Thread: [\[300DPI\] Miyazaki's Spirited Away | DVD Cover Design \[Print Ready\]](#)

Tasemu - February 18, 2013, 5:26 am

Here are the previews below. Comments welcome as always but as always I would prefer if you elaborate on any points you make. If you make a 1 line post pretending to know what you are talking about ill just laugh and move on, if you post something good that I can use or discuss on then ill definitely appreciate the feedback. ^^

Crap not enough yaoi however despite that job well done.

On the rear the bottom left paragraph is out of line. Personally I dislike how large the divx and dvd logos are. Also what design will be going on the spine of the DVD holder? On 'AWAY' there is too much of a gap between 'a' and 'y'. The divider looks a bit cheapish.

Overall a consistent design which is sure to catch the eye.

it Look really good.legit keep it up

I think it's weird that it says 'app 2 hours'? Just put 120 mins, I guess.

As unrep said the a and the y look weirdly aligned, too much space between them imo.

I like the divider.

Good job Tasemu.

Great work. If you drew that.. Fantastic drawings!

Just could use some more color on it.

Overall: 9/10!

TwoFeesh - February 19, 2013, 8:50 am

I think you did a good job matching the colors, making the focus on the whole picture, instead of just one part. I don't think the dark yellow text on the back matches well, I think it would look better if it was black. 9/10.

This look's awesome dude, good job 10/10!

Don't no much about GFX work, can appreciate it though. However I'm a huge Hayao Miyazaki so thought I'd post just to show support.

Honestly, the only issue I can see is that the DivX and DVD logos are too big, but other than that, it's amazing. Try reducing the font size on the back too, perhaps.

8.5/10

Good job nonetheless.
