Could have divided the code alittle better.

And generally your never supposed to put style into the actual html file.

```
<html>
<head>
all your head shit goes here
</head>
<body>
<header>/new html5 tag/

  <nav>
    <ul>
      <li>list</li>
      <li>list</li>
      <li>list</li>
      <li>list</li>
    </ul>
  </nav>

all your main content shit

  <footer>
all your footer shit here
  </footer>
</body>
</html>
```

I love the simplistic design of the site. Also the fact that anonymous users can upload files.

Uploading is fast an easy as well. Hope your site is successful really looks like it's going to be.

I love the logo that you took from icon finder and just changed the color.

Top notch stuff.

Also the fact that clicking your social links opens a bunch of porn ads is slightly weird.

It's 4 circles with a flat bottom to make a cloud. I think you'll find a lot of people use that style.
