Hi there guys,

For the last 4 months my youtube videos have gotten false copyright claims by a user impersonating Activision and claim copyright on my videos.

My account got suspended, I filed a copyright and got my channel back after 14 days. Then this user took it upon himself to claim another 6 videos and again has shutdown my channel. All he is doing is try to sabotage my channel and I really want to get hold of his gmail account password so I can stop this harrassment.

His email is atvilegal@gmail.com

I would really appreciate it would guys could help me. I a complete noob when it comes to hacking.

Thank you

Help you how? By hacking him? Sorry no. Why don't you try and contact YouTube support and get this solved? That's the only working thing I can suggest you.

when I contact youtube support they only tell me to counter claim it and wait 14 days. Then 14 days later the user claims another 6 videos and it just loops again and again.

I just want this idiot to stop doing this.

Just email to him to stop it. He doesn't have any reason to make you a problems. He doesn't know you.
