Thread: 3 years, 4 months and counting ... UPDATE: Now 5 years and 7 months

King - March 12, 2013, 10:36 am

The beginning:

I don't remember why I joined HF. Most likely, I wanted to hack Zynga poker chips. Not sure though.

I registered on 05-11-2009. 3 years ago. I started to read threads, post sometimes and that lasted until I joined my first group, The Reviewers. (I got ub3r before that of course)

Being a reviewer:

It was a big achievement to join a group in the past, let alone joining a group that has site objectives. There were no paid groups back then. I think there were only a few groups: The Alliance, Reviewers, ... some others were removed by Omniscient later ... DC Inc? Not sure.

Anyway, I passed my trials on there and became a fledged reviewer. It was great. After a few months, I was promoted to a leader. I was so happy back then and I was really active. I did a great job. I resigned after 1 year then got promoted once again. I helped Omniscient with the new system (premium section). Then a few months ago, I decided to resign and stay as a normal reviewer. I gave this group all what I could; Paradoxum, Skill and some others can say if this is true or not. (I was kicked 2 days ago, will explain why later)

Marketplace:

HF has one of the best marketplaces ever. There are no limits. People bank thousands every month selling stuff there. There are some restrictions but all in all it's great. In the past, I used to sell e-books and re-sell products such as crypters, keyloggers and stressers. It was a great experience and I made some nice cash. Later on, due to competition and lack of time, I stopped selling stuff and decided to do some small currency exchanges. This is what I'm doing right now.

Becoming Mentor:

This was one of the best things that happened to me on HF. As you all know, mentors are picked by Omniscient. Therefore, becoming a mentor shows that Omniscient kind of sees that you're doing something good for the community. Your job is to help keep HF clean. Mentors don't have permissions like Staff, but they can junk threads in forums they moderate. Yeah, so I used to junk spammed threads, delete posts, answer questions, and help members.

Losing Mentor and Reviewer:

Okay.. I don't want to depress you, but this was really bad. Losing all what you've achieved for being in the wrong position and timing sucks.

Like I said earlier, I'm currently exchanging e-currencies. I was a middleman between two parties. Exchanging LR to PP. $235 to $170 (I guess). The first party sent the LR to my account, the other party then sent the PP money to the first party. After verifying everything, I sent the LR to the second party without taking any fee. :)

After a few weeks, I woke up and find a scam report on me with many PMs, I was like WTF is going on? Scam Report. Cryptic did send me a PM but I didn't read it because I was sleeping (different time zones). You know the guys on HF, they started posting "mentors are now scamming", "can't trust anyone on HF", etc.. Omniscient had to reply and close the thread, remove me from Mentors and Reviewer. I posted this thread to explain everything. While the decision seems unfair, it was the best decision IMHO. I had the self-pity first, but now I'm trying to get over it. It terribly sucks though.

Shootouts:

First off, I'd like to thank Omniscient for keeping HF alive. HF is not a simple forum, it's a whole community. You can do whatever you want here. Omniscient has a lot on his plate everyday and he deals with a hell of problems. We should all thank him for that.

Members that I like and would like to thank: Omniscient, Factor8, Skill, Paradoxum, Sir, Joey Tribbiani, Crow, Positive, Judge Dredd,
I know there are more but I will update this later. :)

UPDATE: After 2 years and 3 months. A total of 5 years and 7 months.

It's so amazing that time flies away very very fast. I still remember these days as if it was yesterday. I'm still here. Browsing threads and posting sometimes. I lost all my reputation but that's okay. I'm sure many members still trust me and I thank you for that. If anyone needs a friend, I'm a PM away.

Cryptic™ - March 12, 2013, 10:38 am

It's very unfortunate it happened to you. :(You were a great mentor. You should have told me someone else was making that payment for you, then I wouldn't have made that scam report right away.

Other than that, your feed back is good and well structured.

Positive - March 12, 2013, 10:44 am

Sad to see you get removed from Reviewers as-well as Mentor.
You were good at both.

Hope we can still talk as we have in the past.

Phobix - March 12, 2013, 10:44 am

After personally reviewing things that went down between you and that other member OP, he should have waited for you to come online before making a report about it. Things get settled IRL by having a calm discussion before police are involved; the same principle applies here.

It sucks you lost your mentor status. I haven't personally met you yet, but I have seen you around and you're a good guy. I understand why Omni took it away, and I hope it was only temporary.

Stand tall soldier. A soldier without his gun is still a soldier; uphold our rules and enforce our HQ ethics even without your shiny badge. :)

I waited around an hour hoping -BoodyE- would get online, and then when the other party escalated the dispute to to a claim, I opened the dispute.

Thanks for this Phobix. Of course, I won't turn into a LQ member as I don't know how to do it. ?

I understand this and you were looking out for your own well being. I respect that. I still feel you should have waited for an official word from him first.

Again, my opinion. He wouldn't throw his 3 year + account away (and mentor status) for a couple hundred dollars.

Nice feedback. I feel sorry that you lose reviewer and mentor though :/

True. But let's just end the discussion about this report. ?

Apple J4ck. - March 12, 2013, 11:47 am

Sad to hear that you got removed from Mentor, you were a great one.
other than that great feedback thread.

Revenge - March 12, 2013, 12:05 pm

It seems that everyone here is just going to talk about you losing your mentor & reviewers status and although it was terrible sad, I'd rather focus on the positive things you've done here. I say great job for all you've done for the reviewers and I know you are very well respected here, good job! I'd also like to say that you made this thread look fantastic and it has an awesome flow when reading.

He was just removed for security reasons.

Boody, have you contacted Omni?

Tando - March 12, 2013, 1:31 pm

Great feedback, I'm glad you've been enjoying yourself and contribution to the forum. 3 years and 4 months that's a long time! Let's hope the next 3 years and 4 months are even more exciting!

Pentatonix - March 12, 2013, 1:38 pm

This was a great read, I've followed your report. It sucks that you've been removed permanently though.

Lugia - March 12, 2013, 1:45 pm

Im older than you :D

Bad things have already happened to me on HF, and sometimes I just stay away for like 3 months straight... but then I come back.

CPA Exposé - March 12, 2013, 2:01 pm

I don't feel bad you lost mentor, but nice thread. I hope my fellow forum members will recover from such hard times. I do not like to see them hurt physically or emotionally.

The GRim - March 13, 2013, 8:24 am

Its really sad this happened to you :(Still you are one of the most HQ member of this forum.

King - March 13, 2013, 9:46 am

Thank you, The Grim. I appreciate this from you. ?

Damn, you were a great Mentor!

This is a very nice Feedback thread though, thanks for letting us know, and I hope somehow you get your rank back!

you will get over it dude just keep helping people like you do. (i think i dont know you)

Nickelodeon - March 13, 2013, 3:54 pm

Sad to hear you got removed from Mentor. You were one of my favorite mentors and I was hoping that one day you'll become staff.

G H 0 5 T - March 13, 2013, 5:31 pm

Sorry for your loss, you're still a great member and I remember applying in 2011 for Reviewer and being denied. Haha, <3.

Infinit? - March 14, 2013, 5:11 am

Great feedback thread -BoodyE-!

I watched the scam report incident fold out live, and realized instantly that it would not end well. From what I've seen you post, you're a very nice and helpful member. Even without a mentor badge next to your name, you'll still no doubt carry out your previous persona. Loosing two groups in a matter of days must be extremely tough on you, due to how hard you worked to get those positions, but I guess every mistake has a consequence. Just need to get back on your feet and start again. You never know, you might get it back some day ?

tr0nix - March 14, 2013, 7:19 am

I liked how you typed "Shoutouts" as "Shootouts". ?

Nice feedback. Good Luck on getting your position back.

Yes I will of course and I got over it. Never expect anything to last forever. Obviously I'll keep helping members. ?

It was tough yes. But this doesn't only happen on HF, it happens everywhere else. This is life. There are ups and downs.

Thank you so much for this.

Thank you so much, Red-Panther. Appreciated. ?

I haven't done anything intentionally

I woke up and found a PM from Cryptic with a Scam Report Link.

He was so angry on me because his PayPal was Fucked.

If That was my account then I'll wait for you before opening a scam report. My preferences is my Holder First.

So sorry for your Image and Prestige loss mate and believe me Im also feel verry guilty for the whole Incidents

Morchid - March 16, 2013, 11:52 pm

I'm glad you have enjoyed HF these past years as well as I.

About your Mentor I hope to see you get your spot back, Omni's always looking for worthy people for these spot.(From what I've seen you're one.)

Stay Plural - March 16, 2013, 11:53 pm

You were unknowingly middle-man in a deal, charge backs happened, you were thought as a scammer, and then you lost mentor for that? Well if you really didn't scam I don't see what the big deal is. :c

Omniscient - March 17, 2013, 10:42 pm

Well he requested a vacation ban for 6 months. I guess he couldn't get over losing Mentor. We'll miss him but hopefully see him again in 6 months.

I think they were mentioned in the past. Anyway, as you know I was a middleman for a deal that went bad. The seller didn't wait for me to come online and he posted a scam report real fast. Omniscient saw the thread and told OP to wait for me. I really thank Omniscient for this. However I think when Omniscient knew it was my mistake, he removed me from all my groups. It was a wise decision but I really got mad and took a six months vacation and then after coming back I spoke with Omniscient about it. Things went wrong, and you should know why, he perma-banned me. It again was my mistake but I was really sad because I wouldn't scam anyone and I wouldn't trash my account for a few bucks. I thank Omniscient for opening my account again.

Most of my time in the group (and the one on Supportforums) Skill was the main leader I believe, whom I never seem to see anymore.
