What You Need:

Zemana AntiLogger

or

QFX Keyscrambler

Optional:

Comodo Security

Web of Trust Addon

Malwarebytes

Most people aren't secure. What I mean is, most users only have malware protection. Malware protection is good, but not all Antivirus's have Default Deny System (Like Comodo or Kaspersky). What that means is if a hacker make's a keylogger, MOST likely it will NOT be detected, if it's FUD (Fully UnDetectable). What a Keyscrambler does is encrypt EVERYTHING you type in a way that if your being keylogged, it will appear as a bunch of JUNK which a human cannot read. (Aka: Your information is secure).

This is where Zemana comes in. It encrypts EVERYTHING you type. It's free, and does an amazing job. (They do have a premium version, it's like an AV btw.) Zemana regularly updates and uses very small resources.

(You can use QFX also, however if you want to encrypt everything, it requires the paid version).

Security Combination

I personally recommend Comodo, Malwarebytes, and Zemana with WOT (Web of Trust Addon) combination. However, it's up to you.

Price Point:

Comodo - FREE

Malwarebytes (I recommend PAID one) - $24.95

Zemana AntiLogger- FREE

WOT - FREE

This is my first tutorial. How did I do?

Not to be a dick or anything ._> but uhm unless Anonymous said it's all good or you're trying out for Legion. you're not suppose to make tuts in the name of a group you're not in,

I'm advertising group, not attempting to join.

But it is a good tut none the less

Ok I messaged him. I only put Legion here because Legion is a hacking group, and this is a hacking tutorial, so they work out together

EDIT: He said it's perfectly allowed!
