Why should you be upgraded and what will you do as UBER? :

-Im mature and never have scammed anyone and never plan to do so.

-I help out every user I can and get 10+ skype freind requests daily who seek my help.

-I am a active member who spends alot of his time on HF

-When I get Uber I will be able to give Rep to alot of users who I think are HQ.

-I will be able to post some of my more private TuTs in the private sections,

-I have 202 thePositive rep and 1 Negative Rep

-I do giveaways quite often

-I have never broke any HF rules

-I do alot of free crypts and setups for rats for beginners

Upgrade (L33T or UB3R): L33T

Why should you be accepted: Well I want to help people I've already made some tutorials but I don't think people care much because I'm just Beta or a normal member, if I win this contest I will be L33T and I people will trust me to help them I've made usefull tutorials but only few watched and/or cared. Also I always try to help members when they request for help for example on coding and hack requests forum.

Upgrade (L33T or UB3R):l33t

Why should you be accepted: Helping almost every member on the beginner section eventhough Iam in the class and as you can see I joined in september 2011 but in between I had no internet access(shifted to a new country) so had to leave hackforums :(anyhow Iam back and active now you see my profile. I have never been rude or LQ you can review my posts or reps + I have 0% warning level. I personally have helped a few persons out here but being honest Iam really dedicated to hackforums. I have done around 4-5 giveaways and few tutorials as well. Now Iam working on twitter bot method for increasing followers, as soon as Iam done with that you can see me giving out free followers, but for now I have been posting fresh socks and proxies as well almost everyday. I wish to be upgraded because that will boost my morale and will also make contribute more and more towards my second home i.e hackforums.

Upgrade (L33T or UB3R): L33T.

Why should you be accepted: I believe I should be accepted mainly because I've been at this community long enough and have contributed long enough to become known as a L33T member. I may not have created any high quality threads besides questions, but I've grown accustomed to this community. Opening myself and revealing myself to others, I've been nothing but kind and nice to others and they sure have given the same kindness and respect back to me. I'm tired of being limited to my abilities because where I live I can't use Visa or Mastercard to use PayPal, it annoys me and I really want L33T. So please, thank you.

Contributions to HF: I haven't made any thread-like contributions to HackForums but I do host lobbies of types for people and help out in the Black Ops 2 / MW2 section, by giving out CFG's, infections and such to either creating graphics for people privately. If I could I would make helpful threads with either member competitions or informative threads, but I don't have the funds or the resource for it.

Upgrade (L33T or UB3R): UB3R.

Why should you be accepted: I feel as if I have helped out many members on this forum. I've helped out a lot in the COCH section, and I'm pretty well known there. I continue to help as best as I can. I recommend builds, and answer general questions there. I also have a few skills.

Contributions to HF: Aside from giving away my knowledge on hardware, once in a while I'll do a giveaway of some sort. Last week I gave away a netflix account. A few of my skills are as follows.

Computer Hardware - I feel am I very knowledgeable and known on this subject in the COCH section. I have proven my worth, making many builds, and contributing in helping others with their computer problems. I have built my own pc before, and know a lot of general knowledge on computers, along with specific things such as a processor.

Gaming - I deem myself as a pro gamer in a way. I play games like counter strike, and I participate in things such as ESEA. Any game that's thrown at me, I can learn very quickly and help others.

Helping others - I'm a very understandable person, and I do not judge, no matter what a person has gone through. I tend to see myself helping other members with personal problems, as I'm sure we've all been there, and some of us have not had somebody to be there. I help out anyone I can, as I've most likely been in something similar.

Good luck to all the participants.

I ensue members understand and are able to succeed in their work. Plus I have no money because I never really charge people for my services.

Contributions to HF:

I regularly post helping people with their problems and am often available for one on one help for those who need it. I am always insightful and help people gain a greater understanding of computer systems. I have, for free, taught multiple people C / C++ (Look in my rep). I share knowledge of multiple programming languages (C, C++, ASM x86, HTML, PHP, and intermediate Python, and some Java, CSS and JavaScript) , Operating systems (Windows, Linux, BSDs), Disassembling, and exploiting as well as knowledge on hardware and algorithms on top of numerous other topics. My posts are always HQ sometime spanning paragraphs explaining in detail things to people. I have no negative rep and I am always kind.

And Remember Sharing Is Caring!

Why should you be accepted: I feel I should be accepted because I have been part of Hack Forums for quite a while now. I put effort into everything I post and give what I can where I can. I'm currently having to ask other members to host threads for me that I want to keep active and up-to-date and it would be a lot easier if I didn't need to do that. Being L33T would also allow me to host bigger contests than I have in the past because I wouldn't feel obliged to rush it.

Well to start off I don't even know this member that well but I stumbled upon him in the computer section a while back and ever since then if you look at his post all he tries to do is help people. He's an extraordinary member and he'd go out of his way to help anyone and everyone even if he doesn't like you. His graphics ability is nothing short of amazing and he's a nice guy to chat to and if there ever is a problem with your computer he'd try everything to fix it, he also told me a story about one Christmas he spent his whole Christmas away from his family just to build his friends computer, now if that's not sheer brilliance and deserving a upgrade I don't know what is. He's also the most grateful person you'll ever meet, even if you gave him $1 he'd reject it even though he may want something or need it for himself he'd still reject it because he's just that much of a nice guy.

Why should you be accepted: I am a loyal member to HF, i've been registered on this forum for nearly a year and a half. I keep my posting to a minimum unless people need help or I am posting on my own threads (that's why I have a rather low post count.) I have posted many tutorials for many sections, such as my graphics tutorials and my Minecraft Client Coding ones (using Java). I also tried my hand at doing Minecraft Server reviews and the feedback was generally positive. I have tried to host a HF chess tournament but unfortunately not enough people wanted to participate so I couldn't really get it going.

The winner of this thread is Cl?ssy, should be chose to accept and is eligible for the upgrade.

There were many close users, and took me around 2 hours to finalize my decision, going through posts and what not. If I cannot upgrade Cl?ssy, then it will fall on my runner-up.

Thanks for all applications. Good luck next time.
