I started to watch this anime called "blood lad" they just started the anime july 7th i believe however the manga has been out since 2009.

Plot Summary: Staz is the vampire boss of a section of the demon world, but he has little interest in human blood. He's more infatuated with Japanese culture. When he learns that Yanagi Fuyumi, a Japanese teenage girl, accidentally wanders into the demon city, he jumps to the occasion. However, while Staz deals with an intruder on his turf, the oblivious Fuyumi is killed by a monster and becomes a wandering ghost. The disappointed Staz vows to her that he will find a way to bring Fuyumi back to life.

I've been fallowing it, so far I think its ok nothing special but only two episodes are out. As usual you have a lead female character who has boobs the size of mount Everest.

I really like Staz C. Blood.

His looks are awesome and his personality too.

I still need to catch up on it, because I forgot to watch last weeks... and it's pretty good, but really weird so far.

Seems pretty short though...
