Thread: [\[TUT\]Phone verification for Gmail without using your original phone number\[TUT\]](#)

Z3r0Byt3 - May 26, 2013, 12:16 pm

Hello guys. This is my first post and I will show you how to create anonymous(includes bypassing phone verification) Gmail account.

Let's start.(connect to your VPN for more privacy)

!!!Always use fake information(ex. zip code, ...) !!!

1. Go to www.guerrillamail.com and create temporary email.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

2.Go to <http://www.pinger.com/tfw/> and setup new account.(use guerrillamail.com account)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

2.1 Enter zip code number, age, sex, ...

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

2.2 Select any number.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Then it will ask you to share this number with Facebook friends. Select "Cancel".

3. Go to Gmail and click "Sign up".Leave "Your current email address" blank and for "Mobile phone" use the one that you created at Pinger.com

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

4.Click "Next step" and go to Pinger.com account, copy/paste your activation code, activate your Gmail if needed and Enjoy.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

End :)

I 've not tested this yet, but I was pretty sure that Gmail had stopped sending verification SMS to Pinger... I will try it though.

I don't think the tutorial should be called "How to create anonymous Gmail account" because it doesn't really hide the location of the person. I don't mean that anonymity is only when one hides his original location. But fake info may conceal the true identity of the person. The title should more like "Phone verification for Gmail without using your original phone number" or something.

The tutorial was really good. Keep it up. :)

As I said, Gmail doesn't send verification SMS to Pinger. I've been waiting for 10 minutes but nothing is happening...

I created Gmail account with this method 45 minutes ago (and Gmail send SMS verification to Pinger). And it worked.

In email that I created for tutorial purpose Gmail didn't send me SMS verification but I was able to create account.

It may send sometimes an SMS sometimes then... I've never received any verification SMS from Gmail on Pinger though.

alot of sites such as facebook and gmail stopped sending verifications through pinger.com

some still do :)

jonx - May 26, 2013, 4:14 pm

Pinger doesn't work anymore for facebook or gmail verification, I've tried for both.

Austinbrntt1 - May 26, 2013, 4:28 pm

Thanks for this i hope this still works!

So how do you bypass the phone verification if gmail detects you are trying to sign in with a different IP address or location??

tnx
