Just make a blog with a '.com' and say that you're going to give away drivers or something like that.

You Ub3r people think that if you have the power to minus rep you're gods? I was stating my own opinion, I don't have to lick your ass just because you're Ub3r. I've been working with PPD / CPA long enough, and have more experience in the same field than you for sure, so if I say that that thing will work, it will work.
