G0ogle Instant Screen Caputure

Hey guys, for the last few days, I have been working on a little screenshot program.

It basically works like Gyazo, or Speedcap, except its better :) Read the FAQ on the site to learn more. <http://g0ogle.org/>

How it works:

1. Open the program
2. Select a region of the screen to capture
3. The image is automatically uploaded and the link is copied to your clipboard

Features:

- .Allows embedding of images into forums/websites
- .Shows history with all of your images
- .No ads, and free :D

Here is a sample image view page: <http://g0ogle.org/img.php?img=1pkwzfflbuvvdy821oddtk1ie.png>

Huge vouch for this. Watched him make it from scratch. I use it as a replacement for Gyazo!

This tool is legendary and magical. Who uses gyazo anyway?

Here's a short review from my side:-

- Cool script
- Nice design
- Inappropriate domain name
- Try to put the donate button at the nav bar. (<https://i.imgur.com/p2JHc49.png>)

Everything else seems fine.

Good luck :)

Thanks man. Appreciate it! Yea, really, no one uses Gyazo.

Haza?d - April 13, 2013, 1:24 pm

It looks awesome,. but you should definitely purchase a new domain name.

software lolThanks man :D Really appreciate it. This will help save 1 African child's life!

I still had my Payapal IPN link set to send me a text (for when people donated to my GMod server.) I got a text saying someone donated 1 dollar to the server xD.

Spreading malware is generally a no-no.

michael1026 - April 13, 2013, 7:43 pm

As the comment above me points out, it's vulnerable to SQL injection on the login page. Possibly more. You might want to fix that.

Sonics - April 13, 2013, 7:52 pm

It looks nice man, fix the vulnerabilities and get a better name for it. Then it will be good :)

Not sure why you'd choose that name when you clearly won't be able to out-rank the obvious competitor
