Quote:A 9-year-old girl in Mexico has reportedly given birth.

The girl, identified as "Dafne" by The Telegraph, reportedly delivered a 5.7 pound baby by cesarean section on Jan. 27 in Zoquipan Hospital in Jalisco, an area in western Mexico.

The girl was 8 years old when she became pregnant. "This is a rape or child sex abuse case," Corona added, according to the Agence France-Presse. Dafne is below the age of consent as stated by Mexican law.

"The father is a boy who is 17, but we have not found him, since he ran away," the mother of the girl told officials, according to the AFP.

Would you trust anyone in Mexico with doing an abortion? Also, seeing that it's Mexico, I'm guessing the family may be Catholic seeing that the entire area is predominantly Catholic, and getting an abortion is a big no no. ?

Not attempting to be racist here, but I don't expect much more from Mexico. I'm wondering if the baby survived, 5.5 lbs is so small for a newborn.

This has been posted on here before, and it's quite old.

But it's still pretty mind blowing, how technically the child and the mother could go to the same grade school.

I read this a few days back but I'm pretty sure it says that they are both healthy.

Code "This is a rape or child sex abuse case,"

Is it's not child sex abuse assuming it was rape? Oh, okay. Imma go rape a few children and only be charged with rape, brb.
