Thread: Video/Art. Garrysmod posing art. Attempt at something original.

Not sure where this goes since its art in video. I set fraps to screen shoot every second as I make a "scene" using rag-doll's in Garry's mod.

There finished product is around the end of each video, this is my sort of strive to make something original on youtube. instead of photoshop or 3d animation I decided to do this.

Since this is to create and image and isn't really video editing I thought it was best suited here. sorry if I'm wrong.

Recorded at 1img/1sec played back at 0.15s at 29fps - total 800 images

[Scene 169 - Let faith guide you to be her savior.]

Recorded at 1img/2sec played back at 0.20s at 29fps - total 509 images

[Scene 249 - I'll always be here for you.]

I'm pretty sure this would go here -

Don't quote me on that though...

So is this Frames thrown together? It looks really cool.

Yes, images taken every 1-2sec placed to play back at a regular frame rate i.e time lapse. so your seeing lets say 30min of work in 1.2min basically a time-lapse just in first person moving around.
