FirmwareFreak

Easy-to-use iDevice firmware downloader

[img]http://www.lensert.com/Ml.png[/img]

Very simple firmware downloader, using IPSWDownload's API. Makes good use of the Split() function and Async downloading of a WebClient. There's hardly any error handling, but it shouldn't be hard to add some. I've had no issues with stability thus far.

Source/Bin Download:

Decryption:

JAPOO-C2S --> KOREX-3S

Why would you encrypt this, it's such a basic program. (I don't mean to be offensive here)

It's just common practice for me to do.

I'm aware it's fairly basic, it's meant to be a platform to learn.

Way to go LOL People make mistakes ?

OT:

I like how you utilized the progress bar for the downloading.

I said in the description that it uses IPSWDownload. Their API is easily accessible as well as easy to sort, so I used it instead.
