Thread: It has been a week since I sent my e-book to official reviewers

Mewtw? - May 18, 2013, 3:25 am

Hey guys,

I have sent my ebook to an Official Reviewer and it has been a week and I still do not have any answers ...

My ebook is not available on internet, it's my own, I created it.

Quote:Approval Requirements

If the content of the e-book is public or freely available online, the e-book will be rejected. Monetary guides should have some form of proof such as screenshots before being approved. All e-books must be in PDF format. Zip/tars/gz are allowed but no executables files like exe/msi. If, after the review, the rating is 4/10 or lower, the e-book will be moved to the regular Ebook Bazaar section without a review.

If an e-book is unreadable because of its grammar or layout, it will be junked or moved to the regular Ebook Bazaar without being reviewed.

The minimum length of an e-book is 2 full pages (normal font size of 12).

No misleading titles like "Make gazillion after 1 min of your purchase". Titles must be realistic.

Only one e-book per thread can be sold. No bulk e-book sales will be reviewed or approved.

Resale rights' proof should be provided. We won't accept weak evidence like "Screenshots". Strong evidence should be presented such as videos.

What do I do ?

ROFL It's been 16 days for me, they're busy. Just wait.

They probably don't give a rat's ass just like every "staff" on this forum since they work for nothing and get nothing in return.

I sent TWICE my e-book to official reviewers about ~1,5mo ago, haven't hear anything of them..

I think you need to relax and wait some more.

If they've seen your e-book, they would approve it.

Your e-book may have been denied for multiple reasons.

They are quite busy, it takes some time to successfully review an e-book.

Something to note, I've made plenty of sales within the regular E-book Bazaar. If it's truly a working e-book and you provide the right information on it and don't hide anything, you can sell it just as easy in that section.

The reviewers are very busy I believe. Wait a while (maybe a week more) and if you haven't heard anything just send one of them a PM and ask in a nice way.

We still have the Reviewers here?

I haven't seen any for a long time.
