Thread: Do only donators receive the sticky man award ?

Lambasoft - July 16, 2013, 2:41 pm

Greetings.

There's a thought in my mind since i created this thread I'd like to get clear.

Do only members that somehow payed money to the HackForum community receive un-buyable awards such as the Sticky Man ?

Honestly, I never seen someone get the award without either donating or somehow paying. Or it's just those members that are the most active ;p

Thanks.

You should read the help documents. :)

What? No, the Sticky Man is awarded to people who write a thread of enough quality to get it stuck. It just happens to be that only contributing members write threads of this nature. Anyone can achieve this award.

^0^ do I break your theory on that? That seems to be the case these days, though. The reason being, those that donate are the ones that have Omni's closest attention. Not by choice, just to donate you have to PM Omni, otherwise Omni is too busy working on the servers and backend stuff to fully notice these things. It happens with a forum of this size.

Ow, okey thanks guys.

I guess I should donate to HF anyway, I just needed somehow a push;p , I will soon.

Thanks again
