What do you wish to win? (L33T or Ub3r) : I wish to Win L33t upgrade

Profile Link : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1572509>

Why do you want Ub3r or L33t? : Because i have spent a lot of time learning from others, and teaching others what i have in store. I have been a member from quite sometime and post on regular basis.. I have never been accused of bad or scamming people. I wish to serve the community to my fullest without asking for anything in return. Being a L33t means getting more into helping others and getting to work harder. I have seen some people with as low as 50 posts and l33t, well, they buy them. I want to earn it. I want someone else to think/believe that i am capable and deserving of being an l33t.

By how much i have put into it, i think i deserve it!

Your contributions : I have contributed in different fields:

Lastly, Thank you "Empire" for being an awesome group of helping and generous members!

Lowered the requirements.

500 is a tad too high.

What do you wish to win? (L33T or Ub3r) : L33T

Profile Link : Graceyy

Why do you want Ub3r or L33t? : Well, I've done some free and paid graphics work on this forum, and I come on here on a daily basis just to look around for open requests, or work on making my graphics better. It sucks that I, who makes signatures for people, cannot even use a signature for himself. I would love to have my own signature on the forum, but that requires L33T. I also need the allotted inbox size increase because I constantly have to clear out my inbox and I've lost some valuable information by doing so.. Lastly, I want to be able to +REP/Neutral people after I finish transactions or deals with them so I can tell his future customers/sellers whether or not he is a trustworthy user.

Okay, some of the work I didn't include here because I felt it was really bad and I'm embarrassed of it because I've gotten better, however, I have included some that are pretty bad and I don't know why I put them here, it'll probably give you a bad impression of my GFX. Thank you for the opportunity to participate in this contest and possibly have a chance at winning L33T. Some of my signatures that I made towards the beginning of this month are pretty bad. :(Still improving and making stuff better! Gonna host a Dota 2 contest this evening as well, so I hope that adds!

Profile Link : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1160594>

Why do you want Ub3r or L33t? : To be able to give my opinion about users so that others may see, as well as for the PM space as I get a lot of messages about helping others.

Your contributions : The only contribution I have made is giving my knowledge and time, however, this has been done in several forms. I reside mainly in the Coding section, as can be seen by me rep and posts. People PM me for help, as well as I help on skype and on threads. I give my time and knowledge yet never ask for anything in return except taking the time to say thank you.

Thanks for this giveaway, I appreciate the opportunity!

Why do you want Ub3r or L33t? :

I'm here for one reason, and you know why. I want and truly believe I deserve this upgrade because I've been a successful trader within the HackForums marketplace. Not a "big" known member, but my rep proves my point on my legitimacy. I only have two negatives, one that should be removed quite soon for violating rep rules, as he was a user who scammed me because he had the title of an UB3R, and the other user being mad because I said the user who reported him was a legit scam report... Anyways getting back on-topic on why I should win/deserve an upgrade is also because it will further more increase my sales whether it be for services I need, or services I'm offering to fellow HackForum members. Another thing is that if I were to become an Ub3r, I would be able to become more of a trusted user around the forum greatly increasing my reputation around the forum, and even off this forum but with other online forum websites.

I've been on HackForums for 3 years now, and I've posted a thread with my feedback, I'm also about to reach that 50 reputation, 0% warn, and very close to that 1000th post.

Most people think, wow three years and you're barely hitting your 1,000th post, it's because I try to refrain myself from being off-topic, and staying away from very illiterate low quality posts.

I haven't been a big factor of helping people with coding as such as I literally have very little knowledge in coding, but what I love doing is helping people with their life, coping with horrid situations they had to go through, such as myself where I have gone through quite a lot too. So my past experiences that aren't so great, or leave a bad memory only encourage ME to help other people not make the same mistakes, or do out of the ordinary.

What do you wish to win? (L33T or Ub3r) : Uber Please

Profile Link : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1536205>

Why do you want Ub3r or L33t? : After being upgraded to leet, I applied for uber as soon as I got my leet position. I was accepted to Uber on my first try which was around a week. I think I deserve this because I have done a significant amount of giveaways not too much but enough to help & give back to the community. I also try and help new members in the community.

The Quality of the contribution does not matter now does it ?
If people did not post news around it would get no were.

Think about it the things you see you know because someone posted them, Then you tell someone them someone else tells someone its how it goes.

vitafortis - March 2, 2013, 8:37 pm

Can we all not bicker about quality, as I believe that is for the OP to decide, not the contestants.
