Well I gotta say, I'm beginning to like this anime. Maybe it has something to do with the similarities between it and Durarara? I mean the ending has one part that is similar to Drrr's opening

I also noticed it has similarities to Mirai Nikki as well since cellphones play a big role in this anime. Anyways discuss below :)

Isn't this the Shin Megami Tensei series? If so it's already good.

I don't think so but here's a picture to clear things up:

Never liked the gameplay of this game, but I loved the hell out of the art work especially the heroine. Got it and will watch it sometime this weekend.

Junii give a series at least 3 episodes ...

Watched the first episode, loved it. This spring season is surely starting out very good for me. A lot of potentially great anime, this one is surely on my list.

I see good potential in the series.

For a spring simulcast, why not? I'm curious to see where how it'll turn out.
