Number: 9

What i know about Pakistan or its people: I was born in Karachi Pakistan and I've lived there for 12 years. I've seen good presidents like Musharraf and bad presidents like Zardari. I know how it's like to be caught up in a bomb as I've seen it happen to someone in the market. My family watches Geo everyday in order to see what's happening in Pakistan. To be honest, it's gotten worse since I left and moved to Canada in 2009. The prices of everything is really high now and it's hard for people who earn 8,000 rupees a month to live a decent lifestyle. The rich get richer but the poor get poorer.

Vulcan™ - March 8, 2013, 4:37 am

Number: 14 or any other if its taken.

What i know about Pakistan or its people: I am an Indian. And hence have been subject to negative propaganda against Pakistan , but I do not believe in all that crap as both of our nations were one-not a long time ago! Sure Pakistan has problems of a destabilised government, economic instability etc. But that doesn't mean Pakistanis are bad! Pakistan also has great talent be it singers or actors (Ali Zafar) its just that Pakistan is shown in a bad light every time. Which is bad for its people. I don't care about the money, but just a message from across the border . We don't hate you! And we can be even more powerful united than fighting over petty issues!

Things get hot on border at times and soldiers get killed, the only solution to this is to have peace

What i know about Pakistan or its people: I am a fellow Pakistani, And from what I remember before moving to Canada is, Pakistan has its own clothing that mostly everyone wears " Shalwar Kamez " Saudi Arabia is part of the funding for terrorism in Pakistan (Taliban) We have a very bad reputation due to the idiot terrorists.

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Saudi_Arabia_and_state_sponsored_terrorism

Code The violence in Afghanistan and Pakistan is partly bankrolled by wealthy, conservative donors across the Arabian Sea whose governments do little to stop them.[1] Three other Arab countries which are listed as sources of militant money are Qatar, Kuwait, and the United Arab Emirates, all neighbors of Saudi Arabia. Taliban and their militant partners the Haqqani network earn "significant funds" through UAE-based businesses. Kuwait is described as a "source of funds and a key transit point" for al-Qaida and other militant groups.[1][3] The Pakistani militant outfit Lashkar-e-Taiba, which carried out the 2008 Mumbai attacks, used a Saudi-based front company to fund its activities in 2005.[1][4]
