Anyone else here a big fan of rurouni kenshin? It is still one of my most favorite animes, of course their is like 2 or 3 different companies who dub it, and only the one is good, the others are not as good. But anyways, anyone else like it?

Lelouch Vi Britannia - June 12, 2013, 7:39 am

I've never heard of it.

What is the plot? Is it interesting?

I'd rather ask someone who has watched it and likes it rather than using Google.

My favorite anime is code geass, I suggest you watch it if you haven't already.

(Don't forget to watch R1 before R2) :P

95 episodes, it's about a samurai with like red hair, who was a previous "man slayer" like one of the best guys in the military during war time, and he killed like 100 people. But now he is peaceful, and goes on journeys and stuff and people realize he is the "man slayer" and such, its pretty good. It was on TV about the same time they used to air yu yu hakusho.

I watched the movie few months ago.

Was the best.

I didn't know there is also an anime too, need to give it a look then!

Yupp, theirs a 95 episode anime of it and, im not sure which english dub is the good one, like what its called, cause multiple companies have dubbed it.

They have all the episodes on "crackle" for free but, its the dub i really despise, cause im used to their normal voices, such as in the original english dub. (i think it was the original, lol)

I'm a rather large fan. Anybody that managed to sit through almost 100 episodes of it has to be. The ending made me rather sad though.

i haven't watched all 95 episodes in about a year or two, it's hard managing to find all the episodes in a format that works on my ps3, and contains the dub that i like. but yeah i really wanna rewatch it. i will next month when my ISP bandwidth limit clears.

I recall that I watched it long time ago but I missed some episodes and unable to proper finish it. So I'm gonna to watch it again from start to finish.

Thanks for sharing. ?

Edit: Also have you watched Prequel OVA and Sequel OVA?

Massive kenshin fan. Possibly my all time favourite anime samurai. His personality is the best. ^^

Watch the japanese audio with subs, he sound much better. Also check out the OVA's about when the revolution was happening.
