Thread: Restricted from posting in the lounge.

Restricted from posting in the lounge, I fully understand that I'm not l33t, or Ub3r that's why it doesn't let me post more than 20 posts in 24 hours.

I last was online yesterday, I went to bed at like around 11pm , it's now 10am British time >.< Why can't it just be a day? and the next day it resets or something because it's annoying.

I know I don't have the rights to say this because I'm no one around here.

Because you shouldn't be posting more than 20 posts a day as a regular member. It is a safety measure set up by Omniscient to assure no new accounts would start spamming the lounge. Either upgrade or wait and visit the many other sections in the meanwhile.

It's there to force members to upgrade their accounts.

To "force" that's not fair in my eyes, but I suppose I'm here to learn... and the lounge isn't the place to be posting in if I want to learn I guess.

To stop getting these messages you have to upgrade to L33T: hackforums.net/upgrade.php
Regular members only get a 20 post limit.

If you're really born 1980 you should go get a job.

I have a job thank you very much, today is my day off as my fiancée is out & I'm looking after my daughter, I'm a mechanic thank you very much I have a job I don't FRIBE off the system like most other people. BTW, That was so OFF TOPIC, I'm reporting... You're such a help for what you provided.

Thank you everyone else, for response I probably wont get l33t just yet, but maybe one time I will.
