Hi all. Since i'm developing a new .net software, i need to ask you how you find the GUI.

The software is a twitter Bot called "Tweebot". This is the GUI:

Very Old GUI:

New GUI

What do you think about?

Bonfire - February 12, 2013, 12:25 pm

The GUI looks very nice, and smooth. The color scheme matches very well, and all around it looks clean!

The thing I'm concerned about though, is like you said, the login form look a tad bit big. I suggest reducing the size of it a bit.

You asked for a rating, so I give you a 9/10. Of course, I'm in no spot to judge, so please taking it as friendly comments.

Overall, very nice work with the GUI, and good luck with your project! ?

Cody8295 - February 12, 2013, 12:26 pm

Ehh, definitely too big for a login form, make it smaller.

Xvi Beta IvX - February 12, 2013, 12:33 pm

A bit big but looks very good, It just needs to be a bit more compact 9/10 (A photo in the box would be nice and renaming the form too if you were going to use the normal form)

Meerkat.? - February 12, 2013, 12:35 pm

Looks cool but way to big. People always tend to make their GUI huge, compact yet functional is the way to go.

Gr0wlit - February 12, 2013, 12:39 pm

Thanks all for suggestions!

Yes, i always try to make the GUI small and functional, but this time i've tried to put something of different, by calling the twitter interface. Bad result. Thank you for the suggestion!

The result isn't bad, it's just too big. Make the form just smaller in width, make the "Login" font a little smaller, less spacing and you're there :)

GrOwlit - February 12, 2013, 12:49 pm

I've reduced it a bit... How about now?

Still too big in my opinion.

This is a little shoop (yes I fucked up your clouds :D) which is still a little big but more in the good direction...

This looks better! Thank you Mavamaarten~!

This is hardly related to your program or programming in general, more so related to graphics, hence "Graphical User Interface".

I've just posted here since it is coded in VB.NET. Thanks anyway to keep me in the right way!

Looks exactly like one of my apps :x

Shit, well man i haven't copied nothing, i swear it lol.

MR. ?IELDS - February 12, 2013, 1:22 pm

Wrong section; but it's a bit too big anyways.

I like it, but you really ought to fix the alignment of everything in your login form. Text boxes, buttons, etc. Would definitely help.

Now is all right, alignment ecc.

seifertson - February 12, 2013, 5:58 pm

10 for creativity (even tho idb's looks the same and i've known idb for a very long time, beautiful ui idb...)

anyways, i think everything should flow. you have the right concept but its just not flowing right... i would change the alignment of some things and maybe add a spacer? maybe a textbox beside the login form that shows you events? etc.

think outside the box

?Mephobia - February 12, 2013, 6:51 pm

I think it looks pretty good! I like how you stuck with the twitter theme and kept the twitter top bar thing. Looks good.

Bird Is The Word - February 12, 2013, 10:17 pm

I think it looks awesome, the background is really cool too. ^-^

(° ? °) - February 12, 2013, 11:35 pm

5/10

Not awesome, but not too bad either.

This kid didn't even have a GUI until I showed him a SS of mine and I know that for a fact. Loyalty will cosign to that as well. This kid is a douche. Fuck his theme and his bot.

No offense, but he just copied Twitter's website and so did you and Growlit?

None taken, and I'd agree 100% if he wasn't on Aux talking about how he had no ideas for a GUI until I linked a screen shot of mine and then hours later he's linking a GUI that basically looks exactly like mine. If someone showed you a screen shot of their GUI (even if it was based on something else) would you decide to create a GUI that's even remotely like that?

Also when approached about it he claimed to have not seen the ss. Had he not straight up lied to me and actually admitted he decided to make his shit look like Twitter after seeing mine I wouldn't have been so pissed (just like I'm not pissed at GrOwlit since there's no way he could know what my shit looks like). Doubt you'd understand with the little information I'm providing you here, but trust me... li0ns is fuckin up. Ask Loyalty if need more clarification. shrug

w?rloctt - February 13, 2013, 7:39 am

To not get OT like other guys here (...) your theme looks very good and I f*cking like it! Reduce it, like Mavamaarten~ said and it will look perfect!

i dont have the time to argue with you, and they gui, i saw from nitwit was an older one, that one with your typical status bar like you used it on the facebook account creator you made for imnotanoob. equal to the video on youtube you commented on (i mean this video <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sHKwJbi1BTY>). the gui i made is still copied straight from TWITTER, so please stop insulting me. moreover this isnt even total equal to your gui, i just see the same background and a headline

GrOwlit - March 3, 2013, 4:52 am

.. Anyway, released it, hope i haven't copied anything from the guys above.
