Thread: Lets make a Graphics team, who's in?

Diamonduploads - May 13, 2013, 11:24 am

I'm wanting/thinking about making a Graphics team. Obviously this will be a Graphics team, in which we'll upload videos daily onto the channel.

But first we DO need to think of a good Original name to start with, but we DO need Experienced Graphics designers to be involved with this graphics team, and people who can Record their screen with HD 720p/1080p and make videos daily. or should i say i'd like to upload videos on a daily basis, so that we can get more notice for ourselves on youtube, and go for a partnership. But i think this is a good idea, we could also do competitions as well as Speed Arts, Tutorials and everything along those lines, if you're interested in being part of this Graphics team PM me or add me on skype so that we can talk.

Skype : josh-bates1995

Once on skype i'd either like to see a portfolio of your work and/or you're youtube channel where you upload, and i'd like you to tell me how often you'd be able to make videos.

Thanks, DiamondUploads.

Two latest pieces of work.

Keep dreaming buddy. You don't even have enough posts to PM. Anyways... if you are serious about making a team, you should show off your skills and make a nice thread design or something, to get people interested.

I am pretty sure there is not going to be any team of Graphics better than Graphic Masters.. So yeah good luck their buddy.

What is wrong with you guys?

"Keep dreaming"??

He is talking about YouTube channel, not about HF team/usergroup.

"You don't even have enough posts to PM."

As you can see, he posted his Skype ID, so he don't really need to use PM system.

I wasn't saying anything about a HF team. What I'm saying is that, if he expect people to be active and make YouTube videos with nice graphics, he should at least show off what he can do, just to get peoples attention.

I just agreed with him that Graphics Masters are good. I never said anything about him making a new HF group.

Anyways... On-topic: I like your graphics! They are quite nice.

Lol come on guys stop being so harsh on him, I have a dream about being a graphic designer and going all around the world ok fair enough it might not happen but with my determination it can happen so all you need in a dream is determination. So come on no need for the negativity. Diamond/Josh id be happy to be apart of that team :)

Not only have you turned this innocent thread into a big argument, but you're also making yourself look like a fool.

When he criticizes you for ruining this thread, you take it as a joke, and use sarcasm as a form of response.

You've done nothing to help this thread.
