I re-did the iphone messenger app, please rate it and give some feedback. The whole thing was made from scratch (tools in photoshop)

I think its great, 10/10. Just don't like how square the text boxes are.

Kre8tor_ - July 11, 2013, 2:24 pm

I think its clean and simple but its a bit blocky. Not really eye appealing but its good never the less.

I don't like the font, it's a pain to read almost.

Upload your shit to a better place. The name at the top is too dark. The spacing in between messages is too big, and the overall feeling is too gray. Loose the bag lighting screen attempt when you are presenting something from an app. I also don't see a reason for the thing next to the opposite persons head really.

Looks like a metro theme :)

I like it!

It's okay to give feedback for him to improve on but don't tell him to post his work somewhere else. He is still learning.

Read my effin post ???

I told him to upload his works to a better place because whatever tinydick or photobucket or whatever he is using is completely ruining the quality.

Do you have any suggestions? I was using imageshack.

I love it so much.

Imagine this was actually used bro.

9/10

I like it alot man! 9/10 I don't like the text box's, too boxy, maybe round the edges a bit? But I guess you did that for that clean, sleek look.

Here are some issues I've noticed:

- 1) The font choice seems too thin. I'm not sure if that's the issue, but in the screen shot it looks really pixelated. A way to fix that is to use a slightly stronger or bold font. And I'm personally not fond of such a curly font, but that's probably just me.
- 2) It seems too wide to be used in an iPhone. Maybe on an iPad, but probably not on an iPhone.
- 3) The misalignment on the bottom is really bugging me. The text field isn't centered, and the "send" button is not the same size and it's not aligned.
- 4) I'd suggest using a different colour for the box thing at the bottom. It seems too similar to the BG of the messages section.

I???I??? - July 11, 2013, 6:07 pm

I like it a lot. Add some more stuff to the top.

zivid - July 11, 2013, 6:08 pm

The first thing I noticed while looking at this image was the large spacing between the messaging.

The "Joe, Terry" part at the top is too dark which makes it look out of place and hard to read.

The "message" text at the bottom is quite hard to read, maybe a darker font color would be more appealing.
