Thread: Photography/Camera section.

D4rk0 - July 3, 2013, 2:58 am

Hey,

I don't know if people are interested in this, but I thought of a photography section in the 'General Topics' area.

You could discuss certain camera's, advice on camera's or even techniques.

Not only would it be for photo's but maybe also for video's.

Thanks for your time.

It's been suggested and denied:

As for videos, they can go here: Movies, TV, and Videos

Wouldn't this go better in the graphics section?

In any case, I think SOME users would find this nice to have around. (:

EDIT: I guess it has been denied.):

As for videos, they can go here: Movies, TV, and VideosAh, unfortunately it has been denied already, thanks for the heads up. But still the movie section there is really for professional movies. Shooting movies yourself isn't really a thing for there I think.

Still the best would be a photography section.

Still the best would be a photography section.They still fit well under the movies section, or lounge.

As for photography, Sam is right. It's been denied so use the "graphics" tab.
