I personally would like to see a Photography Section on here. Weather its under graphics or under its own heading. What do you think?

For Displaying Photography, Firmware upgrades and mods to software etc and general discussion

There wouldn't be enough activity for photography giving the current sections especially. What do you mean by Firmware upgrades and mods to software though? I doubt it would make enough of a difference to be an active section.

Well you cant say that, because nobody knows how many ppl are photographers or in to it on here ... :)

Plus other ppl might want assistance in editing photos etc

Well you can Jailbreak firmware that most DSLR come out with etc, it would be just nice to see a Heading under the Graphic Section called "photography"

Sticky Topics for the forum
"Critique my work"

"Share your work here" Well, I just searched for photography and there's barely any results. Most of them already belong in a section in the tab for graphics. I honestly just feel there wouldn't be enough activity to support it.

It's been suggested and denied too:

I suggest using the search feature before suggesting anything else.

Just a little FYI. ?

I don't want a photography section, there is plenty of other sites out there for that. It would be nice to keep this forum somewhat hacking related.

Dastoks - June 25, 2013, 6:02 am

No i believe it would ruin the forum.. will make it way to lame imo

Pentatonix - June 25, 2013, 6:19 am

I'd love to have a Photography section. I'd like to see what the members of HF have to offer. I believe it'll have more activity than people think.

If there is a photograph section.. It would be the place where members relax themselves..! ;) It's good to start one..! ;)

People are so narrow minded.

It would help continue to grow hack forums and attract new members.

Graphics and photography are two very different things.

A photography section has been suggested a bunch of times but Omni doesn't see enough activity to create such a forum, so for now you just have to post it in the RMG :(

This has been suggested and denied before. Requisites for new forums are that you have to come up with at least 100 semi recent threads on the subject.

I found very few.
