Thread: For all those who are bored and don't know what to code

van1lle - June 22, 2013, 9:57 am

If you are bored and don't know what to script here is my idea:

Make a text based game like HackTheGame.

What is HackTheGame?

HackTheGame is basically a text based game where you are a hacker and have to accomplish task you get told to. For that it simulates a bash linux terminal.

Your first job in this game for example is to ping a target host, then connect to it via telnet, login and steal a portscanner from the server. After that you have to delete the logs so they can't track you back.

Have fun scripting :)

BisualZ - June 22, 2013, 10:14 am

Is the process of hacking real? I mean you must use real commands and methods?

No.. Its a lot different than that. Legally, they can not teach you how to "hack". Its in the disclaimer. It is the same concept. You know. Reconnaissance, staying anonymous etc. Otherwise, no you wont learn real hacking from this :P

Or someone elses finishes it ?

Robilud - June 23, 2013, 1:42 pm

Thank you for the idea. I was just working on my sort of advanced terminal (to run a bunch of programs from one place) and the base code is perfect for this. I will post the result when the first mission is finished!

Skid: You know what?

Me: What?

Skid: I want to code a program in batch.

Me: Why?

Skid: I don't know.

Me: Just code a crypter.

Skid: All right, I will.

I check the next day and see this:

I'm coding a multiplayer game that's sorta like this. It's a new version of slavehack, I might do a singleplayer version to.

All right let's stop making this a source-editing competition or whatever and get back on topic.

Uhm, might wanna bow down to this ?:

Obsessed, it's iOS 7. Kinda annoying because it keeps dropping my onto 3G when I'm on wifi.

?CARUs L?VE?™ - June 26, 2013, 6:06 pm

(Jun 26, 2013 04:10 PM)H0peLezz Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) That sounds annoying. But not as annoying as living close to another country. As long as u stay on this side its ok. But if u go over the border u will get the other countries 3g net. Which ofc got very good signal. So when u get back home, u still have that. Basicly, u need to take a trip 15-20 km in just to make it drop and get the other back. Probably is some easy way around it but its not often im there so cba=)

What in the fuck are you talking about? That's not even remotely close to being on topic..

A lot of posts got deleted, although nobody gave me any % warning for it...

Even the mods know I run this shit.

Basically, we were all creating fake threads and taking pictures of it, with stuff like a thread announcing my Moderator-ship, how "awesome" people are, etc.

Well, If your looking for a mac version of this game, you can code it yourself...and then release a windows/linux version aswell :)
