Ok so if you want to hack certain website or forum you must check how that website or forum was made.

Example: You want to hack forum the easiest way is to go to the end of the forum and you will find something like this

Code Powered by vBulletin® Version X.X.X

Now you go to <http://www.exploit-db.com/>

And you search exploit for our example. (vBulletin® Version X.X.X)

Now you want to hack website.

There is a lot of ways.

First:

You use scanner tool like acunetix and you scan the website for vuln

When you find the vuln like Sql injection, Xss, LFI, RFI, etc you exploit that vuln.

Second:

If you don't want to use tool you can use google dorks.

Example:

Code inurl:www.example.com inurl:"php?id="

And you try sql injection on that id.

Or this dork

Code inurl:www.example.com intext:"You have an error in your Sql syntax"

This dork will search in the site that you want if there is any page with this text.

This text means that your page is vulnerable Sql Injection.

There is a lot of dorks you can search.

Good Luck.
