Thread: All Inclusive trip to Jamaica

Getting pumped for my spring break trip next year to Negril, Jamaica.

Going to the all inclusive resort Riu Palace. $1500 for 7 days, but oh boy is it worth it.

All you can drink liquor, drinking age is 18, gonna be with a bunch of friends, and bomb ass weed averaging $64/ounce.

Its gonna be a good fucking time.

Too bad its a year away.

Felt like bragging now though.

Awesome! Is it 1500$ Weed Included too or only All-Inclusive?

I'm not gonna be stupid about the bud. But yes as far as I know its illegal.

And @ the first post, $1500 would include money brought with for bud yes.

For all my buddies its gonna be like $1600 as they need to pay for their flight, but my dad flies all the time so I get free flights with delta.

So itll be like $1200ish + $200ish for bud. That will buy me like 2-3 ounces of bud which I probably wont even smoke all of haha. Maybe find someone to help me with it.

lol holy shit $64/ O that's insane. You could make so much profit if you brought some of that back to the U.S.

True, but it would be so hard to get it through customs.

Maybe if you went on a cruise of some sort and stopped by in jamaica, and sneaked a bunch back on your bag.

But thats the only real way I could see it happening.

Or if you get some sketchy Jamaican guy to fly you over the border in a bush plane :P

Yeah, but if you get him to fly you over the border in some plane you would still have to clear international customs. They dont just let you hop off and go on your way :P

Have fun :)

Did you win something to get this, as you say "all inclusive"

By all inclusive I mean the cost covers EVERYTHING.

$1500 covers my room, unlimited drinks such as water, soda, vodka, any liquor you can think of, unlimited food, and free activities at the resort such as using their jet ski's and shit.
