Thread: [\[Download\] SkypeAttack | Advanced Skype Tool \[Source\]](#)

deiski - February 1, 2013, 8:39 pm

SkypeAttack is a project made in Visual Basic .NET to simplify the use of Skype, why use old, out dated programs or projects with only one feature, when SkypeAttack has all of them in one?

You may be asking what can SkypeAttack do?

What it can do is:

- Grab all contacts from your Skype account.
- Call Skype contacts by username with ease, only by entering in their Username!
- Information Stealer! Grab users name, sex, birthday and country!
- Change your online status with ease!
- Set your display name just by typing in the name you want and click change!
- Mass message all your Skype contacts with a pre-set message!
- Spam ALL your Skype contacts with over a thousand pre-set numbers!
- The title of the program will show what Skype account your program is connected too!

Here is a screenshot of the program:

Please post after reviewing it, also, there are still some sloppy code done, also some code is left over that isn't being used, so please bare with me, thank you. :)

It gets access into your Skype and looks in your contact list for the username, then goes and gets its info.

When you download Skype and you're configuring it, you can set it to ask permission if programs can access it, so. :P

OP you finally release it well going to download it.

Yui Asuna - March 4, 2013, 1:19 pm

Oh yeah, I hope it's an old works, because this code is awful.

It's your choice to leave as many blank lines as you want, it won't change anything, but you should avoid empty subs.

Also "On Error Resume Next" isn't a good thing, at least in the way you used it.

I won't say anything about the MsgBox, since like you said, it's an old code, and I already said it many times :)

I rushed this code because I wanted to fit in with all the other 'skype bots'.

I made new ones, I just didn't release it because I don't even code in .NET anymore, I moved on to better languages.

Please don't put "Advanced" in the title of something like this.

Unless you are not using Skype4COM then this is nowhere near advanced.

In fact it is missing many key features of the skype4COM library like auto reply.

I'm not trying to hate on this or trying to put you down, Just don't put "Advanced" in the title next time.

No it doesn't. When it was made has no effect on the button alignments. Enlighten me on how it does? Even 3 year olds can align buttons better. And you might be programming longer, but even a chimp can program better than you. If you thought this was worth releasing then you haven't made any progress in programming at all in all that time. Because if you have you would be ashamed as fuck for this.

Also, I wouldn't download this shit ever. You are so arrogant and cocky and think you are the best and what not while you yourself are not even much above all the skids that download this. You release shit tools that are slightly better than what the skids can make. They see your source and think its amazing because they dont know any better. And you only made a thousand dollars with it? That is cute. Talk to me when you get to the 5 figures.

A perfect analogy: In the land of the blind, the one eyed is king.

Took a while to respond, reading the VB.NET book for dummies?

Look at your argument here ' If you thought this was worth releasing then you haven't made any progress in programming at all in all that time.' I appreciate you for trying, but that makes no sense. What if I thought it wasn't worth releasing, in that period of three years do I just code a time machine and go back and make sure I never posted it when I did?

Do you HONESTLY think I take pride in this? A three year old thread with another Skype program wrapping around SKYPE4COM? Nope, but I enjoy the people that need to remind themselves that they must be better than others at coding by putting down others OLD work for their own insecurities.

"And you only made a thousand dollars with it? That is cute. Talk to me when you get to the 5 figures." WHAT LOL, I made nothing off of this, re-read what I said.

Another lonely HackForums member waving around their illegally obtained money (if they even have that LOL) thinking they are so amazing.

Instead of putting shit on someone's work that's three years old, grow up and go contribute something more worthwhile then, because at this point all I've seen is you whine.

Look at my thread history. I try to contribute more original work.

Hey, one thing we can all agree upon is the Design can be better. This seemed like a fun project at the time, there is no need to make it not fun by arguing about non-sense things. Lets debate on how this could have been improved, and not about money. Ninja is a HQ programmer, idk about you but what I can see from your profile picture is that your a sexy man.

Didn't know programming was illegal.

You keep trash talking your own old work. You keep telling people not to gravedig this thread, yet you dont close or junk it. I am pretty sure you still take pride in this work.

Oops, my mistake, meant to write downloads. Was probably conversing on Skype at the same time.

The difference between you and I is you clearly care too much about your image, whether it's going back to delete old useless posts to ensure only the 'highest of quality' threads are there, you are trying to prove something here but I am unsure what it is.

The only reason I haven't deleted this is because that download counter is still going up and the biggest reason is, why should I listen to YOU about if I should delete this or not, I can say whatever I want about my old work, even if I personally dislike it, does not mean I should remove it for the likes of you telling me it's shit, which is completely okay with me.

Just stop man, we use to be pretty chill for memory a year or two ago when I had my older usernames, just stop flexing and move on.

Sources are released to teach people how to do certain things. Bad sources teach bad things.

Bad sources may teach bad methods BUT people can still be helpful to people, which is undeniable.

Next time I post something, which'll be in the next few days, feel free to have a skim over my code if you must to release your statement of quality.

No worries mate, might be in some old PMs.

Not trying to be a total dick, but I made a personal Skype tool for myself in like 1 hour and mine is more compact, easy to use, and has like 20x more features lol

Not trying to be a total dick, but I am SO proud that you, the god, could make a better tool than a teenager did almost four years ago.

And it's Skype4COM, not that hard to wrap your head around, was just a guide.
