them, it still hurts a bit to think about it, but I know that it's better for them to have passed as opposed to having them still be around and still suffering. January 21, 2009 my best friend/ex-girlfriend drowned, very tragic, I still haven't completely gotten over it. May 12, 2009 I got engaged and moved to Georgia, we split whenever I found out she had cheated on me with my cousin in September 2010. I moved back to Kentucky and started working at James Marine welding, after a work-related injury and failing a drug test I was fired which resulted in me losing my apartment. In October 2011 my cousin was in a car accident where two of our friends died. May 28, 2012 my grandpa died, on that day I looked back and analyzed everything in my life, looked back at all the heart-ache that had happened, and looked back at all the great things that had happened and realized that it's all just a part of life. Once I realized how short life can really be and how horrible things can get and how great things are able to be I started being more responsible. I quit doing drugs, and started working, then on July 21, 2012 my son Drason was born. He is the greatest thing that has ever happened to me, now I live my life doing whatever I can to provide for him and do what's best for him. It changes you as a person and molds you into someone completely different. I came to an understanding that the best way to make up for all the terrible things I've done and the awful things I've experienced is to do the best I possibly can to show the world that I can be an amazing father, and I don't care who realizes it, as long as my son grows up knowing how hard I struggle to stay clean and do what's best for him before doing what's best for myself.

Anything else you want to say:
I hope you don't consider my application too long to be read, I put a lot of time into it and spilled some emotionally vulnerable parts of my life upon your request. I have just given so much to this community and I don't want my interest to fade away, I love using HF and would like to have something to look forward to on the forum each day. If given the opportunity to be a part of the Empire, I can assure you, you wouldn't regret it. I don't know if any of the members who accept/deny applications have a quarrel with me or not, all I ask is that if you do, don't judge me based on any problems you may or may not have with me, but instead judge me based on the content of my character.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm not really going to post a load of crap that I can't do to try impress anybody because to be honest I don't (can't) code and and I certainly don't hack anymore because It just bores me to death and let's be honest it costs money to buy all that crap that people say works when it clearly does not. I use computers a lot and I am quite technically savvy I help my friends fix their computers and give technical advice and so on.

What section are you most active in and why?
There are a lot of sections formerly when I was really active on HF it was Marketplace Discussions because I used to moderate that lol now It is probably SRPP because I can't seem to find smart threads anywhere else on HF.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
To help me get more active on Hackforums also to talk to people who are smart and don't just search hf posting on threads for rep and attention.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

The main post fits me perfectly as a matter of fact I exceed those recommended standards and as a logical person logic dictates I should be allowed to join
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am a 17 year old boy who lives in south England in a middle class house hold. I have a passion for the navy and am considering joining the Royal Navy and working as a warfare officer on a submarine or a destroyer.

Anything else you want to say:
I hope you consider my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
- I am great with help, I can help find other members there paths, and help with work. I can help them with new stuff they would like to learn, e.g Coding/Programming etc.

- I am also a very quick learner, for example, I have learnt to code 677+ Revision in game developing in just a few days, which I have made my own private server out of.

- Grammar is one of my top must-dos' when it comes to writing. If I don't use grammar and correct spelling, I don't feel like I can actually post the thread.. ?
What section are you most active in and why? I am mostly active in the Marketplace/Lounge area - mainly because I love making money, and the Lounge because most people look for support there, so I tend to help them out at times; however the Marketplace is where you will find me most in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would love to join the Empire group, as for one, the userbar is SEXY. Also, it is one of the well-known groups of HF, and I feel that your community is very helpful and sociable. I feel like I should be able to help out such a big community, and share my guides in depth.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into the group, as I can make a change to the community of the group. I have been told I'm very friendly, and I never go down on my word. I will contribute a lot, by posting guides, hosting giveaways, helping people out of Skype, etc.

subjects being Drama. I am good with sales, and am a great Social engineer. I currently own my own booter - called Meow Boot, and I have a passion for cats and mostly kittens. Purr. ?

Anything else you want to say: Nothing else to say really, thank you, and hopefully I do get accepted ?[/b]

Over and over he thought and he mulled,
How am I going to impress them he mused.

Then it hit him like a twelve kilo stone,
"Why I'm good at writing a poem!"
So on then he marched to The Empire's gates,
Pinned his list too and left it to the fates.

One curious marshal saw the fluttering note,
Up went he, grabbed it and thus the young man had wrote:
"I am an ordinary lad of twice the age of ten,
I come here because I wish to fraternize again.
In general I'd say that I'faith in no God,
For if such existed before it I would have bowed.
I come from a land of overcrowded with hearts,
So many pairs of feet, so many new starts.
If you ask me about my trade I will hesitate,
I hesitate because I have not much to say,
Only that I can spell and rhyme and write sans mistakes,
This is cherish and take to as ducks take to lakes.
But I seek new skills and new tradecraft,
I am eager to learn and not remain daft.
I may not have tools but I have a sound mind,
(Oh and I prefer women with great behinds!)
Not so sound judgement and a soul-fine,
I can think for you and for myself,
There are ideas right now sprouting out of my head.
But unfortunately I grow stale like bread.
I fear mundane-ness, indeed I dread.

If you ask me where I can usually be found,
I would say no where but somewhere around.
Tis' because I have been a sloth,
But now this flame has awoken the moth.
I hope to be a part of something big,
Something providing, perhaps a meaningful gig?
Why me? Honesty's faith upon I do not know,
Sometimes you must try with eyes closed.
All I can tell is that kinship I will bring,
Kinship and warmth to a beautiful thing.
I wonder if anyone will bother with this.

I am an avid gaming with copious amounts of gaming knowledge. I have played games since a very young age and spend almost all my free time gaming. As you can see from this picture I am not exaggerating.Spoiler (Click to View)

What section are you most active in and why?Computer and online gaming:
I am very active in this section because I am a huge PC gamer. I like to help people in this section by giving help and game recommendations to users.

The lounge:
I love the lounge because of how many different topics there are. There is always an interesting thread there.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have always looked up to members of The Empire and the group as a whole and would be amazing to be able be apart of such a prestigious group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I strive to be as HQ, helpful, and friendly as possible towards all members. I Would love to offer game walk throughs, tips, givaways, recommendations, and more in the name of The Empire. Anything video game related I can almost always give an educated answer.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hmm. It is quite sad to say but I have not had any very memorable moments in my life. I guess I would go with getting my first game console.

It was Christmas morning and I was jumping around the house waiting for the rest of my family to wake up so we could open our gifts. As everyone woke up we proceeded to open gifts. I still remember the feeling as a tore of the paper that was concealing my very first Play station one. I was ecstatic. Just what I asked santa to get me! I immediately got my dad to plug it into the tv, skipping all my other gifts, and started playing Crash Bandicoot 3. I must of played that game all day and night that is how much I loved it. I could(And still can not) thank my parents enough for getting me that. I still have it to this day.

And there is the story on how I got into video games.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for allowing me to apply. Even if I do not make it I will feel honored to even be considered.

Thanks for your time.

Promotion
I provide many promotion services. I do Twitter, Instagram, FaceBook, YouTube, SoundCloud, anything. You name it. I have been doing this as a side job to make extra money. I build up fanbases on these socal networks, and expose my clients to them, allowing their niche to be fulfilled and gained accordingly. I have been doing this for many years.

Fashion Design
I know this probably won't matter in the long run, but I have helped design some clothing for upcoming underground clothing brands. Some of these companys includ Ak$ents, Pink Dolphin, Diamond Supply Co., YRF, and Fortune Cookie Clothing

Marketing
I utilize my skill of marketing on and off on the internet. On the internet, I find anything that I believe is sellable, and I go out and sell it wherever I can, whenever I can. Making money is my thing. Off the internet, I can basically sell anything. My current job involves sales, and I believe it is a great skill that I inherited from my late father.

Business
Being Middle Eastern has given me an oppurtunity to become a great businessman. My grandfather purchased my father a liquor store a few years ago and I have been working there. However, on November 21, 2012, my father passed away. My grandfather wanted me to quit school and run the store. But my mother came forward and told him that I would only work there part-time till I finish my education. That is what is most important to me right now. My father taught me very well, and this liquor store makes around $1million + a year for my family.

Engineering
I am currently majoring in AeroSpace Engineering at a small community college. I am going to transfer to UCLA whenever they accept me. This interests me very much. I like using my hands and math.

Gaming
My entire childhood consisted of gaming. My first gaming device was a gameboy color. I enjoy playing Call of Duty on my free time. I also enjoy playing RPGs such as Skyrim.

Advice
All my life I have given advice to my loved ones. When it comes to relationships or family problems, I am your man. I have been through it all.

Athletics
I work out everyday, and am hoping to play football at UCLA very soon. If anybody needs advice on how to workout, I'm your guy.

Music Production
Last but not least, music. I have been working with music since I was 13. I produced for local artists, but never got big, and didn't have the drive to do it. However, I still work with one artists (Chase N Cash) of the Surf Club, and regularly send him beats that I have made on Fruit Loops Studio.

What section are you most active in and why?

I am mostly active in the Lounge and Marketplace. I am more active in the lounge because I like to express my opinion on people. I also leave high quality posts pertaining to the topic. I am active in the marketplace as well due to the fact that I make money off of these forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I heard it is a great community to be apart of. I love how you guys do giveaways and help members. One thing about me is that I am very generous, and sometimes usually just give out money for no reason. It would be nice to be part of this exclusive community on HackForums to meet new people and come up with ways to make this environment better.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
My previous explaintions may provide some input on this subject. However I feel that I should be accepted because all my posts are high quality, I consider myself smart compared to many people on these forums. I put time and effort into whatever I am doing and I don't finish till it is done. I am a very generous member and would love to give back to the community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I was born on May 3rd 1993, in Detroit, MI. I am of Chaldean descent. I spend my entire childhood listening to rap icons such as BIG, Eminem, Dr Dre and 50 Cent. That had a big influence on who I am today. Raised by my mother and father, we moved to California in 2002. I have a younger sister whom I care about very much and would do anything to protect her.

My grandfather purchased my father a liquor store a few years ago and I have been working there. However, on November 21, 2012, my father passed away. Social Life Knowledge - I went through alot in my life. Some of them is: Getting beat up by my mom, bullied, police problems, social problem, school problems. Now I am happy to tell that I got through all of those problems. I am back on my feet and also know how to deal with those kind of problems thanks to the things I went through.

Social Engineering - Well, I got alot of SE experience by e-whoring. I used to be a professional E-Whore® so I know what I do. I know how to manipulate people to buy things and too persuade them.

"Hacking" Tools Setup - I started using tools as rats, keyloggers, botnets when I was 12 years old. I learned to set the up on my own and if a member got a problem setting it up I could help them. I helped countless of members setting them up and helping the portforwarding. I do not use these kind of tools anymore but I could still help people.

Advertising - I am a member of another forum named WizardForums. I am the former owner and also creator of the group Evangelist. The group was all about advertising the site and getting new members. I think that I did my part of the role in that group by getting alot of new members. You can not create a group for advertisers without being a good one your self.

E-Whoring - Last year I used to E-Whore alot. I gained alot of knowledge, experience and help from HF. I consider myself as a professional E-Whore®. Even thought I retired, I could still teach my knowledge and experienced. In one week I could make from $400-$900.

What section are you most active in and why?

The Lounge - This is the forum I am most active on. Why? I love the lounge because of there is so many kind of threads that is posted every minute. I like to read about other members problems and hapiness. I love to help new members and I also want to make the lounge to a better place and more High Quality. Even if I know that it is ALMOST impossible, I am still trying. I would love to see it environment being a better one and more peaceful.

Innuendo - All teenagers have girl problems, sex problems and other kind of problems. Even if I am young I still have alot of experiences to share and help. That is why I take a look in there and try to help.

Anime Adventures - I love anime and will probably always do. I watched countless of anime shows and will keep on until I watched every show worth watching. It all started out in 2010 when I got introduced to Naruto. Later on when I joined HF I got introduced to the non-mainstream anime. I kept on watching different shows and fell in love more and more for every show I watched.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join because of I feel that I want to contribute more. While I was watching the Group Recruitments thread I felt that this group was the one I felt comfortable with and that could help me reaching my goals. If I understanded it correctly this group is sharing. I would like to share my knowledge and experience with the group. - Sharing is Caring Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted because of I could contribute to the group. I could help and share also just being social. But to be honest is not about what I feel why I should be accepted it is actually the leaders decision. If they liked my application they will probably accept me. If not... well I do not wanna think about if not, better to be positive than negative.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I already told like my whole life above but I will some more here.

My name is Aaron. I am a typical teenager aged 16 years old. I had some typical teenage problems but I solved almost all of them. I have little brother that is 15 years old. My brother could be annoying sometimes and I probably hit him to much but I still love him and care about him. I used to have alot of friends back in the days but if you cut the grass all the snakes will show up so I broke alot of bonds with people I cared about and kept my real friends.

I am a sport guy, I love all kind of sports: Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Badminton, Muay Thai etc... I played basketball for 7 years, soccer 3 years and muay thai 3 years. I quitted all of them because it got too much for me to handle, so I just started hitting up the gym to keep me healthy and fit. In my freetime I like to hangout with friends and go to parties. Some bad habits that I got is smoking cigarettes. I try to stop smoking but I have been decreasing alot lately.

Overall I am a nice and funny person that respect those who respect me.

Anything else you want to say: I am gonna be honest!
This took me about 50 minutes to write. I hope that you enjoyed reading my application and I also hope that it was worth effort.

Corso - February 13, 2013, 12:09 pm
Name:
C. Corso, as I've grown up in military schools - I only really respond to my last name (Corso).

Age:
I am 22 years of age.

Gender:
I am a male.

Religion:
I am an Atheist, however I have studied (briefly) multiple other religions and have taken some items into consideration or under my own 'way of life'.

State/Country:
Sanibel Island - Florida, United States of America. The Sunshine State or Orange State.

Time Zone:
Eastern Daylight Time (EST) or GMT - 5:00.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Coding: I have recently taken up a high interest in C#, C++ and Scripting languages. Although new to this field, I have started a Suite of programs that will help automate my job and allow my employees and co-workers to do their jobs faster, more efficiently yet be able to have the same income for the work. Examples of my programs; An automated backup agent, on demand backup agent, PCI DSS Compliance configuration tool (and other compliances), automated bench technician tools, and more - less 'public eye' tools.

Hardware Knowledge: From changing LED’s to replacing capacitors to building customized boards… I’ve had to do many jobs which revolved around hardware repairs (not replacements) and have got a good foundation to the in’s and out’s of computing/electronics.

Basic to Thorough Software Knowledge: I work as a VP of Operation at a Cyber Security firm that does everything from Compliance Packages, Business Security, Website Design/Hosting, Hosted Exchange, Spam Control, Hardware/Circuitry Repairs, Electrical Services, Home Security, Point of Sale Systems, Security Systems and so forth - As well as we have a side of the business that does Residential Repairs. This means I may have a Aloha Terminal come in one minute with blown/expanded caps... The next minute a home users PC who's deleted Internet Explorer completely off the machine (this just happened, lol). My point being, I have a basic to thorough knowledge in many fields and am always looking to get more thorough in each field.

Ex-Professional Gamer: Though the group isn't based around gaming, I know some members would be gamers and may need help with their consoles/PC's as such. I have tested almost any Console equipment out, written reviews, and used to get paid well to do so. I'd be happy to share all I can with others and help them and their gaming sensation out.

Online Often and Active: Due to my job being on a computer and at a desk (more often than not) I am online a fair to good amount. This means I am able to work on projects with other members, assist others on theirs, and help maintain my activity on the forums quite easily. Though this isn't a skill, it's an asset and I rather put it down than to not mention some of my assets.

Misc: I've only really been using computers for 3 years now, so my knowledge may be a bit shallower than many others – However I am always seeking more knowledge or solutions. This has caused me to become a bit like a 'Jack of All Trades' due to me learning anything presented (sometimes good, sometimes useless, sometimes a little 'black' ;)).

What section are you most active in and why?
The 'Computing' category/section would be my primary category. I'd have to say it's a bit of a toss-up between the Windows section and the White Hat section... Though I have starting to go into other categories as of late, but not a 'common' name in any others yet.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Tricky answer. Joining a group that is unofficial and run improperly is not going to give me an area to really help others and be able to receive help in return. I've obviously seen The Empire around, who hasn't, but after reading your Original Post here - There were a few lines that really stood out and convinced me to give this a shot. I've quoted a few of the major lines below (limited to the major lines as you know what you've wrote obviously);
Quote:The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums. We will mainly work within our sub-forum...
With a group that works together, any problem can be solved and in multiple ways - Versus one person being stranded and struggling to find that missing key or piece to make it work/solve the problem.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Honestly, I don't feel I should be accepted or feel that I should. I don't like to judge myself against others, as I know that I will know things many wont - But I also fully comprehend that they will know things I do not as well. The only person who can judge me for something like being accepted into The Empire would be the leaders and its members. Sorry if this answer is unappealing or not really an answer to the question, just a firm belief of mine.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Honestly, this is one of the toughest answers to give. I can clearly think of the major items that make me who I am, however sharing some of those with 'strangers' is not my ideal situation. So with that being said, we'll throw in a cheap movie quote of; 'More than meets the eye.' However, As this would be my 2nd 'unacceptable answer', I will elaborate a bit on some items that I do not mind sharing.

My adoptive parents were never into technology, nor was my childhood friends – So I had a tough time learning or even getting my hands on many electronics at a young age. My first venture into technology was when I was 15 at military boarding school, where we had daily Halo tournaments and other 'Game-Off's. Losers got to clean the bathrooms while winners got an extra hour or two of sleep… So I became competitive and thus started my gaming career. Towards the middle of this career, I had started to be pushed by sponsors to do videos and such – But have never owned or really used a computer (out of school) . . . So I put it off for quite a while. Once I hit age 19, I won a local tournament which landed me my first custom built desktop (weird tournament prize for a console based tournament, but worth the time/effort). This is what kicked off my interests. From 19-20 I was constantly tweaking my OS, upgrading, over clocking, etc. Half way through my 20th year on this wonderful planet, I landed my first real job (other than gaming, which I did on the side along with youtube/media stuff). . . What was this job? A simple repair shop, which I will dive into more below.

Upon visiting a local PC repair shop (significant other was shopping in a store near it, so wondered in) I was caught up talking to a gentleman who worked there. He ended up inviting me back to the bench to speak further, but also had to figure out some 'trouble tickets' or ongoing PC repair issues. After over-seeing and continuing our chat… I was able to point out the fixes or issues with a few tickets. Two being hard ware, one being a virus. It was at this point in time, that the gentleman introduced himself as the boss and extended a job to me. This is where I got my start and really got more hands on with computing. By age 21 I was the store manager/lead tech, however the owner came down with cancer and sold the company to the other lead tech of another store. From here, I moved into a POS and Cyber Security firm, in which I started off as a 'intern' (as I only had less than a year of experience and no degrees, however multiple certifications by that time). I continued to work on certifications and my knowledge, picking up a few coding script languages (such as AutoHotKey and more). Within a year (age 22, my current age) I became the Systems Engineer of this company. My job soon entailed running the business to business side of things, trouble tickets from residential repairs, as well as having a heavy hand in the POS side of the company. However, as of late – It also includes coding (as I picked it up about a month ago, slightly… though they don't realize how little I know of it yet).

Side note (extra paragraph too I guess); The company that sold off to someone other than myself ended up going under and being aggressively taken over by my friend. I also work this as a 2ndary job, more or less to help him out with all consulting and 'trouble tickets and issues'. Much like a consultant type of gig, which isn't too bad for the money/time spent doing it.

Anything else you want to say:
Though I severely doubt my acceptance, I'd still like to thank not only the leaders of The Empire but to wish the rest of you good luck (though many of you don't need luck) with your applications. With some of the other applications, including a wicked poem, I don't seem to stand a chance in Hell… Haha. And for those who do make it, congratulations on making it into The Empire – Make sure you don't waste your acceptance ?.

Last comment; Sorry for any jumping around or if I trailed off anywhere… I've done this application over a weeks' time (due to being pulled away every time I opened this up to write). Hope it's not too badly written!

[/b]Forum Developer - Forum developing is a big part for my gaming addiction, i enjoy playing Rsps & coding in some sort.. Mybb, phpbb, vbulletin expert. i've been developing/construction forums for years now i consider myself a 10 from a scale of 1-10.

Pc Games - I love playing the MMORPG runescape, infact i've been playing it for quite some years now.. this is going to be about 9 years playing runescape.. Anything runescape related, quests, guides, diarys achievements you need help on? i am your man. currently have a max cape in the game, and achieved the goal on having 15 runescape accounts no accounts lower then 105.

What section are you most active in and why?:Computing - Being apart of the computing section is like my very own home. I mostly go into the sub-forum "white hat" i enjoy helping other members of HF as much as i can.. you can learn something from me or i can learn something from you, The gift of knowledge is like no other gift around. Non-upgraded members do not get much respect as they should around here like L33T's & UB3R's do. I ignore all of the hate, negativity towards me.. No matter if you're L33T, UB3R, every single member on HF seeks knowledge like no others. Helping, teaching, loyalty.. these are all the reasons why i am constantly on White hat section helping members.. the knowledge that you receive and give-out is like no others.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I come for the great motto that this group stands for.I qoute "The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums." I Respect this very own group for the great motto that this Group stands for, I live for the computing section, other members of this forum provide absolute knowledge in that section & i provide high quality of focus and understanding, loyalty. I consider myself a teacher in some ways.. but this group provides and cares about way more then that.. The Empire, wants to bring in as much members as they can and make a circle of life, providing knowledge, high quality, loyalty, etc... i can provide all of those, no matter what my post count is. just know that i want to be apart of this group of yours, tibit... You hunger perfectionist for your group, i cannot promise you 'Perfectionist' but i am damn sure i can promise you a high quality HF member right here. My entry doesn't have to be

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I'm always shy too submit an entry to a group, i am always afraid of being rejected since Regular HF members don't have that much advantage of getting noticed on this forums.
The Empire is an amazing group but i noticed that recruitment is closed for now, i haven't even tried stepping 1inch into the empires doors..
My amount of posts i have is a huge disadvantage you ask for dedicated members, loyalty, commitment, i can promise you all of those in fact maybe even more. i'd love to join this group it's unique one of a kind.. i haven't tryed or dared my self, i haven't even had enough confidence on starting an Application for your group... until now...

Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age
No LQP or Harassment Warnings
No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports
Usually an upgraded member, or a very committed non-upgraded member
No trolling or flaming other members
Must have acceptable grammar

Is what you requested and I guarantee 105% High-quality from me, I want to be a part of your group.
I thank you Tibit And other Empire members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I usually go by Goku.. but my HF name is "ItsZeus" hopefully i was in a rush ?... the name Goku started out when me and my friends (this happened a long ass time ago) were just about to watch the premiere of Dragonball z GT, the series were always excellent, i'd always be a dbz fan no matter how horrible they episode was that night or how good it was.. my favorite character at that time was infact Goku, obv.. On this episode (i don't remember which) Goku finally turned into SSJ4 (super siayan 4) meaning he's in his ultimate form again, gaining all new strengths.. it was soo incredable.. days later i started speaking like goku, acting like goku.. anything that is goku related i've done it (except growing a tail ???) My love for Goku has grown in the past years i've used the name Goku for everything... except on HF which is pretty sad ?

Anything else you want to say:
Good luck to all who applied, and those who are still waiting too.

Here lies my application, maybe you'll be seeing me with one of these

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

? Remote Admin Tools / Botnets: I have worked with these way before I discovered Hack Forums, I am extremely experienced in port forwarding and setting them up. My spreading skills were once razor sharp but I took a short hiatus from it so they are not the best.

? Wifi / Air Cracking: I have intermediate experience into this zone, I can crack WEP easy! WPA2 and WPA are much harder and would require quite some time and sweat.

? Sales: I have been selling online from Ebay and Craigslist to now soon on Hack Forums. I am great with marketing and promoting products and items. I have that aggressive mentality to get the job done.

? Programming: Currently in the process of learning the languages of PhP and Visual Basic 6 both are great.

? Social Engineering: Retired from this over 7 months ago, I am inclined i this area having SE big items and small items. I high achieve here.

? Grammar: I would rate my grammar at a level of 8.5 / 10 I read and write on college junior level.

? Extremely Active: I am on 24 / 7 as I am self employed!

? A+ Certification Studies: I have studied but not took certification in the computer field just yet. But I have learned many in this area. From software fixes to malware removal, moving on to hardware issues.

What section are you most active in and why?

? RATS: There are many new hungry mouths and minds that need knowledge we must be the ones to place it in there.

? Any I see people need assistance: I would be there for them, not matter how many post, rep, status, l33t or ub3r.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to be one of the members on Hack Forums that make a huge difference. I already have made a small name for myself here I just want to be known even more by rocking The Empire under my name. I want to be another proud member here.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am already growing to become a ? on this forum, I help people all the time, I am online always and I never turn a person down. This is a tough site to come up on and gain knowledge from but I am one of the members who will try the very best and stick out and help all. I put in a lot to gain back more, invest and impress.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Life throws you apples you eat them, I was a unique kid in school. The kid that was smart on the inside but never really blew it on the outside. I did under decent in school and I was lacking in 8 classes. Also dealt with the stresses of bullying and just some assholes around there. It was tough making it through there as not many helped me but some people cared and I highly respect that! I dropped out of school at age 17, my mother thought I was crazy and had me tested to see my knowledge. I scored high in reading and writing, compared to advanced people in college. That was a memorable time in my life.

I am a guy that is there for everyone, I do not care if you are Gay, fat, bi, lesbian, even racist. I will not judge or say other wise about you. I am a all round person and a all reasonable person. I follow the rules of karma "throw out what you desire to have back", I have a beautiful amazing girlfriend and a great life. I put in the work and got back much from it. I love everyone and I am a down to earth person. I compliment on men tho I am not gay and I know myself very well.

Anything else you want to say:

Accept me in, I will do my best to shine and impress the rest. I am a one of a kind member on here and I am happy to serve the members of Hack Forums for a better and safer site.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
E-Whoring- I have been E-Whoring for about 2 months now. I started when I first joined HF and saw how much money the people doing it were making and figured I would give it a try and I have been doing it since.

MyBB Development- I love making forums using MyBB. I have had 2 years of experience with it. I offer my skills to the community and enjoy doing it greatly. Been my hobby ever since I started doing it.

Gaming- I have always loved gaming and have had a passion for it. I game on my free time and have been in well known clans on Xbox such as OpTic and FaZe.

Monetizing- I have only began recently but I am enjoying it a lot. I've been making a decent amount and can't wait to gain more experience and knowledge of it.

What section are you most active in and why?
I would say the lounge. It contains really all content and always has something waiting for me and it is the most active forum on HF in my opinion. Also a good place to meet new friends here on HF and have chats with other users.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Because the Empire is a very high quality group filled with excellent members and I feel can help me become a better member on HF and expand my knowledge. I have always admired the Empire since the day I joined. The badge was the first reason I noticed it and wanted to be in it. This was when I was a noob on the forum. But as my knowledge about the forum grew and it became much more than a place to find tutorials I realized the group was filled with excellent members and was a friendly environment and was full of people I wanted to surround myself with. Since then I have been craving to become a member of the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I am a hard working member and try to be HQ as possible but like everyone have made mistakes. I think I should be accepted because I always try to help out anyone that comes to me. I try to provide everyone with the awesome experience of being here on HF. I also try to extend a warm welcoming environment to everyone because that is how I felt when I came to HF.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, I am extremely tiny for my age. As a result of being so small I am a target for bullies. So most of the time I am pushed around, made fun of, beat up, harassed for my size. Since I am have been bullied and still am sometimes I come on the internet and try to help those who go through what I suffered so they don't make the ultimate mistake of taking their life.

Last summer my best friend committed suicide due to bullying. It was extremely hard on me and I realized his mistake and always welcome people who have bullying problems to talk to me here because they shouldn't end their life just because of other people having problems. So I am mature for my age and love to help people as a result of the bullying that I received and because of my friends suicide. You might be thinking how did that affect your life? Well, I would have never helped people like I do today without those events happening to me so that is something that has affected me majorly.

Anything else you want to say:
Nope ?

Remember this, guys: The length of your application, though it doesn't really matter too much, does affect how you appear to us. If I see a long application as opposed to the shorter one, I'll think that the one which is longer had more effort put into it (which is obviously not always the case, but I digress).

Make sure that your application reflects your qualities. For example, if you're into Graphics, design a nice layout for your post. If you enjoy things pertaining to Gaming, incorporate that somehow. Anything that you can do to "go the extra mile" may mean the difference between getting in or not.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
GAMING- I have played video games throughout my whole life, and I have played almost any type of game. I am very experienced with video games, and have played competitively on a few games.

PPD/CPA- I have earned a very good amount on adworkmedia/file-ice. I am good at promoting and earning with this.

FRIENDLY- I never try to put people down, Always try to make them feel better about themselves.

What section are you most active in and why?
-Money making/Survey says.
I am in these basically because I am very involved with PPD/CPA. I like to help members that are just starting out with it and give them hope to earn.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I feel like I would love to join the group because "Empire has the best quality of HF members. It is definitely the most high quality group out of all of them. The amount of giveaways you guys have is amazing (From what I heard) This is a group I have thrived to join since the beginning of your recruitment.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because I strive to add HQ content to this website and spend a lot of time on this website. I feel like I would represent the group in a good way. I love giving back to the community with no strings attached, and doing it in the name of a group makes it even better. I will also participate by posting helpfully in the sub-forum throughout the threads I can relate to!
I also will do a lot of giveaways, as I earn a good amount of cash.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

To start this off, my name is kyle, I am 18, and I'm male. I love playing sports along with gaming. I spend a lot of time on my computer due to the fact that I am in love with this forum. I spend a lot of time on this forum, and towards earning with PPD/CPA. I always have had a pretty good life, Middle class family, and have never had a problem making friends or getting a girlfriend. I currently have been dating my girlfriend for over a year.

Anything else you want to say:

Current random facts:

-I absolutely love working out. I workout at least 2-3 hours a day. I love staying in the best physical shape I can be in.

-The sports I played throughout high-school are Baseball, Football, and Wrestling.

-I always life a healthy lifestyle. I only eat healthy food, and love stacking on the protein! I really care about my body, and haven't eaten any fast food within a few years.

What are some skills that you have: I'm adept in networking (RATs included), malware removal, counseling for those who need it, and I'm getting into graphics as well.

What section are you most active in and why? I'm active in a wide variety of sections on HackForums, these include, but are not limited to The Lounge, RATs, White Hat Help, Xbox 360 & Live Gaming, Call Of Duty Series, and I also like to post in the Windows OS section.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire not only because I think I would benefit the group by being a member, but also because I am a helpful and contributing member of the community. Contrary to popular belief, not all fourteen year old users are immature. I always post with maturity throughout the forums, and I try my best to use proper grammar and report any posts that I see that violate the rules of HackForums. As a member of The Empire I will strive to help out all members of the forum, regardless of their join date or reputation. Being a high-quality, helpful, and contributing member is my number one priority. Unlike a lot of users who apply to join groups, I don't apply just so I can have the sexy userbar. I apply to make a positive effect on the community and the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted because I am always trying to help others with their problems, whether it be a technical difficulty with their computer or if they just need someone to talk to. I am becoming more and more active everyday. I try my best to give back to the community and to make HackForums a better place. I am a firm believer that everyone has the ability to learn, when a newbie makes a thread asking a typical newbie question my reply is never just a link to Google or the HackForums search function, I always try to answer their question to the best of my ability.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'll start off by saying that my name is Will, and I've always had an interest in technology. My father use to always say he was scared he would come home from work someday to see that I had taken the refrigerator apart and had it laid out in a billion pieces just to see how it worked. I've never been all that interested in sports or extracurricular activities. Seeing the circuitry inside computers absolutely fascinated me and I was instantly addicted; taking them apart, rebuilding them, and the whole nine yards. My cousin is an IT and I use to enjoy watching him work with computers, it was very interesting and he taught me a lot of things. I am a well-known nerd in my community and I couldn't be any prouder of it.

I've had a few rough spots in my life, and this has made me become a believer that all men are created equal and everyone has the ability to learn. I'm always there for my friends (online and in real life) if they need someone to talk to and I enjoy giving users of the HF community advice. If I were to say that I've never flamed someone online then I would lying and I think I speak on behalf of us all when I say that. I'll admit to flaming a couple people, but only when they utterly deserved it and even then I kept it light. I don't flame users anymore though, in fact if you browse through my posts I seldom flamed here on HackForums, but on other online communities I did.

One of my favorite quotes is from Eminem, it goes like the following. “I don't care if you're black, white, straight, bisexual, gay, lesbian, short, tall, fat, skinny, rich or poor. If you're nice to me, I'll be nice to you. Simple as that.” after having my own hard times in my life I have tried to live everyday of my life by that quote. It really grinds my gears when I see people judging others because of their race or sexuality. Everyone is entitled to their own opinion, but you have to remember it is their life, not yours and they can do with their life what they'd like. I think I've began to go a little bit off-topic, so I think I'll wrap it up here. So far I've put a total of 45 into my application. I hope you see me as a good member of the community and accept my application to be in The Empire.

Anything else you want to say: Knowledge is knowledge, age is but a number. I'm really hoping you'll accept my application to become a member of The Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphic/Design skills
I started to explore design on an age of 13 and as we speak today, I’m still exploring. making graphic is the most fun thing to do, it makes me able to express myself, to show my creativity.
I wish to be a professional webdesigner in the near future, as that is what i’m really into.

<? echo ('Coding') ?>
I can code basic things in vb.net, php & html. i'm still learning on php as i find it very interesting, very difficult and yet i enjoy writing and creating it.

Knowledge about stressers
I have/got my own stresser on hackforums, it was succesfull, however i had to give it up and give it to somebody who really took care of it. i'm quite experienced on the scripts side, like atack scripts and the inside of booter scripts (systems with servers/shell combined).

Friendly & helping you might wonder, why would he post such a skill as this? do we consider it as skill? I believe that everything can be a skill if you are open to it. i like helping people and do it as much as I can. when I'm helping the person(s) it can be frustating from time to time cause you are most of the time explaining to somebody with zero knowledge as they want to learn, I can be patient with that , why you ask? because everybody started with the help of somebody else such as guides.

What section are you most active in and why?
I think this would be the stress server testing section as I was owner of a stresser there. however, I'm quite active in the free giveaways aswell as I give alot of cool stuff away to people.

Why do you want to join The Empire?
The empire seems like a high quality group to me, i've seen the members/staff posting stuff on hf and these are just quality, that's all we ask for. I'd be happy to be part of that team and show you what I can deliver for the group, aswell as in the name of the group for other members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?
I feel like I should be accepted on what you just read, not on my thoughts or feelings. every group has it's 0wn things that makes them outstanding, i chose the empire for a reason instead of another group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
wel first off, my name is danny, i'm curently living in the netherlands and I enjoy it so far. i'm doing a pc-study in univeristy. I always learned from my parents that hard work is going to be profitable in the end and they were right. I'm a very loyal and respecting person, I don't go around saying things about other persons without really knowing them. i must admit that i smoke alot , i should stop but once the price goes up to $10/p i will consider stoping it haha, i'm active on the internet for my study, i'm learning alot and i hope to be a succesfull graphic designer/coder someday.

Anything else you want to say:
thank you for reading my application, it might was a bit boring at the end but i've tried my best and i can't do any better to be honest as english isn't my nature language.
HQ member, sexy af. He would be an awesome part of this group. Vouch!

they want to know something: I googled it! I knew I would only find a few ethical hacking bullshit on the first page so I went to page 12 (why 12? I don'T know myself) and i found hack forum. It changed my conception of what hacking is. Before hackforum, I didn't know what a crypter, a RAT, a keylogger, or even a Ddos was! I am in fact not really interested by the idea of stealing from somebody but knowledge is and will always be the key. That is why I am writing this application today, to learn more and more!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have many skills such as programming, graphics, music production, monetizing, and social engineering. My best strengths are in monetizing and social engineering. Over the past month. I have made a lot of money (over $500). I bring together social engineering and monetizing to make this happen. I use many PPD methods and also ewhoring.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the beginner's hacking section. Why am I active there? For one, I love sharing my skills with others and helping them succeed. Also, when I first came here I posted a lot of questions in the beginner's hacking section. The members here were very welcoming and glad to help me, so now I am repaying that.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have heard many great things about the users in this group, and it seems like it is the right community for me :)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into the empire because I have many skills that may help others. I am willing to help whenever someone needs it. I have been a member on HF since 2011, and I haven't applied to any groups until now. I feel like this is the perfect group for me, as I have heard how intelligent/kind the members of this group are.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well I'm not your average mid height kid with brown hair and lots of friends, I'm quite different. I was born with albinism, a genetic loss of pigmentation. (I'm Albino) This causes my hair and skin to be white. All throughout elementary school I was made fun of for being different. When I got to middle school, same thing. I was harassed and nobody wanted to even talk to me. When I got to High School, The bullying lessened, but it still continues. HF is a community where I feel accepted for so I am, not what I look like. This site has completely turned my life around for me, that's why this is memorable.

Anything else you want to say: Good luck to all other applicants, and I wub you Tibit :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I believe that i am well versed in a variety of skills. I am known for my exceptional marketing skills, and have used them to capitalize on the HF Marketplace. In addition, I have combined my marketing skills with computer programming to help develop popular crypters such as "Fuzion Crypt". I was also one of the VB.Net Developers for "Fuzion Monetizer RAT" which was a big hit around the community. However, I finally settled in on a niche for exploiting PPD gateways and released a sales thread for tablet vouchers. This business has been very fruitful, and I plan on making a website out of it here in the near future.

What section are you most active in and why?

I am currently most active in the marketplace. It is there where i thrive and capitalize on all that Hack Forums has to offer. I am also very active in group sub-forums, and do my best to maintain a consistent post count. With that being said I do still strive for quality over quantity.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From personal experience i see that the members of the empire are, for the most part, very successful. I feel that I would be a good addition to such a group and therefore have decided to submit an application to attempt and join "The Empire". As I said that, I just realized that the name actually correlates to the group and specifically its leader, Tibit.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

well I don't feel entitled to anything, but I do hope that you will accept me, and would like to point out my strong suits in order to reaffirm you that I am a member fit for The Empire. For starters I am an honest and straight forward person. I tell the truth and try not to beat around the bush (I'm not a dick, but I don't ride them either). Also, I am a contributing member to the community. In the past I've done many giveaways and upgrades to help stimulate and grow Hack Forums. Finally, I am a capitalist, and based off of the name of the group, it would seem that I would fit right in. I capitalize on every investment, and value each dollar the same as the next.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well as generic as this may be, it was HackForums that made a major impact in my life. When i first started on this form I had been messing around with batch and posting a few tutorials on how to send a batch file that would freeze someones computer and force them to reboot. As nooby as that may sound it was what first got me into the relm of coding. I figured out that programming was English with embedded text (for me at least). I then progressed into VB6 where i met the coder of iCrypt. He tought me basic string manipulation, and together we created a very successful business here on HF. The original programmer decided to buy the full company and paid me off fair and square. From there i went and discovered the beauty of Visual Basics 2010. I began to develop basic applications and eventually met an advanced VB.Net programmer who invested around 3 weeks of his time into me in order to teach me how to create a crypter from scratch. We completed our project and lunched "Fuzion Crypt". The crypter was very well marketed and made both of us a hefty sum of cash. Once that was over I transitioned into selling voucher codes from PPD/Monetizing networks and now I am currently making a small fortune just off of Hack Forums.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am a beginning Java coder. I have been on Hack Forums for almost a year now, and I think I have a good understanding of how things work. I have met and worked with some powerful people and they have taught me different things in general. I am still learning, and I will be dedicating most of my teen years into learning coding languages and web development.

What section are you most active in and why?

The Lounge - I spent a lot of time in The Lounge because it is the most active forum and it has some pretty fun stories, pictures and videos in it. It is fun to know other member's stories and interest while still having a hacking/coding purposed forum.

Minecraft / Griefing - I joined HF for minecraft, hence the reason I have the most post in it. I used to be VERY active in those forums but I slowly moved to The Lounge and other subforums. Honestly the LQness of the griefing section gave me headaches to much.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because I think it is a helpful group with members that have helped me throughout a lot of my time on this forum. The members of the group have reflected the image to me that the group is very kind, helpful, HQ, and serious. That is more than enough to make me want to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have helped members on HF for about 11 months now (Don't mind my rep, I asked for a RF for the lulz) and I think I have helped out many members with their issues. I want to help members in the name of The Empire, get help from members of The Empire, and help the members of The Empire. I think that if I were to spend 5 more minutes on each post to make it look nice with the MyBB Code I would look like an HQ member (As HF Considers it)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was 6, my parents divorced. My dad has been a full out motherfucking dick to me and my mom throughout time. He said he was getting back together with my mom when I was 7 and then bought a really expensive house (A little of $1 Million) and then had us move in and left my mom again. We have to live in the house to this day, but we are trying to move. He knows the taxes on the house and upkeep in general will bankrupt us. He agreed and signed papers saying he will do all of these things like give my mom so much money but fights her on so many of the things that it isn't worth taking it to court. I recently got a ticket of $2.1k for shit I don't want to go into, but my dad won't pay half of it and I pay him back over time and my mom doesn't have enough money for it. I had $300 at his house and he wouldn't give it, then he decided to give it back and $700 with the note "Ransom" on the package (LOL I did laugh hard).

Anyways, I am superior and more mature to 95% of the people my age (I am 6 foot 1, have a deep voice, and other manchild shit that I have had since I was 12). Some of my "Friends' think they are cute to mess with me because I am the tall kid, and I just quit hanging out with a lot of people because of that. I sometimes get depressed just thinking about stuff, even though I know my life could be 20x worst easily, I still think it's overkill.

I really just live my life now days, I just float by in school even though my grades are going up. I am not dating anybody, I try to stay away from that shit because, like I mentioned above, people will just mess with me about it. I don't care what they think but when they start doing stupid shit to get me in trouble I am just done. (They do shit like trip me into a teacher and knock her over XD)

Anything else you want to say:

I have spent about 30 minutes on this application, and I think it is pretty decent. I am not the best with using MyBB forum code. I hope you take time to review this, and don't think I am some over-dramatic teen (If you want to hear the whole story please PM me and I will explain it to my best capability :>)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because I would like this to be my first group to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a very dedicated member and willing to put my all into it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I had a messed up childhood. Not much of one at that. I don't feel like publicizing it, message me if you want to know more. At the age of 14, I redeemed myself and found my life in the world of DJing and GFX. I am a novice in both but striving my best in the both.

Anything else you want to say: Even if I don't get in, I wish luck to everyone else who applies.

All the best,
SkepticalSquid.

I hope my application is taken in consideration, Good luck to you all. I would love to be in here and roll strong with some new lads.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I believe that i am well versed in a variety of skills. I am known for my exceptional marketing skills, and have used them to capitalize on the HF Marketplace. In addition, I have combined my marketing skills with computer programming to help develop popular crypters such as "Fuzion Crypt". I was also one of the VB.Net Developers for "Fuzion Monetizer RAT" which was a big hit around the community. However, I finally settled in on a niche for exploiting PPD gateways and released a sales thread for tablet vouchers. This business has been very fruitful, and I plan on making a website out of it here in the near future.

What section are you most active in and why?

I am currently most active in the marketplace. It is there where i thrive and capitalize on all that Hack Forums has to offer. I am also very active in group sub-forums, and do my best to maintain a consistent post count. With that being said I do still strive for quality over quantity.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From personal experience i see that the members of the empire are, for the most part, very successful. I feel that I would be a good addition to such a group and therefore have decided to submit an application to attempt and join "The Empire". As I said that I just realized that the name actually correlates to the group and specifically its leader, Tibit.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

well I don't feel entitled to anything, but I do hope that you will accept me, and would like to point out my strong suits in order to reaffirm you that I am a member fit for The Empire. For starters I am an honest and straight forward person. I tell the truth and try not to beat around the bush (I'm not a dick, but I don't ride them either). Also, I am a contributing member to the community. In the past I've done many giveaways and upgrades to help stimulate and grow Hack Forums. Finally, I am a capitalist, and based off of the name of the group, it would seem that I would fit right in. I capitalize on every investment, and value each dollar the same as the next.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well as generic as this may be, it was HackForums that made a major impact in my life. When i first started on this form I had been messing around with batch and posting a few tutorials on how to send a batch file that would freeze someones computer and force them to reboot. As nooby as that may sound it was what first got me into the relm of coding. I figured out that programming was English with embedded text (for me at least). I then progressed into VB6 where i met the coder of iCrypt. He tought me basic string manipulation, and together we created a very successful business here on HF. The original programmer decided to buy the full company and paid me off fair and square. From there i went and discovered the beauty of Visual Basics 2010. I began to develop basic applications and eventually met an advanced VB.Net programmer who invested around 3 weeks of his time into me in order to teach me how to create a crypter from scratch. We completed our project and lunched "Fuzion Crypt". The crypter was very well marketed and made both of us a hefty sum of cash. Once that was over I transitioned into selling voucher codes from PPD/Monetizing networks and now I am currently making a small fortune just off of Hack Forums.

They are fascinating to me. I am also involved in business marketing and political science. I love business, everything about it. Also finance I love handling money. Money is what makes the world go round. I also love giving people help in life I have past experience with support. I also love manipulating people for better or worse, I love getting into the minds of a person.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]What section are you most active in and why?: I am active in the lounge, the reason for that is I love listening to people and hearing ideas, Problems and all.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]Why do you want to join The Empire?: Why do I want to join The Empire, well I feel that this group is the best. I am not saying that to "kiss up". This group has the most loyal people in it. I think that The Empire will be a good thing for me.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because I am loyal, and to me being loyal is everything.I think that I am can help the group out with ideas. I hope to put smiles on peoples faces when helping them.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well me I am 15 years old, a sophomore in high school, I have not the best of life. I have a problem is my house that I am not willing to speak about, but these events helped me become who I am today. These events have made me realize life in a perspective that most people won't see till later years. Being on this site has helped me with my grammer and numbers. Numbers are a big thing in my life. I love how they work and how they are keyed into everything. Although I am not the best in school because I think that they do not work well. My grades are acceptable to some but not all.

[img]http://cdn2.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empiref.png[/img]Anything else you want to say:I know that I don't have the post requirements but I hope that they can see past that because I have had hard time in that last four months. What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Remote Access Trojans - I used to use RATs on a daily basis when I first started getting into the dark-side of computers, so to speak. I originally worked with the RAT Poison Ivy and taught myself everything about RATs through that specific trojan. I have also used DarkComet and CyberGate, both of which are the ones I used most. I don't use RATs anymore, but I still know everything about them and can help setup if need be.

SQLi & XSS - For a while, I got into website side of computing. I was very interested in learning all aspects of defacement and entry to any and all sites. I learned my skills from Kobez (Team Intra member) a while back via Skype conversations everyday. Since then, I've been doing it daily to keep up with it and to continue learning more and more everyday. I am at the point where I could teach someone how to do this, both with programs or manually.

WiFi Cracking and Manipulation - My freshman year, I went to a university which had large dorm buildings and plenty of various computers hooked up to one wireless connection. This is where my fascination with wireless connections truly flourished. Through tutorials and friends, I found myself being able to get the handshake and password of any wireless password on school grounds, but I wanted more. I soon acquired something called "the WiFi Pineapple", which has many capabillities and acts as a gateway to the public internet. From there, I am able to do anything I want and it gave me free reign to learn more and mess with anything I wanted.

Doxing - This was something I learned just to learn, not to use maliciously like some people do for swatting or worse. I had a friend who was good at it and showed me the ropes with public websites, private databases, etc. A lot of times, I use doxing to confirm who people say they are. I have some trust issues because of things that have happened in the past so this is my main use. I also use it sometimes when I need to takeover someone's Facebook with an easy method, but you need to know the person pretty well first which you can do through doxing.

Intermidiate C++ - I'm not going to say I'm good, but I am working on it everyday. A few months from now, I know I have the capability to become and very good C++ programmer and going to strive to do so. I put this down because it may not be my best skill right now, but soon enough it can be with the amount of time and effort I'm putting into it.

Social Engineering and Human Manipulation - I can't tell you exactly how I got into this, but from what I believe, I think it is due to the fact that I can lie very well and can come up with material in my head in a matter of seconds. Whenever I'm in a bind, I am able to spit out information that isn't true like a madman. Due to me being able to do this so quickly, I used to SE products from Razer, Sony, Apple, etc...on a daily basis. I don't do this anymore because I tend to strafe away from BlackHat activity now, although I do tend to use this skill to get information from people whether it's a secret question answer for an account, or maybe information to take over an email account, or even getting free items from my local Best Buy. Whatever it may be, I am a quick thinking and have the ability to get out of any situation with nothing more than my mind and my words.

WhiteHat Activities - Now and days, I tend to use my skills the most helping others out cleaning out their computers, making their computers more useful, or just teaching other users different techniques I know. Even if I don't know the person, I can use TeamViewer and talk to them over Skype to resolve an issue on their computer for them. I tend to use this skill the most because I am trying to make a career in Network and Cyber Security. The last thing I need is to get in trouble doing BlackHat activities which can ruin that chance.

Soccer - Some may not list real life skills, but I will because it's a passion of mine. I've played soccer since I was in pre-school. When I got to middle school (6th-8th Grade), I began playing all year round and got competitive with the sport. I originally started playing on travel teams, and then quickly got into SELECT teams (State vs. State), as well as PRIMO League teams in my state. After a few years, I tried out for the state ODP Team (Olympic Development Program) which is the best team you can be on in the state. I made it on to this team and continued playing for many years and loved every second of it. Now, I play in 21+ leagues just as recreation because with work and school now, I don't have as much time to compete as I would like.

Creativeness - I may not be the one to code out an amazing program, or the one who designs an amazing layout for a website, or even producing a new method of spreading, but I can be the one to give you some of the best, innovative ideas will ever hear. I have always had the ability to come up with great ideas, but may not have had the resources to implement it. If you need an idea for something, let me know and I will be the one to come up with something for you. My mind goes crazy with ideas all day, everyday. Even going around daily life in the real world, I'm always thinking of ways to improve things.

What section are you most active in and why? I'd say SRPP and Gaming, because those are two things I love to talk about. That's what my Post Activity says and that doesn't lie. I will tell you though that most of my activity comes from being in a group and talking within the sub-forums. I used to be in Serenity and that was my most active place to post and when I left, my posts were moved to Lounge and SRPP. Regardless, I love debating topics with people. I feel it enhances my ability to solve problems and come up with solutions. A far as the gaming section, well, I just love gaming. I play many different games everyday with members here as well as other friends. When it comes to groups I'm in, I tend to put 90% of my posts into the sub-section. The reason I do this is because I trust my group-mates more then anyone else. I know they will listen and willing to learn more. I know they are like me in some ways otherwise we wouldn't be in the same group to begin with. It all works itself out depending on what groups I'm in at what times really, but to me, group sub-forums come over anything.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The Empire was a group I've been wanting to join ever since the creation of it. I've seen nothing but good members both joining the group and leaving the group, alongside leaders that I believe are really bringing the group in the right direction. I've known and talked to plenty of Empire members over time and every single one of them has had nothing but good things to say about the group, about how much I would love being involved with it. I also feel like I could use this group as my home on HackForums. I miss having that group mentality and having people I can talk to if I need some help or if one of my group-mates needs help. It's something I miss to be honest.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I believe I uphold the quality and standards that an Empire member should have. I am a mature individual just trying to find a group of people like me, and the Empire is probably the group that fills that out the best. It's a group friends have been in, a group that I've been interested in since it was created, and a group that I know the leaders treat everyone well. Overall, it just seems like the perfect group for me right now.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Sitting on the peak of the mountain, as the sun sets in front of me, I begin to reflect upon all that has changed within me over the past year. It s hard to believe that twelve months ago, due to my lack of motivation towards a positive lifestyle, college wasn't even in the realm of possibility. Yet, here I sit with an unyielding determination for higher education, fueled by a renewed understanding of my potential. Leaving behind an apathetic mindset, not for my courage to walk away from a toxic environment, enhanced by the love and encouragement from my parents, peers, and mentors, the prospect of going to college might never have developed.

Up until freshman year of high school, the two main things I could rely on were soccer and my academics. Completing and comprehending school work always came easy to me, allowing me to enhance my soccer prowess all year round. By the end of ninth grade, however, boredom and indifference began to sour my academic achievement. Although I was perfectly capable, social interaction replaced my desire to engage in the classroom. It would take a full year for me to completely bottom out, resulting in my relocation to a more positive and therapeutic environment. If not for the love and wisdom of my parents, I would have lost much more then a year of high school.

While at the Academy at Swift River (ASR), a therapeutic boarding school located in Massachusetts, I slowly began to turn things around for the better. After five months of frustrating procrastination and continued disengagement, a moment of clarity helped me to take those first steps towards the betterment of my future. Being that the management of my workload had never been an issue, I quickly honed my academic skills and began to reap the rewards of test scores and praise. Being so far from home, the staff at ASR, provided me with "tough love", encouragement, and a genuine sense of caring for my overall well-being. This newly found self-awareness has guided me to my current path, and as I watch the sun continue to dip below the horizon, new opportunities come into view, which make me hopeful and excited.

This is a reflection of the most quintessential turning point in my life that shaped me to be the way I am right now in this moment.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for taking your time to read my story. Regardless of what happens with my relationship with Empire, I hope you liked the story within my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples)

Coding Skills: I am an experienced .NET coder. My favorite language is C#, but I also know Vb.Net
GFX Skills: I would rate myself 6/10 in Photoshop. I am not a pro designer, but I know the basic stuff.
Marketing Skills: I work in the following areas:
-Pay per download
-Cost per Action
-AdSense
-Affiliate Marketing
-Product selling

I am able to earn around 120$/Day off HackForums(with PPD/CPA/AdSense/Aff...) but product selling is the best. Less work and more earnings. My technique is to purchase a sticky, easy to recover investment :)

Gaming Skills: I was in Silver ELO - League of Legends, on Season 2. Europe West Player

Hacking Skills: I know how to hack WebDav, and a bit of SQLi :)

What section are you most active in and why?

I am more active in the Monetizing section. It's what I really like, making money. I like "The Lounge", ofcourse. I can talk with other members there. But where I feel confortable is in "Money Making" - I can help other members, already created a PPD Tutorial Center, opened an Help Desk :)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I love the fact that everyone in "The Emipre" doesn't create conflicts, nor with other forum members, nor with other group members. I always see a Sticky in "Member Contests", owned by Tibit or Aeon, both Empire Members. What you do is wonderful, you give so much stuff to the community... The Empire is not a focused group, like Illuminatti or Marketers. Those are focused on Marketing(as far as I can see), but you are a group interested in making HF better. I want to be part of that.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I have so much to offer to the group... My posts are always HQ. When I make threads I revise them first. I know there are rude members, but I try to please everyone. I will do several contests and giveaways in "The Empire" name.
I also would like to know all of Empire members, those friendly users seem so distant from me :S

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you

I am a 16 year old teenager that has a "Normal" life... Well, normal since 14/15.
When I was 6 my little sister was born, Carolina, and my parents got divorced because my father cheated my mom(with a ugly woman, I realise that now)
I was always a "fatty" kid, eating chocolates, etc., and my grandparents weren't helping. They fed me hard :S
I was mocked at school because I had "tits" and had a big belly, and when I was at middle school I actually thought of suciding. We had swimming classes at Phys. Ed. and the dumbasses of my class "Ye, shoke that tits for me.." - I went home crying, it was the worst thing of ever. In the summer I was with shame of taking off my shirt, I just hope this doesn't happen to many teens...

But last year, I grew up hard, went on Men's Health forum... I willed to have one of those ripped bodies. Now I am really tall, skinny. I feel nice with my body, but many people say I am too skiny. I will start going to the gym next week, to get muscles. I have friends, real friends, now. I feel I can trust people, my body isn't a "monster" anymore.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading all of this. It was hard to write since I am not an English native speaker :S

Hello, today I'd like to apply to The Empire.

Innovative Application
I wrote up my own innovative program that is my application to further show my programming and thinking-outside-the-box skills.

Mediafire Download: http://www.mediafire.com/download.php?1970n3mtg0cl91p

This was programmed in C# by me, Fear. Feel free to check it out, even if you aren't in The Empire.

If you think it's a RAT or such, just run it sandboxed.

Final Comments

If you would like to take a look at the source so I can show that I programmed it, feel free to PM me (Empire members only).

In the program there's a link to my raw application - a pastebin link. That's just in case you don't want to see the extra-awesome program working.

I hope this does not get skimmed over without anyone seeing the download link.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I'm overly active on Hackforums, When I'm in school I login on my phone to see whats going on, take care of deals and business at the same time. I come online everyday, keeping up with my grades of course.

I love to play video games. (Peferably Xbox) I love to trickshot, (you CoD players know what I'm talking about (;) But back on topic, I have in played a couple of competive gaming tournaments. But gaming Is about just having fun, I just kick back relax and play with my friends.

I love to make people smile :), Expecially girls. Had a hard day? Tough break up? or you just need somthing to smile about just ask me :D

My organization, All of my documents and projects are organized and I like to be on time with things, so nothing goes wrong.

Friendly; I'm a very friendly memeber , When I'm provoked It changes. But I still try to extinguish the situation by puting in a couple jokes and such.

Giveaways :D if you have payed attention to my recent activity I've been hosting alot of giveaways lately, I like giving back to the community in general, Just makes you feel good when its over.

What section are you most active in and why?
Ever since I re-joined Hackforums I would have to say my most active active section would be either "Marketplace" ; or the "Gaming" section, Why?

Marketplace~ I enjoy browsing the section and looking at what people have for sale (Basically three forums in that section; Secondary sellers, Gamertags, And Member auctions) For the most part I love selling, trading , purchasing , and exchanging Gamertags and as well building relationships with each merchant as I go. When I first rejoined Hackforums My first thread was in the secondary sellers thread, Trying to sell a instagram account.

Gaming~ I love my video games :) not saying I'm that gamer that does nothing but pitch my tent and camp day and night on video games, But I get my daily fill , I love to play Call of Duty, Halo, Skyrim, NBA k2, NFL The usual for a teenage gamer like me. I got hooked on CoD when I was in 4th grade, For me Halo dates back for a while; Halo 2, November 9, 2004 One of the best days in my life ? (Not saying I have only a few best days, I have many). But the gaming section is full of people who either want to play, feel the need to ruin the game with glitches (Like me ? NOTE: Not all the time that is) or they are really helpful and they know what they are talking about and they are on point about it. Gaming forum 9/10
Currently working in the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics forum,
I honestly like it, Debating your thoughts against others and viewing others opinion and replying what you think about that subject.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join Empire because this group seems like the group for me. Organized, high quality, example setting, hard working group. The work put out by this group is amazing 98 % of the time, (Lets face it, not all groups are perfect. But this is the one for me) From what I've seen none of the members of this group are disrespectful or do they argue with each other. They all treat each other with respect and enjoy each others company. The members of this group are always setting examples and I would love to be a part of that, Setting a good example so the other members will follow. I also would like to be a part of this group because I see they contribute to the community alot, I would love to contribute to the community in the name of Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
In my eyes I fell I should be accepted because I have alot to offer. I'm friendly, I love to host giveaways, help other members. I'm on the internet around 5-8 hours a day, While also doing my homework. I'm always up to learn new things, talk to new people , learn a new skill or earn some money. Also I could also share what I know with the group while learning brand new things at the same time. I will be dedicated and loyal to the group and be willing to help out, patch ends, solve new problems when ever I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Who am I? Well leme spell that out for you. I'm a 16 year old who is just enjoying the ride, that we call life. I'm confident, athletic, smart, and humble individual. I enjoy gaming, rapping, relaxing and Graphic design. I'm currently a sophomore in High school working hard in school planning to go to collage. I plan to go to UCLA, but I have to keep my grades up to Par. I have built up numerous relationships with people growing up, Moving from place to place. I've lived in : Europe (2 years) Japan, (9 Years) and Hawaii (5 years about to move back to Japan this year.) I have a pretty high confidence level and I'm willing to share that with anyone or use it any time, mind over matter :) .A couple of memorable moments in my life are; When I received my awards for helping out in various activities; 1. Special Olympics award, 2. Feeding the homeless on Christmas eve, 3 Volunteering with the privileged children. 4, Beach clean up. 5. Best Essay in the 10th grade. (About the Oil spill that happened here in Hawaii.) and 6. 3rd place in the state wide gaming champion ship for CoD black ops 2. (I know its not that amazing. But it was fun and I loved participating in it.)

Anything else you want to say:
Not really ;) but thank you Empire for allowing me to make an application for this amazing group. Thanks <3

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Pretty experienced in a few forms of hacking and VB.net so I know the behind the scenes, and I am a pretty confident net worker.

What section are you most active in and why? Beginner Hacking Section, I love helping members no matter what I can't get into other sections since they aren't about helping people as much, it also doesn't help the site name is Hack Forums I find it to be right to help in there.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well, judging by all the members I see all the guides by The Empire all the members strike me as HQ, and I like to consider myself HQ.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well I can think all day about why I feel I should be accepted, but no matter what I put here in the end it is all up to you guys as a whole, I know this may seem like I am putting my application down but I am using a fail form of reverse psychology so you can see how I think and get to know me as a member faster.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Year was 2010, I was in bed at 4 AM, BOOM! Earthquake, scared the shit out of me and something inside me changed, like I turned insomniac I am afraid to sleep because it might happen again, and I was right in February 2011 Another one hit Christchurch and I had to leave home for 3 weeks no power no water, I didn't sleep for 4 whole days shaking when ever an after shock hit, now they don't scare me but I still don't sleep knowing that I could have died in February as 2 people from my school did.

Anything else you want to say: I guess it is up to you guys, you may deem me worthy of getting into the group, I know I will be active and HQ actively show the group and its awesomeness, but I am not the one to decide if I get in or not. I guess we will see what happens and maybe this reply will get me in maybe it won't, we will see if fate is going to let me in or if fate gave me lemons and expects me to make apple sauce, or in other words not get in.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Coding: I can code very fluently in HTML. I am currently learning python and then plan to learn C++
Web Development: As I stated, I am very fluent in HTML and enjoy making websites for people.
Graphics Design: I used to design YouTube backgrounds for people in 2011. I stopped last year and plan to continue doing more GFX. Even though I may not be the best anymore, I still consider it a skill.
Helping: Not sure if this is classed as a skill, but I try to help people with any problems they may face.

What section are you most active in and why?
The Lounge. I'm most active there because I enjoy reading about peoples problems, stories, anything. I'm also pretty active in the innuendo section.

[b]Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join The Empire because of how helpful, and contributing everyone is. I would like to contribute more to this forum under The Empire and help hackforums grow as a happy community.

[b]Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think I could really help the group with a lot of things. I have skills I can offer. For example: designing a new userbar, helping members code websites, all those things. I also think I could give The Empire a better name than they already have. Doing giveaways under The Empire, tutorials under The Empire, etc.

[b]In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I'm a 15 year old student. When I was born, my dad was never there. He would pop up every now and then, but that was it. Then he started showing up all together. I was born in Texas, but moved to the UK when I was 4. My mother thought it was for the best. Ever since my mother told me about my dad, I've tried to be everything he wasn't. If I ever have children, I would be the exact opposite.

I've had a rough time with school, I've missed a lot of school due to me not being able to sleep. That's brought more problems, which I'm still facing today. I was abused by my mother's ex boyfriend years ago, but I don't really want to get into that. Now onto me. I'm 15, I love gaming, hanging out with friends, listening to music, hanging out with my dog, a lot of things I enjoy. I like to build websites, skateboard, and design. That's pretty much it about me.

Anything else you want to say:
Thank you for reading and giving me the chance to join this group. I'm hoping for the best.

I am also a pretty nice person who is always open to chat; I enjoy friendly debating as well.

What section are you most active in and why? Technically, The Lounge is my most active section (post count wise). If I post on a thread, I seem to follow up on my posts and reply to other users, where as in the Hacking Sections I tend to make longer, more elaborate posts.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire because I would like to be apart of a helpful and high quality group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I could offer my very skill-sets as well as my personality, representing the group in a positive way widespread of Hack Forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Let's see here. Of course, my name is Jonathon, and I am a member of Hack Forums. I enjoy playing video games, browsing forums, and tinkering with technology; I also enjoy reading novels by Stephen King in my spare time. Some of my favorite video games are as follows:
Fallout 3

TES: Oblivion

Borderlands/ Borderlands 2

Forza Motorsport 4

Halo 1, 2, 3, &4

Alan Wake

Besides some of my hobbies, I usually listen to music throughout my days of life. Bands such as A$AP and Nirvana are among my favorites.

Oh yes, and I built my first computer by the age of 12. I am currently using it right now, it's very nice.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Website development

I have basic skills when it comes to web development. I have enough knowledge to make a website with multiple pages that contain information. I have been doing this for quite some time but always preferred / focused on creating layouts for Game websites , Radios and other types of websites. I enjoy doing this because i used to work on websites together with my brother when i was younger, He's also the one that introduced me to it. I'm still planning on improving my Web development skills in the future as it is always useful to posses such a skill.

Social Engineering

I have always enjoyed doing this as it was always surprising, Sometimes you succeed and receive the item you wanted but on the other hand it can be a pain in the ass with certain companies, i have social engineered multiple items such as: HD webcam , Philips headset , Gaming mouse , and some cheap keyboards as well. I found it always funny when it arrived and my mom would say "How did you get this?" ?
It's a real fun "hobby" if you have time for it and very useful as well.

Marketing

I have always enjoyed selling products & items online and mainly here on hackforums, It's good money and very educational as well, you learn to handle with money and also provide support to your customers. i have learned allot in the past months that i have been selling products and hope to continue doing this for a long time.

E-whoring

Yet another useful method to gain money online, it takes time and patience and a good stomach :p. I have earned a decent amount of money with this and started using my own methods because the main methods used are known by too much people which makes it difficult to succeed, using your own gathered pictures from the net is always the best IMO.

Graphics design

This is in my opinion a very useful skill as well, but not easy, i have always been making basic graphic designs and just recently started learning more about GFX with photoshop, i hope to improve my skills with graphic design as it is a good money source and fun to do.

What section are you most active in and why?

I'm active in multiple sections, Market , beginner hacking , lounge , and music section from time to time, i mainly enjoy being in the market section because i just love marketing it's very educational and good for earning money.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have multiple reasons why i would love to join The Empire, first of all the group has a great reputation and is high quality with allot of skilled members that don't mind helping out where needed, i also hope to improve my knowledge by joining this group and to meet people and make new friends and share my knowledge with fellow members.

[img]http://static.afbeeldinguploaden.nl/1302/29490/5gx14.png[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
It is mainly up to you guys to decide whether you think i have the right skill sets & knowledge to be accepted with in The Empire, But i think i have enough skills and knowledge to contribute in the name of The empire and share my knowledge and maintain the reputation of this HQ group, therefor i hope i get accepted and that i can proof that i'm worth being in The empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

As i said i am 16 years old, live in Belgium, I'm finishing school in about 3 years before i can go to the university to learn more about Computers and coding languages. I have been in allot of different schools simply because i couldn't find what i wanted to learn, that's when i decided after a couple of schools that i wanted to do something with computers so now i'm currently following classes where i learn how to handle customers , sell items and how to manage owning a store or company. I'm also learning languages french , Deutsch , arabic and hopefully english next year.
Something memorable that happened was last year where i had to face the hardest decision in my life along with my parents, my grandma was suffering from stomach cancer and she lives in an arabic country and we had the decision to bring her to belgium to get chemo and medical care and risk her dying on the way here or in the hospital without my other family with her, or leave her in tunesie to let her die in peace with my other family members, since the cancer already had spread we decided to let her die in peace in tunesie, i was devastated because i also didn't see her that year, this made me realize you have to enjoy EVERY moment with your family good times & the bad times.

What section are you most active in and why?
Hacking Tutorials/ Hacking tools and programs, I make alot of programs/ do Tutorials on Things such as vb programs

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
This group is known around hackforums, and seems like a very nice group I would love to be apart of you guys.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Honestly this is the hardest question for me, Basicly what i can give/be useful for, VERY active, helping, and nice person, If anyone needs help i'l be there for you, also very trustworthy :)
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:A couple years ago, I was jdb'd, And i started learning about the stuff that rat's could do, at the moment i was unsure on what exactly a rat was, and i wanted to learn more about it,Then i heard about HF i joined and i have been here ever sense, Hacking has taken a huge toll in my life as my mom and dad got divorced when i was small, without hacking i probably woulden't be here today, also a recent HF member named Kakashi. has been teaching me a little about VB coding.

Anything else you want to say:
Not really, But good luck to everyone else that apply's i'm not really into the fancy application stuff, Thanks for taking the time to read my boring application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Mybb Theme Development - Recently I have been working on designing Mybb themes, you can view my latest here.

IT: Computer Networking - I'm currently going to tech school to obtain my associates degree in Computer Networking.

What section are you most active in and why?

I enjoy every section of Hack Forums, but I would have to say the Webmaster section. I enjoy viewing everybody's work and like to get feedback on my own.
Seeing what improvements I can make on my work and also helping others by giving them my feedback on their own projects.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The Empire is a high quality group, and I would feel honored and a sense of inner pride to be apart of this group.
My time on the forums, I've seen The Empire do quite a bit of great things, and I just want to be apart of the greatness!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, I have been around for a while now, and plan on sticking around for a long time. I'm quite active on the forums, usually I'm on here every day.
I would love to consider myself a great addition to The Empire, but that's not up to me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well I was born in 1993, small town in Wisconsin. I grew up introduced to the Play Station 1, and fell in love with gaming. I soon got more and more into PC gaming the older I got. Consoles were bought and sold. Now all the gaming I do is on a PC. I am fascinated by computers and how they work. I enjoy working with them and doing things on them.

September 5th, 2012 I was on a bus in Georgia heading to Fort Benning. Where I attended Infantry OSUT training for 12 grueling weeks. On September 12th, 2012 I stepped across the graduation field as a new Infantry soldier. And later that day took a plane back to lovely Wisconsin.

Now, I am currently attending Technical School working on getting my degree in IT: Computer Networking. Try to manage my money until I can find a job, and trying to make some online.

Anything else you want to say:

I'm looking forward to seeing the response of my application and probably will be looking back here quite often.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Helping fellow members is my most important skill.
I have seen that some people aren't able to pay for the l33t upgrade. It may be due to the fact that they have LR and no PP. Therefore I set up my own exchange service to help these people out =)
Furthermore, there was an exploit for the recent CoD games. I saw threads in the MarketPlace which wanted to make money out of it. As always I helped people unable to purchase this for free. This proved to be a very good motivation for me to stay on HF. You can see the threads by clicking here and here.

What section are you most active in and why? I am mostly active in the Playstation Section because I love gaming. Recently I am shifting to the Members auction area as I have fun auctioning stuff and see people amused when they get their desired items for 10x cheaper prices. xP

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have seen that The Empire stands out to be one of the best groups on HF. I can spot the members in every thread that I visit. Therefore even I want to be a part of this wonderful group and contribute to this community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As said earlier if I be a part of The Empire I am surely going to help the fellow members out in any field required.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
The best incidence that ever happened in my life was when I had gone for a trip to Malaysia. It was worth the visit. In India, there is not much sight-seeing however in Malaysia I was able to explore our Mother Nature and its wonderful creations.
Furthermore, I was able to see some top-notch cars that can rarely be found in my country. Also I shouldn't forget that the spooky moments I had enjoyed in Malaysia in Ripley's Believe it or Not as well as roadside vendors selling roasted Coakroaches and Frogs. That was the most spO.oky part Anything else you want to say: Thankyou to all of The Empire members. Even if I don't get selected, I know that this group will contribute to the HF community in a positive way.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Coding: au3, lua, c# and some VB (from creating bots to own crypter etc etc...)
Webdesign: html, javascript, php
Graphic Design: Just the average photoshop knowledge, currently learning more though.
Social Engineering: Since the se section got closed I am not sure if I should talk about these here but let's just say I have some experience in it, I am also really interested in psychology and recently I've read a lot of books about it, I've visited some seminars and even visit a psychiatrist once in a while just to learn more from him, might getting a degree aswell.

Hacking: I am expierenced with SQLi Injections, password cracking (In different ways), botnets, finding vulnerabilities and using exploits and a lot of other stuff I can't even think of right now.
Gamedesign: I am kind of expierenced in game design, currently I am using Unity 3D trying to develope my own game from the scratch, means I am coding, modeling and all these kind of stuff.
Monetizing: I tried a lot of stuff and used all kinds of techniques to make money, from ewhoring to PPD/PPC, advertising, selling e stuff etc etc...

Another "skill" (if you would call it like that) is definitely that I like to help people in different ways with all kind of problems.
Basicly I've tried everything so far and I am experienced, in some things more than in other and I still enjoy learning more and helping people after all these years.

What section are you most active in and why?
Currently the lounge and Innuendo section are the sections I am most active in basicly because I've just became active again after a little hf break and already know most of the stuff discussed in the other sections but I am browsing and searching around all sections.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I think it's a great way to meet new people interested in the same stuff as I, to help people, share and maybe even gain knowledge and it just seems like a nice group in general, actually the currently most interested one, atleast for me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I seriously don't know, I mean I could say stuff like I have experience or anything like that but at the end it's pretty much up to you deciding if I match into this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, where should I begin...
I am 19 years old and currently taking a free year basicly just working on projects, enjoying life and gaining more knowledge about different stuff.
I was getting my first pc at the age of 7 and had to learn everything by myself, no one showed me anything. At the age of 12 I really became interested in coding, a few years later at hacking and I still don't have enough.
I enjoy life, meet with friends and all these kind of stuff everybody else does.
Most of my friends actually say that I am a chill, helpful and overall nice person. If they have a problem they come to me first because I am always giving out great advices and immediately understand the situation they are in or need help with (according to them).
I think this might be due to the reason I am really interested in the human psych and have a good life experience.
I did go through some shit in my earlier years, I don't want to talk about it here though but if you do want to know what I am talking about don't hesitate to send me a private message and we'll talk private.
I don't regret it though and would change nothing because this only made me stronger and actually the person I am today.
I've a strong mind, I always try to reach my goals and don't give up till I reach them, I am confident and I do know my business.

My future plans are actually either getting a degree in psychology (which will probably happen) or getting indepent, or maybe both, we'll see.

Anything else you want to say:

I think I've said everything neccesary and even more but like I said earlier if you still have any questions about my skills or me as a person feel free to send me a private message.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
These are my most skillful areas.Gaming
Very experienced, have been gaming since 1999.

Graphics
Pretty experienced, I've been working with graphics for around 3 years and I've taken Digital Art and Photography classes.

HTML
I've been working with it for a year. I've taken two classes over HTML/CSS.

Web Development
I've worked with many forum sites in the past and have owned multiple sites.

What section are you most active in and why? Gaming, mostly Halo. I've always been an avid Halo player since Halo 2. After that would probably be Gamertags.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: It seems that it would fit me very well, I could see me being a very nice addition and a lot of help to the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I believe that The Empire is very High Quality and I would love to help as much as possible if accepted. I feel that this group would just overall fit me. It seems to be one of the best groups on HF currently and I think I would be an amazing addition to the group. I could bring Graphics, Gaming, Gaming news, and anything else that I'm really knowledgeable in.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: One word, Skateboarding. Since I started skating it's changed my life so much from what it used to be. I've been skating for around 6 years now and I've gotten pretty good. I've been sponsored once by a local shop and I've won some local contests. I've also learned a lot about focus, concentration, and determination from skateboarding. Overall it's helped my life for the better and it's a very memorable thing.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I'm not a very skilled person, I would consider myself "skilled" when it comes to DDOSING and DOXING. However, when it comes to other languages I can code a bit of Java and Batch. I love to make a lot of creations when using the Batch language. I use to code a Runescape private server and it had about 132-150 players on daily, so that shows I know a bit about java.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm mostly Active in the lounge section for the fact I'm not really into hacking as much, but I love to help people out with the knowledge I have on things. I wouldn't consider myself black hat or white hat I would definitely say grey hat.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I feel that I can help people out and I've never been in a group, this is a group I would be honored to be in. I feel this is one of the best groups to apply for and I'm willing to do anything to be in it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I've got a lot of potential and time, I've got about 15 hours a day to myself so I can be very active and help many people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

1996:
I popped out my my mothers vagina, I was a cute baby I was once told by many people. I had curly hair until my mother got asked if I was a girl, then it all got cut off.

1997-1999:
This is a part of my life that I don't remember anything about nor do I care about anything that happened to me then because I was so young I can't even remember. I'm sure many can agree that they can't remember anything from these first few years, and if you can you need to wake up because you're in a dream.

2000:
In the year 2000, I was four years old which meant I was in pre-school, I do remember many memories and details. I remember waking up and getting on a short bus going to preschool every day. It was very fun and I had many friends, my mother told me a story from which when I was in preschool that there was this little boy that was alone. He didn't have clean clothes and he wasn't bathed so nobody would play with him, so I as a child didn't realize why people weren't playing with him but I found him to be a bit interesting. I decided one day to go and talk to him, we said hi then we went and played in the sand box, once I started playing with this boy everyone saw that I was playing with him so then they all started playing with him. I feel so good about myself hearing this from my parents.

In the years of 2001 to 2004, I was between the age of 5-8 in this period of time, I remember on my 6th birthday I got a four-wheeler which none of my friends had so I felt special. I remember running into a fence and breaking my collar bone for the first time, I then got my collar bone all healed up until the next time I broke it which was when I was 8 years old. I remember I was playing on a swing set and It was one of those that had a huge slide, I thought I would be a bad ass by jumping down rather than sitting on a slide. I jumped and it was a good ten feet which led to me hitting the ground with a great amount of impact and I landed on my collar bone which led to it being broken again for the second time.

These brilliant milestones of my life were great because of the fact that I started getting into the gaming era, I started to play a game called Runescape. Since 2005 I've played a game called Runescape a very famous game that has been there for me, If I argued with my family or friends I'd go play runescape and I'd feel better. The game that has kept me away from drugs and alcohol, the game that has made my days go by so fast but I could wake up and know I had something I could go and do and not be bored. The game that has so much to do but I had so little time every day.

Every day, I would wake up and race to the computer and check on my account, I would talk with friends and ask them how they were doing, I'd go to a castle wars game before I went to school, I'd go to a F2P world and fight with rune arrows and a rune 2h, I'd go to clan wars and fight with friends! I'd have so much fun during the day that I couldn't get enough of it although I played for 6-10 hours a day.

In these years, I've probably had the roughest time yet, my mom has got married to some psychopath that if you look at him wrong and/or say something wrong he will physically abuse you. He will call you names and make your life a LIVING HELL. I find this to be the most difficult part of my life, which is why I'm on Hack Forums so much is because I try to stay away from the prick. He's nothing but a lying son of a bitch. Anyways, you don't wanna hear about him.

There is another big impact on my life in these years, I moved from Kansas to South Dakota which is where my uncle lived. I go up there every summer to visit him and all my friends, we rent out a cabin (my friends and I) and we do whatever we want when we want. I've also got a nice job up there which is a family business of mechanics. I'm not a very good mechanic but I can get the job done right, and considering I am the manager I got paid $43 an hour.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I say that i'm skilled in removing malware, because I help as many people and most say it worked.
Another skill I have is gaming. I've been playing games since I was 7 years old and I still do today.
The last skill I would like to note is helping people. When I see people ask for help no matter who they are I strive my best to help them out. I feel that if nobody helped anyone out, hardly anyone would have knowledge of anything.

What section are you most active in and why?
Well I was most active in The Lounge, but now I see myself active in the white hat help and News, Announcements, Rules and Feedback sections. Mostly because there I can help people out and answer any questions they might have about anything.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the Empire because I love HF. I love HF and all of it's members. Everybody here is great and very respectful to one another (most of the time). If you are in a group on HF, it shows that you love the site even more than before. It also shows that others respect you more, because they thought that you were such a great person that they wanted you to be a part of something. As far as I have seen The Empire is one of the friendly and helpful groups on HF who strive to make HF a better place for everybody. I would love to be part of something like that, and that is why I want to join The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because of what I do. The more members that help each other make the forum better. Every day when I come on here, I love to hang out and help the community. It's such a large one, and the biggest MyBB forum on the web. There are so many things to talk about and so much to do, and I love to take advantage of every second of me being here.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, the most memorable thing that happened in my life is when I moved. Even though I was only 6 at the time, I had to move away from all of my friends and where I was born. It felt strange going to a new city, but after a few years I got used to it. I met a lot of people and if I wouldn't of moved, I would of never been here.

Probably one of the biggest impacts in my life is when I discovered the internet. Before I had moved, sure I had internet but it was dial-up and I hardly used it. When I finally got enough speed to really find out the power of the internet I was amazed. You could find the answer to anything and there was endless possibilities.

The last one I have to mention is when I met people on the internet. When I got a PS3 in 2009, I had started making friends. We would play games together and it was great. When I got my own computer, I met a lot of new people. I had gotten Minecraft and started making friends with the other people that played it. It ended up bringing me here on HF.

Anything else you want to say:
I want to say that even if I don't get added to The Empire I would still continue doing what I do, which is hanging out with everybody on HF and helping everybody.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
My skills vary from customer service in which I have a lot of experience, to graphic design and other things I have dedicated myself to learning, such as novel, music and poetry writing. I have a very eager mind to learn which I think is a skill in itself. I see things from other peoples perspectives and always try my best to find solutions in the most efficient manner. One more skill is the fact that I will not give up and always find a solution to anything. I keep my promises.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am most active in the Gaming Section, mainly Battle.net - World of Warcraft. Purely because this is the game I have grown up playing and I have learned so much from this one simple thing - including how to interact with people and understand people. I am also very active in the Market Place and will soon be opening exchange services. I have already opened a few services prior to this however.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire as I want to be part of a growing community. The Empire looks to me as if it's a group of people with many different backgrounds coming together and helping each other out - the way things should be. The Empire user bar in itself to me will represent one thing and that is "a helping hand". It will not indicate power over everyone else, but hopefully when they see that userbar in my name, they will look at it and seek advice from me (a person that is very willing to give it whenever needed)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel like I should be accepted into The Empire because I have so much to offer. I would give 110% and more into helping the community of Hackforums. If I were to be accepted, I hope people would begin to use me as source for help as that is what I am best at. The Empire should accept me, because I will act the same toward people on Hackforums, as I do to people in real life.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is Samuel Mortimer. I've had a bit of a weird life some people would say. Originally born in Ireland, I moved to England at the young age of 4. I stayed there and grew there until I was the age of 13, to which I then moved to Dubai with my family.

I joined school in Dubai to complete my GCSE's, however after this I didn't feel like 6th Form was an option for me and I decided I would like to work my way to the top and provide services for people. On May 22nd 2012 I moved back to the UK at the age of 17 by myself, without the support of my family.

Since living back here, I have become engaged, moved into my own house and got a brilliant job all off my own accord. I find this to be an achievement that I could have only dreamed of before.

Anything else you want to say:
No much, apart from thank you for reading my application. I have been inactive from Hackforums for a bit of time since when I moved back to England I didn't even have a laptop - but now I am active again I can assure my services will go out to the whole community, even if you decide not to accept me into the Empire.

My best wishes.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I truly understand code and I'm not just C&Ping. I code VB, C#, Java ad Batch ad like to learn other languages

What section are you most active in and why? I'm most active in the VB and C# section, because I like to code VB and C#.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I'd like to talk and discuss with other members and I'd like to evolve and learn my coding.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm not a great coder but I'm still learning and evolving a lot. I think in some months I'll be a good coder with nice skills.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm born in Berlin in Germany and I still live here. I started coding 4 years ago (Batch) and found other languages 3 1/2 years ago (Java). I met VB 2 years ago ad C# is my new love. I was first just iterested how my computer and programs work and started to code little things myself. Now I'm better than my ITG-Teachers (In Batch, VB and C#) and I'm still looking forward to learn HTML, PHP and other languages. I learned a lot by doing and just looked o others code, when I really needed it. Yup, that's my "coding- and computer-life".

Anything else you want to say: I just say thank you for reading my application. Eve if I don't get accepted I'll never stop coding and evolving. Thank you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
My skills consist of being very good at talking to people I have always found unless someone is deliberately trying to annoy me I am a very nice person to get along with I can get along with just about anyone.
I can do some basic web development working with html although this year I'm doing a course in working with html at college.

What section are you most active in and why?
I am generally most active in these sections.
The lounge because apart from the spam posts there are some cool people in this section.
Runescape (because I am a veteran at the game and even though I have quit I do enjoy keeping up with the news.
I am also semi active in the market place as a lot of people have some good stuff to sell there and I enjoy using the market place to sell my wares etc.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I wish to join The Empire because I have friends who are in the group or used to be in the group and who have said you are one of the best groups on the forum.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel I should be accepted into the forum because I have been a part of this community for quite a while now and I feel I have earned my place in the group.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am Daniel Stickland who comes from Hampshire in England I am currently studying for my GCSE's at school.
I am not able to log on during the week (mon-friday) because of I am forced to study hard for my examinations. Although I will try and be as active as possible at the weekends.
I live at home with my mum and dad we have 2 dogs one called Sooty the other one Marley.

I am sorry for just covering very basic information on my life but after all this is the internet.
Anything else you want to say:I'd like to wish every person who is entering to join this group the very best of luck.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Well, I am very good with sticking up for others, not on HF (so far). But in real life. My school is quite rough and I stand up for the belittled people in my School. For example, One of the first days of this School Year, After scool, I noticed this normal looking kid (his name is Thomas) was being made fun of his overall Style. I felt bad because he was trying to hold back the tears as the other kids whoms names I still don't know pushed, harassed, and jeered Thomas until finally, after watching what what was going on for a few minutes got me furious. I went over to the three kids, (this is vulgar) kicked one in his genitals. He fell to the ground rolling on the cement. The other to kids started approaching me in a slow, angry manner. From there, me and Thomas were both able to evade and the other three kids must've been expelled and caught because I never saw or heard from them again.

What section are you most active in and why? Mostly Gaming, The Lounge, And Hackintosh / Apple Section. I go to The Gaming Section because I am a Gamer and I help other people decide what game to get, I settle Arguments, And review other products to people who are thinking of buying them. I go to The Lounge because I also settle arguments, but I also stop cruel people who pass judgements about others, and I try my best to stop Trolls. I go to the Hackintosh / Apple Sections because I try to help people fix, build, I recommend new Apple products to people who want to buy it, And I help them Jailbreak their Devices.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because it's my first group, And I feel as though I'm very much prepared to join a Group. I agree with the opinions of The Empire. I like to help others to the best of my Ability. And I try my best to be nice, friendly, and open to all users. I'm also very dedicated to Hack Forums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because of my professionality, my friendliness, my originality, humor, my helpfulness, and dedication to other people. I feel I'm deserving of joining Empire. I'm ready to join The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: At a young age (around 5 or 6) My Aunt Died. Even though I was very young at the time, it still pulled a part out of me because she always used to make me really good cookies and used to clean up my cuts when I was hurt etc. It may not seem like alot, but she was a large part of my very young life. A few years later, when I was 12, My Grandmother died. When she was still alive, she used to send me cards for My Birthday, Easter, Christmas, And just at random times just to say hi. I always enjoyed spending time with my Grandmother. When she died, I fell into medium Depression. That was another part of my memorable life sucked out of me. And last year when I was 13, My Grandfather died. That was terrible for me because my Grandfather and I used to play catch, go to Baseball Games, And just talk about things we had in common. When he died, I fell deeper into depression. After a year or so I though "Why am I like this?" So long Story Short, I decided to pick up myself again. Picking myself up caused me to make Depressed people more happy, My change caused me to become more "Alive", Vibrant, Funny, Happy, And Selfless.

Anything else you want to say: I explained most of my life in the other parts of the application. I only have two more things to say. I have a Skype (PM me if you would like it). And even though I don't have a picture, or a signature, not many posts, and I'm not 1337 doesn't mean I'm poor, lazy, or a noob, it just means I'm sort of newer, it doesn't mean anything other then I'm still mature and I think that I do deserve the Title. Thanks very much for reading, and have a nice day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I'm a good thinker. I'm a really good Gamer , most of the day I am playing games or outside doing things with my life. I don't really pretend to be a "Hacker" or anything of that sort but I do know a little about it.

What section are you most active in and why?
I really don't have one I post in the most I just browse through threads , find one that's interesting and post away.
In the future I plan on being active in the "Gaming" section

Why do you want to join The Empire?:It seems like a cool group and I'm just coming back to HF after taking a break.I also think this would be a nice group to join and me new people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because I feel like when I was active here on Hack Forums I was a high quality member. It doesn't take much to be high quality and you really can't lose the quality of your post. I feel like I'd be a great asset to The Empire.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well I'm 5'1 and I'm a freshman in High School. My social life is great and I have a lot of friends in real life and all over things like Xbox and whatnot. I express myself with the way I dress , I'd say Dressing for success. I take graphic design and a digital input classes , even though I don't really like graphic design. I'm somewhat athletic even though I'm not on my school sports team I still play sports for fun. Football is one sport that I have done and quit I am conditioning for next season now but I doubt I'll make the team. I like to play Video Games a lot in my spare time. I play on Xbox and Yes I am in KSI Call me what ever you want. I do play minecraft but not alot because I get bored of it. Sometimes I can be really shy and sometimes I can be really outgoing.
Anything else you want to say: Hope you liked it. That's really it about me.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am currently learning HTML, and Python also a little of php. I learned how to rat (BlackShades) DDos (XR Host botter) IRC botnets and Umbra loader are the main tools I am experimenting with at the moment I also crack accounts like steam, netflix, spotify, norton, League of Legends, ect. I got really into XSS for a while so I could get my name on the Microsoft Hall of Fame.

What section are you most active in and why? Lately I would say begging hackers and Marketplace I am active in the Begging hackers to help out new members because a lot of members jut bash on them and forget they were in there shoes once and the market place so I can keep up to date on whats going on!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I always see Empire members on the forum and there all high quality and nice and I want to interact with more mature members and I never been in any groups and I wanna try to get in the best first.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted into The Empire because I love to help fellow members and being in The Empire would be a great honor to be in the group I look up to so much.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: When I was 13 my friend Joe and I went to the dump and found a computer and brought it home and we ran a diagnoses on it and found out it needed a new power supply but it would cost $200 because it was a compact pc so it needed a long power supply so we took it apart and put it in the new case and it worked with the new power supply. Ever since that me and my friends have been interested in PCs especially me i love to build them fix and this is what made me love PCs I want to be a computer engineer when I get older my dream job is to work for google.

Anything else you want to say: It would be a great honor to be in The Empire because there a very respected group and I would like to be apart of a great community such at The Empire

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have various skills with outdoors and computing, All though im not going to name all my skills my top ones would preferably be the following.
Outdoor: Basketball. Im travelling from Australia to USA Late this year with a team to go up against division 2 College & High school teams, I will update my thread about it shortly in time.
Online: Web Design. From the little details of <title> hi </title> to a whole script im always making websites with various projects like NbaCast, VirtualPawn, TheJokersBooter, Leakedforums which i have developed all of them and designed.

What section are you most active in and why? Mainly The Lounge I like to hear peoples stories and whats going on with users life on the net and outside, Interesting topics everyday!
Sports Section My favourite thing about the sports section is seeing who people support on HF and what types of sports they like and i can compare too.
Marketplace Usually i occur in this section just to sell some domain names, eBooks etc so i can make a little bit of money to help my projects out and its always succesful and i like to see if anyone sells valuable or more expensive items for cheaper.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The owners are great and have constructed an amazing group base that's been so successful and contributing to the forum, Use also have a fantastic stresser which is my favorite!. I want to join the empire because i want to be apart of the community not just HF but contribute myself to a group and im quite sure The Empire can be a fit for me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Ive never really been into an official group before apart from when "Coders" was around, All though i adore the group i really feel like i should be in for positive reasons and im a good user and never have troubles with members, which wouldn't represent the group in a negative way.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well there's all sorts of stories in my life and im sure there would be in everyone's to because that's part of life and we cant share all of our memories considering that none of us remember since the day we were born.
My Life Story
My life has been pretty damn good to be honest with you, Never been bullied or had a hard life with social or family wise. I currently was born in a town south of Sydney, NSW which was called Wollongong i lived there until i passed primary school which my dad got a good offer from a high mining company and he has a great job earning a good wage in Perth, Western Australia and that's where i am now and have stayed throughout my whole High School year and hopefully to stay here for a longer time. I contribute to school and my work, Sports is my favorite thing to do so it doesn't make me lazy or turn out to be an unattracted person in the future.

Something memorable in my life would be when i went to the United States in 2012 and got to meet the Miami Heat NBA Championship team and go to there training session, I got to meet superstars like Lebron James & Dwayne Wade. It's something i will never forget and considering im a boston fan it was an amazing experience just to meet people famous.
Thats all i have to say about myself for now!

Anything else you want to say:
I wish everyone else the best of luck and hopefully the most successful get rewarded into The Empire

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I will be very loyal, active and contributing, i feel i should be accepted because i fit the description of the group, how its about helping other members and giving tips/guides, thats what i'm all about, i will be on a LOT, i will post a lot and be very helpful, kind, friendly, supportive and high quality, within the sub-forums as well as outside of it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:
My name is Alex, i'm 16 and i love to play Hockey and Basketball, i have a PS3 and XBOX but i mostly play PS3. I enjoy many video games such as mortal kombat, dbz, assassins creed and more. I love to go on hacking related forums such as HF and help others out, i view new posts and see so many questions and i always try to help and answer them to the best of my ability. A memorable moment in my life was when all of my family went up to ohio and we were just chilling on the roof of a building, it was dangerous though as it had no railings or support so you could have fallen off, i was only 6 at the time and i was playing around on a scooter until my brakes stopped working and i started riding straight off the roof of the building, luckily i landed in my trampoline and then into the pool, it was so crazy! But still, my arm hit the side of the trampoline's cage and got injured, it was still one of the craziest things that happened in my life, ever!

Anything else you want to say:
Yes, I really hope you are interested in my application and might consider inviting me to the group, i would be very grateful, i will help out every day and be kind, loyal and helpful, thank you for reading this application!
Thanks,
~Orochimaru (Alex)

I am very good at Cofing and Graphics. The most Programms i do not release so i can not give a good Example. All my GFX i have done so far: http://arg0s.imgur.com/all/
What section are you most active in and why?
Graphics and Coding. I am the most active in these Sections, because i help every Member that has questions regarding to Coding and if anybody wants a GFX, i will do a few for him.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
i want to join The Empire, because i think it is one of the famoust and High Quality Group out there in HF. I also would really help many Members in Coding, GFX and some general life problems.
Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
i honestly can not answer this question, i think i would fit very well in this Group.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am a reliable Person, i work for a Coding Company, we code simple, but maybe advanced Programms for our Buyers.
Anything else you want to say:
I would really love to be in this Group <3

Name:
Mastery (Mackenzie)
Age:
I am 16 years old.
Gender:
My sex is male.
Religion:
I am a Christian.
Province/Country:
Nova Scotia/Canada
Time Zone:
Atlantic
What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Graphics:Photoshop

Cinema 4d

Illustrator

I am in the graphics masters student program which hopefully shows that I am good enough to get accepted into that, I've been doing graphic design for maybe 2 years now.

Coding:.php

.HTML

vb.net

Java

C# (Learning)

I started learning basic knoledge of coding a few years ago, I've never put all of my effort into it. So it has been on & off, I've designed many simple programs and some fairly advanced, although my java knowledge came from coding runescape private servers.

Visual Effects/Editing:After Effects

Premier Pro

3ds Max

Boujou

This is by far one of the subjects I excel most in.
I've loved being creative and original since I was young. I express that through pictures (graphic design) and videos (visual effects). I've been doing visual effects for 6 years now and have learned a lot throughout that time.

Businesses/Leadership:I am an owner of Apathybooter.

I am also an owner of a forum (genforums.net) which has just started.

I own another forum (monetizecentral.org)

I ran a runescape private server for months.

I am fairly good at getting along with members and have run many successful and non-successful businesses. One of my most recent ones is ApathyBooter.net, which I own with 2 other members.

What section are you most active in and why?
Like most people in this world, their interests are always changing, as is mine, so there will never be one section only that I post in, I love hackforums and all the aspects of it. My current interest is in monetizing (just started learning) and graphics. I've been active in the coding section and lounge before as well as the hacking section.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
The amount of High Quality members in this group is prodigious, I've heard very good comments on the group and would love to learn & give information within this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
My best attribute is probably my ability to dedication and focus myself, I am friendly and very easy to get a long with. I can contribute and do many giveaways in the name of "The Empire". I will keep this groups reputation as a High Quality group and will not let anyone down.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
There are millions of people who use a computer today, since I was young I've always been fascinated by computers, I felt like there was unlimited knowledge and I just learned as much as I could. I've ran into many problems like most people and have been insanely frustrated some times, but I've never gave up on computers. When I was 9 years old (Around that age) I started playing the game runescape, although I don't play it anymore I was very into it.

A few years later I started looking into runescape private servers and learning how they were programmed etc.. I started learning coding around that time as well as visual effects. I started creating videos with friends and designing programs. A year later I released a runescape private server (Pvpangels) with a friend of mine. During that time I was also learning after effects and creating videos with friends and I uploaded them to my youtube channel, sosodeaf5 (sold), and some of them got popular. I eventually learned after effects and found some other products.

I then got into graphic design with photoshop and took a course at a university, at this time I was around 12 or so. I enjoyed it very much, so I started learning graphic design. A few years later, I was then getting tired of graphic design and took a break from it. I started getting back into coding and that lead me to keyloggers and R.A.T's. I started researching them more and more and found hackforums. I joined and started learning as much as I could. I meet some members over the way and have learned a lot! After that, I started looking into other sections of the forum. To this day I've learned a lot, I've left out a lot of things as I was trying to keep this short, although I hope you can forgive me on that.

Anything else you want to say:
Hopefully the length and quality of this application shows a bit of my dedication towards "The Empire". As well I just wrote a book, so thank you for taking your time and reading it. I wish everyone else luck on their applications! Have a great day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I'm an skilled professional musician and have been playing for 18years. I also practice composition and production.

Other than music, I'm skilled in the study of electricity (high and low voltage).

What section are you most active in and why?
The music section. Like said above, I'm a musician, engineer, producer and composer. I love to see other artists work and help others with problems.
Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I already love to help people so being a part of like minded people is a huge privilege.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
The description of this group expresses the mindset of a genuine HQ and helpful member, which is what I try to be.
In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I'm not on the road or doing anything with my music, I work full time as an Armored Service Technician for one of the largest Cash in Transit companies.

There were a quite few memorable moments in my life. The best one so far being my first pair of drumsticks. Other moments include my senior year in HS marching band where I completely turned my drumline consisting of 13 people who knew little to nothing about marching percussion, into a tight regimented percussion unit and lead them to a victory at Wayne Halftime Battle of the Bands.
Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reviewing my application.
Hopefully I meet the criteria for this great group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I Have some graphics design skills but to be honest Im not to good with it. I have a very good understanding of HTML and PHP, I am the webmaster/coder on this forum: www.uniquegaming.net I am also very good at communicating with people and understanding them and what they really think. I have a lot of skills in helping people out with their issues wether it be a relationship or suicidal thoughts. I have a fairly good sense of humor but I know when Things are getting serious and when to stop.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the Lounge section because it allows me to help people out and post funny experiences etc. I feel that its important to help people in the lounge because they entrust HF to take their issues seriously and help them out without trolling.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: To be 100% honest I think the Empire is the best group on the HackForums. The group could offer me a chance to learn a lot from other members and even share my knowledge and help my fellow empire members. The members of the Empire are always people to look up to and respect. It would be an honor to be apart of this group and I feel that I have so much potential to be a great member of this group. I want to help out by continuing to giving this group a good reputation for being profesional, responsible and trustworthy. I hope the staff of this group decides to accept me into this great group!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I have the potential to make a big impact in the group and represent it in a positive way on all forums. This group isnt a joke and I feel that I qualify and have the skills it takes to be one of its elite members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I own a garrys mod gameserver which I code in LUA for. I am a black belt which worked to get for about 9 years. I am very easy going and laid back but I dont let people walk on me at all. I am harsh but fair. I am very profesional and I dont let my thoughts or posts get too off topic or stupid. I lve to help people out with whatever they need because I feel that if I help people they would do the same if I ever needed help for some reason.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for reading my application I hope you decide to accept me into the group! :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Programming
I've been learning programming languages on and off since I was 10/11.

I'm not the best but I'm not the worst either, I currently know;php

HTML

Javascript(A little bit)

CSS(A little bit)

Java - Best in this.

Visual Basic

C++(A little bit)

Various smaller scripting languages

RATs/Crypters/JDBs
I know the fundamentals on how both RAT's and Crypter's work and how to set-up basically every one of them,
I provide free support to anyone that asks me to set something up or needs help and I constantly look around the forums for anyone that might be in need of my help. My tutorials are fairly High Quality and easy to read when it comes to Ratting.

Monetizing

I'm great at monetizing content and am fairly proficient in creating high quality e-books/tutorials which people are happy to purchase. I've seen all the guides/tutorials/resources Empire provide and I feel this skill can contribute quite a lot to that area of Empire.

What section are you most active in and why?
E-Book Bazaar - I like creating High Quality e-books so I tend to stay there a lot

Free Services and Giveaways - I occasionally do giveaways for e-books/methods/software so a lot my post activity is here as well

Runescape/Griefing - When I'm not trying to help people with RATs I will search these forums for people that need help with Java/Setups(Runescape Scripts and Minecraft Clients.)

Remote Administration Tool - Where I try spend most of my time now, I like to help people setup their RAT's and I love trying to solve their problems and help people out. It just makes me feel good inside.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Why wouldn't I want need to join, The Empire group has the best team on this forum.
You are constantly trying to help others with HQ tutorials and guides which I would love to contribute towards.
I can't think of better people to spend my time with while on Hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have a lot to contribute and I am very eager to meet other people in the group, I constantly try to be HQ and I try to make all my posts as helpful as can be, I take the extra mile when it comes to putting effort into helping people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well my name is Mike aka Deagler I was born in India but moved to New Zealand when I was 3 and I currently live in Auckland,New Zealand. I'm planning to go into I.T when I get to University as its been my main interest for many years now(5-6 Years) and I always try to learn more and more things that could help me reach that goal(The reason I signed up on Hackforums). I only have one sibling and she is disabled so I need to look after her a lot and this has given me a sense of responsibility and the ability to know immediately what is right and what is wrong.

I could be considered somewhat a "nerd", I spend most of my freetime on my computer and I'm not afraid to admit that I do. I love computers and I love learning about how they work and the incredible things that can be done with them I will constantly try to learn new things even if I have no idea what they are.

When I was growing up I was in a somewhat poor family... Especially when my family moved to New Zealand we had no money at all, I remember having to sleep on a single mattress laid out on the floor while my parents would sleep on blankets so I could be comfortable.(Before my Little sister was born) We stayed like this for 6 months then I would start to help my parents with work and I would go out and advertise for my mum(My dad would look after me while she was working as a hair dresser) Eventually my Mum's parlour became popular and she started getting a lot of money and at this point we were able to afford a couch/beds/small television. From this point on it started getting better and better, Slowly we started to get more and more things while I would help both my parents work... In the present, We live in our own big house and could be considered "rich" My mum dosen't work as she looks after my sister and I help her as much as I can and my dad works as a part-time Taxi Driver due to him needing to be able to come home at any time for my sister.
I myself try to contribute money to my parents by making money online and most of what I make online goes straight to my parents...

Wasn't sure how much info you would have liked to known so I included everything

Anything else you want to say:
I'm aware there are more deserving people that have applied and I wish Good Luck to all of them. If I am not accepted I will continue to better myself and will continue to help people to the best of my ability.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Gaming.
Public Relations
Some Graphics
Basic Coding
Management

What section are you most active in and why?
Runescape and Respawn.
Runescape because I have played the game for over 6 years now and enjoyed it while I was playing it. I feel that I am a knowledgeable member of HF and want to let people know things in the game which they either may not know or would like to know more about.

Respawn because I am committed to groups that I am in and take pride in the people I am with.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Because I have been in the group before and enjoyed my time there. I would like to join the group because I would like to engage myself with other members of Empire, meet newer people and have experiences with people which I wouldn't have without this opportunity.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I had been accepted into The Empire previously and had followed all rules, but was removed for not posting in a 'check in' thread, which I didn't see.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Something memorable which has happened in my life would definitely have been meeting my current partner.
I was in a point of confusion in my life where I didn't know what I would be thinking or feeling later on, but this person was there for me and has helped me out unimaginably.

I want to help more people in the same way they have helped me, and this would be a great opportunity,

Anything else you want to say:

Again, I had previously been in Empire and followed all of the rules.

Thank you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Programming This is what I will do in life and get my degree in.

Extensive knowledge of Source engine games I've been playing source games since I was 9.

Web Development I've created many websites, most of them for money, but I offer help to charity websites when I have time.

Server management I've managed over 20 servers in my life, most have had a really large memberbase.

What section are you most active in and why? I am most active in the Lua Section. Lua is my favorite language, and I love helping other users complete small scripts, fix their server, setup their server, or even do a job for cheap money.
The reason for Lua being my favorite language is because:Lua is powerful (but simple)

Lua is portable

Lua is embeddable

Lua is small

Lua is free

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Empire is a organized, meaningful, descriptive group, and all the members are nice, everyone is close with eachother, no drama, and mainly because the group is High Quality.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to help other Empire members with programming-related issues, server management, organizing code, creating code, and anything related to programming. But mainly, to share my extensive knowledge of programming.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I love contributing, I've released many guides in the Lua section, such as

Programming in Lua [My mega tutorial]

Trouble in Terrorist Town traitor Detector

Porting from GMOD 12 to GMOD 13

Lukehack

I'm a super nice guy, I excel in education, I dedicate myself to help other users and release HQ tutorials. I think I would be a good member for a group such as Empire, because the main purpose is to share knowledge, that's what I'm best at.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I taught myself scripting at the age of 9 and since then have only become more fluent, and broadened the range of languages to which I am familiar with. I am going to graduate High School in 1 year. I'm aiming for a Bachelors in Computer Science. The university I will be attending is the California Institute of Technology. I've already took 3 college courses, such as Speech, World Language, Fine arts.

Anything else you want to say: I wish luck to any other user who applies for Empire :) and thanks for reading my application!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): DDoS professional against very secured servers, using private scripts that hit amazing with ssyn and botnets used for http attacks that fetch sock5 proxies on its own and uses more than 50,000 socks / zombie.

What section are you most active in and why? I think it's the "Botnets, IRC Bots, and Zombies" because mainly that my domain.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have never joined a group on HF, looking forward for it ! Been 3 years on HF and never really applied with interest into a group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I iz ninja, the question its self doesn't prove anything about my skills, but my intention overall is to help and share skills among the group, as well as most importantly making more friends on HF.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I'm currently majoring in Computer Science , it's my 3rd year now, later on I'm basically going to major in Networking since I literally adore that domain and I see myself so much into that domain.

I am who I am in real life and on the net, I'm not moody nor that I change characters.

The hacking , ddosing and all that started when I was almost 17 and took my first Ethical Hacking course that was super amazingly cool, and then I carried on by myself self-teaching here and there everywhere using sources of different kinds.

I even now run my own ddos service http://buyddos.com which is going on very smooth and I'm doing alot of money out of it, I have my own customers and new recurring customers coming in always being satisfied.

Anything else you want to say: Accept me, this is really interesting.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Mainly, Internet Monetizing. Before you ask me to show you my PP/LR screens and CPA earnings, I'm not into conventional shit. My methods are self developed ideas which pay off. Social engineering is another one because of fluent language skills and ability to con.
Also know a bit of C++, Photoshop and web design.

What section are you most active in and why?Making Money section. Reason stated above. Primarily to discover new stuff and help members with my skills.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to be a part of this HQ group primarily to contribute to HF and the group while being a recognized member, as an Empire member. Can also contribute tons to the group which I don't want to share in public, due to leechers and preventing oversaturation.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have the potential to be an HQ member and contribute to the group with best of my skills and resources.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am a learner. Learning is endless. About myself? A regular guy with massive interest in IT due to tech magazines and facination towards gadgets, now doing B.tech or engineering in Computer Science.

Intend to change the world with my ideas, and contribute to the world before I die. Steve Jobs, my idol. I love rock music.
My brother's a cricketer, though I'm barely interested in sports or games, but love to play badminton and pool/snooker sometimes.
Not a stoner, refrain from anything that's smokey or alcoholic.
I love my buddies. Have quite a few but genuinely care for them.

Anything else you want to say:
Using a phone, sincerest apologies for any typos.
Kindly look forward to review this application. I'm new but not LQ or inexperienced.
Thank you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Gaming

Editing websites

Editing photos

Creativity

Gaming:
I'm very knowledgable with gaming simply because I've been playing games since 2002. I've had Xbox for 2 years now, and love it. I usually play CoD, Halo, Skate, and creative games.

Editing Sites:
In the past I've created sites that were really cool, and creative.
The sites I've created were from free hosting, but looked really nice at the end.

Editing Photos:
Last year I started using Photoshop, AutoCad, and some other creative and useful editing programs. I've edited alot of photos, but they weren't the best. AutoCad is a program for designs, 3-d stuff and making objects, so that kind of applies to this.

Creativity:
My creativity applies to all the other sections above. I've been creative in the past with photos, websites, designs, logos, banners, pretty much anything that you can create/edit.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm most active in the Halo, Gaming, Upgraded Members Lounge, and the Graphics Section.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I want to join the Empire because I think "Empire" is the best group on HF. I really like The Empire because everyone in The Empire is very HQ, in my opinion. I think the people in The Empire are always very nice and helpful. Lastly I want to join The Empire because I love the userbar, and love the group itself for what it is and about.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I feel I should be accepted into the Empire because I keep getting more HQ by the day. I think I would be a great addition to The Empire. I'm also very active, and enthusiastic on Hack Forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

A little bit about myself:
I'm a sophmore in high school, and get some pretty good grades. I play football, wrestling, and used to play basketball back in grade school. I also weld at my high school, which is loads of fun. I like to be on HF literally all the time, and like to be creative with everytyhing.

Something Memorable that happened in my life:
I was running around my house when I was about 3 years old, and busted my head on a coffee table. Still have the scar from it, to this day.

What makes me what I am:
I am a very creative person, and I'm always pretty happy, with a smile on my face. Lastly, I am very unpredictable about everything, and my mind is always racing for new things to happen.

Anything else you want to say:
I would like to say, I really hope I get in the Empire. I also am praying to get into this group, and will be checking everyday to see if I get accepted. I really hope you guys consider accepting me into Empire. Thanks you guys, and have a wonderful day.

Thanks,

#Respect

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
I would say the skills I hold vary by quite a large amount, I am a great leader after leading my own minecraft server and my own forums. I also enjoy music and I can play the piano. I consider myself to have good people skills and good grammar! I am mature and I show dedication. Although I am 13 I don't think my age should matter too much since I should be judged on my personality and character.

I speak Spanish and German and I will be taking both for my GCSE's I hope to be taking German for my A-Levels as well.

What section are you most active in and why? :
I am most active in the lounge and its subforums, I love people and I love socializing! With the lounge they have a wide wide range of topics to join in or have a debate over something. It is also a great way to find out things and learn new stuff you might not of known.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
I would like to join the group because I constantly hear nothing but high quality comments and good remarks. It would be a huge chance for me to show who I am and get my voice heard alot more on Hackforums! I'm now addicted to posting on Hackforums and I love helping other people out. I can have empathy with over members and I will regularly be giving advice to other people, because of that I would love to join Empire to show that I can be trusted. Also because it sounds like a fun group where I can make alot of friends!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I think I should be accepted into the group because I am a dedicated young person who does not cause arguments ;) I like to be peaceful and I am looking to make more friends on Hackforums! It would also be a great chance for me to get into the Ub3r usergroup and be known even though being a leet does not make you any different!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
I am who I am because I am not afraid to be who I am. I live by the quotes in my signature. I play to win in life. I love making friends but however I can be a little shy when it comes to big new things like my new school. It took me a week or so to get friends but now I am friends with alot of people in my year! People generally think of me as an open minded, well rounded person!

I think of myself as a keen person and I take a heavy interest into politics and the current affairs in the world. Apart from that I also have a high interest in gaming and computers and I will be taking ICT as a GCSE.

I find law a interesting subject and quite often I would read books about law or find out things I did not already know! I love finding out new interesting facts and I would quite regularly google stuff or google a topic to learn about it.

Anything else you want to say:
I would like to say good luck to all the other people applying and I hope I get accepted :)
Thanks for reading!

I'm kind of if-y when it pertains to revealing my true age, but I will say that I've been legally able to purchase alcohol, firearms, ammunition, tobacco for a number of years now. More than five, I'll say that much.
Gender:
Male
Religion:
I'm an Aethist, and a teacher of sorts. (Certified Minister)
State/Country:
United States of America.
Time Zone:
Central Standard Time(UTC-6)
What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
As of current I specialize in cosmology and astronomy sciences, as well their philosophies. Been studying for a number of years, and have been glad to discuss them with the rest of the forum, which I why I spend a lot of my time in the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section.
I have knowledge and experience in both whitehat and blackhat activities, and have been known for developing malware in the past, but recently decided to leave the field for the betterment of myself and my family. Computer operations, networking, and programming have been some of my strong suits before in the past, which is why you'll see s great portion of my activity being in the Coding section of the forums.

What section are you most active in and why?
In the past, the programming sections, especially Visual Basic 6.0, Visual Basic.NET and C#. I don't really know why to an extent, but I have a general preference towards those languages for their simplicity and ease of use. On numerous occasions I've been noted by members for being a great coder, as you can see if you have the chance to look.
The Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section, however, has been a frequent visit of mine within the last few months because I felt it necessary to help out those who had questions regarding, I don't know, M-theory, etc. Plus, it's one of my most favorite topics to discuss.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Over the course of time since the creation of this group I've come across many various members who've been very helpful in the past to others around them, and have even spoken with a few in a private manner. From what I've seen and read I believe that this group suits me, and I have a lot to offer the community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have a lot to offer to the people of HackForums, and to the group. Hence why I've been an active member for three years. In life, there are a lot of people who have questions, then to balance out that equation there are those who have the right answers. In my opinion, I'm one of them, and I'd like to be with my own people who embrace their own specialties and don't adhere to some sort of "code" implemented subconsciously.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
When I was growing up I was always told I was a very intelligent boy. Abnormal, at that. From even when I felt it necessary to compete in the science fairs I'd put my brain tot he test and reveal some of the things I had been thinking about. Such as, my second grade science fair project was a prototype to a flying vehicle by simply manipulating the natural magnetic field of the Earth. Won me first prize, and attention from a lot of the principals. To me, it was just "natural", and didn't think much of it until I got older and matured more, and more, only to find out that I was smarter than normal. Even before that, the one thing I always wanted to be from when I could last remember, I wanted to be a scientist. A Meteorologist. I felt "out of place", because everyone else in my family had either wanted to be a mechanic or machinist. They all still are, and they never attended college, whereas I have. After coming to the realization, with no ego present, I knew what I wanted to do. I wanted to be a scientist. An astrophysicist to be exact. But, we'll see how things go.
Over time, my knowledge and abilities and talents began to show more. It was revealed that I truly was abnormally intelligent, and am an artist. Great artistic skills with attention to detail, when no one in my extensive family has ever had. Followed by that, when I was fourteen, I was encouraged to submit one of my poems in a competition, to which I was then first published. A few years later I was approached and asked if I'd like to attend a public school that's for children with gifts in the arts, but I turned it down because I didn't want to move away from my quirt home town. Town, not city.
Afterwards, I was exposed to personal assistance to the mentally and physically disabled, and it broke my heart seeing them, and with how friendly everyone truly is. I wanted to help out people who were in need, then sometime later I began studying and eventually passed with a perfect score my exam to be a certified PCA.
Always, in my past, I was fascinated by computers, and chose to look more into them and learn more, which led to me studying a few programming languages, and I have every intention to utilize my knowledge to help others, rather than be a selfish person, as I've grown up seeing with various other people in my life. The ones who don't take a chance, the ones who don't "care", the ones who were once given the opportunity to be something different but instead chose to lead an ignorant life. I pity them. I truly do.

But, there is a relatively lengthy, although short in retrospect, description as to who I am and why I am the way I am.

Anything else you want to say:
I personally know I'd be a great contribution to the group, and if given the opportunity you'd see what I mean.
As well, I know it was stated that the use of colors would somehow "help" with the application, but in real life the use of colors on an application wouldn't apply. To add, I don't think I should have to use purple, green or pink font to make myself seem more fabulous.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Ewhoring & Social engineering I dont really see this as something speial, but I would say that Ive done some great SE's, not like all thoose fraudelent shits doing replacements, but IRL SE, 3 months in a row have I gotten my bills deleted.. ;)
Malware setup and usage This one isnt either something great. But ive worked with rats, crypters, keyloggers, worms etc for quite some time now, so I have alot of experience in this arier.
PHP and HTMl At the moment im going over the very basics of php and html, since Ive always wanted to learn more about website creating and all that it has in it.
VB.net Ive leanred some basic vb.net, mainly made fake programs for my niche products.
PPD / General money making I have made a good amount of $ on the internet in my living time. Most of i from PPD, Ive worked with alot of different niches, I mainly use YT videos and small blogs. Besides that then IVe sold alot different accounts, like steam, netflix etc
IRL $ Making I run my own workshop, I have a huge garage underneath my house where I do smaller repairs on Motorcycles and scooters, mainly scooters. Ive had scooters for several years, and I make a good steady income on small repairs and selling parts. Besides that then I resell alot of differnt stuff IRL from chinese wholesale sites.
Gaming At the moment I mainly play PC games. I play World of warcraft, league of legends and Counter strike source on a daily basis. When I where a child I used to love Crash Bandicoot and Spyro haha. I just recently started playing PokeMMO.
Graphics I mainly use Photoshop. But ive worked alittle with illustrator and C4D. I used Ps on a daily basis, mainly to small site projects, or just for my niches or youtube videos.

What section are you most active in and why?
The marketplace is the one I am in mostly at the moment, mostly in the discussi section.
And at a 1 hour basis I check the "View todays posts" just to catch up with whats hot.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
Ive seen many great things from this group, and I feel like that this is the group that should take my group membership verginity.
Since Ive never been in a group here on HF before.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, many people just go down the "ohh I am Hq, make alot giveaways blabla", but I dont think that I'ts all about being HQ and shit like that. I mean, I have done several giveaways, and spent alot of time around here trying to help people out.. But I think that theres more into it than just doing giveaways.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, I mostly spend my time IRL in my garage, where I hang out with my friends or do what I love to do, repair motorcycles and scooters. I have alot of ongoing projects at the moment, which I would gladly share.
Probally going to create some thread about my projects in the near future.
Besides the time I spent in my garage, then I have my love girlfriend. Weve been toghether for almost 6 months, so Im still trying to figure what to do on our hallf year anyversary :D

Anything else you want to say:
I spent over an hour creating this application.
I really hope that you don't just look straight away from me because I have the low stats I have (reputation and posts etc), I am an active member here on HF and I have alot to give back to the comunity, in term of $ and stuff to give back, but also my general knowdlege in the various stuff I do.

I really hope that you'll consider me as a member of The Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Gaming (Somewhat of a skill :P) - I can usually pick up a game and play pretty well. I never do horrible, but I'm not amazing either.

I'm good with people I like to think. I can usually get along with any group and can fit in well.

I play alot of sports :P Probably doesn't pertain to this, but I'm pretty athletic and do a variety of activities. (Ex. - Wrestling, Lacrosse, Football for primary sports)

I prefer to think that I'm very diversified. I have a lot of different experience in different areas in real life and in other areas.

What section are you most active in and why?
I'm pretty active in a few different areas. Some are Gaming, Innuendo,

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
This group is arguably one of the most high-quality groups on Hackforums in terms of how much they contribute. It does so much for the site through it's members and content they provide. Not to mention the booter they sell which is well made in my experience.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
I have tried to be as helpful as possible in the past and have made sure to be high-quality. I can be a helpful addition to the group and look forward to possibly be working with everyone there.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Like I said before, I'm very diversified. In school I exist in multiple social groups with dozens of different people and I love this. I believe this translates online because I like to think I'm not that typical Internet user. I usually credit this to the 7 times I've moved throughout the USA. It has made me experience many different groups/types of people and has made me a flexible person. In school right now this really shows. I hang with some of the lower groups of kids, the rather popular kids, and a lot of the in between. However, because of this I think I have seen more than other people have. I have a very good read on people generally and can figure out what type of person they are. I'd say that's about it! Read on.

Anything else you want to say:
It is fantastic that you are opening recruitment again and I dearly hope that I get invited because this will be the first real group I join.

Having trouble post my app but it says the thread isn't locked...

Gender: Male

Religion: Agnostic

State/Country: California/United States of America

Time Zone: Pacific Standard Time

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Some of my skills are socially and online. I am decent at graphics. I took a break from that because of school, so I'm not the best anymore. My creative level is great. If you need any help creatively, I am the guy. I also code websites with HTML, CSS, and Javascript. I'm currently working on a company which has an awesome website that I've been working on for about a month. It's coming out great!

What section are you most active in and why? I am either in the Lounge or the Monetizing section. As far as the Lounge, I chill there a lot of the time because I really like to communicate with members. A lot of the other sections prohibit a conversation because it is based on one specific topic. I also go on the Monetizing section because I am very interested in becoming an entrepreneur. I have great business ideas and I try to ask questions and get help in relationship to money and other related questions.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The biggest reason I would like to join The Empire is because I would like to communicate with members and learn other topics like games, programming languages, etc. But, yes, it's important for me to communicate with members on Hack Forums because I think it's always great to make friends online and also IRL.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted to The Empire because I have a great understanding about members on Hack Forums. People want to be accepted and I am a great mentor for personal stress. I have many advantages that I could explain to members that are in need of help.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:
Well, throughout my entire life, I was raised being really happy and friendly to everyone. From Elementary school, I had a lot of friends because of my personality. If someone needed help, I wouldn't stop talking until they felt better. I also had challenges; feeling sorry for people and crying because people were different than others. I was a very friendly person.

When it came to Jr. High, people were different. I couldn't really help people out without them making fun of that fact. I continued to help people even though i was considered weird. I don't have any mental illnesses so I had no idea what they were talking about. For some reason, my parents decided to put me in a special ed class. I am in no way Special Ed. Anyways, I helped special ed kids the most that I could. One of my close friends has issues talking to people because he has ADHD. I've been his friend since birth and not ONCE did I make fun of him. I told everyone to stop when they made fun of him. But, besides that, I had a lot of friends in Jr. High.

Now, that I'm in High School, I've made a lot of friends. I do weird things during lunch. I get the most attention because I just feel like it. My dad once said that I should care what others thought of me. I really don't give a shit. Honestly, the more I don't care, the more friends I make. I get decent grades, but lately I have been slacking off. It's easy for me to do that, but if I realize it, it's very easy for me to fix them. So, I don't really worry about that. But, that is really my background and how I am.

Anything else you want to say: I would just like to thank the whole group in The Empire for this awesome opportunity. I hope that I can join. Seems like an excellent group. Have a nice day. :)

Order's Application

Name: David
Age: 16 in 2 weeks.
Gender: Male
Religion: Atheism
State/Country: Turkey
Time Zone: GMT +3
What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphic Design - I'm not exactly an expert when it comes to Designing, but I'm much better than a amateur when it comes to designing.

Social Engineering - I'm not perfect at this, but I know what to say, and when to say it when it comes to talking to people.

Java - I've just started learning, and I am specially focusing on the line of OpenGL and Minecraft coding.

Gaming - After playing video games since before you can remember, you slowly start to become good.

Helping - If there is one thing I like to do, it's help people. I'm not sure if this is a skill, but I love to help people whenever I can. By helping, I feel like I've achieved a personal goal.

I may not be an expert at any of these skills, however, I will always push myself to be better.

What section are you most active in and why?

I'm mainly active in the MarketPlace, Minecraft section (Griefing), Xbox Live Gaming Section and the Lounge.

Of all the above, I'm mainly active in the Griefing section, because some of the things that are there are truely unique and some really great Java Coders exist there.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

When I first joined HackForums, The Empire was the first group I really ever noticed. I saw a lot of things, giveaways, tutorials, programs created and given to us by The Empire. I was awestruck.. I couldn't belive people selfless enough to give out free items, programs and help existed. It made me feel happy, gave me hope in humanity you might say.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To be honest, I'm not a unique, perfect user. I am who I am. I would like to join your group, seeing as this is a recruitment, I understand you need people to join. That's why I'm here, making this application.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was little (6) my parents got divorced. Sure, you see it flying around. My sister took it especially rough, and I had to be the man of the house until my dad bought his own place. I took charge of my own life from that moment on, and i think it was my actions then that made me who I am.

Anything else you want to say:

And now, after I have purchased L33T, here I am. I finally worked up the guts to attempt to join this group, and hopefully I will get accepted.

Thanks, and have a good day.
