You are pathetic. This user is trying anyway to get me banned for no reason he paid 15$ for EditorsOfCOD and what he got was EditorsOfCOD he complains that i didnt tell him about the strikes when he didnt ask and he is acting like the all the strikes were there when i sold him the channel when he just got one yesterday this user is hiding alot and made this report because he is in need of money! Once he recieved the channel he was satisfied and had no complaints then almost a month later he start to complain about something that wasnt there when i sold him the channel only 1 strike! You sir are abusive and very sketchy!

And i said i would help you remove the strike i didnt gurantee i would i tried my best. You paid for a channel and thats what you got!

Red™ - July 10, 2013, 7:16 pm

MMK Did infact know that their was 1 strike on it but MMK told him to remove all of the videos on the YouTube channel if not then the channel will get more strikes. Modern did not listen to what MMK told him so it is not MMK's fault it is Modern's fault.

@Modern, Do you not know how to buy things on the HF Marketplace? You have to ask questions before you purchase it because some people wont tell you things about something you want and in this case you didn't ask any questions you just wanted the YouTube channel badly.

There is no way that you would know if a video is in jeopardy of being copyright claimed so you may have not know.

Also when was this deal made and when did you get the account?

According to MMK you recieved the 2nd strike July 9th and you just said you got the account July 4th, therefore you are responsible for getting the strike not MMK. IMO This is an invalid scam report.

Don't know if this a valid scam report or not, I didn't bother reading but I am going to sound like a total dick but you can always call your credit card company and tell them you didn't receive what you paid for and that the seller is not helping and then credit card company takes money away from PayPal + $20 from the seller. ($20 dollar fee from a charge back from a Credit Card Company.) So he will not only loose the $15 but he would loose $20 = $35. For not being clear on what you where buying when it was sold to you.

Im a scammer? I sold you the editorsofcode did you not receive the channel? As i believe you did... You are claiming that 2 copyright strikes were on the channel when there was only one i have the email that was on JULY 9TH proving that you got the second strike after i sold channel and i said i would help you and i did, did i not? I believe that everything that comes out of your bipolar mouth is a lie and twisted to favor you.

Exactly, I don't think he understands what a scammer is. A scammer is someone that lies about something he has when he really doesn't and runs off with the money or whatever. In this case you got the channel, the rest has nothing to do with MMK.

Sorry to say OP but your making yourself look stupid. Maybe you think HF is just full of stupid people? Well no, your wrong as you can clearly see we have some intelligent members here so we won't fall for this invalid scam report. GOOD DAY!

at least someone can finally begin too see the truth about the user MMk. , and how he uses other's to look better on the forums.

Mopar - July 11, 2013, 5:44 pm

Ok lets resolve this now!

Modern is claiming i sold him channel with 2 strikes

I sold it to him with one strike

I have proof of that dispute is resolved that there was only 1 strike on there and no i didnt tell you that there was one on there and yes i did tell you i never logged on it before so you should have asked about that information

Well yes I do know him as a member on my forum and we talk every so often but thats not the point the point is this scam report. What you failed to realize is that in the past Modern and MMK did a deal for an Instagram and I think it was a twitter account (NOT SURE) and Modern told MMK that the followers were real and the accounts were worth more than they really are. MMK found out that the followers were all fake and the account wasnt worth shit, but did MMK go and make a scam report? NO, Modern is just a bi-polar person trying to open up false scam reports on members because he thinks he knows what he is talking about. Modern and MMK were friends before this deal even after MMK found out the followers he had were fake now all of a sudden Modern and MMK make another deal, Modern gets strikes on the youtube account and becomes very upset with MMK and decides to open a scam report on his "friend".

i should not have to ask for this information , and the strikes go towards videos that were on the account prior to me purchasing the account.

From what I read, MMK told you to delete all the videos. Anyways the deal was $15 for the YouTube account. Unless there is some picture stating that the YouTube must have "no strikes" then this is more like a un satisfied buyer. Not a scam report, but it may still be in the right section as this section is called "deal disputes" not "scam reports". It should be up to the seller whether or not for refund the buyer.
