Dont just leave this page once you have the download link. Please comment ??

Note that this is a new thread as my previous thread of the same tool was locked because of some reasons.

There are many web-based Skype resolvers. No need to post a .exe resolver.

well i made a .exe resolver so that people dont have to hava hard time waititng for a resolver page to load then type the username and click go button again..now all they can do is just use my tool..much easier..thats why

Update: the resolver api is having problem.there will be update for this tool

You are getting resolves in seconds.

Unless the person is highly impatient, web based Skype resolver will suit them

Vlad1k - February 6, 2013, 3:39 am

Oh I am not saying its not handy, nor am I flaming.

It's actually pretty cool, because you can just open it up and use it.
