Scam report is legit but I am sure Boody will fix this as he sent me many PP payments and chargedback none so far.

Frankstare - March 9, 2013, 10:04 pm

Looks to be as if he no longer has mentor. Good job, and hopefully he doesn't get to keep his scammed money.

I sold him LR on Feb 17th and he paid me PP to the same PayPal account, he did not charge that one back.

It's either

A) He's an actual Scammer

B) He got someone else to pay me and they charged back. Which I don't understand why he would trust someone else to pay, and not pay him self as he would risk something like this happening.

If that's the case he's out $235 that he'll need to pay back.

Cryptic™ - March 9, 2013, 10:05 pm

It would appear that Omni has demoted him from Mentor.

I guess that rules out his Account being Comprised. As he would have noticed that when he demoted him.

Froggy - March 9, 2013, 10:06 pm

To be honest I cannot say that I would have never expected this. You can't trust anyone on the internet.

Oak - March 9, 2013, 10:06 pm

I'm not sure why my original comment was deleted, it wasn't inflammatory in any way. Some guy just flipped a bitch over it.

So I'll restate it.

I'd need some real proof that it was Boody on the account and/or PayPal. Only an IP check could prove it.

From my past dealings, I don't believe Bood to have such terrible grammar, which leads me to the conclusion that this is a smear campaign or it was someone else on the account. Whether it was the whole time or just the PayPal account, it's possible someone is trying to fuck with Bood.

To those commenting on the fact that a compromised account would've been noticed, I disagree. It can happen.

If PMs were removed and Bood was fairly inactive for a while, shit happens.

We'll see what Bood says.

For the same reason Anonymous uses you as a PP holder, because he can't use PP / PP gifts from his country, or he's perm banned and can't manage to go under PP's radar.

Wait for Bood's reply as the PP acc must be of his friend's and he chargedback without letting bood know.

Yeah but Anon always pays me back. I've done hundreds of deals with him.

+ He's offered to pay me in full LR, If BoodyE gets away with the money.

I can confirm that the post was made by him. At least from his regular ISP. So unless he has a RAT or something the post is legit.

Quote:His PayPal was not raped, I called PayPal and they said he manually opened the dispute on his own, it was not automatic.

It's common that when a PP account is stolen by malicious people they start off by opening disputes and chargebacks to ruin their reputation. I've seen it happen many times.

Quote:Well, Now days you never now, With all the shit that has been going on like all upgraded members getting doxed and all that his account may have been compromised but i highly doubt it. While his HF account might not be compromised you can't be sure his PP account wasn't.

Quote:I wonder what Omni is going to think... I sense a shit storm on the way tho.

I don't see the big shit storm you're talking about. -BoodyE- hasn't replied yet. We don't know the story yet. But as a precaution he's removed from Mentors and Reviewers.

-BoodyE- is on the other side of the world. Give the guy a chance to deal with this. He's not gonna trash a 3 year HF account for a couple hundred lousy bucks.

Quote:Holy shit Mentors is doing scams now . No one Trusted here any more.
One Mentor has ONE bad deal. Relax people. Stop acting like HF got taken over by aliens. Jeez.

I'm closing this for one simple reason. It's attacking my Mentor group more than addressing a deal dispute a member is having.

Quote:B) He got someone else to pay me and they charged back. Which I don't understand why he would trust someone else to pay, and not pay him self as he would risk something like this happening.

Possible. People tend to trust the wrong people on HF all the time and shit does happen.

@Cryptic™ You can PM me if you have an update for this thread and I will open it for you.

And that should tell you something too. Maybe he's having more of a complex problem than you think.

Cryptic™ - March 10, 2013, 12:06 pm

I'm glad to hear it was not -BoodyE- who filed the dispute.

PayPal has closed the dispute in my favor, because when -BoodyE- sent me the money, we asked him to put in the notes, that it was a Virtual Item.

It all worked out for the best.

-BoodyE- does not owe me any money.

We all make mistakes and this was a good learning experience, just shows it's best to make payments from your personal account rather than rely on someone else. Especially when dealing with large sums like these.

Hopefully we all learn from these mistakes and prevent it from happening in the future.
