I asked for a banner made for my Minecraft server, I gave him how I wanted it to look like and he presented me with a remade banner from his past customers. I then told him I would find someone else to make me one because I didnt want a banner that someone else already payed for. He started to act very rude and childish, he even went as far as calling me ignorant for wasting his time. Here are some screenshots of our conversation:

No it's not, because that's what you requested or implied at least so if you were wanting otherwise you should have stated so and you didn't pay for anything because I let my customers make all necessary changes before they pay.

I told you that I was going to go look for someone else to make mine and you flipped out.

If you had made me an original banner, I would have been happy. I can see you are talented because you have done some nice ones which is why I came to you but I do not want a copy/paste of someone elses.

Vouch for VoxaDub, very HQ gfx, this will definitely increase traffic to your servers!

WicKd - August 4, 2013, 3:36 pm

Just bought a new banner from Voxa :) Very pleased with his work.

Seeing your banners everywhere man ;) great job! I have photoshop ps6 and for some reason I don't have the video type animation only frame by frame, so that is why my banners didn't compare to yours. Any help?

Also, I really love your banners, I just don't like you have a lot that are the same template :/

Just assumed you have the newer photoshop with the whole different type of animating, I'm pretty sure you've said that in a message or something xD.

Vouch, just ordered one banner and it should be ready in couple of hours. He's a real nice guy and friendly in Skype. Also his previous work looks REALLY promising.

As I said, Vouch! :)
