Now, take note of this scam report, here.

This is VERY important.

Notice how the LR ID is viru51?

Is it a co-incidence that his username now is ????, which is Viru in fancy letters? I think not.

Last thing, although this isn't really solid proof. WarrioR dealt in currency exchange, this user came back after WarrioR was banned. Once again, coincidence? I think not.

Futher proof provided from the user V For Vendetta.

2 images that prove he's Warrior.

He is a multi-accounter and frankly I don't know why he isn't banned yet, he will eventually go on a scamming spree like he did on his old account after building his reputation as a "well known exchanger" and rinse and repeat.

Sync™ - March 28, 2013, 4:57 am

Just because you kids think small scale and think that just because you completed a successful deal with him does not mean he is a legitimate exchanger, on his old account he was just as well established but he ended up scamming for thousands, even tens of thousands.

Narcotica - March 28, 2013, 5:15 am

Having scam report dosent mean you are called directly an scammer, there are misunderstandings. Viru is very legit exchanger i have dealt with him $2k + in exchanges i have went first and got my LR within mins. I have also used viru as mm with deals $500 + he handled the moneys like a boss. Honestly i dont know about that guy "Warrior" but i can tell that viru is very legit. If viru wanted to scam me than he should have scammed me when i sent him an transaction of $1k +. Honestly that is an huge amount. You guys are both legit but and i hope you both resolve this.

Viru is not a scammer. His previous account he was doing a deal with many users and his PayPal got permanently closed. That's when everyone started calling WarrioR a scammer because they did not give him time to pay them back.

If you take a look at Viru's recent activity, he recently had two of his past scam reports closed because he paid them back. And he is still working on paying the rest back.

He never scammed anyone, it's just unfortunate that PayPal closed his account with 2-3K dollars on it.

Neal's just being an asshole because Viru refuses to deal with him at those shitty rates.

Even Omni know's he's Warrior but he gave him a second chance to redeem him self, or at least that's what I was told.

Well according to you he's trying to bullshit his way out of it;
He's trying to blame all this on his brother, saying that he was the scammer.

Now you're trying to say his paypal got closed.. blah blah blah
Well here's something you should learn, he shouldn't have used a fake paypal, he's at fault and he owes those people money. Those are all legit scam reports and if he is doing 1-2k deals on Hackforums, he should easily be able to pay them back, and he needs to do that. You don't simply get to just leave scam reports there for months and continue to deal on hackforums with no consequences.

Thanks for this knowledge won't be dealing with him any time soon.

Harry Dresden - March 29, 2013, 4:33 am

Jesus, half of the people posting are treating this like a scam report.

It's a community alert and one that Neal had every right to make.

And I would be inclined to give Warrior, I mean, Viru, every benefit of the doubt if there were one side of the story.

Everyone who's come up to support him has given conflicting arguments.

To those people going, he's so legit, it's obviously a problem with his old PP, I'll ask this.

Why did he not pay Developer back then? He's obviously got the cash and influence now, so if he'd recompensed everyone, he would not have that neg rep.

Of course, it could always have been his "brother".

I mean, assuming he even has a sibling. Some ID proof would be nice.

Midlife Crashes - March 29, 2013, 12:22 pm

I have always hated Viru he seemed real sketchy to me.

Cool, just reading this for the first time now, nice warning thread I guess, I did $500 LR deal with this guy about a month ago, he went first and I didn't have any problems with him, although he was a few usernames before he his current one now. I guess this may serve to warn some people or serve as another puzzle to be solved by Sherlock Holmes.

Neal Caffrey - March 29, 2013, 5:01 pm

To everyone, this is a community alert, not a scam report.

The two are very different things.

What are you all vouching for? His legitimacy?

Don't recall saying he'll scam again.. ?

HelpingOthers - March 29, 2013, 5:22 pm

Basically I think he scammed people on other account (WarrioR) to get funds to start exchange service on new account :/

People had scam reports open on WarrioR because of what happened when PP closed his account, he could not pay them.

He has paid them all back a few days ago.

I have been reading everything and was neutral from beginning. I added viru on Skype and talked to him about everything. Please be clear that I am not taking anyone's side. This is my personal view.

So I added viru on Skype and asked him about everything what's going on. The formost thing he said was he is warrior(the old member). The thing that made him a scammer was that his 3.7k$ got sealed by PP(perma limited). He had no money and apparently situations turned against him and he was given the tag of a scammer.

Old things gone so he comes up again and gives a new fresh start to his HF journey. Till date he didnt scam anyone from his new account.

Now you may ask what about the old scams he committed?

I just verified that every member who got scammed by him has been returned back the money. Now why dont we let the guy be here and let him do his business if he has already cleared up the stains? He has no scam reports now and is as clean as OP.

Also if Omni wanted he could have closed the new account long back as he already knew about it. Viru has done many deals here and members who have vouched for him(guys who used his exchange service and not other Indians) know that he is clean(many have dealt amounts more than 1k$ with him).

I think we must all give him a chance and let him do his work here.

He will make a thread clearing up everything as soon as he gets unbanned.

All I wanted to say is he is Warrior, which he has been denying continuously from the beginning telling the 'Brother story', and which is all I wanted to prove wrong.

Did I accuse him of scamming? No. I did not say that.

I know Indian PPs cant send money from balance but they can send money from a CC attached. He could have used that to do his exchange services too.

But I find him using Canadian PPs when he was warrior stupid because everyone knows they do get limited. He should not have taken that risk and should have gone and went with using holders. Atleast hes doing that now.. btw I don't know who his PP holders are neither do I care about it.

No, You cannot send money from Indian PP even if you attach any CC on it. coz PayPal doesn't support Indian Bank's CC.

You look like a stupid to me who can't understand what is very simple.

I used the word "SHOULD" which means it's my opinion. i didn't throw it on anyone's face. I'm very well aware that this is a staff duty.

Omni left a rep on his profile already that he is multi accounting and another mod linked his old profile to his reputation , yet what to worry

He exchanged alot of $$$ here, there is nothing to worry, WarrioR did scam people, thats true but yet viru didnt, not sure if they are same or brothers but viru is an established exchanger here

So your basically saying your a little dick that will go after people for the littelest shit even though they did not do anything wrong.

PayPal screwed him over, he could have left HF with everyone money. Instead he makes a new account and tries to pay everyone back.

And he has paid everyone back.

So just back off?

And yes WarrioR is Viru.

Why are you being such an asshole? You can even team view him if you want and see $2000-$3000 in his closed paypal accounts.

It's commonly known PP fucks people over.

He's not a scammer as he has PAID THEM ALL BACK.Why would I purposely call someone whom I am friends with a "Scammer" and you resulting to rather childish insults only furthers and solidifies the truth that is held and contained within my statement. Calling me an "Asshole" makes you look like Stay Plural has previously described as a Pre-Schooler on the Playground.

Every time I am insulted or led away from the truth I grow stronger and it reinforces the fact that I am ultimately correct and you had no reasonable "adult" response to reply with so you have again, resulted to name-calling.

I'd prefer not to TeamView someone I have no direct involvement with or Financial Affiliation with, Rather not see a edited html page saying his account is limited or a real account that is limited from years ago. "Paypal Limitations" are one of the most easily faked type of evidence offered as a reason or excuse to the defendants responsibility and avoidance of admission of guilt.

"Commonly Known Paypal Fucks People Over", you say so? Why would you blame some other party or your financial institution for your lack of planning and contingencies. There is no question mark there because I don't even seek an answer from you children and that question was completely rhetorical.

If you say "Warrior" is "Viru" why does he not admit that himself? I don't see how blaming a non-exsistant human being supposedly living in the same structure as you and using the same internet connection and perhaps even the same computer to access HackForums.net directly with no sort of relay or proxy is a reasonable set of circumstances for complete vindication in any way.

If you've learned one thing about me your entire time here on HF it is that I never back down and I never back off.

I am more afraid of an army of one hundred sheep led by a lion than an army of one hundred lions led by a sheep.

Says the guy with 15 scam reports which of most are unresolved. ?

To me it just looks like your one of the people that jump on the band wagon without doing much research and stick to the initial facts.

Sure it looked like he has "scammed" people, but he has paid them all back after earning back the money again.

We have a user over here that has righted his wrongs and has paid for his mistakes, and we have users like you that are ignorant and just can't see that.

We are all humans and we all make mistakes, Virus's mistake was keeping 2K Paypal on his PP account.

We all have to learn from our mistakes and move on.

Why do you think he does not accept much PP any more? Why do you think he has multiple PP Holders now? Because he does not want all of this happening again.

Why do you think he does not accept much PP any more? Why do you think he has multiple PP Holders now? Because he does not want all of this happening again. What? I don't know what that means. I have had only 1 or 2 Deal Disputes over several thousands of transactions I do here a month. They were solved within 30 minutes by my Support Staff or me personally. I do not appreciate the unwarranted defamation of my legacy.

I deal only in facts, so far you've provided only opinions and failed attempts to insult me, furthering my zealous nature to obtain the truth. The Bandwagon jumps on me. This is not where the Bandwagon stops, this is just one of those times when, a lot of folks jump off.

Quote: Sure it looked like he has "scammed" people, but he has paid them all back after earning back the money again.

You just said "stick to the facts" now you're contradicting yourself to say what may or may not "look" like something. I'd prefer not to further deal in your childish opinions.

Quote: We have a user over here that has righted his wrongs and has paid for his mistakes, and we have users like you that are ignorant and just can't see that.

My friend, I am anything but ignorant, I am extremely perceptive, precise, observant and open to many types of theories and opinions and but I do not find "Scammer Advocates" such as yourself to contain a very appealing nature to me.

"My eyes are open wide and my perception is as highly focused as ever, I am sharp, alert, and on the lookout for anyone being "sheltered" clothed, fed, or given a place to sleep or comforted by the entity know only to us users as "HackForums", incorporated as a nation in 2007 with a current inhabitant population of 375,410 (as of 2013)."

Quote from March 29/2013 by the Great Codevade.

Giving lessons about mistakes now? Mistakes are paid for with trials and tribulations just like any other "mistake" that is considered criminal or negligent on your part such as the defendants actions were in this specified case.

Yes, they aren't exact replicas but their pretty similar imo.

I also find it strange that though Viru vouches for Honey while repping someone else he doesn't directly rep Honey himself....

I'm sure if you look deeper you will find more, clearly it's a scam operation.

anyways gl op
