Bascially, just a lot of quick click/strokes with your mouse. That's about it. I suggest turning finger painting on.

You need to practice a lot, no tutorial will help you get your desired outcome alone.

I know but I need some presets for a smudge brush. What do you think of my first attempt? I posted the link in a comment here most people use 70%-90% strength with the default hard brush and the size varies depending on what your doing
