I had a specific person that I wanted to RAT, and he was willing to sit down with me and walk me through the entire process. He even went as far as to talk to the person himself and persuaded them to download my file. I had been looking for help in the RAT section for a really long time, and many of the other RAT help desks would ignore me whenever I asked them for help, gave me information that didn't help solve my problems, didn't want to take the time to go on TeamViewer to help me, etc. He's been the nicest, most helpful, and most readily available I've seen running a RAT help desk so far. If you're looking for RAT help, I couldn't recommend anybody else.

You're not the worst here.

ClapTrap thinks he is #1 ratter and owns all the newfags and thinks its his section.

No, just no.

Everyone was a beginner back in the day, we grow by experience, and OP is new and he will get experienced. Especially when skids are bugging his help desk thread.

1. Very rarely does a remote admin tool use UDP protocol.. almost always TCP because UDP drops packets, which is in turn data.

2. How do I port forward a wireless USB

3. What should I do if my router doesn't support NAT loopbacks?

Most routers support both TCP and UDP portforwarding.

I would set up a static IP through my router. There will be an option such as Virtual settings.

I do not know last one. I did not say I know everything. BUT enough to answer all the question people are asking. No one has asked anything such as the ones you are.

The answers

UDP

Can't port forward wireless USB

Change your no-ip to your localhost IP 127.0.0.1 then test. If that works then your RAT will work.

I'm asking you questions?

You have a RAT support thread don't you?I can actually test my stub on myself using my no-ip, dont have to use 127.0.0.1, but you can. Also, yes you can. Do some research. You can for certain ones.

You don't understand do you?

Just because no-ip works for you, that's great.

But when other users don't support NAT loopbacks and they test there server. That's different.

Also, I wouldn't really recommend this RAT support.

You should go learn some more about remote administration tools. Come to me for lessons. Thanks.

I personally use DarkComet and Blackshades. I use Fileprotector, but I may buy DataProtector. I spread through blogs, Youtube, and torrents. Have been very successful lately with spreading. You should look into Blackshades as a paid RAT!

Use Darkcomet and I do not know any FUD free crypters. Tyna crypter is free and is like 5/35 right now. I can give you a free crypt if you need it! I do not make any money off my crypts for other users. Totally free! Let me know!

Hey Rat Setup,

I have successfully set up jRAT.

I made a no-ip account, followed your instructions in the tutorial and made a .jar file and built it and it was successful.

Then I created a new socket with the default name. I left the port number as is and I added my pass and encryption key.

after that I clicked on listen... What is supposed to happen next? cause when i click on "main" tab nothing shows up.

and what am I supposed to do with the .jar file? Is that the file I'm supposed to send to the computer

I'm trying to connect to? I tired opening that file on my computer but It couldn't be opened "The Java JAR file cannot be opened". If this jar file is the file that will infect the target computer, how can I execute it? because it doesn't open.

I'm using a mac and the target computer is also a mac. Please Help.

Thank you

Since he has AV and FW off for ratting, they wont notice it anyway right?

Hey Rat Setup, just wondering but when I'm attempting to JDB the "Site requires you to run this" is not popping up, and it doesn't pop up the run software. Please help me, that would be great. My .html code is correct, I don't know what's going on though. :(

Help is appreciated thanks man :D

OP,

Loves to post in other RAT Service threads... Advertising his RAT Service, and telling users to PM him.

Because he "believes" that the Thread owner is currently offline. When he isn't even apart of that group.

Ignorant, UnRational, No Common Sense.

If you were more concerned about your service thread and less concerned about what other users "love", then I wouldn't have had to help that person. I noticed you had not answered for awhile and was just trying to help. If I had not that user could have gotten mad about the wait and left a poor review of your thread.

RAT Setup is literally the most helpful person I've ever met on HF. I had a specific person that I wanted to RAT, and he was willing to sit down with me and walk me through the entire process. He even went as far as to talk to the person himself and persuaded them to download my file. I had been looking for help in the RAT section for a really long time, and many of the other RAT help desks would ignore me whenever I asked them for help, gave me information that didn't help solve my problems, didn't want to take the time to go on TeamViewer to help me, etc. He's been the nicest, most helpful, and most readily available I've seen running a RAT help desk so far. If you're looking for RAT help, I couldn't recommend anybody else.

Bit of a precise question here:

port forwarding works fine as long as there is no VPN involved (currently trying vpnbook). Does that depend on the VPN-provider or am i doing something wrong fundamentally? If it does depend on the provider, do you have any tips for a good one with good bandwith and "port-forwarding" if that's even a thing.

Business - April 3, 2013, 4:53 am

There are many ways to spread. Depending on your target audience, chose wisely. For starters, I suggest Youtube. Make, or download and reupload a video of your choice and put a direct download link to your file in the description.

I've done the NO-IP thing, setup a DarkComet rat etc, but I always get stuck on the port-forwarding. Think you could help me out with that? It shouldn't take more than a couple of minutes for someone with experience in the field.

Try using this site.

http://portforward.com/english/routers/port\_forwarding/routerindex.htm#L

It has guides on how to port forward with many routers. If it doesn't help, let me know and I will do it for you.

I am guessing you are referring to its meaning while "ratting". Some routers support NAT Loopback, some do not. If your router does support NAT Loopback, you can test your own stub on yourself. If not, then you can not.

canadasnitemare - May 2, 2013, 1:39 am

ILL take any help i can get because my router is port forwarded to 2 ports that i set up the other day,1933 and 1945 i totally forgot untill i looked into my router page tryna figure out why all day no port was open during testing,now i know but not sure why the 2 are allowed ans thats all. my darkcomet wont work no matter what config i try .... it builds the stub and saves the file but doesnt show up,why could nat loopback be a problem? is that why i cant test it on myself except when i build a quick stub?

What Remote Administration Tool are you using: DarkComet (latest)

Do you have teamviewer: yes

What is the problem you're currently experiencing: Privileges error. Cant open any new installs of DC or associated file types.

I would love some help, allow me to elaborate.

*I am using Darkcomet.

*I have my No-IP DUC running.

*I have no special features enabled on the generated stub.

*I have firewalls/AVs off on the host computer and the infected computer.

*I have my ports forwarded correctly, checked by <http://canyouseeme.org/>

*I have had another user who has a lot of experience with Darkcomet try to help me, but even he couldn't figure out the problem.

I plan on buying Blackshades, but I want to make sure it won't be a problem like Darkcomet is being. If you're willing to help, please PM me, I might even be able to spare you a fiver if you get everything working for me.

Would also like to get a few slaves if you wouldn't mind and/or some help with spreading...

Please PM me if you can help :)

Thanks :)

You create a file and then use it to gain connections by running it on computers.

kraxyk - May 5, 2013, 11:32 am

Ok I'm just confused on which file I create and how...I've used other RAT's and usually there is a shell script or other configuration program to make the stub.

stupidplayboy - August 21, 2013, 5:26 am

Help me getting passwords of fb accounts by using dc 5.3...

i tried alot but "stored password" option doesn't show any password for fb accounts, it only shows web pass i.e gmail.com or yahoo.com on second option "keylogger" it only shows key strokes, but many of slaves remeber their password on their browsers so they just type usernames....

how can i get their passwords...

i manually tried to clear their cookies but still it doesn't work.

any best solution ??

sory for my bad english

Have you tried using Anubis to test your non-crypted stub yet?

Annoited - August 21, 2013, 10:01 am @Business. I've PM'd you again, please respond. Thanks ?

iSnitch - August 21, 2013, 10:15 am

What is Anubis?

I am not aware of it xd

Business - August 21, 2013, 10:16 am

Upload your NOT CRYPTED file here:

<http://anubis.iseclab.org/>

enter four digit code, let test run. If everything is set up perfect, you will receive a temporary connection.

Hey Business.

I am using Darkcomet with NVPN, NO-IP for my setup for over a year now. I noticed that when I start Darkcomet prior to starting NVPN two slaves appear in darkcomet (this has never happened before). When I connect to NVPN, the two slave drop off and my other slaves appear. This just started a week ago. I have not changed any settings and those two slaves have been there for months. Any ideas?

hello , i crypted my server with my friend crypter "data protector" to infect the guy who hacked me long time ago and i infected that guy but when he restart his computer i dont have him anymore in my RAT i think my startup isnt working can you please crypt my server i dont have money on paypal actually i can do what you want but please crypt it before he restart his computer :s :( thanks in advance

Did you add startup to the file you infected him with?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 8:46 am yea i added startup on the crypter but when my slave is restarted his computer i lost him , he opened the file again now and i need to upload another server that have startup enabled and working :s

Business - August 25, 2013, 8:47 am

You are not adding it when building your stub also, right? Only during crypting?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 8:52 am no , my friend created the stub with me on team viewer he didnt added the startup on darkcomet omg !! i think i lost the only slave i want to hack :S he is not here anymore

Business - August 25, 2013, 8:53 am

Ok, what crypter are you using? Is your port open?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 8:56 am yea my port are open and my friend is using data protector he crypted my server

Business - August 25, 2013, 8:59 am

Why not try to test the stub before you crypt it, then tell me if that works?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 9:09 am yea i tested the stub with sandboxie and it's working , my friend is offline actually can i add you on skype when he will be online i will call you :s

Business - August 25, 2013, 9:10 am

I do not use Skype. Have you tried testing the stub before you crypt it, on Anubis?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 9:11 am no , but when i infect someone i can see him on my darkcomet but when he restart his computer i dont see him anymore do you want my team viewer ? i'm new at this stuff :s it's ok if u can't i dont want to disturb you

Business - August 25, 2013, 9:15 am

I would love to TV you, just trying to figure this out first. What settings do you use on stub?

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 9:19 am

UPX ultimate packer executable and nothing else , me and my friend tried to enable started only on crypter and on both but it's always laggy slave dont show up after restarting

Business - August 25, 2013, 9:24 am

Please use no compression for best results.

killer34000 - August 25, 2013, 9:26 am

What programs should I get to keep myself from being infected (by myself or others?)

I have a protection suite, but after reading so much on this page I have also downloaded malwarebytes.

There's a ton of tut's here, that's a problem! Is there a before you start tut? Is there a tut that you recommend?

I guess what Im looking for mostly is what do I need to do before I even begin to RAT? I expect the list to be long?

Use a VPN if you are really paranoid. I suggest nVPN.

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 5:22 pm hello again Business. sorry to disturb you again but,i want to hack the gmail of my important slave but it says "a message has been sent to your phone..." i think if i use my slave ip it will not say that but i dont know how to use my slave ip can you help me please

Business - August 27, 2013, 5:23 pm

You can wait until they walk away from their comp, and then sign them out of the account, and wait for your keylogger to pick it up.

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 5:29 pm

i have the password but when i try to log on his account it says to type the code that has been sent to his phone

Business - August 27, 2013, 5:31 pm

He has extra verification on his account, to stop hackers. I suggest you try to get what you need from HIS COMPUTER, when he walks away, falls asleep, etc.

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 5:33 pm

ok i will try thanks i hope he will not catch me :s

Business - August 27, 2013, 5:37 pm

Even if he does, what is the worst thing he could do?

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 5:39 pm

he will try to remove my rat ,can you infect him with your server i dont want to lose him :s because my server startup is laggy sometime it's not working can i infect my important slave with your server please

Business - August 27, 2013, 5:41 pm

Why not just install another stub for a different RAT on him? Do you have another RAT?

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 5:41 pm

i lost a lot of important slave because of my server badly crypted >< i'm so sad i infected the guy who infected me and hacked my account long time ago :(

i never used another rat than darkcomet i dont have other rat :(

Business - August 27, 2013, 5:45 pm

Do you have a crypter? You need one to upkeep the FUDness of your file.

I highly suggest that you get and use another rat if you are losing slaves, or buy a good vouched crypter. I would just buy another rat. Darkcomet is buggy for me.

GetOut - August 27, 2013, 6:04 pm

I can only see myself in the Users tab on DarkComet, but it feels like I should have atleast one slave thanks to my spreading. Any tips?

Business - August 27, 2013, 6:05 pm

Is your file FUD? Are you using your No-Ip hostname when building you stub?

I can't find any proper (free) crypter, so no not really ;-;

Somebody should have been dumb enough to try it though.

Business - August 27, 2013, 6:24 pm

There is not really a free crypter worth having. Even if they download it, their AV will pick it up. (Most likely)

I've tried three free crypters, every one of them got detected by chrome the second I tried downloading the server in a .ZIP

Sucks because my PayPal is locked so I can't even buy any even if I can afford them ;-;

killer34000 - August 27, 2013, 6:46 pm

my file is FUD but i dont have a crypter i'm planning to buy one next month and i dont want to lose my actual important slave :s

Ricky? - August 27, 2013, 6:57 pm

Hey man I need some help with my darkcomet RAT. Well I got my RAT done and I ratted my self. So on dark comet it shows up that I have 1 RAT ( me ) I spread my RAT and got downloads for sure! I am sure they clicked the rat and opened it. But they dont show up on dark comet. Does this take time to update? If so how long?

Please PM me back if you know the problem.

Thanks alot

I'm having a little problem connecting to a slave outside of my network, it seems to work fine if it's on a computer within my network. I'm using DC. I used the site to check if i portforward right and it says I did and its allowed through my firewall idk what to do next.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:02 pm

Hey again Business.

I am connected to a slave via DarkComet 5.3 trying to remote desktop. I am able to connect and view the desktop but not control the mouse or keyboard. Im trying to do this to spread my RAT, but cant seem to get this to work. Any suggestions?

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:05 pm

It may be due to connection speed. Try messing with the setting and seeing if you can get them to work.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:08 pm

I have it on low quality and this specific person only lives a couple blocks away from me. I know its not the connection because if I use the command to open a terminal it pops right up. and I can see the messagebox and the dialog but cant type or click anything. I also tried messing with the control options but nothing helps.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:10 pm

Try uploading and executing a new stub to their computer, some times that helps. A fresh connection.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:11 pm

And how about can I do that? Update the sever via file?

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:12 pm

Just use the "Upload and Execute" function.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:16 pm

Ok, Ill try that now. While I do that, mind if you could answer another questions for me? I apologize I am fairly new at this. How do I bypass AV? Is that Crypting? If so, which crypting software would you recommend? I am trying not to spend money right now due to the fact I am new to this.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:17 pm

Crypting is how we bypass AV. I can not suggest a free crypter. I suggest RazorCrypt2

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:21 pm

Very well, Uploading and Executing a new stub did not work. Still the same problems exist.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:23 pm

Odd. Does it work with other people you have infected, or is it not working for everyone?

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:25 pm

Im not sure, I havent infected anyone else yet.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:26 pm

I suggest you figure out if the problem is with that slave alone, or a bigger problem. I can help more if you need it.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:28 pm

I would appreciate all the help I could get. If you have time.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:28 pm

Quick question, is your file crypted? This will help me understand your situation.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:30 pm

No it is not. I had access to the computer so I disabled their AV for the moment.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:30 pm

Well, I suggest that you get it crypted for starters. This will ensure you do not loose the connection. You will have you update the victim with a FUD file often.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:33 pm

I understand that for other slaves but for this particular one, I doubt they will ever realize their AV is offline. This one was just for me to get familiar with RATing

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:36 pm

So, you can not control the keyboard or screen, correct?

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:36 pm

That is correct. But I can connect to the desktop perfectly and view.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:39 pm

Is the keylogger working fine? Is it sending keystrokes?

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:41 pm

My keylogger still has no log and this person has not been to their computer ever since I installed the RAT on their computer. So I am assuming that the remote desktop is not send any keystrokes.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:43 pm

When you view the desktop controller, what do you see?

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:44 pm

I see their web explorer and the terminal that opened when I used the "Open Terminal" command in "Related cmd". Along with their taskbar.

Business - August 29, 2013, 3:46 pm

Hmm... If you contact me later, I will be able to take a closer look.

Jestar - August 29, 2013, 3:47 pm

kenzeeman - August 31, 2013, 5:38 am

In your tutorial, why did you tell us to uncheck "Start the stub with Windows (Installation)"?

Doesn't that make it so he would have to run the stub again for him to be infected if he restarted his computer?

I want my people to always be on my DarkComet without running it again, is that possible??

Just tested it on myself. I ran my stub and restarted my computer and I'm not on my RAT anymore.

Business - August 31, 2013, 8:34 am

You add startup in your crypter. Adding startup in both will corrupt the file.

(Aug 31, 2013 08:34 AM)Business. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You add startup in your crypter. Adding startup in both will corrupt the file.

Ah, okay. My crypter doesnt have a startup selection, so I will just use DarkComet to startup, right?

I would not suggest using startup in DC.

Business - August 31, 2013, 9:03 am

Startup commonly fails when added in Dark Comet.

kenzeeman - August 31, 2013, 9:05 am

But if he restarts his computer more than once, will it have a good chance of working?

Or, once I infect them, is there a way I can make it always startup on startup?

I suggest buying a crypter with a startup option.

how do I find the encryption key for a server that I created previously? JRAT

I tried it with the utility "reverser", but it always fails.

I have slave by older server, this ping on jrat socket.

Every 2-3 second appear this ballon:

server xxx.xxx.xxx.xxx/xx disconnected: SocketException:
socket closed

/xx the port change any time. xxx.xxx.xxx.xxx is always my ip.

Is probably a knock on the same socket but with a different encryption key.
because I know the password.

what's the utility reverser? Maybe does not do what I thought ?

Hi, I have my DarkComet 5.3 rat setup and the port it's using is 81 and it says its opened on Canyouseeme.org but then when I try and infect myself it doesn't come up in the users or socket/net?

Business - September 3, 2013, 5:13 am

You can not always test on yourself. Try using Anubis. Upload your NON-CRYPTED file to Anubis, enter the four character code, and start to test. If all goes well, you will get a temporary connection via DC.

<http://anubis.iseclab.org/>

Mutiny - September 3, 2013, 5:24 am

Okay so it just came back with the test ID and other things, how do if it worked? like the dc thing

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3680749>

vindianv - September 3, 2013, 3:36 pm

I understand and did pretty much everything on that, but since I have gotten a new IP/router/ISP I have to reopen those ports so DC can listen to them. I have opened the ports on my router but they are just still not showing as open.

Business - September 3, 2013, 3:42 pm

The main problem, even after reading my tutorial, is usually Windows Firewall. Check that your three tabs in Windows Firewall advanced settings match the ones in that thread. Let me know if this helps.

vindianv - September 3, 2013, 3:43 pm

nope, checked those and all those are off. I think that I will need a VPN

Business - September 3, 2013, 3:45 pm

Are they on "allow" as well as off? That is very important.

vindianv - September 3, 2013, 3:47 pm

yes they are all on allow and off, checking my router firewall as we speak

Business - September 3, 2013, 3:48 pm

Try enabling UPnP in your router if you can. I have seen that fix the problem as well.

vindianv - September 3, 2013, 3:51 pm

its enabled, and still nothing. the router is provided from the ISP, fuck this sucks lol

So I got my Dark Comet all set up, I've infected a machine and everything is working just fine. Now I was how to encrypt it in a way that will auto-run/install the RAT on a machine without like asking the user to run the program, and without having anyone to click it.

Ideally just plugging in a USB drive and have it infect the machine incognito. Or binding it with an image that'll open both the image and execute the RAT.

I've heard of ways to write an .inf code and that plugging in the USB could execute the file instantly on Windows XP. Anything like that that could work online and/or on both XP, Vista and 7?

Got any suggestions or tips for me? That would be really appreciated.

Thank you for your time.

Business - September 3, 2013, 8:37 pm

I suggest buying RazorCrypt2. It is an amazing crypter. You still have to run the file if it is on a USB drive. Auto run is mostly patched.

TuTu - September 3, 2013, 8:44 pm

I'll checkout that crypter for sure.

Business, could it be that his ports only open when used? So you could portforward everything correctly but when your ports are not actively being listened to with your ratting program they wont be open. That was the case with my setup. If use canyouseeme.org with DC closed. It will show the ports closed, but if I open DC the ports will show as open.

Business - September 6, 2013, 3:56 pm

What do you have to finish? Be specific.

vindianv - September 6, 2013, 4:02 pm

Remember last night, I was saying I kinda wanted you to run through the recommended setting that you think would be best for me to get on my rat as well as why the rat worked on sand boxie before being crypting but after it gave me an error.

Business - September 6, 2013, 4:05 pm

What crypter are you using? What settings?

vindianv - September 6, 2013, 4:06 pm

RazerCrypt. As far as the crypting process goes, i open the crypter, select my stub and click crypt i dont mess with other settings

Business - September 6, 2013, 4:07 pm

What settings do you use when making your stub?

vindianv - September 6, 2013, 4:08 pm

uhm, none because i dont know what exactly to choose, thats what I was kinda hoping you could walk me through

Business - September 6, 2013, 4:15 pm

Enjoy.

OK, so i got the test with anubis, now once i crypt it (using the settings you gave me) as well as using it with foxyjava jdb, it should work with sandboxie correct?

when trying to make my jdb, it keeps saying could not attach your file with our hosting. I am using your file manager to get the link. is this a foxyjava side issue or something that I am doing wrong?

Business - September 6, 2013, 4:37 pm

I suggest contacting Foxy Java support for JDB assistance.

On jRAT, when I close out of jRAT, and re-open it, it makes the socket disappear, and when I try to add it, it says that it is already in use by something.

I am positive that the port isn't running on anything else.

Make sure you do not have two instances of jRAT running.

Alright, am I going to have to add the socket every single time? Because it doesn't save.

polochon - September 6, 2013, 10:57 pm

Hey do you know how to port fowarding with vpn easily ? What vpn ?what port?
Thanks

vindianv - September 6, 2013, 11:36 pm

Well it depends on the VPN you are using. I have used blackshades vpn and nvpn. With blackshades vpn all ports are open as soon as you start using them. So for example if you open DarkComet and listen on port 1604. If you would then go to any port checker the port would be open. With nvpn to open a port you would have to go through their member portal and there is a tab in there named "port forwarding" you would click on that and simply add the port that you need. As far as which port, I believe you can technically use any port that you want. I personally use DarkComet and their default port is 1604. Every program is a bit different so you will have to figure this out on a case by case basis there is no real answer. Goodluck!

polochon - September 7, 2013, 1:23 am

I buy nvpn but it doesnt work on my computer, do you recommended nvpn or blackshades vpn?

I've got it all setup now, says my port is open, but when I run my stub to test it, It's not showing up in DarkComet :(

It says in the Socket/Net tab that there are three things in the bottom section, one is listening and two are establishing. I'm guessing that has something to do with it? :S

Not all routers support NAT Loopback, so you can not test on yourself.

I have a quick question here. First of all, it's been years since I've used DC, probably over 2 or so years, but if I recall correctly didn't DC used to have an option to inject into explorer.exe? I'm not sure if it's the crypter I used this time around or if it's DC by default but it seems to be injecting into default browsers (IE, Firefox) and then crashing, which then kills the RAT. Am I correct in assuming 5.3.1 doesn't inject into explorer.exe by default or have I just overlooked something?

Ok, I'll double check that then. If I use the minimalist builder and do not crypt the file, for testing purposes, does DC inject into explorer.exe or does it just run as "filename".exe?

Business - September 7, 2013, 12:04 pm

It will simply run as a separate process.

Ok, I dont know if you will be able to answer this. But the last few times I have tried RAT'ing I have gotten about 8 slaves and then none after that. I spread via youtube, Also this may seem fundamental but for what purpose do people RAT. Unless they have a pretty good rig then you cant really btc mine. Thanks :)

Business - September 8, 2013, 6:13 am

As for you lack of connections, is your file FUD? This plays a vital role in spreading.

As for the purpose of ratting, many people do it to obtain information from people they know, such as a boss, spouse, or friend.

For BTC mining, you can easily set up an IRC bot to hold your connections and store them until you have a sufficient amount.

Yes, port 80 is still blocked. What do you mean by ' different testing method ' ?

Business - September 12, 2013, 10:25 pm

If port 80 was truly blocked, you would not be on this site right now.

Try using Anubis scanner or Sandboxie to test your file.

It may be worth mentioning you need to be listening to the port through DC for you to get a response.

Open up Darkcomet, click on the top left and add port 81 and then go back to canyouseeme.org

Business - September 12, 2013, 10:30 pm

If port 80 is coming up as closed on CYSM for him, any port forwarding methods will not change his results on the site.

Even if the UPnP on DC worked, it would not show on the site for him.

What is the point of a RAT really?? Is it to basically spy on what the user is searching etc?? Can you force your slave rats to click on your adfly links?? What is the business side behind setting up some rats??

Business - September 15, 2013, 6:28 am

You can completely control the victim's computer with a RAT.

T0ucaNSaM - September 15, 2013, 7:00 am

But they cant see you control there computer right. Like they could be on FB and you can be downloading software onto there computer?? Of course you want to be anon soo i would delete specific events in event viewer if the target has windows of course. Yo have any advice for anonymity when it comes to infecting someone with a RAT??

Business - September 15, 2013, 7:10 am

If they are looking at their computer, they can see you moving anything. You can use a VPN for some protection.

Sergeyevich - September 15, 2013, 7:59 am

A miniscule amount of additional security. You can go full anon-fag and park a van outside a coffee shop and use their WiFi + a VPN if you want to.

Enable "boot on startup" when making your stub.

lordryuu - September 15, 2013, 6:47 pm

I did... Still doesn't work.

I've googled and there are some people having trouble with this as well.

Business - September 15, 2013, 6:51 pm

You do not enable startup when making your stub. You add it when crypting the file.

lordryuu - September 15, 2013, 6:58 pm

Can you name a good free crypter that does that? I know there are no perfect crypters that is free but there must be some very good ones that has most of the antiviruses undetected and have the startup feature.

Business - September 15, 2013, 7:03 pm

I can not recommend any free crypters because they do not work well.

lordryuu - September 15, 2013, 7:08 pm

Well, just found out that the old crypter I was using had the startup option and it worked. Only problem is it's not FUD but almost UD.

Thanks anyways :D

Business - September 15, 2013, 7:12 pm

It is not anywhere near FUD. That is why I will not recommend a free crypter. Hardly a use in spreading without a FUD crypter.

So here's my problem. Whenever I try and open anything such as logs, cam, passwords (everything) on my slave, my slave gets disconnected. I tested on my other computer and it worked perfectly fine. I also have 1 slave that the problem doesn't occur. My other 12 that I have gotten have been disconnected as soon as I try anything. I already deleted and re-installed DarkComet. I'm using DarkComet 5.3.1. It makes no sense to me. I can view some slaves (me and 1 other) but the rest disconnect...Any idea how to fix?

Thanks ?

I suggest using a paid crypter if anything. Most free crypters are not refudged and will not bypass most AVs. I know of a couple free ones but they read like 7/32 on scans.

I am either very retarded or im not doing something correctly, when I try to open a RAT program it says I dont have permission and I need it from the user I am already on. I have disabled my antivirus, and im thinking about resorting to a VM.

I have a very important q, i got a random connection on my njrat server from "0E2E44DF465C41A_Administrator_F0735BD5" for about 20 seconds or so. desktop capture showed a dsktop with no items on it exept my server (renamed with random looking letters) recyclebin and an item with a black camel icon. The ip was from germany but none of my frendz who i sent the test server to is anywhere near germany so i guess it was a vpn? the desktop didn't have any activity just connected and disconnected cursor didn't even move? what's the deal here?????

How come when I try to open a RAT program, the download fails, I have to have permission from the user I am already on, (I get this error when I try to extract it from a RAR file.) Or I get an error that states "Windows cannot access the specified device, path, or file. You may not have the appropriate permissions to access the item". (I get this error when I try to run it from a RAR file.) Then when I finally DO get it out of the RAR file, the program i want to use (In this case DarkComet.exe) windows deletes it.?

I have closed any Malware/Antivirus programs.

YouTube... I know its kind of risky but the video had nothing besides good feedback, and it was before I had found this awesome website. Also I only ran the RAT I got from YouTube in Sandboxie. I am actually thinking about buying Babylon, But I want it to be able to run... With my experience so far I havn't been able to accomplish that with DarkComet. I'm afraid Babylon will do the same.

I've followed Jackk's tutorial on YouTube and made sure everything is setup correctly. I've added the corresponding rules in the Windows Firewall as well in my AV's. I've also managed to create a stub and open it with the correct settings but still, nothing in DarkComet.

I'm using Norton Symantec if that's any help.

CanYouSeeMe clearly says that the port is accessible.

I tried to send RAT as attachment but gmail removes it. I don't know programming and I don't now how to crypt it (without paying anyway). Is uploading RAT on Google Drive and emailing the link to the drive a good method? Thanks

Nice to see how you and your team are helping other people out!

I am looking for nanocore for a long time. Most of the time i find a cracked Alcatrazz version, which i think, is also used as a rat hahaha.

Do you know were i can find the right version?

I can help you tonight, but I am at work now.

Are you testing locally? Are you using a dns domain name or local IP for the test?

kd0101 - October 14, 2018, 2:15 pm

i have used both dns domain name which i created on noip.com and my vpn ip also still same issue.

finding it difficult to make quassar builds that work any reason for this qingo00 - October 14, 2018, 10:02 pm

I got some problems with Quasar. I got the client to connect, but shortly after that when I make some actions client disappear. My client.exe is crypted and FUD.

What would be the reason for this?

It could be that. It could also be instability with the connection. Do they ever come back online? If they do, it's a stability issue IMO.

Yes it is built with persistence. They never come back. I was thinking that persistence is the problem. I will build it without persistence next time.

Thanks for the help.

Thanks for the help.If they're never coming back, it sounds like it's an issue with your stub, not the connection after all.

Were you applying persistence in the crypt settings AND the stub server builder? Double-layering configurations can mess with stability as well.

I'm applying persistence in the crypter only, stub server builder is clean. When tested in VM everything was good and stable.

What features are enabled in the build settings?

Only keylogger option is enabled in Quasar build settings.

When tested on 2 separate VM's everything was smooth and fine, and that started to happen on outside connections.

One was lost in a second, and 2nd after minute, and both never come back.

Some connections are coming back now. Some are getting lost again after I make some actions, and some are stable.

So it is persistence error?

In crypter i`m using startup - hidden - system, and persistence, try bypass UAC, and sleep option.

Software is not cracked.

I got one more question ?

I got some problems with NjRat Lime, clean sever.exe works great, but when crypted i see connection fine but i can`t send any command, even uninstall.

I tested with 2 different crypters, but get the same result.

Any advice on this?

Don't use No-IP: <https://www.noip.com/blog/2014/07/10/microsoft-takedown-details-updates/>

This sounds like you have everything set up properly, but are testing improperly. Try building a test stub with 127.0.0.1 as the IP. Then, download Sandboxie from: <https://www.sandboxie.com/>

Drag your test stub into the sandboxie work area and see if you get a connection. Make sure you are listening to the proper port and that all firewall/AV is off.
