You realize Andromeda is for sale on public forums, it has been sold to plenty of people and been used for over a year now.

It's been through the hands of next to every AV company on the planet, Clearly the RAW Binary is not going to be undetectable.

I am not verifying this in anyway, I am simple making a statement that will hopefully help you understand things a little better and prevent you from providing people with more false information in the future.

drop a keylogger or RAT on victim machine via download/exectute option!

Joe? - June 24, 2013, 9:21 am

Wow this is a nice botnet! What RAT have you used to infect your victims? I'm testing some different RAT's recently and I'm not sure which one to use?
