Thread: [\[Selling\] Minecraft Server crasher/downer Software - \$15 USD](#)

p99will - May 4, 2013, 10:03 pm

I wrote a small program that will completely crash 80% of Minecraft servers running in GUI-mode. It needs to be sending about 40-60 packets a second in order to down the server so if you cannot get 40-60 packets from doing it yourself you may need to have someone else run it at the same time.

This does not work like a dos/ddos attack and does not use a ton of data.
like I said. 60 packes per second is nothing. these packets are very small also. it just depends on your cpu speed and socket handeling.
It normally Takes about 40-60 seconds to crash the server.

Please Do not leak this program to anyone except perhaps a partner if you cannot hit 50 packets per second by yourself.

NOTE: This only works on servers that are being run in GUI-Mode. If you buy my program and you cannot crash a server. The server is either has a patch for this or is running in nogui mode.

Heres a vid of it in action.(This is against localhost so my packets per second may be higher than if you are attacking a real server. I have Tested this on servers hosted out of my own network and it did manage to crash them.)

PM: For more details. If inbox is full please try again lator. As this is my first product I've ever tried to sell on HF process may be slow :)

If you would like to protect your server against this attack I also made a program that will block incoming attacks and black-list the users ip from connection to your server.

Refunds are not accepted as the program works as intended, if you are having a problem that my not be discussed above acceptions may apply.

People could just buy a booter and hit it off faster?

I don't really see a point in it.

Crash: Crash the shit, semi-permanent.

DDoS it: Block internet connections for a certain period.

Crashing the server does a lot more damage then denying people access to the server. What if they get DDos protection? And this is a lifetime program.. Use it whenever you want.. for as long as you want. Also, DDoSins is deemed illegal, but my program has not been said to be yet lol!

Could you let me test it or test it yourself on a tekkit server? I would love to see if it works for tekkit servers. :L
