

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [\[Discussion\] Stella Jogakuin Koutouka C3-](#)

Pillows - July 5, 2013, 9:34 pm

Just a simple overview of the anime so far, its about a school club called the C3 which focuses mostly on mock battles with guns.

Summary:

Quote:Stella Jogakuin narrates the adventures of Yamato Yura, which was just entering the Institute Stella Academy for girls and Kashima Sonora invites to join a club called C3. Sonora is a third year student and the President of the Club's games called C3 based on the games of survival with Airsoft guns and BB guns. The other members of the Club include two daughters of second years called Hatsuse Karila and Mutsu Honoka, and two other freshmen (Kirishima Rento, with families having a candy store and a very small girl Hinata Yachiyo) as Yura. Thus, we follow the lives of these students the day and amateurs of war games during their free time. What Yura ignores is that they are passionate about all compressed air weapons and survival games. The new recruit will then understand the meaning of the name of this club: Command, Control, Communication. Yura wonders if she will be able to integrate the group while remaining itself?

Now a bit of my personal opinions of the anime so far...

If such a club did exist in the US it would be banned the moment it was created. And if it were to be created there would be so much criticism because of the gun control laws. Seeing as this is a Gainax anime, I'm going to expect a Gainax ending. If you don't understand what that is, then watch Panties and Stockings. I personally liked the anime because of its similarities to K-ON with all the tea drinking and cake eating. Heck its even all girls!

Itachi Uchiha - July 6, 2013, 3:07 am

(Jul 5, 2013 09:34 PM)Pillows Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Just a simple overview of the anime so far, its about a school club called the C3 which focuses mostly on mock battles with guns.

Summary:

Now a bit of my personal opinions of the anime so far...

If such a club did exist in the US it would be banned the moment it was created. And if it were to be created there would be so much criticism because of the gun control laws. Seeing as this is a Gainax anime, I'm going to expect a Gainax ending. If you don't understand what that is, then watch Panties and Stockings. I personally liked the anime because of its similarities to K-ON with all the tea drinking and cake eating. Heck its even all girls!

Hear me out, we could also google...

A Gainax Ending is an ending that doesn't make any sense, or does make sense but is hidden under enough Mind Screw to not have an easy explanation.

Eminent - July 6, 2013, 1:31 pm

Are you seriously saying an airsoft club would be banned in the US because of gun control laws? No it wouldn't, that's retarded. What would get it banned is if they were using them in public places, but only having wars out in the woods like they did is completely fine

Alexchaos - July 6, 2013, 1:41 pm

(Jul 6, 2013 01:31 PM)Eminent Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Are you seriously saying an airsoft club would be banned in the US because of gun control laws? No it wouldn't, that's retarded. What would get it banned is if they were using them in public places, but only having wars out in the woods like they did is completely fine

Especially since the woods are probably part of the private property of the school.

Anyway, I think I'm gonna enjoy this show. :)