Thread: Netflix section is getting out of hand with request threads

webdev77 - April 10, 2013, 4:53 pm

Before I say anything else, this is not a suggestion. This is my feedback about the section. If you would like to close this thread, that is fine as I am simply voicing my opinion to those who keep our forums clean of spam and keep them functioning.

Please see this screenshot from today:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Thanks for listening.

K?ala - April 10, 2013, 4:55 pm

Yea I've also noticed the severe decline of that section.

Free Particle - April 10, 2013, 4:57 pm

It would be awesome if a sub-forum or sticky was added for account requests. I just took a look, and it's disgusting how many request threads there are. At least 90% are begging for accounts.

I agree, it is getting out of hand.

Panoptic - April 10, 2013, 4:59 pm

I agree it is rare to see anything besides begging for an account.

SWS - April 10, 2013, 6:23 pm

I agree, and 90% of the people asking for accounts have 20 posts or less.

Loomaanaatii - April 10, 2013, 7:33 pm

It's so hilarious since all of those beggars are just trashing the thread with their 20 posts or less. Lolz

SIM-1179501 - April 10, 2013, 7:51 pm

That's all that section is, I never go in there.

Nate - April 10, 2013, 7:53 pm

You should need a certain amount of posts in order to post in a subsection on asking for accounts.

Vince - April 10, 2013, 7:58 pm

I know I am guilty of making a thread today. I think from now on, we should pm users who we know to have Netflix accounts, or raise the post requirements for requests.

Nate - April 10, 2013, 8:16 pm

Oh I know. Just admitting guilt is all. I do agree with him though. Being here going on a week and I can see that some people like to take more then they give (i.e-Netflix section, gaming, etc.)

Froggy - April 10, 2013, 8:55 pm

What else would be posted in that sub-forum? The description states: "For discussions on Netflix and Hulu movies, issues, accounts, and discounts please post here. Do not use this forum as a sales marketplace." All discussions on movies can be easily posted in the Movies, Videos, and Cinema forum, so all that is left is discussing accounts. That sub-forum should be removed entirely and a [Netflix] & [Hulu] prefix should be added to its parent forum instead. All Netflix account requests should be posted under Gay Fucking Requests Cuz You Want Free Shit, which would solve the issue of having users with barely any posts begging for accounts. Any account requests in the Movies, Videos, and Cinema forum should be junked on sight.

Gustav. - April 10, 2013, 9:28 pm

I've also noticed the amount of members asking for netflixs accounts. It's ridiculous.

Toph - April 10, 2013, 9:57 pm

I think that's what that section was created for. But I don't understand what the issue is if people are using that section to ask for free accounts. :)

Monte Cristo - April 10, 2013, 10:35 pm

It is ridiculous, also the users that make these threads are most of the time brand new/less then 20 posts.

adampelletgun - April 10, 2013, 11:58 pm

I think the Netflix section should be closed.

All the request threads can go in the VIP section.

Orochimaru - April 11, 2013, 7:40 am

I think there should be a request section within the netflix section and whatever consequences could be given to those who post requests in the netflix section.

bugga - April 11, 2013, 11:59 am

The increase in carded items surrounding netflix ect is just increasing daily.

How so? If you're talking about the accounts people sell or give out, I think they crack them. I really hope they aren't carded.

h?cker22 - April 11, 2013, 12:14 pm

Yup, movies from Hulu and Netflix could just be discussed in the movie section honestly.

I think they should be removed, account requests could go in the Gay Fucking Requests Cuz You Want Free Shit section.

Not at all. Majority of accounts are cracked.

Roger Waters - April 12, 2013, 5:18 pm

you should probably add this thread (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3371723>) into the Original Post, it was a post suggesting the same thing, it was closed without any reply from a mentor, staff or admin.

Yea, I think there should be a good crackdown on the netflix section to be honest.

Revenge - April 13, 2013, 2:57 am

I agree, there's too many requests at this stage and it's just getting out of hand.

ViN - April 13, 2013, 4:06 am

I agree that too much requests are being posted.
It should be removed or these threads should be forbidden.

I wouldn't even mind if they became forbidden.
It's the same reason we can't give MC accounts.

adampelletgun - April 13, 2013, 11:32 am

Hopefully the Netflix section will just be closed.

Triestri - April 13, 2013, 12:01 pm

Why are peoples mad about it?

[Here is where I should have posted the can't tell if trolling meme]

Thank you all for the feedback and for actually leaving this thread open for a little while.

ViN - April 13, 2013, 2:13 pm

I hope Omni does something about this, hopefully get it removed. I see requests all over the place.

Paran?rmal - April 13, 2013, 2:14 pm

It's dumb because even in the gay request section/VIP area people request accounts and just give them out again.

Netflix accounts are just a cycle. They should not be aloud to be given away anymore.

Reptar - April 13, 2013, 2:45 pm

That is very true. I've seen people literally ask for one and then when the next person ask for an account they give them that same account.

On the other hand, I use to personally make people Netflix accounts that weren't leeched or given to me. I'm working on a way redo that again (Apr 13, 2013 02:14 PM)Paran?rma1 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Netflix accounts are just a cycle. They should not be aloud to be given away anymore.

No, that's ridiculous because so many people actually use them for watching movies and want this. Its on demand and you can't kill a demand that's not hurting anyone. Selling them could cause problems, yes. Giving them away won't cause literally any problem for either user and I'm not just saying that because some people might think I'm a repwhore

Just like everyone did with Minecraft accounts. The average person had hundreds, if not thousands. I personally had around 9000 accounts that I cracked myself. They have been banned for over a year, yet Netflix is still allowed?

Too bad you couldn't make it over 9,000! ?

webdev77 - April 27, 2013, 4:31 pm

It's been approx. 3 weeks since I made this thread and the section is still awful. I just had to PM a staff member to get 5 giveaway threads moved out of the netflix section and into the free services/giveaway section. The majority of threads are still just requesting free accounts, not any type of discussion going on there.

Stay Plural - April 27, 2013, 4:33 pm

What the hell is that section for? Discussion on/about Netflix or requesting Netflix accounts? ?

Does not mention asking for free stuff anywhere in the description as that is not a form of discussion.

That's crazy. I have seen the section about a month ago and I thought it was made for requests since Netflix accounts are in high demand.

Not what that forum is meant for. So... hence this thread.

Froggy - April 27, 2013, 4:38 pm

I would still like to see this change as well. ;_;

ViN - April 27, 2013, 4:40 pm

You would think that something would be done about this by now.

Gary - April 27, 2013, 4:46 pm

Why don't they just go to the freebies section so many people are giving away free netflix accounts daily...

Savages - April 27, 2013, 4:47 pm

The increase of threads is due to the low netflix account prices everyone has a account, hell 1,000 cost what $20?

You shouldn't PM the users either! Why the hell would you want to annoy the crap out of somebody just so you can get an account?

DubstepCraig™ - April 28, 2013, 1:50 am

Somone need to make a sticky which will always be up-to-date with a list of working netflix accounts.

Nate - April 28, 2013, 1:51 am

I do agree, but we still need the section just more rules to be added to it

?Dunsparth - April 28, 2013, 2:00 am

Yeah this section needs to be moderated better.

Vortex™ - April 28, 2013, 3:45 am

I personally think anyone who is not an l33t/ub3r shouldn't even be asking for anything free like Netflix/Hulu etc... Just my opinion.

animal341 - April 28, 2013, 5:46 am

I agree with Froggy's post on the second page, the Netflix sub-forum isn't really needed. All account requests should be put here (even though it is Ub3r only).

First thread I looked at today:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

webdev77 - May 8, 2013, 6:26 pm

I'm not sure what's going on, but I just saw a member with their first post begging for a free netflix account. This is honestly too far when you know members are joining just to request free netflix accounts.
