What does the HackForums members think is going to happen on the new episode in 30 minutes?

Please discuss freely.

I don't know to be exact, but I am freaking excited to see it once again. I really hope they don't take Merle back into the group. Major dick bag lol. Though I'm not going to like it was super baws when they came back in at that last minute to save Rick.

Wow, episode just started and for some reason the audio on my TV isn't syncing with the video, so it looks like an old ass Chinese movie or something. I never in my life...

I am on the same side as you. I want either Rick or Glenn or Daryl, shit, anyone, to beat his ass and put him down for good. He is so hungry for power and also a compulsive liar, even if he thinks he is just protecting people with it.
