

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Reviews section

?Denialistic - May 1, 2013, 3:41 pm

Hello, HF should Impliment a button on the top left which can be linked to another thread in another section called "Reviews"

The official reviewers can review the product, create a thread and only the reviewers could link the threads so if the product is bad, it will have a bad review.

Just a suggestion, would eliminate shitty Booters and other products.

Thanks for reading.

Thompiss - May 1, 2013, 3:43 pm

Official reviewers only review eBooks, not booters and other products, if I'm not mistaken. And they post the reviews in the thread when they review eBooks.

?Denialistic - May 1, 2013, 3:43 pm

(May 1, 2013 03:43 PM)Period. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Official reviewers only review eBooks, not booters and other products, if I'm not mistaken.

They should change that, possibly add an ebooks review section, Booters section ect.

Trinks - May 1, 2013, 3:48 pm

good very good this applicatio utily congratulations set by trinks

Gary - May 1, 2013, 4:05 pm

(May 1, 2013 03:59 PM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Terrible idea, anyone can review a friends product and give it top marks. Would cause so many unnesary arguments in the long run.

And say if they hate one user they would give them the worst marks even if they have better products then the "friend".

Vent - May 1, 2013, 4:05 pm

(May 1, 2013 03:48 PM)Trinks Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) good very good this applicatio utily congratulations set by trinks

What? I mean... I think you just tried to support him... but I'm not really sure...

Anyways, a similar idea to this was already suggested here. It is unnecessary in my opinion, but good luck anyways.

Invisible - May 1, 2013, 4:17 pm

They will probably never start to review other products, except e-books.

Froggy - May 1, 2013, 4:42 pm

Reviewers only review e-books, and they post their review directly on the thread.

If you'd personally like to rate someone's product you can use the thread rating feature, or post your opinions in their thread (without sales trashing).