insp3ctor - March 17, 2013, 11:50 pm

Well i just logged on to AWM and i saw this new announcement which says:

General Promotion Requirements

Deceptive or misleading advertising such as fake sweepstakes, fake files, or other fake rewards is strictly prohibited

The word "free" cannot be used with email submits or SMS/PIN subscription campaigns, including domains, such as "free-iphone.com"

Publishers may not engage in any SMS/MMS ("text message") marketing without written approval

Traffic from malware, adware, spyware, or any related software is strictly prohibited

Adult traffic or traffic from any sites/files that infringe upon copyrights or trademarks is strictly prohibited

Email Marketing Promotion Requirements

All email marketing must have functional unsubscribe mechanisms, load suppression lists when available, and comply with the Can-Spam Act of 2003

All email recipients must be double opt-in subscribers

All custom email creatives need written approval

Direct Linking Requirements

Any direct linking to our campaigns through social media sites, email marketing, or other public sources must use a short link service or our short tracking URL.

That means end to fake files niches? ? now they're gonna ban members or what? or thats just a show for advertisers?

Hesco - March 17, 2013, 11:56 pm

Yes I also saw this today when I logged in on AWM. Lets see I might be switching to foolish once again.

insp3ctor - March 18, 2013, 12:03 am

Well if they are gonna take this seriously I'm just gonna stuck with fileice too, just hoping one day I won't see similar announcent on Fieice.

#Realtalk. - March 18, 2013, 1:32 am

God damn i guess its time to move to filefire or fileice then.

#Realtalk. ?

Feather? - March 18, 2013, 1:42 am

How many advertiser actually allows the? If you sell a product, do you want most of your traffic coming from fake files?

If an advertiser complains the company has to do something to keep them.

Carebox - March 18, 2013, 1:46 am

Really, you never could advertise fake files. None of you read the TOS so you didn't know.

Its almost no where allowed. If they are going to start watching it, ill be switching over. for now im good.

PoS3!DoN - March 18, 2013, 1:56 am well i have some niche on adworkmedia...But now i am making switching to file ice....

brandon fury - March 18, 2013, 1:57 am

Ahh fuck, time to move back to File1ce ...

hKRASS - March 18, 2013, 2:14 am

Maybe they just recognized things gettin out of control... Just change your strategy a bit. I like it, because most newbs spreading all the same shit will disappear. Think about more grey/whitehat methods, imo thats even better. If you managed to get there, u succeeded!

?nder - March 18, 2013, 5:12 am

Well, there goes two of my domains..

Would it be ok if I was promoting a password to a program rather than a straight up fake program?

Capricious - March 18, 2013, 6:31 am this sucks man, i am sure AWM will loose a lot of users since many of us use fake files.

?nder - March 18, 2013, 7:01 am

(Mar 17, 2013 11:50 PM)insp3ctor Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The word "free" cannot be used with email submits or SMS/PIN subscription campaigns, including domains, such as "free-iphone.com"

This only applies for campaigns, so I'm going to assume link lockers and content lockers etc. are still allowed. :D

Chris CPA - March 18, 2013, 7:10 am

Yeah im still going to take my chances with AWM.

Volation - March 18, 2013, 7:15 am

Made so much... And so much hard work on the programs I made... I'm not editing the programs to change the link

FisKer - March 18, 2013, 7:20 am

SO taking the risk? I just switched one of my niche to FI , if it doesnt work well i will come back to AWM devildon111 - March 18, 2013, 7:29 am yeah thats the best thing to move from AWM

magiC* - March 18, 2013, 7:35 am

It is not the best thing to move away...

If you are using link locker - product locker just use anonym.to service or anonymous.to ...

I don't think AWM will ban someone without any warning

brandon fury - March 18, 2013, 7:40 am

(Mar 18, 2013 07:33 AM)??WebmasterExpert?? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Damn that sucks big time, I said about this network many times. I was attacked by the AWM lover fags though! Each to their own I guess, to be honest it's not worth the risk IMO, they can ban your account without warning. Google now for "banned from adwork media" you will see what happened to the guy from BHW.

lol bro, there's people who got banned on file-ice, too, when i type adworkmedia ban, i can only see one guy banned

Doesn't mean shit.

Asset - March 18, 2013, 7:49 am

So if I'm not "providing any sweepstakes, files, rewards" I'm okay?
Could anyone say what they exactly mean by rewards?

They were never supposed to be allowed, refer to them as "sweep stakes" or "contests" and send the thing you are offering to yourself (copula bucks, send your iphone to grandmas house w/ tracking info or better yet just a hello note). It's not that hard. If they ask for proof show them the tracking number =.=

Rewards - if you promote key generator , then the user should receive working key at the end of generating.. if not you are doing it against their rules

Bionical - March 18, 2013, 8:07 am

Quote:Would it be ok if I was promoting a password to a program rather than a straight up fake program?

I'm interested in this thing too.

What if I just offer only a password to an archive and after survey completion they REALLY get the password ?

(Although the archive contains some fake crack/keygen/...)

Feather? - March 18, 2013, 8:09 am

Cloack your links and offer a password in the survey. They won't find out that easily and it's isn't against the rules to share a .txt file.

DEADMANWALKIN - March 18, 2013, 8:19 am

Why all you bitches bitching??? They are just doing that to protect their asses.

LOOK at foolish TOS they have the same shit but they don't enforce it. If any of you guys get into legal trouble just blame them for not enforcing their own "TOS" :P

?nder - March 18, 2013, 8:30 am

I'm personally locking a password to a program inside of a text file. Considering the fact that the password is working, I think I'm going to be fine :)

Asset - March 18, 2013, 8:37 am

Does anyone know a network with content locking?

I don't want to risk my $600 this month.

I don't think any network allows fake files and bad traffic. It's a question of when and how they take caution.?

I'll find a solution :) OffTopic: Changing host now, is Ixam-Hosting good?

iMario - March 18, 2013, 8:42 am

Guys, their TOS haven't been updated. It is just a reminder. You don't have to worry nothing is new there.

lool fail. That's why you should use an adf.ly (for example) link. Without advertising of course. So you can then change all the links as you which.

Sweet, I got like $53 balance at the moment from this month so hopefully I'll be okay.

BTW Does anyone know if I can ask for a early payout again? Just use another excuse? do they mind if I pay the fees?

I think that they think that you are trying to cash-out and leave ?

Go ahead and try ? GL!

Well I've only been on AWM for two months, I earned around $50 last month and got a early payout.

Websync - March 18, 2013, 8:52 am

Nothing new here. You can still promote fake files, they are just covering their asses if something goes wrong.

Pat. - March 18, 2013, 8:54 am

Ya I'm still going to use awm.. Plus every fricken network says they don't allow fake files. EVEN FILE ICE look in there tos lol.

Broda - March 18, 2013, 8:56 am

Oh shit, I'm going to change. Wait a second, AWM is not the only one:

<https://gyazo.com/e09a2a918a218dfe12e69492b26f9bf9>

It's prohibited in every network. The only new thing is the word "free" and some other little things.

I have $1,800 balance from this month and I'll get my money. Nothing to worry.

Yes you can always ask for an early payout and they usually don't refuse, but for only $53, I am not sure if they would accept.

I asked for one my first month and they refused :O

UnixGhost - March 18, 2013, 9:29 am

I HOPE THEY BAN FAKE FILE NICHES! Seriously, when I download a file, if I have to do a survey for it, then I HAD BETTER GET MY FILE!

?nder - March 18, 2013, 9:31 am

If you talk to David and come up with a valid reason, he will give you early payout for sure. I've requested early payout about three times, and with a good story you will get it. :)

I usually make up lies in my requests lol. However you could say you need it for reinvestment. It's just that if you make some bullshit sob story about hospital bills or something they will more likely give early payment.

Skunk #1 - March 18, 2013, 10:28 am

I said I needed it for an event because tickets were running out, but that was actually true.

magiC* - March 18, 2013, 10:39 am

I just said that i need to pay my hosting bills and id like to buy new domain so i need that money really...

and they moved me to net 15 lol :D thank god vlad_yo - March 18, 2013, 10:56 am

I got that message too..I think this problem won't affect AWM users very much.

Fake files were ALWAYS against their ToS, and many people still use them, so don't worry.

Mr.Lazy - March 18, 2013, 12:55 pm

It was Dope.IM, right?

I just don't want to lose my money :l

Besides they always say officially that fake files and that bullshit is forbidden, so their company stays "legal". But in real they don't give a fuck. $$$$ is what they want.

I wouldn't go back to Filefire full stop, out of all the sites I've used, I earned way less on there compare to Share_cash and Adnooka i do think share_cash is actually under rated...

Filefire messed all their paypal payments up and then handled it so poorly. Adnooka pays weekly and share_cash never fails to pay either.

WE Misaya - August 1, 2013, 10:29 pm

Adworkmedia have blocked all my link locker today !

Beware if you use fake niche etc ...

amex - August 7, 2013, 12:52 am

Nah I'm still using this niche and got paid

Try to make your fake file password protected, upload it somewhere then make the password locked by a link locker

ppdrewns - September 6, 2013, 2:32 am

Still using fake niches,everything on my side seems to be fine .Anyway,will wait to cashout ,then will move my niches.

Btw,a month ago ,wrote to them to give me a early payout of 19.28 $.

They accepted and in 2 hourd had my payment :)
