Eastbay is having a sale on elites 3 for $30 and free shipping. This is a really great deal considering elites are originally $14 a pair.

This is a great deal, but all in all, you're only making a couple bucks profit.

If Nike is selling pairs of socks for $10 a piece and calling it a sale then I'm in the wrong business.

Why would anybody pay 10 bucks for a pair of socks? I'm an avid Jordan and Nike collector and I just use the store brands socks from Finishline.

Style, public image and the general consensus that how much you pay for something has some relevance in how people see you.
