I do not earn alot at all, compared to other people around here.

Started CPA last month (21st).

I am happy with the results as it's autopilot, and every week or so I add a new video, and invest with my earnings. = more and more.

So far I'm on a streak of 4 days with the most clicks. Every day I get more + more clicks (leads vary alot). So I'm steadily increasing and it's quite fun. I can't stop refreshing the page though to see if I had any new clicks/leads :D.

I wasn't multi-accounting, fortunately that's my brothers account & the admins know this & for that reason I was never banned.

Second, that guy is simply a random ref from HF that joined VIA my thread. I hardly knew him, I had just helped him a bit over Skype after contacting me & he started doing well and posted a thread. I had no clue he was cheating, or anything of that sort. I have legit leads, the reason why I'm still on FI.

That is not your brother's account. That is a lie. First, you don't have a brother. Second, you and your brother would not be sharing the same skype. Third, you and your brother would not be living together.

The guy is claiming that he made $750 a day thanks to you. You even posted in that thread. Hardly know him? You don't provide classes and teach someone to make that much money per day if you barely know them.

You have screwed everyone over who has signed up under you. You don't help anyone or provide classes as you promise. And the worst, you continue to lie. You have no integrity what so ever, you have lost the people's trust.

ANYONE THAT WANTS TO SIGN UP UNDER HIM, YOU HAVE BEEN WARNED.

You don't earn $100 overnight. If you don't have the dedication to keep working while you're making nothing, then nothing can help you. You need to keep making niche's and test out what works. Because when you learn to choose the right niche's, you could be making $100/day from a single niche.

Just keep making HQ niche's, and you'll eventually get a few that hit.

It's pretty obvious that you're a complete loser. You quit and take the easy way out when things get too hard. You won't go far once things change around.

You don't realise it though, you're oblivious to your weak dedication. I pity you, and I really do wish you try harder at doing things the right way. It'll take you a lot further.

Hey guys, this is my first post here. I had zero experience with PPD 2 weeks ago. I started reading about it the last few days of September. Started promoting October 1st with the goal to cash out my first month, hopefully. Well 14 days in I have my first double digit day! Not much but for a newbie I'll take it!

More Info:

I have 13 HQ videos up on one account.

I use very very simple bloggers.

I'm in the music niche.

Targeting teen girls.

I have yet to pay for anything. I only use U2Bviews for views,likes & comments.

I'm now soo motivated to continue to make more and more! My ultimate goal is to save ~$3500 to learn CPV marketing. For a more stable income. But for now I'm looking to befriend a couple of you guys, contribute what I learn along my journey to this wonderful forum, and BANK BANK BANK. Looking forward guys.

I presume that you're using Google and not Youtube, right? Also, how many niches do you have going? Are you ranking small amounts of high-searched niches or many medium ones?

I love that you can still be humble while earning that much money. Many people can't. ;)

sharecash.org/index.php

ShareCash is one of the sites, you upload files (Such as game cheats) and if people really want to download them, they will have to complete a survey, if they complete it you will get anywhere from .50 (Can be a little less) -- 20$. The key is to never give up, and find a good niche (Not too saturated, but one that is searched up enough to get you results).

If you choose to sign up there and want to use my ref link, add ?ref=j75776 to the link I posted.

I'm on the fence whether i should switch over to PPI, many people say the conversion rates are so much better, but many of the leads/downloads pay next to nothing for users outside US, Europe.

Can anyone tell me what to do to get more conversions? I've been getting 100-150 visits a day, and only 1 lead

Sorry for asking this here but I want to open an Paypal account for making some money with adf.ly and sharecash and buy and sell things for more. But I only got 2 options when I want to open an account the first "PayPal for you" and the second "PayPal for business". If you can tell me which one to open would be appreciated.

Nope, not at all. I use a variety of methods. Mainly just SEO and Email Marketing, but I am starting with YouTube soon.

Zerofix - December 30, 2013, 6:55 pm where you getting emails? are you buying them or using webspider to grab emails?

vmanx - December 30, 2013, 6:59 pm

I purchase numerous solo ads from vendors, which has helped to grow my list. Sometimes I just send out products directly in the solo ads, depends on who I'm buying from.

I'm pretty sure the wrote a bot to spam somewhere or something like that. I doubt he made a bot complete offers because all offers are different and it would be stupid to complete your own offers. Network would crack you down.
