Thread: need an MD5 decrypted? or the like? leetdoer - March 25, 2010, 3:51 pm since i'm not going to be able to use my laptop for about a full 24/hour period, and considering it's very fast, i figured i would dedicate it to pass cracking within the next 24 hours.

so, that being said,if anyone has an MD5 hash that they would like cracked, post it here or PM me post your hash in a copy and pastable format, as i do not wish to spend more time than i have to doing this.

eg- yourname:e8bb99efb0ddff045bb768fa0b20ea6a(so when it's cracked i know who to deliver it to) the sooner you post, the better. as it takes the same amount of time for my PC to crrack 7 passwords as it does for 1(running the program)

drake, i've already got yours goin and same with the guy that PM'ed me i'm using the charset mixalpha-numeric-symbol14...fyi any password format will do. but please know your hash type so i don't have to look it up if you don't know it, as long as there arn't 7 other people with the same problem, i'll have no problem finding out what hash algorithm was used

Hey, I need a password to a PDF, can you help me with that? I need the solutions manuals to a text book, but they are password protected.

Thanks. Heres a link to them:

<http://mrohrling.yolasite.com/sch4usolutions.php>

Or

<http://fhci.wrdsb.on.ca/science-sch4ui.html>

you can download them and then try and crack the password. I tried to, but my computer is too slow.

Thanks so much.
