Thread: [\[Recruiting\] Solar - New group now recruiting...](#)

Toph Beifong - March 10, 2013, 8:10 am

Team Solar, now recruiting.

Solar is a group of individuals who have come together to share the information and knowledge. Solar is made unique in the fact that it does not just accept anyone, once you have proven yourself in your specific field then you may be accepted.

Solar is designed to only allow one person for a specific topic, there cannot be two people covering for example (Web development or Hacking). To begin with we will communicate and share idea's via Skype, although I am currently working on an encrypted private chat.

We won't have a single "leader" as that suggest some are better than others. We will just have respect for each other, this can only be earned.

I know what you might be thinking, what will you(Mr. P-teo) be bringing to the group? Well I will be our PHP specialist, and although there are far more knowledgeable people out there, PHP and web development is actually my full time job so I think I qualify.

So... How may I apply?

You may apply via the form below or invite may be sent out to those who have risen above the crowd to show there skill and ability.

Rules and Regulations.

Cannot have below -5 Reputation.

Can only apply for one spot in a respective field.

Must be respectful to other members.

Hacking in the name of Solar isn't allowed until it has been discussed.

Must speak confident English.
