I first set this blog up in early October, 2012. I believe I've come a long way from that.

I basically post everything I find interesting, ranging from handy tools and wicked tutorials to what I think of the weather this morning.

Address: www.HoodedJustice.me

You can feel completely free to leave me your opinions and suggestions as long as they're honest.

Thanks,
Arcane.cfg

I'm actually always on the look out for authors who can produce original articles.

If you know anyone, ask them to hit me up.
